District prepares for final hearing on closings

By Sandra Armbruster
editor

No changes are expected in an administration proposal that three elementary schools in the Wayne-Westland school district be closed at the end of this year.

That's the word from Dr. Georgina Cseresznye, executive assistant to the superintendent, who was an administrative liaison with a committee which recommended closing Washington and Tinkham schools due to declining enrollment. A third elementary school, McKee, also was proposed for closing by the administration because of the economy.

"We've reanalyzed data from the (three previous) hearings through twice. We'll be meeting one last time, but at this point, we won't be altering our position," Cseresznye said.

"A lot of good information has come out of the hearings, but in my mind personally, none of it alters the recommendation."

THE FINAL public hearing on the plan begins at 7 p.m. Tuesday in John Glenn High School's auditorium, which has a capacity for 300 people.

Cseresznye said that if a larger crowd attends the final hearing, after which the board may vote on the issue, the meeting can be moved to Glenn's cafeteria. She said that the larger auditorium at Wayne Memorial High School will be in use that night.

Moderating the evening besides Cseresznye will be Superintendent Dr. Timothy Dyer and John Baracy, assistant superintendent for business.

The format of the meeting will follow earlier public hearings with a presentation on the proposal, moderators answering written questions and, finally, an opportunity for residents to speak at a microphone.

"We hope the board will decide Tuesday night," she added. "One of the main reasons is that the employee relations department must get started with a layoff list."

Cseresznye said the board's decision could be delayed until the week after Easter.

UNDER THE administration's plan to close the three schools, Washington students would be bused to Schweitzer Elementary School and McKee students would be bused to Edison Elementary.

Tinkham students from the P.D. Graham attendance area would return to that school. Tinkham students living east of Venoy would attend Kettering, and those west of Venoy would attend Hamilton.

Cseresznye said that the two main concerns expressed by parents at the three hearings were the neighborhood school concept and transportation for students.

"Since 1978, that concept in this district has had to be modified," said Cseresznye, referring to the closing of five schools in the district that year.

"We're sensitive to people's feelings about change that involves their children," said Cseresznye. "However, we've transported great numbers of students with minimal problems, and great numbers walk to school with minimal problems."

Mayor battles council over a hiring freeze

By Mary Klemic
and Sandra Armbruster
staff writers

The Westland City Council Monday approved a 75-day freeze on hiring new employees, but Mayor Charles Pickering the next day said he will either ignore the council resolution or veto it.

He issued a memo telling department heads that hiring practices would remain as normal.

At Monday night's meeting, the council said it wasn't getting enough budget information from the mayor and administration and charged that the administration was overspending the budget without council approval.

The job freeze was recommended by the Westland Financial Crisis Task Force, a group appointed by council president Thomas Artley to study the city budget and make recommendations. The council also passed a resolution setting budget and finance policies.

CALLING THE resolutions political harassment, Pickering said that if the council thinks he has done something illegal, it ought to take the issue to court.

"This is an attempt to show that I'm not capable of administration and financial management. Their accusations are out of line," said Pickering. "I'm taking this very personally. I'm at the point that I want them to stand up and back up their accusations with facts."

"They ought to put up or shut up," Pickering threatened to "take action to force them to prove" charges. He said he will get an opinion from the city attorney and from the city auditor on "whether I'm within the budget act and the city charter."

Under the council resolution, the freeze would include call-back provisions and would be in effect until the next budget is passed, presumably in June.

If additional hirings are necessary, the council would consider each case on its merits, council members said.

"This is the only way to make sure that we are apprised, to get input when the administration makes these decisions," Council President Thomas Artley said.

IN DISCUSSING the freeze, the council cited a letter from the Financial Crisis Task Force. The task force is expected to make final recommendations on how to resolve the budget deficit by April 15.

"The mayor has held employees on without having the actual authority or appropriations to pay for them," Councilman Kent Herbert said. "Departments have overspent by several hundred thousand dollars. It's necessary to tighten the council's areas of control."

Pickering accused Herbert of "using his so-called know-how to harass the administration."

"Someone ought to find out how he handled things when he was finance director."

He said that all city departments are now understaffed and that not filling vacant positions would have an impact on city services. Pickering added that some of the positions that could be filled are paid out of federal community development and water and sewer funds which wouldn't affect the general fund deficit.

Laying off additional people would cost the city money in the long run, according to Pickering, because they would be paid benefits and then called back to work in the next budget year.

THE BUDGET and finance policies call for a line item budget with five levels of expenditure accountability and control. The policies limit the expenditures that can be paid without prior approval from the council and direct the administration to give the council information on each department's services in time for budget review sessions to be scheduled later this spring.

In its resolution concerning the policies, the council said there had been unauthorized, overexpenditures by the city in the fiscal year that ends this June. It said the mayor failed to provide information concerning the actual status of revenues and expenditures and concerning the effects of changes in staffing and expenditures on city services.

"I think each department head should make out the level of services and the amount of time spent on each," said Councilman Robert Wagner.

"We do need to consider every program and see what it has to offer. The way the budget is now presented, it's impossible," said Herbert.

Pickering countered that budget information presented to the council last year, when Herbert wasn't on the council, was streamlined at the request of that body.

Hanging on tight, Jodie Necker and son David Jr. wait for Dad to give them a push down a snow-covered hill in Edward Hines Park. The Neckers, former Westland residents, now live in Romulus and made a special trip to Hines Park Monday to enjoy a last taste of winter.

City weathers winter's last hurrah

The last minute winter storm that made its surprise appearance Sunday night apparently brought little trouble to Westland.

Accidents from the storm were few and minor in nature, and city crews were able to have the roads cleared by late Monday, Westland officials said.

Four minor accidents were reported in the 24 hours after the storm, and cars in the city weren't troubled with drifts, Westland police reported Tuesday morning.

"We had very few accidents; nothing serious," said Lt. Al Billings of the traffic bureau. "We didn't have that much snow (for drifting)."

THE STORM arrived in the Detroit area at 11:39 p.m. and dumped six inches of snow. Schools in Westland were closed Monday, as were many others around the area.

City crews worked late Sunday night and had the roads "pretty dry" by Monday night, according to Public Service Director Henry Lundquist.

Crews went out at about 10 p.m. Sunday and worked through the night, he said. The crews began salting the roads at 10:30 p.m. Sunday.

"When the fresh crews came in, all the major roads, school routes and emergency routes were open," Lundquist said.

One difficulty with Sunday's late season storm was that the crews had already started to put their winter equipment away by the time it hit, according to Lundquist. Trucks had to be re-equipped with plows and salt spreaders, he said.

"We had started putting everything away and were planning on cutting grass," Lundquist said. "We had to get all that stuff out again. But we're a very versatile group."

"We thought we were out of all that, but Mother Nature has a way of socking it to you," he said.

City records pedestrian as 4th fatality

By Mary Klemic

A 14-year-old Garden City boy was killed shortly before midnight Saturday as he crossed Cherry Hill Road near Venoy.

Police said Chad Smith of Kathryn Street was walking north across Cherry Hill just east of Venoy when he was struck by a westbound car.

Breakdown delays booklets

They're coming, they're coming! That's the word from a Livonia Public School official who says the district has been bombarded by calls from Westland residents wondering when they'll be receiving their leisure time class booklets.

Director of Community Relations Jay Young said that a printing breakdown while booklets for the Westland section of the district were being processed has caused a delay in having them delivered in that section of the district.

Adding to the problem was Monday's snow day when school offices were closed.

Young said that residents should receive the booklets late this week.

In the meantime, they may call 422-1200 Ext. 334 to check on program availability.

The impact threw the boy onto the hood and windshield of the car. He went over the car and into the air and landed in the street some 30 feet from where he was struck, police said.

THE BOY was taken to Wayne County General Hospital where he was pronounced dead.

Defranceschi estimated he was driving at 35 to 40 m.p.h. He told police he did not see the youth before the impact.

Two passengers said they saw him "an instant" before he was struck as he walked into the traffic lane. They said Smith was carrying a radio on his shoulder and didn't look west.

Police said they do not plan to charge Defranceschi. The boy's death was the fourth traffic fatality in Westland this year.

IN ANOTHER accident, Robert Tennant, 43, of Vansull, Westland, was injured when his car was struck by a pick-up truck about 11:05 p.m. March 17. He was reported to be in critical condition at Wayne County General Hospital.

Police said Tennant apparently drove through a red light at Cherry Hill and Newburgh.

The driver of the pick-up, Gaetano Portelli, 20, of Westland, told police he was heading south on Newburgh at 35 miles per hour and had a green light as he entered the Cherry Hill intersection. Portelli said he couldn't avoid hitting Tennant's car, which was heading east. Witnesses told police Tennant went through the red light.

Tennant was found unconscious and pinned behind the steering wheel, police said. He was rushed to Wayne County General Hospital with apparently severe internal injuries.

Two passengers in Tennant's car and two in the pick-up truck suffered minor injuries, police said.

Daffodil Festival

AMERICAN CANCER

Helping promote the American Cancer Society's "Daffodil Days" are high school students Jenny Laing (from left) K.C. Howell, Marie Karwan, and Mary Grace.

Daffodils will be sold during the annual fund-raising event that signals the beginning of Cancer Control Month in April.

Flowers help health bloom

Local residents can help celebrate spring and life during the American Cancer Society's "daffodil days" April 1-3.

Fresh-cut daffodils, among the first and most attractive blooms of spring, will be sold during the annual fund-raising event that signals the beginning of Cancer Control Month in April, a spokeswoman said.

Funds raised from "daffodil days" support the ACS's research, education and service programs.

The bright yellow flower is chosen for this event because it symbolizes hope. This is the message stressed by the American Cancer Society in its fight against the disease.

"Evidence of hope is found in the fact that the 14 once-deadly cancers, including Hodgkins Disease, are now highly treatable, thanks to advances in cancer research," said Maureen Camps, local ACS publicity chairwoman.

"With early diagnosis, 50 percent of all cancers could be arrested," she said.

The central Wayne unit of ACS which serves Garden City, Westland, Wayne and Inkster will be involved in the flower sales campaign.

DAFFODILS WILL be sold in bunches of 10 for $3.50, by the "bucket" of 100 for a donation of $35, or in any quantity in between. Larger orders of more than 100 can also be accommodated.

Advance orders and payment are encouraged to ensure that enough flowers are available to meet the demand.

Orders should be placed by Friday by calling the local unit office at 425-6830, Camps said.

The central Wayne unit of ACS is on Inkster Road between Ford and Warren roads, directly in front of Garden City Osteopathic Hospital.

"We're hoping that area businesses, civic groups, churches and individuals will order by the bucket," Camps said.

"Orders of 50 daffodils or more will be delivered on March 30 and 31. "The fresh-cut flowers could be used to decorate a place of business, handed out to customers or employees or donated to nursing homes.

"The daffodils are bright and lively reminders that spring is here and that cancer research is bringing hope to patients every day."

CAMPS NOTED that April 1-3 is Easter weekend so the flowers are particularly "appropriate" for those who celebrate that festive occasion.

Dozens of volunteers will be working on the "Daffodil Days" campaign.

Members of the Inkster RSVP (Retired Senior Volunteer Program) will be donating their time to prepare the flowers for delivery. Other volunteers will be taking orders, making deliveries and conducting site sales.

America's orbiting medicine chest

The family medicine chest is an American institution. It helps parents get the kids over the sniffles, bring down occasional fevers or clean up scraped knees. Properly stocked and managed, the medicine chest is a good resource when we need relief from life's minor pains and discomforts.

Few travelers venture far from home without a few basic drug items like aspirin and antacids.

And space travelers are no exception. About as far from a corner drug store as you can get, astronauts are provided with an assortment of prescription medicines, over-the-counter drugs and first aid supplies, all packaged into the Shuttle Orbiter Medical System (SOMS), American's orbiting medicine chest.

SOMS consists of a series of pallets — much like backpacks — which hold medications, bandages and emergency medical equipment. The compact system is put together so that crew members can treat a wide variety of medical problems which might arise during a mission, ranging from simple stomach upsets to severe allergic reactions or infections.

Diagnosis and treatment of any in-flight medical condition would be initiated and monitored through voice contact between the crew and a flight surgeon on duty at NASA Mission Control Center.

All products chosen for SOMS must be able to withstand the severe environmental conditions of space flight. Compact packaging and easy use are also important.

Bentley parents offer school rescue report

By Teri Banas
staff writer

The citizens committee to "Maintain 4 High Schools" presented the Livonia Board of Education Monday with a 71-page report that detailed its plea to keep open Bentley High School. The administration has targeted the school to close in June 1985.

The report, which committee members read aloud to the board, administrators and about 100 audience members, argued against the proposed closing of any high school until further study is done on alternatives to dealing with declining enrollment.

THE COMMITTEE, led by parent and Ford Motor Co. engineer James Lynch, cited several alternatives culled from interviews with school officials in other areas beset with declines in enrollment, and articles published by educators.

But most of the suggestions, aimed at keeping intact a "neighborhood" concept for high schools, amounted to a major overhaul in the structure of Livonia's school system. Essentially, the committee has recommended reorganizing the district into a two-level system and eliminating the junior high schools.

