THE DEPARTMENT on aging also may have to face changes, if not cuts in

"New regulations from HUD (U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development) regarding the use of community development funds said they can't be used to provide overall service to a group or class like senior citizens," explained Pickering.

"The philosophy of programs and services may take serious change," he continued. "It's hard to use general" funds (for the department on aging) when there are cuts in other areas.

"It's clear to me (senior citizens have) needs to be met, and I intend to make sure than's done."

Funds for library service ($160,000) are "expendible," according to Pickering. He said he plans to meet with the executive director of the federated library system within the next two weeks to give notice that the city intends to discontinue any further funding of the system and to discuss the ramifications of that move.

Pickering said that residents would be given a minimum of one-month's notice before library service ends. He said that there is a question as to. whether state law would allow the libraries to charge Westland residents a user fee.

STAFF CUTS will be felt in all departments, according to Pickering. He said that while staff recommendations were good, they didn't "make enough of a dent to prevent layoffs." In some debartments, vacant positions simply won't be filled, but Pickering pledged to keep open the city's four fire stations. The city, however, will continue its

AMIDST THE ceremonial trappings, the Lucas administration made these announcements:

• Three county agencies which formerly reported to the old Board of Commissioners were eliminated by executive order — the Civil Service Commission, the Board of Institutions and the Labor Relations Board. That appeared to signal the firing of John' Barr, controversial former countycommissioner from Dearborn Heights who headed Civil Service.

He held out an olive branch to lower cities and townships that he wants "cooperation" rather than domination.

Out-county caucus makes Suzore new chairman, 8-7

By Mary Klemic staff writer

On the fifth ballot, William Suzore, D-Wyandotte, was elected chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners by an 8-7 vote Wednesday af-

Suzore défeated former board chairman Samuel Turner, D-Detroit, who was supported by County Executive William Lucas. Four roll call ballots on the subject were taken by the new 15member commission before anyone received a majority.

On the first four ballots, Commissioner Richard Manning, D-Redford, received five votes, Turner seven and Suzore three Then Commissioner Kay Beard, D-Inkster, asked for and received a 10-minute recess.

"WE CAUCUSED on that issue (during the recess), and the decision was to maintain the out-county presence," Manning said after the board adjourned for the afternoon. "We were able to finally get an agreement (on Suzore). Seven votes was the best I could get."

The holdout in the out-county caucus, said Manning, was freshman Commissioner Milton Mack, D-Wayne, who supported Suzore.

Manning said he did not think the issue would, divide the board. "We've been through this before, and we'll get votes - his own, Beard, Mary Dumas, R-Livonia, Edward Plawecki, D-Dearborn Heights, and Stanley Rozycki, D-Detroit - changed their votes to Plawecki, who was elected to the board in November, was unopposed for vice chairman in a 10-0 vote.

Abstaining were five Detroit Democrats: Turner, Freddie Burton Jr., Jackie Currie, Arthur Carter and Bernard Kilpatrick.

IN OTHER action Wednesday, the board voted to approve the appointment of Loren Pittman as sheriff to. succeed Lucas, who proposed Pittman's appointment. The appointment is being tested in Circuit Court by Robert A. Ficano, Livonia, who was appointed sheriff last month by a three-member panel of county officials. -- The vote was 9-0 with six-abstentions: Beard, Dumas, Jurkiewicz, Manning, Rozycki and Suzore.

Beard said it would be "highly inappropriate" for the board to act while the issue is in court. But other commissing sioners disagreed.

"At this time, Wayne County is acting without a sheriff," Mack said. "It is not under a restraining order."

Lucas: Pay Nystrom's fee

By Tim Richard staff writer

County Executive William Lucas offered the Wayne County Board of Commissioners a deal to settle the lawsuit he lost against the board.

Lucas, who was sheriff when a circuit court judge ruled against his case, offered to drop his appeal-to the Court of Appeals if the board of commissioners would allocate $256,000 in county funds to pay the legal fees of attorney Dennis .

Nystrom. Nystrom, who was one of Lucas' chief campaign advisors and transition staff members, represented both Lucas and the sheriff's deputies union in a long-running legal battle with the board of commissioners over the layoff of sheriff deputies.

"IT STINKS," said Commissioner Richard Manning, D-Redford, of the proposed deal.

"I've never heard of such authing," said Manning, an attorney for 27

A special grant from the J.C. Penny Co. is providing a set of Sesame Street puppets for the Westland Fire Department public fire education division, headed by battalion chief Joseph Benyo. Accepting the puppets for the department are chief Ted Scott and Jack Glyshaw, manager of J.C. Penny's at Westland Center. The puppets will be used to teach preschool and elementary school age children about fire education. Some times they also are used with very young children who have been involved in setting fires as a means to communicate. When used in fire education skits, the puppets provide solid information in the minds and attitudes of children, helping them create their own show and allowing them a chance to perform for others, according to Benyo.

Graduates update skills in nursing

There were no caps and gowns at this graduation ceremony, but for 14 area nurses, like Christine Milks of Westland and Eather Weber of Wayne. graduation day was just as meaningful.

The nurses successfully completed a nurse refresher course sponsored by Peoples Community Hospital Authori-

The 10-week course was designed to update and to review theoretical knowledge and clinical skills of nurses who wish to return to work. Instructors for the course were nursing personnel from the five PCHA hospitals.

Some graduates of the course had interrupted their careers for nearly 20 years.

"For many of the nurses, the decision to return to nursing and take the course was difficult," said Geraldine Farrar. PCHA nurse recruiter. "Changes in nursing have been rapid and a bit intimidating to someone who hasn't kept up to date with the field.

"However, all the nurses scored extremely high in both theory and clinical skills. The graduates felt very positive about what they learned and developed a good deal of confidence in themselves through the clinical experience.

· Five of the nurses have already been employed at the PCHA hospitals.

Nurses interested in the next refresher course, to be held in February and March should contact Farrar at 722-3300, ext. 21, by Jan. 14.

Now everything you've always wanted for less... is less.

Our Annual Sale— December 26 to January 31 when almost everything is 10% to 40% off regular prices.

At Workbench; we don't have lots of storewide sales. Just one a year. But it's a dilly. Because we mark down all our best stuff. Not just a few things. Not even just a lot of things. But almost everything.

And, unlike a lot of other places, we don't bring in so-called specials. At Workbench we just go through the store with our red-pencil and slash prices. Which means that right now you'll find 10% to 40% off on butcher block tables, upholstery, storage systems, bookcases, carts, music benches, desks and chair after chair after chair. Even the already reduced "Foreign Policy" prices on most of our imports have been further price cut for this sale.

Of course, there are a few things currently oversold that we can't put on sale. Is there a catch? Only time. Because our storewide sale lasts only until January 31. So hurry.

U.S. automakers this week will wrap up production for 1982, with total output for the year narrowly topping the five-million mark — the lowest level since 4.2 million cars were assembled in 1958, according to Ward's Automotive Re-

For the year, automobile production is estimated at 5,077,304, down 18.8 percent from 1981's total of 6,251,003. It will be the fifth straight year output has declined, Ward's said.

Truck production, at a projected 1.9 million for 1982, was a somewhat bright note, climbing 13.1 percent above last year's meager level of 1.7 million units, Ward's reported.

Retraining funded

Faculty voting on SC pact

By Mary Klemic staff writer

Faculty members at Schoolcraft College are scheduled to vote this week on a two-year contract which guarantees a 3 percent salary increase for this fiscal year and a 2 percent increase to be paid at the end of the year, if funds are available.

Richard Arlen, chief faculty negotiator, said the faculty is pleased with the tentative agreement. "For the most part, they are," he said.

Settlement, was reached Dec. 14, after eight months of negotiations.

The agreement also calls for a $20,000 fund to retrain instructors should instructors be called upon to shift their positions and sets up a 30-day period before certain faculty layoffs can be made.

Full-time faculty members were to have voted on the proposed contract Wednesday, according to Michael Petrack, college labor relations director.

He said the tentative agreement will go before part-time faculty Friday and then before the college Board of Trustees at a special meeting next Monday.

THE PREVIOUS contract expired at the beginning of the fall semester in August 1982. Both sides agreed to extend it to Dec. 31. The new pact, if approved by both parties, will run until August 1984.

"The situation we were facing was waiting to see the state's financial picture shaping up as much as possible," Petrack said. "It wasn't really good, and' with the numbers they're throwing around now, it could get worse."

Arlen said the re-training fund would be used if the board of trustees changed a program'so much that the program's faculty would need further training.

"This is especially true in the technical areas," he

"This is especially true in the technical areas," he said. "We felt with the changing times it would be advantageous to have such a fund."

In each of the two years, $10,000 would go to the fund, Arlen said. He said the previous contract had no such fund.