THE SCHOOL BOARD is taking one week to study the committee's report, which took nearly three months to compile. On Monday, the school board is expected to respond to the committee's suggestions. A request to extend the one-week study period did not receive board support.

Among the committee's suggestions and requests was that the board form a citizens task force to examine alternatives to further school closings, a plan which the school board has denied once before.

The committee recommended:

- Four high schools with reduced enrollments should be operated. Based on future enrollment estimates those schools would still house more students than the state's average high school today. In 1990, the group said that each high school would house about 1,000 students — about 200-400 more than the state average.
- Restructuring the current grade levels and eliminating the junior high level into a possible K-7 or K-8 system with an 8-12 or 9-12 secondary school level.

- Maintaining four high schools and offer available space in each building for other district and community uses. Some suggested committee uses included: moving the community education offices out of the Whitman Center and into one of the high schools; returning the services of the Career Center, now housed in a facility on Newburgh Road, into the high schools; consolidating various district departments into the high schools; and relocating the district's administrative offices into a high school, thereby making its Farmington Road facility available for sale or lease.

OTHER RECOMMENDATIONS made by the group focused on these financial suggestions:

- Saving $2 million by phasing out the district's operation of four junior high schools.
- Trimming $2 million or 10 percent in the operations of the central staff. The report noted that while student numbers fell by 33 percent in the past five years, the central staff fell by 13 percent and its costs rose by 21 percent. The report stated that transportation costs rose by 72 percent in that time.
- Placing each school building on a line-item budget to get a better handle on each building's costs.
- Replacing some work done by in-district personnel by presumably less costly outside contractors.

- Employing an outside consulting firm to perform a comprehensive analysis of the district, including a job analysis.

The group presented the school board with a 3,000-signature petition opposing the closure and the results of an unscientific survey it initiated. Of 338 residents who responded, 92 percent of them said they wanted "alternatives to closing a high school" and 88 percent said they wanted to keep four high schools, the committee said. Approximately 13,000 surveys were distributed.

The committee also outlined the negative effects the proposed closing would have on students, teachers and real estate values in separate reports during the 2 1/2 hour presentation.

Presenting reports Monday were committee members Pat Sari, Carl Bengtsson, Barbara Kett, Judy Hollar, Al LaForge and city councilman Robert Bennett.

BENNETT'S REPORT, presented at the end of the evening, and entitled an "overview" of the school closing process, touched off a bitter response from board president Marjorie Roach. Saying that the interaction between the citizens group and school board had at times been antagonistic, Bennett said there had been name calling and "verbal assaults" by the board on his committee members. In one reference to committee member Lynch, Bennett read that one of the school trustees had referred to the citizens group as a "Lynch mob."

Roach's response was: "The first time I heard of that was right here, tonight."

It was not, however, the first time bitter remarks emerged during public hearings on the recommended high school closing.

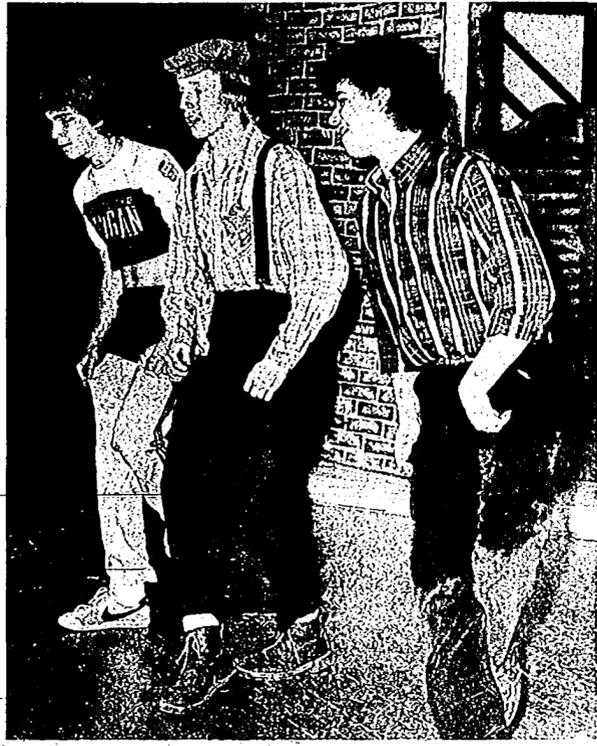

The group this week and in previous public hearings on the question has chided the board for what it has called a "failure" on the board's part to more fully discuss the alternatives and involve public input.

"It has not been the citizens' group's intention to create a situation of confrontation, adversity or negativism," Bennett read in closing this week. "That situation, unfortunately, has developed in some aspects of the process since December 1982."

Alternative plans may surface as board ponders closing schools

Noting that those are legitimate concerns, Cseresznye said that the administration "doesn't foresee difficulties." She added that all problems are handled on an individual basis.

THE BOARD may come up with its own plan for closing schools or taking other cost-cutting measures. At least one board member, Kathy Chorbagan, has submitted her own "confidential" plan, which she declined to outline.

According to the Freedom of Information Act, "advisory communications within a public body" may be kept secret.

Chorbagan said that her report was an effort to "get people thinking." It included a look at live births per thousand and longevity for the Wayne-Westland area that she compiled on her own from area hospitals.

"I didn't think that the administration proved its case when they handed the figures out," she said, adding that her study shows the prospects for declining enrollment to be worse than the administration has projected.

"I wish it proved the other way around," she said.

Chorbagan said she expects that there will be "concessions" in the proposed closing plan made as a result of her report. Chorbagan declined to name other schools mentioned for possible closing in the report because she didn't want to put the whole district in upheaval.

She added that "nothing is in concrete" and that further information will be brought out at the public hearing as a result of research being compiled by other board members.

Disappointed that only board President William LeDuc and Sharon Scott had called her to talk about the report, Chorbagan said she had hoped to get cohesiveness to "argue intelligently" about the issue.

IF THE BOARD does decide to close the three schools, current plans call for selling them, according to Baracy. If that fails, the district will try to lease them or use them for a self-supporting program with a private tenant so that they won't remain vacant. Tonquish school on Warren has remained vacant and boarded up since it was closed in 1978.

Baracy said that in the past, the board has taken the position of trying to sell schools for more than the debt owed on them. That policy may change if the three schools are closed. He said that, at the request of a board member, a legal opinion from the district's attorney reports that a school may be sold for less than is owed on it.

Outstanding debt on the three schools is $185,000 for Washington, the oldest school in the district; $910,000 for Tinkham; and $544,000 for McKee, the smallest school in the district.

THIS WON'T be the last residents hear about declining enrollment forcing the need to close schools.

Cseresznye said that the administration believes that in two years the district will have to look at closing more schools.

"Our decline has moderated. That's why we're not recommending closing more than three right now," she explained. "If we wanted to get tight, we could close five, but we wanted a good plan with a moderate position. So we're closing three and taking two years to see what happens."

Cseresznye said that in 1980, the rate of decline in numbers of students was so severe, administrators thought that the district might have to go to a four-year high school and change junior high schools into middle schools with sixth through eighth grades.

She said the thought at that time was that larger secondary schools with a range of curriculum should be kept open; however, the district's secondary enrollment has "held well" with families not moving out of the district as children got older, delaying at least temporarily the need to close secondary schools.

Garden City cable TV office gets tax break

Sheridan Construction Co. and Maclean Hunter Cable Television Co. received a 50-percent property tax break for five years, despite opposition at a Garden City Council public hearing Monday night.

The tax break was formally requested by Sheridan although Maclean Hunter, as tenant in the newly constructed building, will pay the property taxes.

The building, expected to be occupied by the cable TV company by early April, is on the south side of Pardo, just east of Middlebelt.

The council action provides the tax abatement only on the building and property, valued at $230,000. Excluded is the nearly $1 million in cable TV equipment to be installed by Maclean Hunter.

Opposing the tax break abatement in varying degrees were Duane Moody, Alice Leclercq, William Burton, all residents, and downtown party store owner Helen Minder, who complained that other local merchants never received the same tax break.

Moody questioned the relatively small number of jobs that the cable TV office-studio would create with only one local resident being hired.

Burton said that state law requires that the request for the tax break be made by the company paying the property taxes, which in this case is Maclean Hunter.

But City Attorney Ronald Mack said the law allows either the property owner or building tenant to ask for the tax abatement.

Robert Sheridan, owner of the local construction firm, defended the request for the tax break.

He said he bought an expensive piece of property and met all city requirements, including complying with a facade standard, and constructed a building specifically for Maclean Hunter.

The structure requires four heating zones to allow for the specialized equipment in the office-studio, he said, and it would be hard to find another tenant for the building.

CITY COUNCILMAN William Haydon urged support for the tax break request, saying that Garden City and other cities are "vying for new businesses" by providing incentives.

He said that Sheridan and Maclean Hunter are complying with the city's master plan.

He told Minder that the state law allowing for the tax break was approved in 1978 and local merchants didn't have the chance to get the same tax break.

Councilwoman Mary Markowicz was the only official to oppose the tax break although she pointed out that Maclean Hunter "is building here and is settling down."

Council members backing the tax break request were Haydon, Norma McDonnell, Donald McNulty, and Mayor Vincent Fordell.

Abstaining was Councilman Phillip Kitzman who cited a possible indirect conflict of interest. His wife, Nancy, is Maclean Hunter's educational liaison coordinator.

roll call report

Arms 'reduction' amendment dropped from freeze

Here's how area members of Congress were recorded on major roll call voters March 10-17.

HOUSE

FREEZE: The House rejected, 209 for and 215 against, a pro-administration amendment to make the nuclear freeze resolution (HJR 13) more acceptable to conservatives and others who fear it is weighted in favor of the Soviet Union. The freeze measure awaits final action in April.

Suburban congressmen split along party lines. Republicans backing the pro-Reagan amendment, Democrats opposing it.

Voting yes: Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, and William Bloomfield, R-Birmingham.

Voting no: Dennis Hertel, D-Detroit, William Ford, D-Taylor, and Sander Levin, D-Southfield.

The amendment at hand sought to change the wording of the resolution to call for a "freeze and/or reductions." Sponsor Mark Siljander, R-Mich., said "this freeze would lock us into non-mutually assured destruction. This is ridiculous."

While the resolution lacks direct legislative impact, both sides call it a powerful statement which could influence defense votes in Congress, world opinion, and U.S. and Soviet attitudes during arms control talks.

It urges both superpowers to immediately freeze nuclear arsenals under "mutual and verifiable" procedures.

An important but subordinate goal of the resolution intentionally described by freeze authors in fuzzy language is reducing arsenals.

The apparently lower priority given reductions upset some lawmakers. They argued the Soviets have nuclear superiority and, therefore, a freeze would tie the United States into a position of weakness, tempting the Soviets to seek a conquest.

Freeze advocates countered that, even if the Soviets are ahead, the question is academic because they say each superpower has enough weaponry to destroy the other many times over.

Opposing the Siljander amendment, Edward Markey, D-Mass., asked, "Are we going to let the Atomic Age return us to the Stone Age? Or are we going to seize our destiny and work toward world peace?"

Members voting yes wanted arms reduction to be a top priority of the nuclear freeze resolution.

CHALLENGE: By a vote of 226 for and 195 against, the House adopted an amendment to HJR 13 (see above) that was supported by freeze backers and opposed by the Reagan administration.

The effect of the vote was to defang a pending amendment that would have gutted the nuclear freeze resolution by stating that nothing in it could prevent the United States from "modernizing" its nuclear deterrent while the freeze was in effect.

Members voting yes wanted to prevent the nuclear freeze resolution from being gutted. Voting yes: Pursell, Hertel, Ford and Levin.

Voting no: Broomfield. Sponsor Clement Zablocki, D-Wis., said, "This is the time to move in the direction of disarmament by negotiation. This may be the last time we have this opportunity."

Opponent Henry Hyde, R-Ill., said, "The greatest challenge is not just to prevent the occurrence of nuclear war — we can do that today, just disarm, just lay down our arms and get on our knees and face East."

SENATE
ARMY VS. EPA: By a vote of 45 for and 51 against, the Senate rejected an amendment to the jobs bill (see above) to cut $209.7 million from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineering and Bureau of Reclamation outlay and add $200 million to the Environmental Protection Agency's sewer construction program.

Michigan's Sens. Carl Levin and Donald Riegle, both Democrats, voted yes, preferring to attack unemployment through high EPA spending.

Supporters argued EPA spending would be spread throughout the country and create jobs immediately. They said spending by the Army Corps and Reclamation Bureau, by contrast, would prolong existing jobs and further fill the pork barrel in the South and West.

Opponents defended corps and reclamation spending as job-creating and vital to stimulating the economies of all regions.

Sponsor Daniel Moynihan, D-N.Y., said "this is a jobs bill, but nothing — not a penny of the (corps) construction money — can be spent in . . . a time frame that would have effects upon employment unless you anticipate a decade of depression."

Opponent Dennis DeConcini, D-Ariz., said senators should "lay aside these regional raiding parties and work together to create jobs all over this country."

JOBS: By a vote of 82 for and 16 against, the Senate passed and sent to conference with the House a bill (HR 1718) appropriating $5.2 billion in taxpayer's money to create primarily public works jobs and provide relief for recession victims.

Michigan's Levin and Riegle both voted yes.