The 30-day period in the tentative agreement would be used in the event of faculty layoffs proposed due to insufficient funds posed due to insufficient funds.

Arlen said that under the proposed contract, the faculty union and college officials would have 30 days to find an alternative to the layoffs.

"There was a statement in the old contract that they could lay off faculty if there was insufficient funds, but there was a lot of loose ends," he said. "This (new provision) gives time for feedback."

"The last thing I want to buy is clothing no one else wanted to buy. Yes, I want to save money, but I also care a lot about how I look. You won't see me at January clearance sales. And when you do see me, you'll know I've been to The John Kent Stores."

A John Kent Man dresses better for less.

Rather than odds and ends, leftovers and fuchsia trousers. The John Kent Stores offer you a continually renewed selection of new clothing at prices that feel like a sale. Designer suits, sport coats, sweaters, shirts, trousers; and more, always priced less than you're likely to find elsewhere. So we don't have "sales." We have something better. This January, come and see how to save.

Bell has your number for new phone information

By Carol Anahid Azizian staff writer

The Bell System is ringing in the New Year with major changes in the way customers do business with the paone company.

Customers no longer will be able to lease or exchange phones, request new service or discuss service billing problems at Michigan Bell phone center stores.

"Customers who are used to doing business at company offices in person will feel the changes the most," said vice-president.

"Since we won't be providing the same kinds of walk-in services anymore, we're urging customers to call us first to avoid possible frustration and the inconvenience of wasted trips."

The changes were made because of a Federal Communications Commission (FCC) order intended to break up-American Telephone and Telegraph's monopoly on the telecommunications industry, Schlageter såid.

"Because the FCC has said that the Bell System can sell telephone equipment only through a separate subsidi-William J. Schlageter, a Michigan Bell' ary, Michigan Bell literally will be a phone company without phones."

> CUSTOMERS will be able to lease phones' from Michigan Bell only until the company's inventory runs out. After that, they will have to buy phones from other suppliers.

Suppliers include the 17 phone center stores in major shopping mails such as the Northland Center in Southfield. The stores are now operated by American Bell, a subsidiary of AT & T.

Susan Nokes, zone manager of American Bell, said the new company has increased prices of some phones from $3 to $6, and reduced prices of others . Besides American Bell stores, major by $20 to $25.

Nokes added that many customers who walked into phone center stores this week didn't realize they could no longer conduct Michigan Bell business there.

"Some brought in bags of phone's to be repaired," she said.

"We have to take more time to tell each customer what's going on.

"Most customers realize it's cheaper to purchase a phone once you explain it to them. But there are others who are just disgruntled with the whole pro-

Parochial school continues growth

By Maurie Walker staff writer

While student enrollments are dropping in most public schools, the opposite is true in many parochial schools. An example of this is the United Christian Schools at 29205 Florence in Garden City, which was forced to add a new wing for five more classrooms. Since the school opened six years ago, enrollment has grown steadily, Rick Wright, principal, said.

An adjacent church bought the former Florence Primary School from the Garden City Public Schools six years

"Two years ago we had 205 students. This climbed to 290 last year and this year we have more than 350 students," a jump of nearly 71 percent.

The school teaches kindergarten through 12th grade with the new wing to be used primarily by junior and senior high grades.

THE WING, which cost an estimated $75,000, was built primarily by members of the church and school. It was started in July and completed early this month.

"We had some professional help, but "In the last three years we have seen it was the volunteers from our group that helped keep the cost down." Wright said.

There are 17 faculty members, the school recently hiring six more teach-

"We plan to add to our staff next year, too," Wright added. In addition to the faculty, the school has 10 staff members. "Christian schools are in their prime time as far as increasing enrollments go," Wright said. "The main reason is students get a Christian education as well as academic, which is a growing concern with many parents." He said more and more parents have

College aid alive, available

staff writer

To borrow a line from Mark Twain, stories of the death of student-aid in recent years have been greatly exaggerated. Nevertheless, students should submit their applications for financial aid as soon and as often as they can.

"The (federal) cutbacks really are not as large as the media have made them," said Spencer Johnson of Oakland Community College. "Financial aids are still very strong and viable."

Johnson, director of financial aid at OCC's Highland Lakes Campus, said many people have overestimated the amount of student-aid cuts made by the Reagan administration.

'We've never had a tremendous decline in the amount of dollars available (for student aid)," said John Tomey, director of admissions and financial aids at Schoolcraft Col-

JOHNSON SAID nearly 120,000 students in Michigan applied in the College Scholarship Service for the 1982-83 school year.

Of these, 69 percent are dependent (living with their parents); and 31 percent are selfsupporting, he said.

This figure has steadily increased since 1979 because of the economic situation, Johnson said.

"Students have to go back to school because they lose their jobs and have to be retrained, or because sludents can't afford to go away to school," he said.

Johnson advised students intending to begin college in the fall to submit a financial aid form from the College Scholarship Service before Feb. 15. A student may obtain the forms from his high school, or from the college he is planning to attend.

Copies will be sent to the colleges desig-

Actually, other factors -- including family size, number of children in college, parents' age and indebtedness of parents are also considered, he said.

"Students who come fron Plamilles with incomes of $26,000 to even $30,000 can qualify for some of the grants available," Tomey said. "When in doubt or when in need, contact the college's financial aid advisor or even your high school counselor."

Tomey estimated that 1,200-1,500 students at Schoolcraft (which has 8,000 students) are getting financial

Forms of student aid are scholarships, grants, loans and work-study programs. Usually, only loans have to be repaid, Johnson said.

Scholarships are given for academic or other achievement, while grants are based on need. A work-study program would hire the student for a job on

AID rescues midweek services

A second round in AID meetings will begin at Kenwood Church of Christ in Livonia with several new opportunities being offered to boost attendance at the midweek services.

AID is an acronyn for Accountability in Discipleship. The idea was formulated last fall by Kenwood pastor David A. Baynes in an effort to involve more of the church membership in midweek church services.

Its success prompted the new 10week offerings, which will run from Jan: 9 through March 20, followed by a spring session from April 10 to June 19.

The idea is to keep the sessions short enough so that participants will feel comfortable to commit themselves on a short term basis knowing there will be an end to it, he explained:

Groups being offered are volley-ball, speaking before a group, 3-D (Diet, Discipline and Discipleship), Bible study, learning to read music, drama and bowling.

BAYNES SAID that some of the topics - bowling and volleyball, for example - may be "stretching it a point" in the traditional sense of a midweek service. But, he said, if it is successful in providing members. a chance to get better acquinted and share a Christian fellowship, itmeets the criteria he had in mind when he came up with the idea.

The variety of small groups seems to be meeting the needs of more of the church members, he added.

The classes are leda by church members who volunteered to take part in the program last fall.

The volleyball group is open to men, women and teens and meets on Mondays from 8-10 p.m. at Roosevelt Elementary School, Lyndon and Henry Ruff. Group leader is Mike Fabian and there is no cost:

Baynes leads the speaking before a group session that also is open to men, women and teens. It meets in. the Friendship room at the church from 7:30-8:30 p.m. Mondays. A textbook will be used, but purchase is optional. Bible study will be led by Suann and Larry Dibble at 7 p.m. Wednes! days at their home. The gospel of Mark will be the focal point, Deborah Kelbert will lead the 3-D group, a continuing fellowship for losing weight and building Christian character and self-esteem. The group will meet to weigh in at 7 p.m. Tuesdays in the church Friendship room, followed by an exercise

Last year's worries need auditing

Many of us have been quite busy over the past few weeks. We've had holidays to observe, shopping to complete, glits to exchagne, parties to attend, and expectations to meet. But now what?

We have stored the decorations away for another year. Office parties and the galas brought to us by other sponsors have taken their toll. Gift wrappings have been condemned to the same trash bags as the turkey carcass. Our bank accounts are down and our charge accounts are up. It is all over except for the proverbial shouting and in some cases the weeping. But what difference is any of it going to have made?

What difference will it have made that we did or did not finish our shopping on time: What difference does it make where the president chose to eat dinner with his family or where the hungry of the land found a handout, as long as they found one. Does it make any difference that churches were packed to hear the degree issued by moral perspectives

Rev. Robert Schaden

Caesar Augustus. Now that it is the month of January does it make a difference that the Christmas choir missed a note or two or that the tree dropped more needles this year than it did last year?

Such questions seem rather trite, and yet only a week or two ago they were of earthshaking importance. They were crucial enough to provoke an argument with a "loved one" or a fight with a stranger as we sang about peace on

THESE WERE THE issues which called for vallum or which provoked some to get drunk. At least for a time we worrled about last year will tend to these issues of holiday and expectation, of family and obligation, of shopping and getting to the party on time were the all-important questions of the day. They were large enough to drown out the ramblings over the MX. They seemed far more worthy of worry and attention than whether or not we had learned anything of life by having lived It another year.

Exploring the "So what?" questions which concern the expired holidays may appear to be little more than an exercise in depression. But history left untended has a way of repeating itself. We easily become creatures of habit. And-unless we take a look at it, what

Proclamations that this year will be different have little chance of materiallzing except for those who are willing to do an audit on what happened last

Tellhard de Chardin once suggested that the world's greatest sin is the failure to use the power for good that the Creator has put within us. However, in the human condition, power is a limited gift. To the extent that we use it to fret about relatively unimportant matters we have little Jeft for what really mat-

A look at past behavior and concern can affirm the good that we have done. It may also challenge us to rearrange or priorities. But not to question at all is to diminish our humanness by likening our existence to that of-robots. Only when we can dare to ask what difference it all makes are we free to deprogram from what was useless in the past and integrate that which was to d for the future.

Feuding becomes old news, ignores issues

HERE ARE NO good guys in the continuing dispute between the Westland City Council and Mayor Charles Pickering.

The most recent incident involved a tentative agreement with the firefighters. The scenario goes something like this:

Mayor Pickering and his staff arrived at an agreement without keeping the council informed of what the issues were during the negotiations, It wasn't until a June budget study session that a real explanation was given, and the council didn't like it.

The council asked that a city attorney who had handled the important legal aspects of arbitration over the firefighters last contract be allowed to sit in on negotiations.

ANGERED THAT the attorney never was invited to do so, the council disputed provisions of the

"The council is miffed," said member Charles Tray Griffin at a press conference. 'No kidding,

Council President Thomas Artley refused to let the mayor or any member of his administration make a public presentation on the pact at that

Artley later complained that the mayor hadn't presented the council with anything in writing, apparently ignoring the multi-page response from the mayor's staff to an unfavorable legal analysis of the

Not to be outdone, the mayor issued a directive forbidding any department head from talking with a council member.

Griffin babbled vitriolic nonsense about the mayor being "paranoid" and using "Nazi tactics."

"It (the directive) definitely was an over reaction on his part," said Griffin.

Sounds like the mayor wasn't the only one to over ARTLEY'S RETURN volley was a request, under the freedom of information act, for a copy of Pickering's directive. But, Artley had lunch with the mayor and apparently patched things up.

At least the mayor was allowed to speak at Monday night's meeting, and four of six council members approved one of his requests for a budget con-

But this dispute has been going on since Pickering took office in January 1982. Unless the basic issue behind the dispute is resolved, it's likely to continue. "The issue is whether the council, as a separate, independent body, can be independent, exercise its right to investigate and to maintain vigilance," said...

The real issue is the win/lose tug-of-war that both the council and the mayor are playing. The sad truth is that nobody's going to win this one, and the"

'Together,' the senators face right

JAMIE BLANCHARD borrowed a line from Jimmy Carter as he closed his inaugural address as Michigan's governor Saturday.

'Together' we shall do this, "together" we shall do that, and "together" the other thing, said Gov.

Carter's psychological researchers discovered the word in the 1976 presidential campaign. The theory seems to be that people like the word "together" as much as they used to like "motherhood," "apple pie" and "the flag."

But in Michigan government, we don't have togetherness yet — not by a long shot.

Blanchard is being hailed as the first Democratic governor since the 1930s to have a Democraticcontrolled legislature. In their Nov. 2 victory celebrations and Jan. 1 inaugural balls, the Democrats rejoiced at their clean sweep of statewide offices.

WELL, LOOK again. Blanchard has already looked again. That's why he's being so coy about favoring a state personal income tax increase.

Look at the state Senate. Twenty to 18 Democratic, you say?

Look harder, because the Michigan Senate with which Blanchard must deal is one of the most conservative bodies we've seen since the 1950s when Soapy Williams did battle with the Elmer Porters, Paul Prescotts. Lou Christmans and other members of what he termed the Neanderthal wing of the Republican Party.

In these suburbs, to be sure, we have seen only minor changes. Democratic Leader William Faust from Westland will be back, conservative Republican Robert Geake of Northville is returning, and liberal Democrat Jack Faxon of Southfiled will replace liberal Democrat Doug Ross.

And liberal Democrat Phil Mastin of Pontiac is replacing conservative Republican Don Bishop of

The parade belongs to all

ON THANKSGIVING morning, there was a little coldness in the air. It's not unusual for a Thanksgiving in this part of the country.

Unfortunately, my 4-year-old daughter was recovering from a cold. So a decision was made to sit out this year's Thanksgiving Day parade.

In the nine years I have lived in suburban Detroit, attending the Thanksgiving Day parade has become a tradition in my family. Usually, a neighbor and I bundle up our children, put them in the back of a station wagon and take off for downtown Detroit.

From our favorite parking spot - the lot at the Wayne State University law school - we walk to Woodward Avenue and view the floats as they stand before the start of the parade,

After that we walk down the curb on Woodward Avenue until we find an opening in the crowd, relax and enjoy the sights and sounds of the floats and

NOW I AM especially sorry I missed this year's Thanksgiving Day parade. It may have been the last.

Detroit Renaissance Foundation, the principal organizer of the parade, announced last week that the parade would be cancelled. It clied a deficit of nearly $100,000 in expenses over contributions. During the past few years, the parade has been supported by many organizations. The main backer was J.L. Hudson department stores with $214,000.

Obviously, the decision to cancel the Thanksgive ing Day parade is another blow to Detroit. The announcement came a few days before the closing of the downtown Hudson's store. Hudson's is expected to lock its doors on the landmark for the final time at the end of next week.

IT'S EASY FOR suburbanities to be detached from the woes of Detroit, But unless Detroit is healthy, its suburbs can't be healthy.

Attending those parades, I was surprised by the many suburban friends I saw. The freeway to the parade was clogged with cars from the suburbs.

The Thanksgiving Day parade belongs not only to Detroit but to suburbanities - an entire metropolitan area. Our lives change when a traditional event like the parade ends or a store like downtown Hud-

Detroit events — the parade, the Fourth of July fireworks, the Freedom Festival and the Montreux Jazz Festival — enhance all our lives. They also make this area more attractive to those considering moving here.

That can help bring new industry and jobs to southeastern Michigan.

Ohe-time ventures — such as the Super Bowl and the Republican National Convention — bring us national newspaper and television coverage. It gives us a chance to show the nation the positive attributes of the part of the world we call home.

I HOPE A final effort by state House Speaker Gary Owen, D-Ypsilanti, to save the parade will be successful. Owen has asked the state's Commerce Department to assist in gathering corporate support to continue the parade.

Owen suggests that any difference between contributions and costs for the parade be made up through "Say Yes to Michigan" promotional money. He logically argues that the national television covrerage of the parade is promotion for the state.

If you agree, act now. A decision must be made within the next few days if a parade will be held in 1983. To keep the parade going, write: Rep. Gary Owen, Room 10, Capitol Building, Lansing 48909. Don't let had economic times rain on our parade.

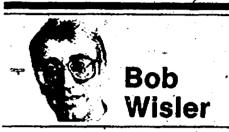

Well, not quite.

The county: cost-efficient or a game?

FIGURING OUT what is going on in Wayne County government is like trying to determine what is going on in the Arab League.

There are so many intrigues, cabals, feints, parries; threats and hidden rewards that you'd think county government figures all were training for the

We consulted Joe Shwartz, our political pro, the other day to try to put things in perspective. Here? are some excerpts of our conversation:

Q. Joe, county executive William Lucas has been in office only a few days, and already he is involved: in two lawsuits over whether he has authority to appoint his successor as sheriff and to appoint. three new road commissioners. He has made several appointments to other offices. Is this the start? of a more more effective county government?

 A. Too hard to say at this point. Lucas could argue his appointments show he means to clean house. Someone else could say his appointments show that ? he, like most politicians, is interested mainly in ! rewarding friends who campaigned for him and appointing those who will do his bidding.

Q. What about his decision to appoint Loren Pittman to succeed him as sheriff?

A. Pittman has been undersheriff more than 10 years. He can be expected to direct the department much as Lucas directed it. That may not be so good. Lucas overspent his budget by $20 million over his. 14-year sheriff's career and fought tooth and nail against money-saving ideas like discontinuing the sheriff's road patrol.

Q. Would Bob Ficano, the other appointee, be any better at administering the department?

A. There's no evidence he would. He has no record as an administrator or money saver. He seems to be just a good Democrat who happened to be in the right place at the right time.

A. Ficano was an attorney in a Livonia law firm when he decided to be the Democratic candidate for state representative against Republican Sylvia Skrel in a marginally Republican area. He lost twice. When the job of deputy county clerk opened up, those who run the Democratic Party in Wayne County blessed Ficano for the job. He became County Clerk Jim Killeen's deputy.