Parents can help kids learn to read

The Wayne-Westland Community Schools, in observance of National Celebrate Reading Month, are making an all out effort to increase enthusiasm for reading during March.

One of the goals is to ask parents to help encourage reading.

Arlene Corriveau, learning consultant at Elliott Elementary School, points out that parents are the child's first teacher.

"Children learn from the examples set for them. To read something with your child each day is to teach the child the love of reading and of books," she said.

Children who are read to, who see important people in their lives reading, who are encouraged to ask questions and who develop the look-it-up habit, become successful readers, she added.

"Children may ask for a book to be read and reread. Parents may find this task a tedious one, but the child should not be discouraged from his selection," she said.

CHILDREN RELATE to these books because they may enjoy the rhythm of the words, the predictability of knowing what is going to happen and even the words in print become familiar to them.

Both parents should share in the excitement of reading to and with the child, she said.

"This shared time provides relaxation for parent and child and a time for being together.

"Often this time for reading to the child terminates when the child enters school. However, this should not be the case, as the child looks forward to this custom of reading after dinner or before bedtime."

As the child begins to read, he or she will look forward to showing his reading progress by reading to the parent. This gives the parent an opportunity to observe the son's or daughter's reading progress.

"Reading for pleasure should be encouraged at home as well as at school.

WEEKLY VISITS to the school or community library can provide the child with an opportunity to select his own reading material.

Parents may become confused when trying to help the child in book selection. One way to assist is the "rule of thumb."

To use this rule, have the child read a page of the book aloud. Hold up one finger for each word missed.

If you have four fingers and a thumb used at the end of the page, the book is probably too difficult for the child to read by himself.

"Remember, that if the child is really interested, he may wish to try it even if it is hard."

The Wayne-Westland library has a wide range of books for children.

Judy Teachworth, the children's librarian, is available to give assistance to parents and children. They have a selection of reference materials that children may use when working on reports.

THE LIBRARY hours are presently 12 to 8 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

In addition to visiting the library and the reading of books, parents can encourage reading in everyday life situations:

- When ordering a pizza, encourage the child to use the yellow pages.
- When the child wants to see a movie, help him/her use the newspaper entertainment page.
- When baking cookies or cakes, have the child read the recipe or locate the ingredients.

Abraham Lincoln once said that "people are as happy as they make up their minds to be."

Dave Cwilka, 26, of Westland is one person who has made up his mind to be happy, in spite of circumstances that others might find depressing.

"I was afraid, but I made up my mind to accept my limitations and be the best that I could be with my handicap," Cwilka said.

In 1976, four years after graduating from Western Michigan University with a degree in public administration, Cwilka found out he had multiple sclerosis. The disease progressed so rapidly that one month after MS was diagnosed, he had to quit his job at Michigan National Bank in Livonia.

After going through a period of anger and denial, Cwilka made up his mind not to sit around and feel sorry for himself. Instead, he decided to be as happy as he could be.

TODAY, SIX years after he first learned that he had MS, Cwilka's attitude is his greatest asset and the gift he shares with everyone he meets. Instead of asking, "Why me?" he said he is more likely to ask, "Why not me?" Rather than trying to place blame or find a reason for his condition, he jokingly refers to his disability as "an extreme case of bad luck."

Two or three times a week, Cwilka shares his positive attitude with other disabled persons and the staff at the Wayne County Easter Seals in Inkster. There he visits with friends and helps with daily activities. Cwilka says he enjoys working on crafts at the center, but finds he often gets behind because he spends so much time helping others.

Cwilka's advice to others with disabilities includes an invitation to come to Easter Seals.

"Come and see for yourself," he said. "It's a great place to socialize and expand your abilities."

"All the people are so nice. They have incredible patience. They astound me."

DIRECTOR OF leisure services Teresa Beck also thinks highly of Cwilka.

"Dave is a person who brings a lot of life to the center," she said. "He always has a joke or a witty remark that keeps people on their toes and laughing."

"He brings out the best in everyone. His attitude is so positive it affects others. He shows others that their lives aren't as bad as they think."

The 1983 Easter Seal Telethon supports services for Cwilka and more than 40,000 others in the tri-county area.

The telethon, hosted by WDIV-TV news anchor Mort Crim and Detroit Lions' quarterback Gary Danielson, will air from 11:30 p.m. March 23 to 7 p.m. March 27 on Channel 4.

Easter isn't only time they offer aid

Despite its name, the Easter Seal Society is open all year round instead of at just one season.

The nationwide organization, with local offices in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties, provides direct educational, referral, therapeutic and recreational services to handicapped children and adults.

"It is a major provider of health services in the country," said Marshall Pitler, executive director of the Wayne County Easter Seal Society. "Its activities occur most of the year."

The society offers programs for all disabled persons, Pitler said.

"We don't restrict ourselves to any particular disease or age," he explained. "For example, we help people who have had a stroke, are recuperating from an auto accident, have multiple sclerosis or muscular dystrophy."

The society's programs include independent living skill training to help the handicapped get out in the community and care for themselves. It offers a finanial assistance program for prescribed orthopedic appliances.

Last year, more than 19,000 young people in Wayne County participated in scoliosis (curvature of the spine) screenings provided by the organization for fifth through eighth graders, Pitler said.

MAJOR recreational activities are offered by the Easter Seal Society, including swimming and bowling. In addition, the society operates four day camps: two in Detroit, one in Inkster and one downriver.

The 62-year-old organization is the oldest volunteer health agency in the country, according to Pitler.

"The first Easter Seal agency was started in a small community in Ohio by a Rotary Club, who saw there weren't enough rehabilitation facilities around to take care of people who had an accident or a disability," he said.

In Wayne County, the society's office has been located at 2545 Hyde Park Drive in Inkster for 26 years.

For more information, call 722-3055.

The annual Easter Seal Telethon will be televised this year on Saturday and Sunday, March 26 and 27. This year's telethon, to be hosted by WDIV-TV news anchor Mort Crim and Detroit Lions' quarterback Gary Danielson, will support services for more than 40,000 handicapped persons in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties.

Are you reducing your risk of heart attack?

Most coronary risk factors are preventable, curable or treatable. Do you know what they are? Test yourself. Find out how much you know about preventing a heart attack. This is not a pass or fail test. Its purpose is to tell you how much you know about avoiding a heart attack.

- Which is a major risk factor to heart attack?
 - High blood pressure.
 - Cigarette smoking
 - High levels of cholesterol and fat in the blood.
 - Diabetes.
 - All of the above.
- Which additional factor may contribute to your risk of heart attack?
 - Obesity.
 - Family history of heart disease.
 - Lack of regular exercise.
 - All of the above.
- Which health risks are most controllable by the individual?
 - Risks related to your behavior and habits.
 - Inherited traits.
 - Problems in your environment, such as air pollution, highway conditions.
 - Conditions that require care from hospitals, doctors and other health professionals.
- If you feel uncomfortable pressure, shortness of breath or pain in the center of your chest lasting 2 minutes or more:
 - Drive yourself to a hospital immediately.
 - Wait an hour, it may be heart-burn or indigestion.
 - Call an emergency rescue service.
 - Leave a message with your doctor's answering service.
- Which foods add to cholesterol in the blood?
 - Polyunsaturated vegetable oils and margarine.
 - Low-fat milk and yogurt.
 - Egg yolks, butter and cheese.
 - Fish and poultry.
- A stroke happens when oxygen-rich blood is cut off on its way to the brain. Warning signals of stroke include:
 - Temporary dimness or loss of vision, particularly in one eye.
 - Unexplained dizziness, unsteadiness or sudden falls.
 - Sudden, temporary weakness or numbness on one side of the body.
 - Temporary loss of speech.
 - All of the above.
- Anyone starting a program of regular exercise for cardiovascular fitness should:
 - Go "all out" from the start.
 - Constantly push to increase the intensity of activity.
 - Pick activities which are rhythmic and repetitive. Start slowly.
 - Always stand still or lie down immediately after exercising.
- Hypertension means:
 - Being nervous and high-strung.
 - Feeling very tense.
 - Having blood pressure that stays higher than normal.
 - All of the above.
- Untreated, high blood pressure can cause which problem?
 - Stroke.
 - Heart attack.
 - Kidney failure.
 - All of the above.
- If you have high blood pressure, you will need to:
 - Take medications as prescribed.
 - Get your blood pressure checked regularly.
 - Decrease amount of sodium (salt) you eat.
 - Lose weight if overweight.
 - All of the above.

Lucas names top financial officer

Wayne County Executive William Lucas has recruited the former controller and chief administrative officer of Ingham County to serve as Wayne County's new chief financial officer.

Lucas, in his first major appointment since taking office in January, named Fred Todd, a 34-year-old native Detroit with financial expertise in both government and business, for the $62,500-a-year post.

"Fred Todd brings to Wayne County an impressive record of fiscal accomplishment, integrity and responsibility," Lucas said Wednesday.

"I conducted an extensive, nationwide search for the right person to fill this position, and I'm convinced he's the individual who will successfully form the new fiscal policy as we move to eliminate Wayne County's ($130 million) debt."

Todd, whose management skills helped Ingham County end the 1982 year with a $6.8 million budget surplus, comes to Wayne County with a host of credentials in both the public and private sector.

He is the former finance director and treasurer of Novi and assistant director of Madison Heights.

Todd also has served as corporate staff auditor of Gulf & Western Corp., operations review analyst for Freuhauf Corp. in New York, and control auditor for Citron Oil Co. in Romulus.

A former adjunct instructor at Wayne State University and Madonna College, he also has taught at Oakland Community College and Walsh College.

Todd holds a bachelor of science degree in accounting from the Detroit College of Business and a master's degree in business administration from Indiana Northern University. He is currently completing course work toward a master's degree in public administration at the University of Michigan.

Lucas has moved slowly to appoint his top staff. The only other new face on his staff is former state Sen. David Plaweck, the executive's liaison to the County Commission.

Area youngsters stuck on sticker fad

Robin get post

Robin Walker of Garden City has been named assistant to the company for the upcoming production of "Pippin" to be presented by the Oakland University Musical Theatre Workshop March 25-27 and April 2. Robin has performed in numerous shows at Garden City West High School and with the Garden City Civic Theatre.

Tracy Leece of Redford looks through her sticker book for possible duplicates to use as trade bait.

Paula Dusina of Livonia adds to her sticker collection by purchasing a new one that is being snipped a store employee.

Collecting and trading stickers of various designs has become the latest nationwide craze among youngsters. So popular are these stickers that conventions are sponsored so the kids can get together and trade them or buy new ones.

One such convention took place from noon to 4 p.m. Sunday in the lobby of the Michigan Social Services Department, near Sara's Card and Gift Shop in the shopping mall at Plymouth and Inkster roads.

Sponsored by the store, which sells the stickers, the convention drew an estimated 700 children ranging in age from 3 to 15, according to store employee Sally Adams. It was the second store-sponsored sticker convention, and it attracted about 200 more youngsters than the first, Adams said.

A third convention may occur sometime before the school year ends, she said.

"The real avid collectors are children ranging in ages from 6 to 12," Adams said. "The kids are very serious about collecting and trading the stickers. They really get down to the trading business at these conventions."

"This is the current fad among youngsters, and it's been going on for the last year or two. I'll bet it'll be good for at least another year, and representatives of sticker manufacturers are predicting it will continue another two years," she said.

The stickers depict animals of all kinds, including Miss Piggy and Mickey Mouse; ET, Packman, monsters, stars, the moon, hearts and clowns, to name just a few, Adams said. They're sold individually for 10 to 50 cents each, depending on the size and material of the sticker, she said.

They're also sold by volume in packages ranging in price from $1 to $1.75, Adams said.

"The children usually display them in photograph-type album books, but they don't expose the sticky surface so they can be put in and out of the album for trading purposes," she said. "We made about $1,400 Sunday on the sale of new stickers, and we're delighted with the success."

Adams said the store made about $800 on sticker sales at the first convention, which took place last November.

Youngsters are involved in a session of intense trading during Sunday's sticker convention in Redford Township.

Free brush collection to start April 1

Garden City homeowners will have a chance at their twice-a-year free brush pickup starting April 1.

The city's public services department will be collecting bundles of brush and tree trimmings of up to five cubic yards without charge.

Subsequent collections are $3 per cubic yard.

The service continues through May 15. The second collection period is in the fall.

Residents who want the spring brush collection are asked by the city administration to make their request in person at the cashier's office in City Hall, 6000 Middlebelt starting next Monday. Deadline for getting your name on the collection list is May 13.

Garden City DPS prepared for snow storm

Compared with last spring, Monday's snow fall was "a drop in the bucket," said the Garden City department of public services.

The seven inches that fell were still two inches less than the nine inches that fell last April. This season's total so far is 16.2 inches compared with last year's 74 inches. In the 1980-81 season there were 31 inches of snow on the ground.

The snow cost the city only 19.6 hours in accumulative overtime with crews starting at 5 a.m. Monday and working until 7:30 a.m. when they were joined by the daytime shift.

In all, the storm resulted in 139.6

manhours, however, 120 of those hours were regular time.

The city had five pieces of equipment on the road at 5 a.m. mainly plowing the streets. During the day, 12 pieces of equipment were in action.