Now comes 1982 when Lucas is elected executive and has to resign as sheriff. Lucas wants Pittman to succeed him. All of a sudden two-thirds of a triumverate - which might have the property statutory authority to name a new sheriff - come up with Ficano's name. The two thirds are the same Killeen and chief Probate Judge Joseph Pernick.

Q. What does it look like?

A. Well, let's say Killeen, as prime mover in this scenario, is merely interested in more efficient county government and thinks that if Pittman becomes sheriff, the county will never get rid of one of the county's biggest money drains, the deputies. He may think Ficano just the man to preside over a department which should be made cost effective.

Q. Any other scenarios?

A. Yes. Killeen may be really interested in trying to build more political influence. He may also be in league with the labor union types who are irked that Lucas won't play ball. They asked Lucas to get rid of Republican attorney Dennis Nystrom as his chief honcho and be more of a Democrat - that is, surround himself with loyal Democrats to the unions' liking, Lucas refused. Now comes their revenge. Instead of Pittman, he gets Ficano and aggravation.

A. Which scenario do you buy?

Q. I will rule out one - that Killeen is interested only in more efficient county government.

roll call report

Ford, Brodhead back 'paperwork' measure

Here's how area members were recorded on major roll call votes in closing days of the 97th Congress,

HOUSE

IMMIGRATION: The House rejected. 110 for and 213 against, an amendment to a bill (HR 7357) aimed at stemming the flow of illegal aliens into the United Systes.

The amendment largely was an effort to protect the rights of U.S. citizens who can't get a seasonal farm job because an alien already has filled the position. At the same time, it placed a paperwork burden on employers.

The measure was backed by the civil rights lobby and opposed by agribusi-

It requires employers to keep written records of all who apply for work so that complaints of discrimination could be traced more easily. It went beyond pending language that required records to be kept only on those individuals actually hired. HR 7357, the first major reform of U.S. immigration laws since 1952, later died with the 97th Congress.

Supporter Robert Garcia, D-NY, sald the amendment "is actually the heart of the entire immigration bill as it pertains to the potential for discrimination .

Opponent Robert Badham, R-Calif., said the amendment would create a felld day for "the civil rights folks," and he added that 'It's about time somebody spoke up for the employer in this country and said that enough is enough."

Members voting yes wanted the immigration reform bill to require added record-keeping by employers to facilitate later checks of claims of discrimination. Voting yes: William Ford, D-Taylor, and William Brodliead, D-De-Voting no: William Broomfield, R-Birmingham, and Dennis Hertel, D-Detroit (whose district includes part of

Not voting: Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, and James Blanchard, D-Pleasant

HISTORIAN: By a vote of 230 for and 97 against, the House gave itself a history office to make sure the House is properly recognized during the 1989 commemoration of the 200th birthday of the U.S. government.

The yet-to-be named historian and staff are to be temporary employees who would leave the government payroll after 1989.

Critics noted, however, that "temporary" congressional offices have a way of becoming permanent.

This vote reversed a September vote to prevent adding a historian to the House bureaucracy. The Senate has a historian who is paid $48,655 annually.

Adovcates of a House historian said the office would not have a specific appropriation and would be funded out of "contingency" accounts. Critics said that still is a drain on the Treasury.

Supporter James Quillen, R-Tenn., said that although "the image of the House is at a very low ebb" the historian "will come up with a program that wil help us re-establish the great image that this body deserves. .

Opponent Delbert Latta, R-Ohio, called the office "foolish" and said "the House has lived without this type of an office, gotten by all these years, and saved the taxpayers some money."

Members voting yes wanted to create the office of House historian. Voting yes: Ford.

Not voting: Pursell, Hertel, Brodbead, Blanchard and Broomfield.

TAXES and TRUCKS: By a vote of 54 for and 33 against, the Senate passed and sent to the president a bill (HR 6211) raising the federal gasoline tax a nickel per gallon. . The bill requires states to permit the entry of larger trucks and raises userfees for heavy trucks. Its goal is to create some 200,000 jobs via bridge and highway repairs to be financed by the higher gas tax.

Trucks up to 80,000 pounds, 102 inches wide and 75 feet long in double-trailer rigs will be assured access to interstates in all'states and to state and federal roads feeding the interstates.

Provisions increasing the gas tax and truck sizes will take effect in April. Senators voting yes favored the bill.

Sen. Carl Levin, D-Mich., voted yes. Sen. Donald Riegle, D-Mich., did notvote.

PAY HIKE: The Senate refused, 24 for and 71 against, to table (kill) an amendment to repeal the 1981 law that permits pay hikes for senators and House members to take effect automatically unless Congress acts to block the raise.

blocked the 15-percent pay hike that House members recently approved for themselves.

The vote occurred during debate on the stopgap appropriations bill (HJ-Res 631) that funds much of the government through next September.

Despite this vote, the repeal later was voided on a parliamentary ruling, and the 1981 law remains unchanged.

Sen. Ted Stevens, R-Alaska, who voted to kill the repeal, said it was wrong to legislate through an appropriations bill.

Sen. J.J. Exon. D-Neb., who wanted to repeal the 1981 congressional salary law, said that if senators want a raise we should stand up on the floor of the Senate and vote . . . up or down."

Senators voting no wanted to repeal the law providing automatic pay hikes for members of Congress. Both Levin and Riegle voted no.

JOBS: By a vote of 46 for and 50 The measure also would have against, the Senate refused to delete language in the stopgap funding bill (HJ Res 631; see preceding vote) to spend $1.2 billion in fiscal 1983 to create public service jobs.

The outlay later was dropped in House-Senate conference in the face of Reagan Administration objections.

Sen., Howard Baker, R-Tenn., who voted to kill the jobs money, said the Senate should "face reality" and realize the president would veto any bill containing massive outlays for public service jobs.

Opponent Spark Matsunaga, D-Hawall, sald it was time "to do something concrete for the 12 million unemployed Americans."

Senators voting no favored the $1.2billion public jobs outlay. Both Levin and Riegle voted no.

Safe 'n sound

Safety strategy reminds seniors: watch your step

By Sherry Kahan

ANE RESCHKE knew that someone had taken her message to heart when she was approached by a member of the audience after her talk on safety to senior citizens at the Redford Community Center.

The woman told her that she used to pull a stool on casters to the bathroom mirror, and stand on it to check her

The 82-year-old McMaken has no wish to slip on a wet floor. So she mops up spills before they can cause trouble.

"She said she wouldn't do that any more," reported Reschke, a field representative for the American Red Cross. "She was going to get a step stool."

As people grow older, their reactions slow up, their eyesight is no longer 20-20 and sounds don't come through as loudly and clearly as they once did. Therefore, they are more likely than others to have accidents.

That was why Reschke, a registered nurse, had been invited to discuss safety and give the informational push to make the seniors more safety-con-

HER TALK WAS one in a four-part program arranged by the Redford Senior Citizens Department called "Fitness for the Future."

"Senior citizens sometimes get careless," said Reschke in an interview after her talk. "They can have bad habits such as using a chair for a stepladder or leaving things on the stairs. They don't like to ask for help, and they forget they are not as strong as they used

She added that the senior body is not in as good physical condition as it should be, and she suggested regular walks as a remedy.

"Their peripheral or side vision is not as acute as it once was, so they might not see a car on a side street," she continued. "Therefore, they must become aware of this and adjust. In general, they have to be more careful than people who are younger."

She advised eye examinations for people who have double or blurring vision. People suffering hearing loss also should consult a doctor.

"Old people don't want to admit their hearing is worse," she commented, "or they won't wear a hearing aid. But this means they wouldn't hear an approaching car, which might knock them

RESCHKE OPENED the meeting with a question. "What causes us to have accidents?" she asked.

"Hurrying and carelessness," responded a listener.

"Our eyesight is not good, and we misjudge distances," said another.

"I thought I turned down the burner," noted a third. "But I turned the wrong knob. I left it on high. I was fortunate it didn't catch the house on fire." Speaker and listeners then explored safety hazards together, with some of their ideas focusing on the fear of falling. They decided that spills should be mopped up immediately to prevent a slip. Throw out throw rugs, which can slide out from under you. "Women like a rug in front of the sink," said Reschke. "That's OK if they use one that will stick."

She also recommended bathtub mats or strips to cut down tub accidents. She advised placing step stools where there is something to lean against.

"WATCH THOSE stoves, ladies," she warned, turning to another household' danger. Don't cook in glothes with loose sleeves that could hang down and catch dy, gum, gifts, books, playthings, paints, crayons, contributions to church, and wagon and wheel toys,

She explained that parents can begin giving an allowance to a child at 6 or 7, depending on the child. For the first few weeks, ask your child to show you where his money goes. By letting him start early with small amounts, you will avoid costly mistakes that neither of you can afford in the future. She said, "Beginning at this age, teach your children to treat gift money as additional income, but teach them not to count on it or expect it." It is probably a mistake to begin to extend a lot of credit at this age, she said, or as Poor Richard advised. He that goes a borrowing, soon goes a sorrowing."