The DPS used 28½ tons of salt Monday with three salters out again on Tuesday.

Criminal victims suffer again in justice system

First of three parts.
By Carol Azizian
staff writer

"Sarah Ann Bailey, an 87-year-old woman, was robbed 10 times in a year. During the last burglary, the assailants set fire to her home.

"Police found her sitting in the middle of her burned-out home, her body folded in a prenatal position. She was rocking herself on the floor.

"I asked her, 'Is there something I can do to help?' She said nothing. I crawled across the floor on my hands and knees. I said, 'Please help me to help you.'

"Sarah Ann Bailey looked at me and said, 'Yes you can help me. You can kill me because I can't live in this world full of pain and suffering any more.' Sarah Ann was a victim of casual burglary."

THE RIGHTS OF crime victims have been largely ignored by legislators, the criminal justice system and people, said Marlene A. Young, executive director of the National Association for Victim Assistance in Washington, D.C.

Even though 35 out of every 1,000 Americans are victims of violent crime, many states fail to provide adequate protection and compensation for victims either through legislation or services, she said.

Young spoke at a recent conference on "Victims and Inmates Rights" at Mercy College, Detroit. The program — which drew 40 attorneys, parents of crime victims and students — was sponsored by the American Jewish Committee in Detroit.

"I believe that victims in this country have no rights yet," said Young, a crime victim who helped found the national organization 10 years ago.

"CRIME VICTIMS SUFFER physical, financial and emotional injuries," she said. Not only are they victimized by their assailants, they're also victimized by the criminal justice system.

"They face injustices such as postponements and court delays. They may not receive information about case status and may never know when a case comes to trial."

Although the crime problem is pervasive, legislators are only just beginning to address the rights of victims, Young said.

Some states have drafted a "Bill of Rights" for crime victims. Others provide some money for victims services.

In addition, Congress last year passed the Omnibus Victim Witness Protection Act, which guarantees fair standards for victims throughout the federal justice system.

But these are small steps on the road to addressing a big problem, Young said.

Crime victims are still denied these basic rights in most states:

- Protection against harassment and intimidation. Fewer than 10 states (Michigan is not one of them) provide this protection through legislation. Even in states such as Wisconsin, which has a "Bill of Rights" for victims, the laws are not always enforced.

- Courts may issue restraining orders, which are intended to prevent the accused from harassing a victim. But in many cases, they are not enforced.

- Compensation and restitution. Compensation is available only in 37 states. In Michigan, the State Victims Crime Compensation Board could be eliminated as a result of Gov. James Blanchard's proposed budget cuts.

That decision is being reconsidered by Phillip Jourdan, director of management and budget, according to Mike Fullwood, the board's claims administrator. Prosecutors and residents across the state sent letters to Blanchard protesting the cuts, he said.

The board, with a 1982-83 budget of $2.2 million, gave money to nearly 900 victims last year. It pays medical expenses not covered by health insurance, Medicaid or Medicare and wages lost on the job for up to two weeks.

Restitution applies to only 3 percent of all crime victims in the country, Young said. Most criminals are not arrested or convicted on the charges. In California, a new compensation method has brought in $107 million for the state, Young said.

The method requires criminals to pay $50 upon conviction. In Michigan, however, restitution won't produce much money because most criminals can't afford to pay, Fullwood said.

- Information about a case. Less than 20 percent of all legal jurisdictions in the country notify victims about the progress of a case.

- In a few Michigan counties, such as Kalamazoo, victim's advocates are hired by the prosecuting attorney's office to give a step-by-step account of major cases. Victim/witness notification services, however, are provided in Wayne, Washtenaw, Ingham and Kent counties as well as Kalamazoo.

- Right to counsel. Less than 5 percent of all jurisdictions urge the victim to participate actively in the criminal justice process from the time charges are pressed to sentencing. Attorneys fail to ask victims if they agree with the charges, the plea bargain or the final determination.

Victims are not vindictive, Young said. They simply want to know about their case. But when they are continually denied that right, they may take extreme measures.

For example, a group called Parents of Murdered Children, comprised of 26 New York couples, became angry when the prosecutor refused to try 25 of the cases because he said there wasn't sufficient evidence.

In the 26th case, the parents took their story to the newspapers. The media "managed to force the prosecutor to prosecute," and the accused was convicted of second-degree murder, Young said.

Introducing
INVEST

It used to be that the Wall Street way of investing was the only way of investing. But not anymore.

Now there's INVEST. The unique, new investment service that takes a totally different approach to investing. From the way we make our investment recommendations to how we work with you.

Sound advice based on facts.

At INVEST, we don't believe in hunches... just the facts. Because we want to recommend only solid investment opportunities.

To accomplish this, we base all of our investment recommendations on a highly selective performance rating system. A system that draws from Value Line and other proven research sources. A system designed for maximum long-term growth with a minimum of risk.

Our job is to help you select the right stocks, bonds and mutual funds. Not to distribute securities for corporations. So we don't have a vested interest in any particular stocks or bonds influencing our recommendations.

Representatives with your best interests in mind.

Each INVEST Representative is skilled in helping you with your investment needs. From analyzing your financial profile to handling special transactions that your account might require.

They'll also follow your portfolio and keep you informed on important market changes that may affect your investments.

INVEST Representatives are on salary instead of commissions. So you know when they make recommendations they have your best interests in mind.

Full-service Centers to help you.

INVEST is an independent service of ISFA Corporation designed to help you invest wisely and conveniently.

To do this, we've located our INVEST Centers at the same place you probably visit frequently for other financial transactions. First Federal of Michigan.

Each Center is private, and fully equipped to give you every kind of stock market information. From the Dow Jones average to an in-depth stock analysis.

Museum reaches Shaker heights

The early 19th century lives on in Lebanon, Ohio

IRIS JONES

Lebanon's the Golden Lamb inn once played host to such luminaries as Charles Dickens, Mark Twain, Ulysses S. Grant, William Henry Harrison and Henry Clay.

LEBANON, OHIO — If you are a tourist, you will probably see everything in Lebanon, Ohio, from the point of view of the Golden Lamb. You may turn right down Broadway to the Warren County Museum or the Glendower house, or you may drive southeast to Fort Ancient, but sooner or later you come home to the Golden Lamb.

Except home was never like this. At home, you are seldom greeted by a roaring fire and a bowl of mulled wine. At home, you don't dine amid Shaker treasures and watch the morning television news from a four-poster bed in a room full of antiques.

Generations of innkeepers at the Golden Lamb have watched American history unfold since the early 19th century. Guests have arrived on horseback, in carriages, in turn-of-the-century automobiles. The 10 bedrooms are named after famous guests: Mark Twain, Charles Dickens, William Henry Harrison, Ulysses S. Grant, Henry Clay.

The inn, and surrounding area, make an interesting overnight or weekend stop for people who love old village streets, antiques, Indian lore, and good food and drink in an historic setting. You'll find it halfway between Dayton and Cincinnati by taking U.S. 42 seven miles east of Interstate 75.

The Golden Lamb doesn't serve breakfast, so you will probably have your bacon and eggs across the street in the Village Ice Cream Shop, a bright room full of wrought-iron chairs and small round tables. The cafe is a cooperative built and staffed by local people.

Inn manager Jack Reynolds, or his assistant Fred Compton, may be there. If a glass bowl of jelly beans appears mysteriously on your table, you can be sure that retired funeral director Bill Walker has been there. Jelly beans are his trademark.

Victoria Visintainer, "director and jack-of-all-trades" is probably already at work 200 yards away in the Warren County Historical Museum, and you can be sure that caretaker Bill Cheeseman has polished the old furniture down the street at the Glendower State Memorial.

There's a long story about how the Warren County Historical Society bought, renovated and gave their best antiques to Glendower before turning the house over to the Ohio Historical Society; the local people didn't like what the state was doing to the house, so they started again with the present Warren County Historical Museum.

From the tourist's point of view, that may be a blessing. You can see all the grand old stuff in the Greek Revival setting at Glendower and a wonderful Shaker Collection at the in-town museum. Vicky will tell you that the street of shops was an idea copied from Greenfield Village, but you won't find Shaker pieces like this in many places.

The Shakers settled a few miles out of town in Union Village, and when they moved on they left all their hand-made furniture behind. Robert Jones, once owner of the Golden Lamb, bought up most of it, which is why the inn is full of Shaker treasures and Jones' name is on the museum collection.

A century or two is a long time to most of us, but the Indian mounds at nearby Fort Ancient date back at least 1,000 years before Christopher Columbus, which gives you another perspective on history.

Highway 350 winds sleepily down through forested hills to the Little Miami Valley, and uphill again to the state park where three and a half miles of mounded earth, 4 to 23 feet high, wind like a fence around a hilltop site.

The Fort Ancient Museum shows how the Hopewell Indians built these mounds for ceremonial purposes, and how a later Indian civilization built a village at the bottom of the hill. The museum is open daily except Mondays, March through November, but you can drive past the earthworks anytime during daylight hours.

It shouldn't have surprised me that Bill Cheeseman was there too. He is a walking part of Warren County history. He once worked at the King Powder Co., where King's Island now stands, a few miles south of Lebanon. Nowadays he takes loving care of the county's history and its antiques.

IRIS JONES

Antiquing is a popular sport in Waynesville, north of town, where you'll find at least two dozen antique shops and two antique malls. The very best antique shop in the area is Creekwood, in the town of Montgomery, Ohio, but you'll find several other shops on highways 22 and 23 between Lebanon and Montgomery.

This is also good farm-market country, mainly apples, but the Black Barn truck farm is famous for its pick-them-yourself strawberries. There are other things to do, of course, but eventually you come home to the Golden Lamb.

It is 10:30 on a Thursday night in March as I write this. From the red wing chair in the corner of the lobby I can see the first forsythia of the season glowing between the painted bench and the hand-stenciled wallpaper. They are closing up for the night after several frantic hours of serving five dining rooms full of people.

Lights still glow on a few diners in the lobby dining room, and beyond in the Black Horse Tavern, but very few people are going upstairs to the rooms now and the gift shop in the basement is closed.

They have a full house here on weekends, and often midweek during the summer, but it's easy to get rooms off-season and you can often be lucky in-season. The rooms cost $48 a night for two.

If you eat in the dining room, you'd better plan to go on a diet first.

For information, contact the Golden Lamb at 27 S. Broadway, or the Warren County Convention and Visitors' Bureau, 15 E. Mulberry Street, both in Lebanon, Ohio 45036.

School offers 2 unique British tours

Two unusual tours of Britain are being offered this summer by Cranbrook Institute of Science and Cranbrook P.M., both part of the Cranbrook Educational Community in Bloomfield Hills.

Dennis Wint, director of the Institute of Science, will lead a tour of Scotland, focused on natural history and archaeology June 24 through July 10.

The tour offered by Cranbrook P.M. is also to Britain, but it is a cultural study tour called, Britain, Legacy of Treasures. It will be held June 13-23, a date chosen so that interested parties can go on both trips if desired.

For the Institute of Science tour, Flights by British Airways are to and from Prestwick International Airport in Glasgow, Scotland.

A maximum of 20 people will spend one week, June 26 through July 2, at the Aigas Field Center near Inverness, Sir John Lister-Kay, British writer, who lectured at Cranbrook last fall, will host the group in his Victorian castle.

Accommodations will be in cabins (heated, carpeted, and with private baths) on the castle grounds. Meals will be in the castle itself.

The second week, July 2-9 will be spent at the Orkney Field Center in Stromness, in the Orkney Islands. Participants will live in local village homes. That week includes tours of a 900-year-old castle, archaeological sites and a nearby seabird colony.

The trip costs $2,350 per person, including air transportation, all ground transportation, accommodations, all but two meals, and a $150 tax-deductible contribution to Cranbrook. The air ticket, which is regular economy fare, can be used to travel before or after the tour dates to allow participants to include other destinations if they so wish.

Call Wint at the Institute for reservations or more information: 645-4360. A deposit of $200 will hold your reservation until May 16.

The focus of the Cranbrook P.M. tour is the country manor house, considered by P.M. program director Margot Snyder to be a "repository of British heritage." It includes three nights at Brickwell, a country inn in Surrey, visits to Knole House, Penshurst Place, Bingley House, Stourhead, Mompesson House and various castles and cathedrals.

The highlight of the tour will be a visit to Cranbrook, Kent, birthplace of George Booth, founder of Cranbrook Educational Community.

"George Booth brought all the components of this campus from Cranbrook, Kent," Snyder said. "That includes the school, the art, the church and the estate. He was too modest to name it after himself, so he named it after his birthplace."

The tour will also visit Sissinghurst Gardens and Compton Wynates, the building from which Meadow Brook Hall was modeled. It costs $1,849 including air and land costs, accommodations and meals, as well as a $200 tax-deductible contribution to Cranbrook.

For information, contact Cranbrook P.M. at 645-3635. You also may attend the last of several lectures on the subject April 1 when the group gathers to hear Charles Lines of the British National Trust Advisory Committee talk about "The Glory of the Garden."

Atlantis rises

A giant water-theme park called Atlantis is now under construction in Hollywood, Fla., at a cost of $16.5 million. The park will feature an 11-acre lake and more than a mile of water slides, chutes and tubes.

Three Michigan festivals make the 'Top 100' listing

Three Michigan festivals have been designated among the "Top 100" festivals in North America.

The Tulip Time Festival in Holland, the Bavarian Festival in Frankenmuth and Christmas at Dearborn's Greenfield Village have been so honored, according to the American Bus Association and the Michigan Travel Bureau.

The final selections were made by an independent committee of motor-coach operators and travel authorities in North America.

"Michigan is indeed honored to have three festivals designated in the 'Top 100' when you consider 50 states and 10 Canadian provinces were competing for this recognition," said Jack Wilson, director of the Travel Bureau, Michigan Department of Commerce.

While no state or province had more than three events recognized, Wilson said he feels other Michigan festivals and events soon will be recognized in this prestigious awards program.

"The motor-coach charter and tour groups in Michigan generate in excess of $420 million annually," Wilson said. "All sectors of the state and local economy stand to profit, including hotels and motels, restaurants, stores, and shops — the entire range of tourist and tourist-related businesses." At the same time, he said, first-time visitors will return later to enjoy other attractions and festivals in the state.

Christmas in Greenfield Village, is held throughout December. The 1983 Tulip Time Festival is scheduled May 11-14. The Bavarian Festival will be June 12-18.

Symphony wins kudos for youth

To the editor: My family attended a performance of the new Metropolitan Youth Symphony last weekend and was thrilled with the expert musicianship demonstrated by the young students.

The string orchestra made up of the youngest members of the three symphonies were superb in their rendition of "Carmen's March" by Bizet. I believe a Redford resident, Judith Culler, is the conductor of the group.

The concert orchestra was dazzling with Saint-Saens' "Danse Macabre." And the Symphony Orchestra, the 10th-12th graders, deserved the standing ovation they received for the outstanding performance of Mussorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition."

Hospital needs to be competitive

To the editor: Thank you very much for the detailed, accurate article you wrote on Wayne County General Hospital in the Observer. Out of all the publicity the Hospital has received since William Lucas took office as the county executive, I believe your article defined more truth than any others that have been printed.

I hope you finally made the public aware that the employees should not be treated as Public Enemy No. 1, because their wages are above scale. The commissioners would have never agreed to the contract packages if it were not for greed for themselves.

There is a break down of patients by zip code area available from the hospital, and I think it might warrant the City of Detroit to look at how many of their residents come to Wayne County General for care rather than Detroit Receiving or any other Detroit hospital.

When the threats of closing the hospital made front page news, John Q. Public started flooding the commissioners and Lucas' office with phone calls. The commissioner for the Dearborn district was away for a family death, but his secretary was taking the calls and couldn't understand why so many calls were coming to his office about the Hospital.

I wish each commissioner would take a long, hard look at the zip code census of the hospital to see just how many people from their areas actually use that facility. Dearborn may very well, in fact, be one of the hardest hit areas for unemployment in the area that Wayne County General serves.

I MUST NOW tell you that I am an employee of the Hospital. I have been with the Hospital for almost 15 years and am very proud of it. I have been a surgical inpatient, by choice, of this facility. My father has been a surgical inpatient twice, and my mother an inpatient for medical reasons. My mother-in-law had a pacemaker inserted at WCGH and even more recently was hospitalized twice.

We were all "paying customers" by means of Blue Cross, Medicare, or both, and I believe the public must be made aware of the fact that approximately 80 percent of the hospital's admissions are people that do have hospitalization insurance coverage.

If the hospital is to survive, it will need to become more competitive in the "hospital market." This may require employee concessions which I am perfectly willing to go along with. But it is a little hard to swallow when the county executive walks into office, gives himself a raise, along with all the commissioners, and then says there is no money.

Thank you once again for your fair and truthful article. Cathy Nicholson Redford

Parent praises presentation

To the editor: Last evening the board room was overflowing into the hallways with residents concerned over the possible closing of Bentley. They were there specifically to hear and offer support to the committee presenting alternatives to a high school closing.

I was so glad that I was there to hear the alternatives given. The research and organization involved in this project was awesome. These seven individuals went beyond the emotional issues to present very practical and possible alternatives for saving our four high schools. Their final request was for the board to carefully review all these possibilities.

I am sure the board members realize the quality of the material presented and that they will give generous and respectful time to its content.

I know I speak for many when I say how very appreciative I am to Pat Sari, Carl Bengtsson, Barbara Kett, Judy Hollar, Al LaForge and Jim Lynch. Your presentation was organized, thorough and highly professional. Thank you very much for your valuable and necessary contribution.

Theater policy angers parent

To the editor: On March 19, my children were dropped off at the Quo Vadis Theater to see "Spring Fever" (PG). They chose instead to buy tickets for "Curtains" (R), which the theater sold them. The children are 9 and 11 and knew they would never have received my permission to see an R-rated movie.

I called the theater and asked to talk to the person in charge. He told me that they would not sell tickets to persons under 17 for R-rated movies. They did. He also said they try to monitor who goes into what movie, but it is very difficult with the large number of people they service. He also stated that if a parent really wants to make sure the child is seeing the desired movie, they should buy the tickets and seal the children themselves. The "person in charge" also stated that the ratings are only a suggestion, and that it is not a law that persons under 17 cannot see "R" or other rated movies without an adult's permission.

I feel that parents in the community should be aware of all of the above. Carol M. Mulhern Livonia

'Beefcake' ad offends reader

To the editor: We have been subscribers to the Observer of 28 years, since moving to Plymouth, a community and newspaper we have been proud of.

But I must say I have been very disappointed in opening the newspaper and having to see a pictured ad "The Foxy Frenchman Show" among the other legitimate advertisers. This, in my opinion, does not adhere to the high caliber and character we expect of your newspaper.

Please be more choosy in what appears in your paper that is might continue to be a special publication in our community.

Thank you, from one concerned. Maxine C. Jordan Plymouth

Man robbed while waiting for a bus

A 23-year-old Detroit man was attacked and robbed of $10 as he waited for a bus at the southeast corner of Michigan Avenue and Merriman Sunday night, according to police reports.

The man was sitting on a bench waiting for the bus at 8:50 p.m. He told police he stood up when he saw the bus coming, and was struck in the left temple with a hard metal object. He told police that as he fell to the ground someone grabbed a $5 bill and five $1 bills from his hand.

He said he thought there were two men involved. The man was treated at Wayne County General Hospital.

Pro-life backs Szoka's stand

The controversy between Sister Mary Mansour's appointment to direct the Michigan State Department of Social Services and Archbishop Edmund Szoka's demand that she resign the post continues. Sister Mansour states that while she is "personally opposed to abortion," she will not take a public stand opposing Michigan's policy to fund this evil with taxpayers' money.

On the other hand Archbishop Szoka has taken a firm and unequivocal stand in defense of unborn human

CITY OF GARDEN CITY ORDINANCE NO. 83-003

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND SUBSECTIONS 5.15, 5.15a, 5.15b, 5.15c, 5.15d, 5.15e, 5.15f, 5.15h, AND 5.62a OF THE UNIFORM TRAFFIC CODE FOR CITIES, TOWNSHIPS AND VILLAGES PROMULGATED BY THE DIRECTOR OF THE STATE POLICE IN ACCORDANCE WITH PUBLIC ACT 62, OF 1956 AND ADOPTED BY REFERENCE AS CHAPTER 70, TITLE VII OF THE GARDEN CITY CODE.

That in order to comply with Sections 615 to 615F of Act 309 of Public Acts of 1949, as amended, Sections 5.15, 5.15a, 5.15b, 5.15c, 5.15d, 5.15e, 5.15f, 5.15h and 5.62a of the Uniform Traffic Code for Cities, Townships and Villages promulgated by the Director of the State Police in accordance with Public Act 62, of 1956 and adopted by reference as Chapter 70, Title VII of the City Code are hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 5.15. (1) It shall be unlawful and punishable as provided in subsections (4) and (5) of this section for a person who is licensed or not, who is under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a controlled substance, or a combination thereof, to operate a vehicle upon a highway or other place open to the general public, including an area designated for the parking of motor vehicles, within this state. A peace officer may, without a warrant, arrest a person when the peace officer has reasonable cause to believe that the person was, at the time of an accident, the driver of a motor vehicle involved in the accident and was operating the vehicle on a public highway of this state while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a controlled substance, or a combination of an intoxicating liquor and a controlled substance, or in violation of sub-section (2) hereof.

(2) It shall be unlawful and punishable as provided in subsections (4) and (5) of this section for a person who is licensed or not, whose blood contains 0.10% or more by weight of alcohol to operate a vehicle upon a highway or other place open to the general public including an area designated for the parking of motor vehicles within this state.

(3) It shall be unlawful and punishable as provided in subsections (4) and (5) of this section for the owner of a motor vehicle or a person in charge or in control of a motor vehicle to authorize or knowingly permit the vehicle to be operated on a highway or any other place open to the general public, including an area designated for the parking of motor vehicles, within this state by a person who is under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a controlled substance, or in violation of sub-section (2) hereof.

(4) A person who is convicted of a violation of subsection (1) or (2) or (3) of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor and may be punished by imprisonment for not more than 90 days or by a fine of not less than $100.00 nor more than $500.00, or both, together with the costs of the prosecution.

(5) A person who violates subsection (1) or (2) or (3) of this section shall be sentenced to imprisonment for not more than 1 year, or a fine of not more than $1,000.00, or both. As part of the sentence, the court shall order the secretary of state to revoke the operator's or chauffeur's license of the person. For purposes of this section, "prior conviction" means a conviction under subsection (1) or (2) or (3) of this section or a conviction under subsection (1) or (2) or (3) of a local ordinance substantially corresponding to subsection (1) or (2) or (3) of this section.

(6) A person who violates subsection (1) or (2) or (3) of this section shall be sentenced to imprisonment for not more than 1 year, or a fine of not more than $1,000.00, or both. As part of the sentence, the court shall order the secretary of state to revoke the operator's or chauffeur's license of the person. For purposes of this section, "prior conviction" means a conviction under subsection (1) or (2) or (3) of this section or a conviction under subsection (1) or (2) or (3) of a local ordinance substantially corresponding to subsection (1) or (2) or (3) of this section.

(7) As part of the sentence for a violation of subsection (1) or (2) or (3) of this section, the court shall order the secretary of state to suspend the operator's or chauffeur's license of the person for a period of not less than 6 months nor more than 1 year. The court may order the secretary of state to issue to the person a restricted license permitting the person to drive only to and from the person's residence and work location, in the course of the person's employment or occupation, to and from an alcohol or drug education program or treatment program as ordered by the court, to and from the person's residence and an educational institution at which the person is enrolled as a student, or pursuant to a combination of these restrictions. The court shall not order the secretary of state to issue a restricted license unless the person is able to provide transportation to and from his or her work location, place of alcohol or drug education or treatment, or educational institution, and does not have any family members or others able to provide transportation. The court order and license shall indicate the person's work location and the approved route or routes and permitted times of travel. For purposes of this section, "work location" includes, as applicable, either or both of the following:

(a) The specific place or places of employment.

(b) The territory or territories regularly visited by the person in pursuance of the person's occupation.

(8) As part of the sentence for a violation of subsection (1) or (2) or (3) of this section, the court shall order the secretary of state to suspend the operator's or chauffeur's license of the person for a period of not less than 6 months nor more than 1 year. The court may order the secretary of state to issue to the person a restricted license permitting the person to drive only to and from the person's residence and work location, in the course of the person's employment or occupation, to and from an alcohol or drug education program or treatment program as ordered by the court, to and from the person's residence and an educational institution at which the person is enrolled as a student, or pursuant to a combination of these restrictions. The court shall not order the secretary of state to issue a restricted license unless the person is able to provide transportation to and from his or her work location, place of alcohol or drug education or treatment, or educational institution, and does not have any family members or others able to provide transportation. The court order and license shall indicate the person's work location and the approved route or routes and permitted times of travel. For purposes of this section, "work location" includes, as applicable, either or both of the following:

(a) The specific place or places of employment.

(b) The territory or territories regularly visited by the person in pursuance of the person's occupation.

(9) A person who violates this section or a local ordinance or law of this State substantially corresponding to this section within 7 years of a prior conviction may be sentenced to imprisonment for not more than 1 year, or a fine of not more than $1,000.00, or both. As part of the sentence, the court shall order the secretary of state to suspend the operator's or chauffeur's license of the person for a period of not less than 6 months nor more than 18 months. The court may order the secretary of state to issue to the person a restricted license as provided in subsection (8), except that a restricted license shall not be issued during the first 60 days of the suspension period. For purposes of this section, "prior conviction" means a conviction under this section, section 5.15 (1) or (2) or (3), or a local ordinance substantially corresponding to this section or section 5.15 (1) or (2) or (3) of a local ordinance substantially corresponding to this section.

(10) A person who violates this section or a local ordinance substantially corresponding to this section, within 10 years of 2 or more prior convictions, as defined in subsection (4) may be sentenced as provided in subsection (9), except that as part of the sentence the court shall order the secretary of state to revoke the operator's or chauffeur's license of the person.