HERNANDEZ ITEMIZED some of the things children 6 through 12 may buy: movies, amusements, toys, books and magazines, club dues, and Teenagers often prefer the "dole system" of getting money whenever they ask for it, but Hernandez said parents who rely on this method usually end up giving their children much more than if they had given them a set allowance.

"From ages 16 to 18, teenagers whould be weaned financially from their parents by being encouraged to work part-time as long as their job doesn't interfere with school work," she said.

At this age they should assume more reponsibility for buying their own clothes, paying for their own gas and insurance, and maintaining their own savings account, she said.

"Above all, remember that if children learn to live with a budget, they won't feel deprived when they're starting out as adults to raise their own family and they have to get by at first with less than their parents have accumulated over the years," Hernandez said.

She added that in general parents should teach children to spend without being wasteful, to save without being stingy, and to share what they have with others.

"Teach your children to value money for what it can do, and not as a thing in itself," she said.

Or, as Poor Richard would say, the goal of every parent should be to teach his children to "Be industrious and free, he frugal and free."

People do judge cookbooks by their cover. And by their binding and illus-

So says Jack McCarthy, television personality, who just published "Jack" McCarthy's Restaurant Recipes" an enterprise that took four years.

"When it comes to cookbooks, people want more than information," McCarthy said. "Many folks collect cookbooks. I'm going to be seeing a lot of those people so I don't want mine to fall apart."

The Grinch that stole Christmas almost purloined McCarthy's gift to his waiting fans when publication of the spiral bound, color-illustrated publication was delayed past holiday "prime" time. But the collection is now in the Originally, McCarthy intended to circulate the book only by mail, but it is now available at Jacobson's, Hudson's and Pages and Pages at Hunter's Square. It can also be ordered by mail from Box 473, Franklin, Mich. 48025 at "One week after the first books went into the mail, we began to get repeat orders from Texas, Florida and California, as well as local fans," he said.

THE AFFABLE McCarthy, a freelance television reporter at Channel 7 in Southfield, is the host of "Friday Feasts," a show that features food and restaurants. His connection with food predates his work as a newsman. He's logged 27 years in radio and television, but his career in kitchens began at age 4. Born in Louisiana, McCarthy said his mother cooked with "vigor and spices." "Cooking is a real hobby for me," he said. "My mom really encouraged me all my life.

"Like every other kid. I can remember hiding the brussel sprouts, but now I love them.

McCarthy lived in Panama and six states before starting first grade, but grew up in Canton, Ill., where his folks still live.

"I didn't know what I wanted to do, except be a pilot, until I got into radio during high school," McCarthy said.

THE DAUGHTER of his high-school principal had a 15 minute radio program playing the plano. Her father was the announcer. "I offered to do the announcing sometime, and they took me up on it a few times. I was always a

Those few pinch-hitting roles landed the teen-ager a part-time radio job.

"I had no illusions about being part of the media, because I made 50 cents an hour for the radio work and the same pay for being the morning janitor at the station."

In his 27 years in the business. McCarthy estimates he's had three or four Christmases off and has covered many tough stories, including the 1967 Detroit riots when he became a target as well as a reporter.

He insists the work of a television reporter is far more difficult than it ap-

Early in the 1960s, he worked in television with John Kelly in Peoria. It was then'he met Carol, his wife of 17 years, who was an Ozark Airlines stewardess. The couple now live in Bloomfield

Township and have two sons: Brett, 16, and Sean. 12. "They don't consider their dad being on television much of a big deal,"

McCarthy said. In 1985, Channel 2 hired John Kelly to come to Detroit while McCarthy was scouting a job in Denver. "Kelly told me they were looking for a reporter in Detroit," he said.

"Salaries depend on the size of the market. Detroit was important. I came here and was hired.

"JOE WEAVER was the lone report: er at Channel 2 and I was second."

McCarthy said. He worked at the station for more than five years and was the first on? camera person to leave for Channel 7. "Then Marilyn Turner left and the exodus began.' McCarthy's Friday evening visits to restaurants and kitchens of interest have a big following in the area. "Allkinds of people watch it, but the people who respond by calling or writing in are working class people," he said.

Students in a Milan, Mich. high school have been printing the recipes McCarthy featured on his Friday Feast show for distribution to fans, certainly an incentive toward doing the book. "Several people claim credit for arging me to do the book so it's hard to pinpoint it's godparent, but we had to do the show two years just to get enough recipes at 52 each year." McCarthy said some are flambuoyant recipes by top chefs, others are simple creations of talented home cooks. To him, the true stars of the publication are the cooks and chefs who opened their kitchens and shared their

INCLUDED are soups, seafoods, breads, poultry and meat dishes from restaurants such as Dimitri's, the Golden Mushroom, The Chambertin, Excalibur, the Meating Place, El Nibble Nook, the Toll Gate and Kingsley Inn to name just a few.

"Jack McCarthy's Restaurant Recipes" is being sold by several local charities who receive $1.25 per sale to help their causes.

Channel 7 gave permission for the book but it is an independent project through Jack McCarthy Enterprises in Birmingham, a public relations firm he operates.

McCarthy set high standards for his first book and doesn't deny if sales go well he may have another out sometime in 1983.

Applicants sought for Hall of Fame

Nominations are being accepted for the first annual selections to the new Michigan Women's Hall of Fame.

According to Michigan Women's Studies Association president Gladys Beckwith, professor of American Thought and Language at Michigan State University, consideration will be in two main divisions: contemporary and historical.

"If the event or achievement for which the woman concerned is to be recognized occurred more than 35 years ago, or if she is no longer living," Beckwith explained, "she will be eligible for honors in the history division of the hall of fame, but if her achievement or principle contributions to the state are of a more recent nature, she may be voted honors in the contemporary division."

(A the 1983 honors will be reviewed in terms of the following:

• The nominee's accomplishments in her chosen field of endeavor, professionally or otherwise. • Whether her contributions to the social cultural, economic or political well being of the community, state or nation have been of an enduring nature.

• Whether the service given by the nominee has significantly advanced the status of women in society.

• Whether the nominee has given evidence of personal qualities or ideals of an exemplary character as to make of her a fitting role model for the youth of Michigan or for other women.

The candidates for nomination, living or dead, must either have been born in Michigan, achieved prominence within the state, or have lived in Michigan for an extended period of time or otherwise have been significantly associated with major events within the state.

Nominations must be submitted on an approved form, which may be secused from the office of the Michigan BECKWITH SAID the nominations Women's Studies Association, P.O. # Hall blooms in thorny Rose Bowl conditions

By Brad Emons staff writer

A bilef phone conversation with Dave Hall's mother summed up the Rose Bowl.

"He's gone through quite an experience," said Marsha.

A back-up quarterback is seen, butseldom heard. At Michigan, Hall usually stands on the sidelines next to Bo Schembechler, the head coach.

"I'm listening to the plays being called and that helps me pay attention better," said the Livonia Stevenson grad. "It keeps me in the game."

With six minutes to go in the first half, starter Steve Smith was crushed on an option run and had to leave the game with a separated shoulder in Michigan's battle with UCLA.

That was Hall's cue. He was going to play substantially as a Maize and Blue for the first time in his three-year ca-

Hall didn't have time to think where he was at although it was the biggest game of the season. He had to get the club moving and help erase the deficit on the scoreboard.

"I WAS NERVOUS the first couple of plays," Hall admitted. "But I was pretty much involved in what I was doing. "It would have been easier, though, if we would have been up 10-0 (UCLA won the game 24-14)." Hall, who threw just 14 passes coming into the game, said the Bruins' defense played it straight up. "UCLA didn't really blitz at all," Hall said. "Basically, their defense was to stop the run, but they usually sent more backs in on second and third downs. "I just wished they would have aged me on the sidelines." blitzed more because that would have given us one-and-one coverage with Anthony Carter (Michigan's All-American wide receiver)." Hall, tentative at first, grew more confident as the game wore on.

Dave Hall good showing

He threw a pair of fourth down touchdown passes in the second half and completed 13 of 24 tosses on the day for 155 yards.

One pass, however, he'd like to have back. It was Blanchard Montgomery's 11-yard interception return for a TD in the fourth quarter.

"All through the game he (Bo) was very positive," said Hall. "He even took the blame for the one interception, but I shouldn't have thrown it.

"It was a new play we tried."

CONSIDERING the circumstances, Hall's performance was applauded.

"Bo said he was pleased with the way I played and kept my poise," said Hall. "and Rich Hewlett (ex-Michigan quarterback and now a safety) told me I did well and congratulated me. He encourfield, Hall was a poised performer despite all the sudden media attention.

"It was kind-of strange," Hall said of the media onslaught following the game. "I was just glad I could play.

football

"I think it will help me a lot for next year. I just wish the game would have been longer. I felt better and better as the game went along."

Hall, who returned Monday night with his teammates from California, doesn't get much rest.

He started classes yesterday along with track practice. "I'll be working on the decashlon," said the junior economics major, "It will take some months to get back in that type of shape. "I'll take a couple of weeks off and then begin throwing every day."

HALL, who was redshirted last year and has two years of eligibility left, will not rejoin the Michigan basketball

"It was just too much on my knees," he said. "I developed tendonitis."

Hall will compete in the indoor track season followed by spring football

And he'll go into spring practice this year knowing No. 7 can do the job when called upon.

"Dave did a very respectable job, I thought, under those tremendous, nervous conditions," said his former highschool coach, Jack Reardon. "We're all very proud of him."

Howe did_ ged me on the sidelines." Just like he handled his job on the he do it?

Gordie Howe, a National Hockey League All-Star at age 52, had a career that covered part of five decades. He played from the 1940s to the 1980s.

Can our minds wander a few seconds in 1983?

Don't you just love those end-of-the-year stories about highlights and lowlights of the previous 12 months? Or how about the list of false prophecies? You know, like Sparky Anderson predicting his Tigers will win 90 games, or Wilfred Benitez saying he'll knock out Thomas Hearns. Of course, if it wasn't for the Los Angeles Rams, Monte Clark would be eating his words, too.

But predictions, no matter how outrageous or insignificant, are what keep otherwise dull events interesting, especially in the world of sports.

How exciting could the world of boxing be if, in a pre-fight press conference, Muhammad Ali would have told those in attendance, "I have one heckuva an opponent confronting me. If I don't watch it, I'm likely to get beat."

NO WAY. We're used to predictions like the one from Mr. T in "Rocky III." Asked what his prediction would be in his second bout with Rocky, Clubber forecasted: "Pain." So what you have prior to the beginning of each new season or event usually is a bunch of words scientifically tossed together to tell you exactly how things are going to work out - if, of course, words spoke louder than actions.

As a sportswriter, I'm used to hearing predictions. As a fan, I'm more accustomed to reading them in newspapers. Now, it's my turn. Time to look ahead at the some of the top stories — as far as I'm concerned — for 1983.

 Livonia Stevenson graduate David Hall comes off the bench to score 28 points as the University of Michigan basketball team upsets UCLA in the NCAA finals. Hall, a reserve player who saw limited action during the course of the regular season, hit seven of 14 shots prior to the championship game with the Bruins. He was called on after starting forward Ike Person was injured. Person collided with Bruin Ron Dogers and then fell into the basketball support structure where he suffered a separated shoulder.

"It's not easy putting a youngster like that in there and telling him to win the NCAA championship for you," a Michigan coach was heard to say afterward. "But that's what we asked and that's what he did."

 Badger Dave Blackmer boots a 53-yard field ioal with three seconds left as Wisconsin earns a Rose Bowl berth with a 10-7 victory over Michigan. Blackmer, a graduate of Farmington Harrison High School, was once considering the Ann Arbor university in pursuit of higher education.

"I liked the coaching staff a lot better, though," Blackmer explained of the switch to Wisconsin. "It was a smart move on his part," first-year Badger coach John Herrington said.

• In a related story, Farmington Harrison, which saw its enrollment fall to 512 this year, wins its third straight state football championship as the Hawks defeat dePorres, 28-20, in the Class C game.

Hughes

Junior all-purpose back John Miller rushes for 312 yards, passes for 197 yards, and returns three kicks and five punts for a net total of 304 yards. Miller also punted five times for a 59-yard average. The win was the Hawks' 35th in a row.

• Livonia heavyweight Craig Payne, tired of politics in the amateur boxing division, turns to the silver screen and shocks the world with a stunning first-round knockout against Rocky Balboa in

"Rocky IV." Since Balboa vowed before the fight, "Yo, dair ain't gonna be no rematch," Payne decides to de-fend his title against Balboa's brother-in-law Paulie in the upcoming sequel, "Rocky V."

• Stephen Crane, former softball coach at Birmingham Groves, accepts a similar position at Oakland University as new Athletic Director Mike Ilitch adds the sport to the school's program.

Crane, who opened up a cookle stand outside the softball stadium, opens the season against Michigan State University. The Spartans, sparked by the perfect, no-hit performance of pitcher Colleen McGovern, blanked the Pioneers, 7-0.

 Lightning strikes twice at Troy Athens High School as the Red Hawks girls' soccer team wins the Class A state championship with a 3-2 victory over Livonia Stevenson.

It was the first state girls high-school championship, just as in 1981 when the Red Hawks coveted Transfer Inger Lundin, who scored 48 goals this season, led Athens with two goals in the state championship.

• Farmington Mercy, the odds-on favorite to capture its second-straight-Class-A state girls' basketball championship, falls short after four starters filed for NBA hardship.

Sarah Basford, Annette Ruggiero, Amy DeMattia and Mary Rosowski took their act to Houston where they play for the division leading-Rockets. Houston leads the Midwest Division of the Western Conference with a 30-1 record. Its lone loss was to Divine Child, the NBA's newest expansion team.

• Al Fracassa rejects an offer to coach the Michigan State University football team after George Perles' first year ends after a disastrous 0-

"Bob's a very capable player," said Stevenson coach George Van Wagoner: "In fact, I'm going to put masks on the other four guys."

While Sluka controlled things inside, 6-7 junior forward Tom Domako played Tonto, riddling Franklin's zone defense with his pinpoint shooting.

Domako gunned in four straight long-range shots in the first quarter as Stevenson jumped out to a 20-17 lead and finished the evening with 23 points to lead all scorers.

Franklin's full-court pressure failed to bother the Spartans as senior guards Gary Mexicotte and Pete Rose controlled the tempo.

ter, scoring 10 points (two baskets on tip-ins) as Stevenson spread its advantage to seven, 37-30.

Franklin's shooting and fast-break attack went sour in the third quarter. Rose and Sluka, meanwhile, combined for 12 points as Stevenson built its advantage to 55-36. After that it was "Hi-Oh Silver and Away" for the Spartans.

"We're trying to find a combination that can play consistently for four quarters," said Franklin coach Jim McIntyre. "At times we play well, but nothing is consistent.

"But we're still scrappy and eager to get on the right track."

Mike Johnson led the Patriots with 16 points and center Bob Stebbins added 12. But none of the Franklin starters shot better than 45 percent.

Stevenson senior forward Bob Palmisano did a commendable job of guarding Stebbins. He also helped out offensively, passing off for eight as-

The sophomore guard from Westland John Glenn sank two free throws with 17 seconds to break a 44-44 tie as the Rockets nipped Livonia Churchill, 47-44, in a non-league basketball

Glenn raised its season record to 7-2 while Churchill fell to 4-2.

The Chargers fought back-from a 10-point deficit in the final period and tied the game on John Grzybck's 18foot jumper with 20 seconds to go.

Glenn coach Dan Henry then called. timeout to set up a final, last-second shot. The Rockets had to take the ball the length of the court to score.

But Churchill coach Don Albertson became the perfect host, ordering his team to intentionally foul Baydarian, who missed a key free throw a minute earlier. The strategy, however, backfired.

"We were looking to go for the last shot and then all of a sudden we were shooting two shots at the line," said Henry. "I couldn't believe it."

After Baydarian's free throws put Glenn on top, Churchill came back but was unable to convert the equalizer with five seconds to go.

Glenn center Paul Grazulis grabbed the missed shot and passed to Greg Gill, who was fouled. Gill followed by making one of two free throws to seal the verdict.

"I THOUGHT they would bring it down with Gill and he would he either drive inside and dish it off, drawing a foul, or take the outside shot at the buzzer," explained Albertson. "He's their best shooter and I wanted to have some time left at the end of the game if he made it."

Glenn broke a 14-14 deadlock after one quarter, reeling off 12 unanswered points. Churchill scored only one basket in the second quarter, that coming with 54 seconds left on a shot by John Merner.

The Rockets maintained a 10-point advantage most of the second half, but Churchill pulled back into the game on Craig Hunter's tying basket with 3:40 remaining. Tim Luch, who led Churchill with 13 points, then made two free throws a minute later to give Chargers a two-point cushion. Glenn, however, came back behind four of Jack Walker's nine points. Gill tossed in 15 to lead all scorers.