(11) As part of the sentence for a violation of this section or a local ordinance or law of this state, substantially corresponding to this section, the court may order the person to perform service to the community, as designated by the court, without compensation, for a period not to exceed 11 days. The person shall reimburse the state or appropriate local unit of government for the cost of insurance incurred by the state or local unit of government as a result of the person's activities under this section.

(12) Before imposing sentence for a violation of subsection (1) or (2) or (3) of this section, or a local ordinance or law of this state, substantially corresponding to subsection (1) or (2) or (3) of this section, the court shall order the person to undergo screening and assessment by a person or agency designated by the office of substance abuse services, to determine whether the person is likely to benefit from rehabilitative services, including alcohol or drug education and alcohol or drug treatment programs. As part of the sentence, the court may order the person to participate in and successfully complete 1 or more appropriate rehabilitative programs. The person shall pay for the costs of the screening, assessment, and rehabilitative services.

(13) Before accepting a plea of guilty under this section, the court shall advise the accused of the statutory consequences possible as a result of a plea of guilty in respect to suspension or revocation of an operator's or chauffeur's license, the penalty imposed for violation of this section, and the limitation on the right of appeal.

(14) The operator's or chauffeur's license of a person found guilty of violating subsection (1) or (2) or (3) of this section, or a local ordinance or law of this state, substantially corresponding to subsection (1) or (2) or (3) of this section, shall be surrendered to the court in which the person was convicted, and the court shall immediately forward the surrendered license and an abstract of conviction to the secretary of state. The abstract of conviction shall indicate the sentence imposed. Upon receipt of, and pursuant to the abstract of conviction, the secretary of state shall suspend or revoke the person's license and, if ordered by the court and the person is otherwise eligible for a license, issue to the person a restricted license stating the limited driving privileges indicated on the abstract. If the license is not forwarded to the secretary of state, an explanation of the reason why the license is absent shall be attached. If the conviction is appealed to circuit court, that court may, ex parte, order the secretary of state to reinstate the suspension, revocation, or restricted license issued pursuant to this section.

person's blood, as provided in this act. Liability for a crime or civil damages predicated on the act of withdrawing blood and related procedures shall not attach to a qualified person who withdraws blood or assists in the withdrawal of blood as provided in this act in a diligent manner.

(5) The tests shall be administered at the request of a peace officer having reasonable grounds to believe the person has committed a crime described in sub-section (1). A person who takes a chemical test administered at the request of a peace officer, as provided in this section, shall be given a reasonable opportunity to have a competent analyst or his or her own choosing administer the chemical tests described in this section within a reasonable time after his or her detention, and the results of the test shall be admissible and shall be considered with other competent evidence in determining the innocence or guilt of the defendant. If the person charged is administered a chemical test by a person of his or her own choosing, the person charged shall be responsible for obtaining a chemical analysis of the test sample. The person charged may not be informed that he or she has the right to demand that a person of his or her own choosing administer the test, and the results of the test shall be admissible and shall be considered with other competent evidence in determining the innocence or guilt of the defendant, and that the person charged shall be responsible for obtaining a chemical analysis of the test sample.

(6) The person charged shall be advised that if the person refused the request of a peace officer to take a test described in this section, a test shall not be given without a court order. The person charged shall also be advised that the person's refusal to take a test described in this section shall not result in the suspension of his or her operator's or chauffeur's license or operating privilege, and in the addition of 6 points to his or her driver's license.

(7) This section shall not be construed as limiting the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing upon the question of whether or not the person was impaired by or under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a controlled substance, or a combination of intoxicating liquor and a controlled substance, or whether the person had a blood alcohol content of 0.10% or more by weight of alcohol.

(8) If a jury instruction regarding a defendant's refusal to submit to a chemical test under this section is requested by the prosecution or the defendant, the jury instruction shall be given as follows:

"Evidence was admitted in this case which, if believed by the jury, could prove that the defendant had committed a crime described in subsection (1) of section 5.15 of the Michigan Motor Vehicle Code. You are instructed that such a refusal to submit to a chemical test is not evidence of guilt. You are not to consider such a refusal in determining the guilt or innocence of the defendant."

(9) If after an accident the driver of a vehicle involved in the accident is transported to a medical facility and a sample of the driver's blood is withdrawn at that time for the purpose of medical treatment, the results of a chemical analysis of that sample shall be admissible in a criminal prosecution for a crime described in subsection (1) to show the amount of alcohol or presence of a controlled substance or both in the person's blood at the time alleged regardless of whether the person had been offered or had refused a chemical test. The medical facility or person performing the chemical analysis shall disclose the results of the analysis to a prosecuting attorney who requests the information for use in a criminal prosecution as provided in this subsection. A medical facility or person disclosing information in compliance with this subsection shall not be civilly or criminally liable for making the disclosure.

(10) If after a highway accident the driver of a vehicle involved in the accident is deceased, a sample of the decedent's blood shall be withdrawn in a manner directed by the medical examiner for the purpose of determining blood alcohol content or presence of a controlled substance or both.

R 28.1415 Sec. 5.15b. Impaired driving, violation as misdemeanor. (1) A person who operates a vehicle upon a highway or any other place open to the general public, including an area designated for the parking of motor vehicles, within this state, when, due to consumption of intoxicating liquor or a controlled substance, or a combination thereof, the person has visibly impaired his or her ability to operate the vehicle, if a person is charged with violating section 5.15 (1) or (2) of this code, a finding of guilty is permissible under this section.

(2) A person who is convicted of a violation of this section may be imprisoned for not more than 90 days or fined not more than $300.00, or both, in addition to being charged with the costs of the prosecution.

(3) As part of the sentence, the court shall order the secretary of state to suspend the operator's or chauffeur's license of the person for a period of not less than 90 days nor more than 1 year. The court may order the secretary of state to issue to the person a restricted license permitting the person to drive only to and from the person's residence and work location, in the course of the person's employment or occupation, to and from an alcohol or drug education program or treatment program as ordered by the court, to and from the person's residence and an educational institution at which the person is enrolled as a student, or pursuant to a combination of these restrictions. The court shall not order the secretary of state to issue a restricted license unless the person is able to provide transportation to and from his or her work location, place of alcohol or drug education or treatment, or educational institution, and does not have any family members or others able to provide transportation. The court order and license shall indicate the person's work location and the approved route or routes and permitted times of travel. For purposes of this section, "work location" includes, as applicable, either or both of the following:

(a) The specific place or places of employment.

(b) The territory or territories regularly visited by the person in pursuance of the person's occupation.

(4) A person who violates this section or a local ordinance or law of this State substantially corresponding to this section within 7 years of a prior conviction may be sentenced to imprisonment for not more than 1 year, or a fine of not more than $1,000.00, or both. As part of the sentence, the court shall order the secretary of state to suspend the operator's or chauffeur's license of the person for a period of not less than 6 months nor more than 18 months. The court may order the secretary of state to issue to the person a restricted license as provided in subsection (3), except that a restricted license shall not be issued during the first 60 days of the suspension period. For purposes of this section, "prior conviction" means a conviction under this section, section 5.15 (1) or (2) or (3), or a local ordinance substantially corresponding to this section or section 5.15 (1) or (2) or (3) of a local ordinance substantially corresponding to this section.

(5) A person who violates this section or a local ordinance substantially corresponding to this section, within 10 years of 2 or more prior convictions, as defined in subsection (4) may be sentenced as provided in subsection (4), except that as part of the sentence the court shall order the secretary of state to revoke the operator's or chauffeur's license of the person.

(6) As part of the sentence for a violation of this section or a local ordinance or law of this state, substantially corresponding to this section, the court may order the person to perform service to the community, as designated by the court, without compensation, for a period not to exceed 11 days. The person shall reimburse the state or appropriate local unit of government for the cost of insurance incurred by the state or local unit of government as a result of the person's activities under this section.

(7) Before imposing sentence for a violation of this section, or a local ordinance or law of this state, substantially corresponding to this section, the court shall order the person to undergo screening and assessment by a person or agency designated by the office of substance abuse services, to determine whether the person is likely to benefit from rehabilitative services, including alcohol or drug education and alcohol or drug treatment programs. As part of the sentence, the court may order the person to participate in and successfully complete 1 or more appropriate rehabilitative programs. The person shall pay for the costs of the screening, assessment, and rehabilitative services.

(8) Before accepting a plea of guilty under this section, the court shall advise the accused of the statutory consequences possible as a result of a plea of guilty in respect to suspension or revocation of an operator's or chauffeur's license, the penalty imposed for violation of this section, and the limitation on the right of appeal.

(9) The operator's or chauffeur's license of a person found guilty of violating subsection (1) or (2) or (3) of this section, or a local ordinance or law of this state, substantially corresponding to subsection (1) or (2) or (3) of this section, shall be surrendered to the court in which the person was convicted, and the court shall immediately forward the surrendered license and an abstract of conviction to the secretary of state. The abstract of conviction shall indicate the sentence imposed. Upon receipt of, and pursuant to the abstract of conviction, the secretary of state shall suspend or revoke the person's license and, if ordered by the court and the person is otherwise eligible for a license, issue to the person a restricted license stating the limited driving privileges indicated on the abstract. If the license is not forwarded to the secretary of state, an explanation of the reason why the license is absent shall be attached. If the conviction is appealed to circuit court, that court may, ex parte, order the secretary of state to reinstate the suspension, revocation, or restricted license issued pursuant to this section.

R 28.1415e Section 5.15c. (1) A person who operates a vehicle upon a highway or other place open to the general public, including an area designated for the parking of vehicles to the state is considered to have given consent to chemical tests of his or her blood, breath, or urine for the purpose of determining the amount of alcohol or presence of a controlled substance or both in his or her blood.

R 28.1415c Section 5.15d. Refusal to submit to test; advice as to rights. (1) If a person refuses the request of a peace officer to submit to a chemical test offered pursuant to Section 5.15a, a test shall not be given without a court order. A written report shall be forwarded to the secretary of state by the peace officer. The report shall state that the officer had reasonable grounds to believe that the person had committed a crime described in section 5.15c (1) and that the person had refused to submit to the test upon the request of the peace officer and had been advised of the consequences of the refusal. The form of the report shall be prescribed and furnished by the secretary of state.

R 28.1415c Section 5.15e. Notice of receipt of report; request for hearing; notice of hearing; failure to request hearing. (1) Upon receipt of the report made pursuant to section 5.15d, the secretary of state shall immediately notify the person in writing, mailed to his or her last known address, that the report has been received and that within 14 days of the date of the notice, the person may request a hearing as provided in section 5.15f. (2) The notice shall specifically state that failure to request a hearing within 14 days will result in the suspension of the person's license or permit to drive. The notice shall also state that there is not a requirement that the person retain counsel for the hearing though counsel would be permitted to represent the person at the hearing.

R 28.1415c Section 5.15f. Failure to request hearing; effect; hearing scope; record; transcription reviewing court decision, and judicial review, suspension or revocation. (1) If the person who refuses to submit to a chemical test pursuant to section 5.15d does not request a hearing within 14 days of the date of notice pursuant to section 5.15e, the secretary of state shall suspend the person's operator's or chauffeur's license or permit to drive, or non-resident operating privilege, for a period of 6 months, or for a second or subsequent refusal within a period of 7 years, for 1 year. If the person is a resident without a license or permit to operate a vehicle in the state, the secretary of state shall deny to the person the issuance of a license or permit for a period of 6 months, or, for a second or subsequent refusal within a period of 7 years, for 1 year.

(2) If a hearing is requested the secretary of state shall hold the hearing in the same manner and under the same conditions as provided in Section 323 of the Michigan Motor Vehicle Code. At least 10 days notice of the hearing shall be mailed to the person requesting the hearing to the peace officer who filed the report under Section 5.15d, and, if the prosecuting attorney requests receipt of the notice, to the prosecuting attorney of the county where the arrest was made. The hearing officer shall be authorized to administer oaths, issue subpoenas for the attendance of necessary witnesses, and may grant a reasonable request for an adjournment. The hearing shall cover only the following issues:

(a) Whether the peace officer had reasonable grounds to believe that the person had committed a crime described in section 5.15c (1).

(b) Whether the person was placed under arrest for a crime described in section 5.15c (1).

(c) Whether the person reasonably refused to submit to the test upon the request of the officer.

(3) The hearing officer shall make a record of proceedings held pursuant to subsection (2). The record shall be prepared and transcribed in accordance with section 81 of the Administrative Procedures Act of 1969, Act No. 306 of the Public Acts of 1969, being section 21218 of the Michigan Compiled Laws. Upon notification of the filing of a petition for judicial review pursuant to section 323, the hearing officer shall transmit to the court in which the petition is filed a copy of the record of the proceedings. Proceedings at which evidence was presented need not be transcribed and transmitted if the sole reason for review is to determine whether or not the court will order the issuance of a restricted license. The parties to the proceedings for judicial review may stipulate that the record be shortened. A party unreasonably refusing to stipulate to a shortened record may be fined by the court in which the petition is filed for the additional costs. The court may permit subsequent corrections to the record.

(4) After the hearing the secretary of state may suspend or deny issuance of license or driving permit of a nonresident operating privilege of the person involved for a period of 6 months or, for a second or subsequent refusal within 7 years, for 1 year. If the person involved is a resident without a license or permit to operate a vehicle in the state, the secretary of state may deny to the person the issuance of a license or permit for a period of 6 months, or, for a second or subsequent refusal within 7 years, for 1 year. The person involved may file a petition in circuit court of the county in which the arrest was made to review the suspension or denial as provided in section 313 of the Act.