The 6-foot-8 Grazulis, who was effective in the first half before getting into foul trouble, added 10 points. Merner, a 6-6 senior, added 10 in a losing cause for the Chargers. THE ROCKETS managed a third-place finish last week in a holiday tournament at Henry Ford Community College. Glenn fell to tourney champion Toledo Scott in its opener, 59-46. Grazulis led all scorers with 19 points and Baydarian chipped in nine. Things went much better for the Rockets in the consolation game as they slammed Dearborn Fordson, 77-Glenn outscored the Tractors 21-6 in the second quarter and never looked back in the surprisingly easy triumph. Baydarian notched 20 points while Todd Jennings and Gill contributed 17 and 11, respectively.

Ocelots make pitch after tournament wins

The Schoolcraft College men's basketball team ended 1982 with a bang.

The Ocelots captured the Highland Park Community College Holiday Classic last week with a pair of victories, first over Muskegon CC (89-83), and then the host school in the finals (87-

Schoolcraft, coached by Rocky Watkins, is off to its best start ever. The Ocelots could gain a national ranking this week with a 13-1 record.

George Meriweather, a second-year guard from Detroit Northwestern, captured tournament MVP honors at Highland Park. He tallied 18 of his gamehigh 26 points in the first half as Schoolcraft captured the champion-

The Ocelots led by as many as 18 points in the second half, but Highland Park, behind the scoring of forward Will Nash, cut the deficit to five down the stretch.

"That's when we had to put it in high gear and hold them off," said Watkins.

'SWINGMAN Carlos Briggs and Livonia Stevenson grad Bill Keyes added 24 and 18 points, respectively, for the winners. Both Briggs and Keyes joined Meriweather on the All-Tourney

Tom Niergarth scored a career high 22 points in the win over Muskegon, the Western Conference leaders. Schoolcraft led by as many as 18 points in the second half, only to have Muskegon charge back behind the shooting Robert

But Niergarth got' plenty of support as Briggs and Merriweather added 20 points each and Keyes bagged 15.

Allen, meanwhile, led all scorers with 36 points. "That showed us we could play with the big guys," said Watkins. "They were a big and quick team."

On Dec. 23 in a preliminary game at Eastern Michigan's Bowen Fieldhouse, Schoolcraft edged Owen Technical, a four-year school in Toledo, 75-71.

Briggs, the nation's leading scorer, tallied 29 points in the victory.

Rockets conclude 1982 in high fashion

Westland John Glenn captured the eight-team Flint Beecher Wrestling Invitational last week by boasting three individual champs and a pair of runner-ups.

The Rockets totaled 1531/2 points. Harper Creek was second with 135. (Complete results follow).

Winning weight division titles for Glenn were Rick Gillies (98 pounds), Tom Gibson (105) and Don Forchione Gillies decisioned Clint Crabtree of Harper Creek, 8-4, while Gibson blanked Greg Palmer of third-place Flint Kearsley, 9.0.

Forchione scored a superior decision in his final against Jewell Baxter of Flint Central.

Also reaching the finals for Glenn were Mike Rossi (119), who was pinned by Tony Cook of Kearsley and Vaughn Viar (167), who lost a four-point decision to Chuck McCoy of Harper Creek.

IN A NORTHWEST Suburban League opener recently, Glenn routed Redford Thurston, 63-12, raising its season dual record to 8-0.

Gillies, Gibson, Viar, Bryan Dve (185), Tom Aloisi (198) and heavyweight Kurt Potulski all won by default.

Dan Gibson (112), Rossi, Mike Proffitt (126), Paciocco and Forchione allscored lopsided wins.

Thurston's only winners were Jeff Newton (132), who pinned John Pierson in 3:44, and Kurt-Campbell (138), who pinned Tom Forchione in 5:03.

Glenn also defeated Monroe, 46-21, and crosstown rival Wayne Memorial, 36-28 in a non-league double-dual meet. Against Wayne, the Rockets won at 98 (Gillies) and then swept the final six

In the feature match, Tom Gibson and Wyane's Dave Davis battled to a 2-

"Wayne has many talented wrestlers and they were ready to wrestle," said Glenn first-year coach Tom Buckalew. "It was a tough meet from beginning to end and we feel very fortunate to have come out on top."

Professional bowling is going big time this year. With a prize list passing more than $2 million, the sport will now take its place with other sports that lavish the leaders with large purses.

Included in the 16-tournament spring schedule are the National championships in Toledo and the Firestone event at Akron - both have prize lists of $200,000.

These purses are by far the largest ever offered in bowling and marks another step up for prestige.

AS THE LEAGUE season enters the final half of the schedule, sharpshooters have a series of difficult targets to beat for the year's high scoring honors.

backgammon

of the Cavendish North backgammon club for backgammon players: let me keep my objectives clearly in mind and let me do my own thinking.

The position diagrammed above occurred in a weekly Sunday tournament at the Cavendish North. White had rolled a 6-2 and stopped for a moment to consider his position. Clearly he has no chance to win the game but by avoiding the gammon he would stay alive in the match.

White therefore played his forced 6 from the black 11 point to his own 8 point and quite correctly played the 2 on his inner board from his 6 to his 4 point. Now unless his opponent rolled a double, white would be off the gammon as all numbers allow him to take a man off on his next roll.

Notice that if white had played more hastily and brought his last man in to his 6 point he would not be able to bear off a man on his next roll, if he rolled any of the following numbers: 5-4; 5-3; 4-3; 4-4; and 5-5, a total of 8 numbers out of 36 possible.

IN OTHER WORDS, if white loses sight of his objective and relies on some general rule such as "You can't get 'em off until you get 'em in," or "Always take as many crossovers (moving from one quadrant to the next is a crossover) as possible when trying to run off a gammon," he would not maximize his chances.

Such axioms are fine but they can never take the place of clear thinking

By making the correct play white will achieve his goal 83 percent of the time, which is to say whenever his opponent doesn't roll a double. His inferiplayers interested in sharpening up their game would be to compete in local tournaments. Such tournaments are held every week in Plymouth, Livonia, Flint and Southfield.

This weekend Detroiters will have a rare opportunity to see some of the finest players in the country competing in the Motor City Nationals on Friday-Sunday at the Hyatt Regency in Dearborn. I understand that last-minute entries are still available in all flights from beginners to championship.

Speciators also are welcome, so those who can't commit themselves to a weekend of backgammon can at least stop in and see what a major backgam-

Even then, the script has problems that the best of actors, working at top bent, would have trouble surmounting. (I kept remembering Regal's wonderful performance as' a longshoreman in "View from the Bridge" a year ago and, even more, remembering the way everything clicks together in Arthur Miller's play.) THE JOINTS simply don't meet in Wilson's "Talley's Folly." It's a poorly crafted piece of work. It's heavy with symbolism. The characters sit in a rocking boat in a disintegrating boathouse that looks like a gazebo. Matt attempts to ice skate on the rotten wood and falls through. He is pulled out of the "thin ice" by Sally. She warns him there are snakes underneath.

The low sound of rushing water is heard throughout. Yes, we know. Life is rushing by, life is fragile. You want to get up and yell, "Cut all the symbols! Enough already!"

The set, designed by Peter W. Hicks, picks up every symbol in the play, and even adds a few. Bullrushes? That's where Moses, the saved Jewish baby, is found by the town princess, who pulls him from the water.

And, of course, Matt is a klutz, knocking skis and pails everywhere, but he can add mammoth figures like lightning and knows all about economics. Sally, the daughter of the town's leading garment manufacturer, can't add up her own savings account.

WELL, THAT isn't too unbelievable. The political conversations are the truly crazy ones. Matt says he is past all

"isms," believes in nothing. "War is life, life is war." Yet he will "never bring a child into this terrible world." I cannot think of a stronger political statement. Sally's politics seem to evolve from some sort of private snit. She is fired from Sunday School for reading "The Theory of the Leisure Class" to her charges. Yet she knows nothing about the world outside her small Missouri

Oddly enough, thin as she is. Sally Talley is more believable than Matt Friedman. Wilson's boyhood in a Missourl town adds a few touches of reality that simply don't carry over into the life of a Jewish immigrant.

It's as if Wilson had been mesmerized by tales he heard in New York of escaped refugees; considered them colorful people, and he was going to make up an even better tale than the factual escapes we have all heard (and which are often wilder than fantasy).

Matt's tale of his boyhood escape with his uncle in 1914 rings false. And the sudden intrusion of nightclub jokes about Ben Franklin and his wife, ethnic jokes about Poles and Italians and Jews, seems stranger than the howling dogs, rednecks in the yard and old Aunt Charlotte yakking away up in the house on the hill.

THE PLAY SEEMS to be taking place in some strange Southern town. There are overtones of Truman Capote and Tennesse Williams. Wilson, upon winning the Pulitzer Prize for "Talley's Folly," said, "I wish I were Faulkner. because he could get it all down."

I wish Wilson had Faulkner's knowledge of the human heart. And Faulkner's magic way with words. I am puzzled as to why "Talley's Folly" won the Pulitzer.

"Start the Revolution Without Me" (1970), 1:30 p.m. Saturday on Ch. 7. Originally 98 minutes.

Director Bud Yorkin has had as many flops in the last 20 years as his former partner and producer, Norman Lear, has had hits. The list includes "Come Blow Your Horn," "Never Too Late," "Divorce American Style," "Inspector Clouseau" and "The Thief Who Came to Dinner." If these films have anything in common, it's that they have nothing in common, which may account for Yorkin's inability to settle into a distinctive and effective directorial sytle. "Start the Revolution," however, succeeds despite Yorkin's clumsy handling, and thanks largely to the delightfully hammy performances of stars Gene Wilder and Donald Sutherland. They play two sets of twins - one pair downtrodden peasants and the other pair affected aristocrats - at the time of the French Revolution. Hugh Griffith and Orson Welles also star. Rating: $3.10.

"Bridge on the River Kwai" (1957), 3 p.m. Saturday on Ch. 7. Originally, 161 minutes.

Early in his career, David Lean directed and co-scripted films from such famous novels as "Great Expectations" and "Oliver Twist." As a writer he reduced these works to a fraction of their original length, but as a director he maintained, and brought to life, the spirit of each novel. Later in his career, Lean directed "Bridge on the River Kwai," "Lawrence of Arabia" and "Doctor Zhlvago," epic works one and all but films that never lose sight of detail or character. Alec Guinness, William Holden, Sessue Hayakawa and Jack Hawkins star, Rating: $3.55.

"That's Entertainment, Part 2" (1976), 1 p.m. Sunday on Ch. 50. Originally 133 minutes.

The original "That's Entertainment" showcased MGM's many musical stars, while this sequel features comedy and drama, as well. Fred Astaire and Gene Kelly play host to Greta Garbo, Judy Garland, the Marx Brothers, Jack Benny and many more. Rating: $3.

"Young Frankenstein" (1974), 9 p.m. Sunday on Ch. 4 Originally 105 minutes.

When you parody a parody, you're likely to come out third best, which is what happens to Mel Brooks' "Young Frankenstein," the film that's a remake of "Bride of Frankenstein," which was director James Whales' the tongue-in-check sequel to the original "Frankenstein" (1931). That's not to say that always-funny Gene Wilder and Peter Boyle (as the monster) don't have their moments. But there are more tired jokes than new ideas here: Madeline Kahn, Cloris Leachman and the late Marty Feldman also star. Rating: $2.50.

Area musicians made their mark in 1982

By Nick Charles special writer

In 1982, the local music scene was just as busy as the rest of the country.

The year belonged to a single performer. It was owned by Marshall Crenshaw. The 28-year-old Berkley native stunned the world with his debut album of pure pop masterpieces.

Crenshaw played the Royal Oak Music Theatre, the Second Chance Bar and Hart Plaza before bopping off to London, Dublin and Stockholm (not to forget New York City and an appearance on the David Letterman show).

In August, the Look released its second album, "Look Again," on Southfield's Plastic Records. The album's single, "You Can't Sit Down," was played on the "rate-a-record" portion of Dick Clark's "American Bandstand" on Sept. 11 and pulled a powerful 94 percent. It had a "very infectious beat to it," Clark told the TV audience. "It'll be a big hit."

"I got excited when I heard it, but it was like it was happening to someone else," said Randy Volin, the Look's guitarist. "It took me at least a day to believe it."

TOBY REDD released its debut alburn, "A to Z," on Plastic Records while Letter O (formerly Radio City) logged a fantastic debut on Canada's A&M Records.

It's also definitely "Time to Move" for BSA (Bittersweet Alley). Hopefully, that means onward and upward for the hardest-working group in the Detroit BSA is recording its first album for Orient/RCA Records (of Canada.) Lead guitarist/vocalist Gary Spaniola is producing and arranging the upcoming alburn. It's set for release this month.

sponsible for Detroit's answer to MTV, the cable music network: Their show, "The Beat," airs at 11 p.m. Saturdays on WTVS, Channel 56.

THE SHOW, simulcast on WLLZ-FM, is one of the best things to come out of the Detroit area in a long time. Not only does "The Beat" feature videos of national recording groups, it showcases local bands.

The mystical, magical game of musical chairs seemed to be played every year as line-ups of bands all over the country change. Metro Detroit isn't any exception this year, with the break up of the Knack. Two members of the band (Bruce Gary and Berton Averre) are playing with former Doors' guitarist Robby Krieger. Lead singer/ songwriter Doug Fieger formed a new group, Taking Chances.

He's written a lot of new music and they have dates all over California, Texas and the Southwest," said June Fieger of Southfield, the musician's mother. "Doug is writing all the new material."

Detroit's own boys in red (or whatever color they're wearing this year), the Romantics, replaced bassist Rich Cole of Rochester by rehiring lead guitarist Mike Skill.

"A lot of people say I left because of musical differences, which isn't true," Cole said. "I liked what I was doing. They had to replace me with Mike because of their lack of songwriting ability. Mike's a good songwriter. I won't

Bacteria mellows red wines' acidity

In the ancient days, and in those of not so long ago as well, wines would be closely watched in the spring following harvest and initial fermentation. On occasion, wines that had been resting quietly since their initial period of foment would suddenly burst into life, an "awakening to the spring" with the warmer weather.

Our understanding of this phenomenon comes from the work of Louis Pasteur. At the turn of the century he learned that this dramatic spring madness is nothing less than a secondary fermentation, induced by bacteria sometimes present in the winery.

When these wild strains of bacteria er, they would change the wine. When they were not activated, nothing happened. Very unsatisfactory. (Nor can initial fermentation be left to the caprice of nature. Cultured yeast strains are used to assure this occurrence, as well.)

Today, nearly all modern wineries induce the process in certain wines by using controlled yeast enzyme strains. It is no longer left to chance. This ability dates only from the 1950s in both France and California, the latter owing its knowledge to the fine technicians of the University of California at Davis.

What happens in this operation is that the yeasts go to work on the wine.

When the bacteria strains are introduced into the wine, they begin to multiply until they have amassed sufficient strength to attack the malic acid that is a natural element of grapes. They break down the diacid, malic and degenerate it into a monoacid, lactic, which contains only balf the effective strength.

The process reduces the strength of the naturally present acids in the wine and dramatically softens it. Thus, from an ideal perspective, one wants malolactic fermentation to occur in those wines that are naturally high in acidity, were activated by warm spring weath. i.e. reds, and to not want it in those that are low, i.e., whites.

> The introduction of yeast strains and increase in temperature assures that Cabernet Sauvignon, Petite Sirah and Zinfandel will go through malolactic fermentation each sping following harvest. The event tends to take away some of the harshness that is a natural product of the winemaking process, especially in the big red wines where extended skin contact in the crushed grapes has produced a highly acidic product.

Because Pinot Noir is naturally less endowed with acidity it is frequently kept cool and free from the yeast strains so that it will retain the slight acidity it naturally has.

wine

Richard

Watson

The process may take a week or up to six months.

In the more delicate world of white wines, where initial fermentation is cool and the wine is stored that way, secondary fermentation is not wanted except sometimes in Chardonnay. This massive white wine which is often more acidic and flavorful than some weak reds, may well be induced to go through the process to make it softer and more complex.

Chardonnays that are described as-"buttery" have probably been through the exercise or at least some of the cuvee has. It is the sweeter, fruitier wines (Chenin Blanc and Johannisberg Riesling especially) that need the acidity of ,the grape to offset their natural sweetness, thereby producing wines described as "balanced".

The process of producing wine, such a "natural" operation, has a great many subtle nuances. One of them, the action of a simple enzyme on malic acid to reduce it to lactic, is extremely important to the quality of the red wines we drink.

Middle-class blacks subject of new book

"The World from Brown's Lounge," a book by Michael Bell, associate professor of English at Wayne State University, has just been published by the University of Illinois Press.

Bell spent three hours a day for 18 months observing the life of middleclass blacks in a West Phildelphia bar, listening and observing, to complete his urban research.

In doing so, he discovered a well-ordered society that has "its own special rules and ethics and revolved around the intense verbal word play found in narration, disputation and spontaneous performance.

Before Bell joined the Wayne faculty in 1974, he was an archivist at the University of Pennsylvania Folklore and Folklore Archives. His Ph.D. is from the University of Pennsylvania.

Thinking of Nursing?

If you're interested in learning more about our Nurse Re-Entry Program, we would like to invite you to attend our 1983 "Drug Fair" on January 13 at the Towsley Center. The "Drug Fair" will give you an opportunity to visit the U of M. Hospital's Recruitment Booth and talk to nursing representatives about the Re-Entry Program, visit different pharmaceutical exhibits and learn about new drugs on the market, and attend several presentations by our nursing staff on important medication