(5) When it has been finally determined that a nonresident's privilege to operate a vehicle in the state has been suspended or denied, the department shall give notice in writing of the action taken to the licensee to operate a motor vehicle in the state of the person's residence and of each state in which he or she has a license to operate a motor vehicle.

R 28.1415c Section 5.15f Preliminary chemical breath analysis; arrest based on results; admissibility into evidence; effect of refusal. (1) A peace officer who has reasonable cause to believe that a person was operating a vehicle upon a public highway or other place open to the general public, including an area designated for the parking of vehicles, in this state, and that the person by the consumption of intoxicating liquor may have affected his or her ability to operate a vehicle, may require the person to submit to a preliminary chemical breath analysis.

(2) A peace officer may arrest a person based in whole or in part upon the result of a preliminary chemical breath analysis.

(3) The result of a preliminary chemical breath analysis shall be admissible in a criminal prosecution for a crime described in Section 5.15a (1) or in an administrative hearing under Section 5.15f, solely to assist the court or hearing officer in determining a challenge to the validity of an arrest. This subsection does not limit the introduction of other competent evidence offered to establish the validity of an arrest.

(4) A person who submits to a preliminary chemical breath analysis shall remain subject to the requirements of Sections 5.15a, 5.15c, 5.15d, 5.15e, and 5.15f for the purposes of chemical tests described in those Sections, except that the person who refuses to submit to a preliminary chemical breath analysis upon a lawful request by a peace officer is responsible for a civil infraction.

(5) Section 5.15g shall apply to a preliminary chemical breath analysis.

R 28.1415a Section 5.61. Driving without license, penalty, confiscation of registration plates, subsequent offenders, extending period of suspension or revocation, checking records to determine status. (1) A person whose operator's or chauffeur's license or registration certificate has been suspended or revoked and who has been notified as provided in Section 311 of the Michigan Motor Vehicle Code of that suspension or revocation, or whose application for license has been denied, as provided in the Michigan Motor Vehicle Code, or who has never applied for a license, and who operated a motor vehicle upon the highways of this State or who knowingly permits a motor vehicle owned by the person to be operated by another upon a highway, except as permitted under the Michigan Motor Vehicle Code, while the license or registration certificate is suspended or revoked or whose application for license has been denied, as provided in the Michigan Motor Vehicle Code, is guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable, except as provided in subsections (3) or (4), by imprisonment for not less than three (3) days nor more than ninety (90) days, or a fine of not more than $100.00, or both. Unless the vehicle was stolen or used with the permission of a person who did not knowingly permit an unlicensed driver to operate the vehicle, the registration plates of the vehicle shall be confiscated.

(2) A person whose operator's or chauffeur's license has been suspended under Section 311 of the Michigan Motor Vehicle Code, because that person has failed to answer a citation or has failed to comply with an order or judgment issued pursuant to Section 907 of the Michigan Motor Vehicle Code, and who operates a motor vehicle upon a highway, may be punished by imprisonment for not more than ninety (90) days, or a fine of not more than $100.00 or both, or by imprisonment for not less than 3 days nor more than 1 year, or a fine of not more than $500.00 or both. Unless the vehicle was stolen, the registration plates of the vehicle shall be confiscated.

(3) The secretary of state, upon receiving a record of the conviction or probate court finding of a person upon a charge of unlawful operation of a motor vehicle while the license of the person is suspended, revoked, or denied or of the conviction, shall immediately determine, or probate court finding of a person for a violation of this section, shall extend the period of the first suspension or revocation for an additional like period, or if a period has not been determined, then for not less than 30 days nor more than 1 year.

(4) The secretary of state, upon receiving a record of the conviction or a civil infraction determination of a person upon a charge of unlawful operation of a motor vehicle requiring a class 1, class 2, or class 3 endorsement, shall extend the period of suspension for an additional like period.

(5) Before the plea of the person is accepted under this section, the arresting officer shall check with the secretary of state to determine the record and status of the person according to the records of the secretary of state and so inform the court.

(6) This section shall not apply to a person who operates a vehicle solely for the purpose of protecting human life or property, if the life or property is endangered and the summoning of prompt aid is essential. Savings Clause. All proceedings pending and all rights and liabilities existing, acquired, or incurred at the time this amendatory ordinance takes effect are saved and may be consummated according to the ordinance in force when they are commenced. This amendatory ordinance shall not be construed to affect any proceeding pending or initiated before the effective date of this amendatory ordinance, or initiated after the effective date of this amendatory ordinance for an offense committed before that effective date. Except as herein modified, the Uniform Traffic Code, adopted by the City Council as Chapter 70 of the City Code shall continue in full force and effect. This amendatory ordinance shall be effective at 10:01 a.m. on March 30, 1983. VINCENT J. PONDELL, Mayor RONALD D. SHAWALTER, Clerk-Treasurer PUBLISHED: MARCH 11, 1983

Wishes won't change need to close schools

YOUNGSTERS IN school now probably don't know who Jiminy Cricket is. However, those oldsters of us who remain young at heart will never forget the Disney character with top hat and umbrella, crooning under a starry sky the words, "If you wish upon a star, makes no difference who you are. Anything your heart desires will come to you."

Despite our fond remembrances, grownups realize that it takes more than a mighty wish to make our dreams come true.

THAT KIND OF reality is going to hit Wayne-Westland residents and members of the school board next week.

The final public hearing on a proposal to close three elementary schools will begin at 7 p.m. Tuesday in John Glenn High School's auditorium. The board is expected to take a vote on the plan following the hearing.

The administration's proposal calls for closing Washington, Tinkham and McKee elementary schools.

Originally a building utilization committee recommended closing Washington and Tinkham due to declining enrollment. Administrators added McKee to the list of potential closures due to the severe decline in school revenue caused by the state's economic plunge.

Since the plan was announced, three public hearings — one at each school — have been held. Out of all the public discussion have come several other plans, one from parents at Washington and one from recently elected board member Kathleen Chorbagian.

Unfortunately, in both instances creators of the plans were skittish about releasing details, fearing a breakdown in "negotiations" with district administrators.

CHORBAGIAN'S plan, like the one from Washington parents, apparently names other schools to be looked at for closing. She claims that she doesn't want "the whole district in upheaval" by outlining the proposal.

Chorbagian further claims the right to withhold detail under the Freedom of Information Act, which allows an exemption from disclosure for "advisory communications within a public body."

It's regrettable that Chorbagian, a new board member who is aware of past criticism of board deliberation, has chosen this route.

If it weren't for free discussions about the administration's proposal, plans like hers and the one from Washington parents wouldn't have been submitted.

Besides, taxpayers have a right to know what deliberations lead up to whatever decision the board will make.

THE SCHOOL BOARD eventually will have to decide on the basis of "giving students a quality education no matter what building they're in."

Wishing upon stars won't change the way statistics point for future school operations. The figures — declining enrollment, coupled with a crippled economy — show the only real course possible.

Of course, parents are concerned.

Of course, residents don't want schools in their neighborhoods closed. But urging that someone else's school be closed just to save the one in your neighborhood can't be the only reason for making such a recommendation.

Wishful thinking won't help Wayne-Westland schools, but insisting on the best possible education will, wherever that education is offered.

Super sewer, Detroit water issues linked

NOW IS the time to regionalize the Water and Sewerage Department, which serves 100 southeastern Michigan communities but is politically controlled only by the city of Detroit.

One set of reasons is very clear: The vast trouble Detroit has had operating the sewage treatment plant, the funny ways the plant improvements are financed and the legal clouds over former department chief Charles Beckham, Mayor Coleman Young and sludge-hauling contractor Darralyn Bowers.

But another important set of reasons emerges from the obscurity of state and regional bureaucracy. The Detroit-controlled Water and Sewerage Department is trying its darndest to mutilate a project near and dear to suburban politicians' hearts. That project is known as "super sewer."

LET'S PUT THIS into a legislative context.

For years, suburban legislators and politicians have been advocating regionalizing the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department. Those names are familiar: state Rep. John Bennett, D-Redford; Livonia Mayor Edward H. McNamara; Oakland County Drain-Commissioner George Kuhn; state Sen. Rick Fessler, R-Union Lake; and now state Sen. R. Robert Geake, R-Northville.

If a regional system of governance is to be achieved, many more important Democratic politicians will have to get into the act.

The group that could tilt the balance of power seems to be the downriver Democratic legislators and Wayne County Executive William Lucas, a Democrat.

LUCAS HAS THROWN his support behind super sewer, the nickname of the Huron Valley Wastewater project.

In its grandest outline, it would consist of a wastewater treatment plant in Brownstown Township on Lake Erie and a long sewer interceptor (line) parallel to I-275 and reaching to the lakes and hills of western Oakland County.

The state Department of Natural Resources is recommending construction of the treatment plant and interceptors to such downriver towns as Flat Rock and Trenton. But DNR isn't at all sure that places like Canton, Plymouth Township, Northville, Novi and Commerce ought to tie into that treatment plant.

I quote from a recent letter from William D. Marks, acting chief of the surface water quality division of DNR, to Duane Egeland, acting director of the Wayne County public works department:

"In recognition of the complex social and institutional issues which are still being addressed, we propose to defer formal certification of the plan at this time."

IN PLAIN ENGLISH, the bureaucratic jargon about "complex social and institutional issues" means Mayor Young and the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department.

DWSD is represented on such sexless sounding but important bodies as the Regional Clearinghouse Review Committee (RC2) and the Areawide Water Quality Board (AWQB). Through those committees, the Detroit forces have been fighting super sewer tooth and nail. They want that wastewater to flow to the Detroit treatment plant, where it will pay Detroit rates and provide jobs for Detroiters only.

County Executive Lucas, a black Detroitite, has played the game of appearing hot to threaten black Detroiters Young. Sorry, but game time is over. On the super sewer issue, Young is Lucas' sworn enemy.

From a point of view of sound public policy, there is no reason why Detroit alone should rule and run a water and sewerage system that serves 100 communities and which 100 communities more than pay for.

That system should be under regional governance. It will take state legislation to accomplish such a reform. Lucas and the downriver Democrats ought to get on the bandwagon.

Tough laws will help drunk driver

WERE YOUR parents abstainers, rare, light, moderate, heavy or very heavy drinkers? Pause a moment and give it some thought.

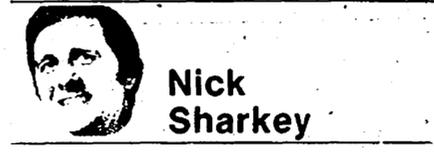

That question was posed to adults in Tecumseh recently by public health researchers at the University of Michigan. The results were surprising.

People questioned tended to follow their parents' drinking habits — except for those at the extremes. Researchers determined that children broke away from parents' drinking styles at the extremes because of the stress caused.

"Children of abstainers were at odds with the community norm. Children of very heavy drinkers appear to have been responding to the stress of alcohol-caused problems within the family," said researcher Ernest Hamburg of U-M.

MY RESPONSE to the question at the beginning of this column, at least in the case of one parent, would be "very heavy." I don't pretend to be an expert, but my personal experience upholds the findings in Tecumseh. I remember well the stress involved in growing up in a family where one adult was a heavy drinker.

Conventional wisdom at that time was that the children in my family would become problem drinkers as adults. I remember many discussions about the "x" factor — a believed hereditary ingredient that heavy drinking parents passed on to their children.

Nick Sharkey

At least in my family, the "x" factor proved a myth. Of the five children, none of us turned out to be a heavy drinker. As adults, all drink more soft than hard drinks. All would be classified as light drinkers.

THIS DISCUSSION OF alcoholism is relevant because on Wednesday, police in Michigan will begin enforcing tougher drunk driving laws. Basically, these new laws will make it much harder on those who choose to drink and drive.

For example, police officers will now have a right to administer roadside breath tests to suspected drunk drivers who are stopped for any offense. Previously, all offenders had to be taken to headquarters for blood-alcohol tests.

Also, a person with a 0.1 per cent or greater of blood alcohol content is guilty of drunkenness. Until now, a blood alcohol content of 0.1 per cent was not taken as absolute proof of drunkenness.

Those who refuse to take a blood test will have six points added to their driver's license record, and their licenses will be suspended for six months.

Several other similar laws will take effect Wednesday. Obviously, there are benefits in the new law to potential victims. In a nation where an estimated 26,000 persons are killed every year because of drunk driving, tougher laws can only help.

MANY NEWSPAPER COLUMNS have already been devoted to the advantages of the new laws to the victim. May I suggest another benefit?

As someone who lived with a heavy drinker, I know the critical element in change is for the drinker to recognize the problem. That person often must hit bottom before he can deal with his drinking.

Unfortunately, well-meaning family, friends and even law enforcement officials protect the drinker. Sometimes the drinker will not admit to a problem until it is too late, and someone has been killed.

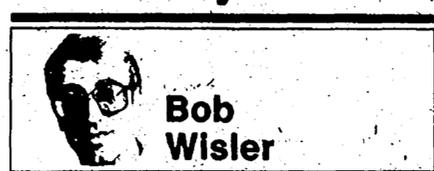

Because of the new laws, more problem drinkers will have their licenses suspended and maybe will end up in jail. As hard as it may be for loved ones to accept, that's good for the drinker. Only through such a dramatic event will a cure begin.

Take it from someone who would have given a "very heavy" answer to the question about parents' drinking habits in the Tecumseh study. The new tougher drunk-driving laws have many benefits for the driver.

Detroit's loss is hardly the suburbs' gain

THE CONTINUING controversy involving the grand jury investigation of the Vista sludge hauling contract and the series of charges about Magnum Oil's profiteering have damaged Detroit's government and reputation, according to Mayor Coleman Young.

It would be hard to fault his logic. For more than a year, we have been treated to allegations, charges and innuendo concerning Detroit officials and Young's friends.

Bob Wisler

On the other hand, Young and his supporters claim his appointees and friends are the victims of politically opportunistic federal prosecutors, sensation-seeking media and racist white government personnel.

A COMMON PERCEPTION in the suburbs could well be that Detroit's government is cursed with rampant corruption, and that Young himself is either covering up or refusing to accept blame for wrongdoing in his administration.

Conditioned by the drama of Watergate and a surfeit of tangos involving corrupt congressmen, we wonder: Is there corruption? How high does it go? Is Young involved? What did he know and when did he know it?

Many suburbanites, long mistrustful of Young and his administration, now feel they have more reason than ever to rail against special state and federal aid to Detroit. The stage is also set for possibly wresting control of the water and sewerage department from Detroit.

wrongdoing and the Vista contract has been revealed by a number of confidential sources who are said to be close to the grand jury investigation.

Few would expect that the press will refrain from publishing such information. The nature of the business is that newspapers will report information that it considers to be in the public's interest and truthful, if the information comes from someone whom the newspapers believe to be authoritative and reliable.

But there is no way for the reader to make the same decision — to determine that a leaker is reliable, or to decide that the leaker is a self-serving law enforcement officer who, having convinced himself of someone's guilt, is not above using the media to try to establish that guilt.

WE CAN SUSPECT from the length of this investigation, the time between its onset and the indictments and the wiretapping of the mayor's town house that investigators were after someone higher up than director of the water department Charles Beckham and Darralyn Bowers. But that is also conjecture.

As things now stand, the government could in its best case prove that 1) a city official took a bribe to overlook the fact that 2) a bunch of whites got together with one of Mayor Young's black friends to set up a dummy corporation to take advantage of the city policy of favoring black firms.

This would mean that there is indeed an element of corruption in a city government with a billion-dollar-plus budget and 19,000 employees. But that is not rampant corruption nor reason to discredit the mayor and his administration's entire record in office.

UNTIL SUCH a time as guilt is proven, we do ourselves a disservice by focusing too intently on this aspect of Detroit's governmental problems. These problems are part of a larger mosaic which includes unemployment, aging housing, an aging and dwindling population, loss of businesses, loss of industries, an empty downtown, poor public transportation and, especially of late, a division between the city and the suburbs.

Detroit is the central city and the most important city in a fading state. Its vitality may not be as important as it was once to the state and to the suburbs, but it should be one of our cornerstones of our efforts to revitalize Michigan.

Convicting the city administration on the basis of leaks will not help us deal with our own problems. In fact, not giving it reasonable opportunity to come out from under a cloud of supposition will, in the long run, be costly and detrimental to the entire metropolitan area.

Long lens, long exposure require steady camera

Be rigid in your camera's support, not in your photographic thinking. Be flexible enough to become camera "steady." By so doing, your pictures will be greatly improved.

Keeping your camera steady is critical to produce pictures that are sharp and clear. And the longer the exposure and the greater the focal length of the lens, the more important rigidity becomes.

THE BEST method of keeping your camera steady is by using a sturdy tripod.

With a tripod, shutter speed is not a critical factor, enabling you to concentrate on the aperture to obtain the depth of field you want.

If you don't have a tripod handy and there is nothing else to support the camera but yourself, some knowledge about how to correctly hold the camera and steady yourself will come in handy.

First, cup your camera in the palm of your left hand, using your thumb and forefinger to operate the focusing ring. Your right hand steadies the camera, and your forefinger trips the shutter.

Dig your elbows firmly into your rib cage to steady your upper body. Place your feet slightly wider than shoulder width. Take a deep breath, hold it and squeeze the shutter release.

UNDER NORMAL circumstances, it is unwise to hand-hold your camera at any shutter speed slower than the reciprocal of the focal length of the lens.

For example, you can hand hold your 50 mm. lens at 1/60 second or faster. But with a 200 mm. telephoto, you had better use a shutter speed of at least 1/250 second if you're going to hand-hold your camera.

But if low light dictates hand holding at slower shutter speeds, try leaning against a tree or wall to gain added rigidity. This way, you'll make yourself into a human tripod.

Another method of steadying your camera is a miniature table top tripod, which is easily stowed in a camera bag and conveniently used on a car hood, table or even on the ground.

A monopod is a tripod with one leg. It's inexpensive, easily transported, lightweight, and can furnish adequate support at shutter speeds over 1/8 second.

A Report on our Care & Share Program

THANK YOU, GM PEOPLE

You have a right to be proud. General Motors employees and retirees and their families have shown how much they care by how much they have shared. Despite hard times in our industry, you have dipped deep into your own resources to help others.

Our Care & Share food-donation program is over now. But it was such a huge success that the food will go on being distributed for weeks to come. The figures are impressive. You donated 4 million cans of food and contributed another $1.3 million in cash. General Motors has contributed $3.3 million to match your cash contribution, dollar for dollar, and 50 cents for each can you gave. This adds up to some $4.6 million to purchase additional food. In all, your generosity will be sending the equivalent of 13 million cans of food to the hungry across America. You have provided, literally, 10 million meals to those in need.

A few days ago, I received a letter from President Reagan praising all of you "for your excellent example of concern and responsibility." The United Way of America has called Care & Share "the largest and most comprehensive food-donation program ever conducted by private enterprise," noting that it reflects well on the compassion of General Motors and its employees.

I can only add my thanks and express my pride in GM people, past and present. As I wrote to all of you earlier, you are the best in the world.

Steelhead season will be early, productive

By Lem Meseo
outdoors writer

Despite this week's snow, spring is early this year, and steelhead anglers should be testing their gear.

A hefty 20 percent of the 1.7 million fish planted in 1980 and '81 will run upstream this spring as 5- to 12-pound fighters, state fisheries biologists say. They were three to seven inches when planted.

On such western Michigan streams as the St. Joseph River, action on these lake-run rainbows should peak in early to mid-April. The St. Joe, which received heavy plantings, will see plenty of activity from Lake Michigan to the dam at Berrien Springs. Other large runs are expected on the Grand, Jordan and Boyne rivers.

On eastern Michigan streams, prime time will be from mid- to late April. Lake Huron's most consistent areas are expected to be the Cheboygan River up to the dam and the East Branch of the Au Gres River.

Early April also marks the start of pier fishing on Saginaw Bay at Caseville in the T'pumb, and runs will peak at month's end, according to the Auto Club. Lake Huron harbor fishing also should be good on the Pinnebog River at Port Crescent State Park near Port Austin and at Port Sanilac and Lexington.

A few steelhead have shown up in the Huron River near Flat Rock on the Wayne-Macomb boundary.

Read your DNR regulations carefully because parts of some streams are open only to fly fishing. Some streams are open all year, others beginning April 1 and still others on April 30, when the general trout season begins.

The state Department of Public Health advises that steelhead from Lakes Michigan and Huron should not be eaten by children, pregnant women, nursing mothers or those expecting to bear children. Others should limit themselves to one steelhead meal per week.

We have spotted some anglers testing their luck from inland lake shores in recent days, but they are unlikely to hook much until the water temperature reaches 40 degrees.

Go blues

Accentuate positive, eliminate negative

By Sherry Kahan
staff writer

How you feel depends on how you feel about what's happening to you. If you are depressed, the reason could be your negative thoughts. Cast out these thoughts in exchange for positive ones, and the dark mood could lift.

The concept offered to the Livonia Town Hall audience by Dr. David Burns was an optimistic one. It presented the possibility of self-cure of low moods, or if psychological help was sought, the possibility of a fairly quick solution.

Mood therapy or cognitive therapy were the names given this approach to depression when Burns, professor of psychiatry at University of Pennsylvania Medical School, first learned about it.

"I was committed at the time to using medication to treat depression," he said. "But I became disappointed. Many people were not getting better. Don't get me wrong. I don't say medication is wrong. I feel it is a weak tool."

"Then I heard of a new approach to moods that was radically different. It was very simple. It seemed too simple to be valid or useful."

Burns explained it was based on ancient Greek philosophy. Men are disturbed not by events, but by views they take of them.

"When you are feeling bad, anxious or inferior, you're thinking in a way that is illogical and negative," continued Burns, who is author of a book called "Feeling Good: The New Mood Therapy." "Negative thoughts make you feel depressed. On some level you are involved in mental error."

BURNS SET FORTH several forms of negative thinking. The all or nothing form leads a person to say, "If you don't love me all the time, you don't love me." Or take the overgeneralist, the woman on a diet who sneaks a small dish of ice cream. She is so depressed by this lapse that she polishes off the whole quart.

"She took a single negative event and saw a never ending pattern of defeat," pointed out the speaker.

There are also people who use what Burns calls a "mental filter," filtering out all the good things about themselves. They take a good remark or act and make it negative.

People who constantly say, "I shouldn't have done that," should remember that they are human, and humans make mistakes, in Burns' opinion.

"It would be more productive if they would stop scolding themselves and try to learn from their errors," he said.

Perfectionists also worry Burns. "They think they must be a success to be worthwhile," he said. "I believe perfectionism and depression go hand in hand."

THE THERAPIST then transformed himself into a teacher, asking questions of his listeners. "Isn't this part of our culture?" he asked. "Don't we train our children to achieve and be number one? Do you see any disadvantages in this?"

A listener did, the possibility of failure.

Burns agreed, relating details of a case in which a TV performer who lost his job, left his girlfriend and the area where he worked. The performer questioned how his girlfriend could still love him when he had lost his job.

"We have to help people develop unconditional self-esteem so they can respect themselves even if they fall short," noted Burns.

He also involved his audience in discussing the person who blames herself for the actions of others, claiming, "It was all my fault. If I love him I should be able to help him."

"Is it morally right to be happy when a loved one suffers?" Burns asked those attending the celebrity luncheon at the Mayflower Meeting House following the lecture.

The majority agreed it was. However, one woman compared taking no action to "washing one's hands" of responsibility.

"If you have a loved one not doing well, you can recommend treatment or counseling," noted Burns. "You can tell them you love them and are concerned. But you are not obliged to make your-

Within a matter of days, you may be sure that this picture of four foreign students with Dr. David Burns will be on its way to four foreign countries. It will soon be seen by the families of Spiros Exaras (left) of Athens; Michele Portaux of Wingham, France; Margo Maassen of Amsterdam; and Jessica Kittyle of Ecuador. The four students have been staying with families in Livonia through the American Field Service foreign exchange program. self unhappy. It won't help you or them."

In fact, he said that a guilty mother who interacts with children in an anxious, depressed way, can have a bad effect on them.

WHEN BURNS STARTED using techniques to identify negative thoughts and encourage positive ones in his practice, he was surprised to learn, "how much people are dumping on themselves."

"But my patients were feeling better" after the new treatment. "I was surprised at the results."

Lack of self-esteem lies behind a great deal of depression, Burns learned. "When people are depressed they feel they're no good," he said.

So he tries to teach his patients to talk back to their negative thoughts. A man who believed strongly in his own inferiority listened to Burns echoing his own negative thoughts.

"I'm inferior, of only average looks. It's not in the works for me to be loved," Burns would say to him.

The patient would come up with positive responses. "I'm of average looks, but I'm good enough to be loved."

Burns suggests that individuals feeling depressed write down their negative thoughts and confront them in much the same way. Instead of giving themselves messages that defeat them, replace them with a reminder that they are human with a tendency to over-react.

HE WARNED HIS Town Hall audience that children can be depressed, and have the same feelings of sadness, loneliness, and inferiority that adults have.

"It would be a mistake to argue and tell them they are wrong," stated Burns. "Ask them about the symptoms. Ask about negative thoughts. Empathize. Share their problems and use common sense. If you are still unsuccessful, the youngster might need counseling."

Burns mentioned that his daughter was once depressed at missing three of 11 problems on a math test. An expert on himself, he asked her why she was so upset.

"It means I'm not perfect, and I have to be perfect," she told him. By making frequent mistakes as he set the table with her that night, Burns convinced her that to err is human.

A year later when she got four of 14 questions wrong she was untroubled. She told her father, "I don't have to be perfect."

"Who taught you that?" he asked, knowing full well that he had been the one. "I've always known," she replied.

Seven-month-old Timothy Ortopan of Redford sleeps with a monitor around his chest. If he fails to take a breath every 20 seconds, the monitor beeps.

Young Timothy is regarded by physicians as prone to Sudden Infant Death Syndrome. A premature baby, he was hospitalized 18 days after birth at which time he had a period of apnea, stoppage of breathing.

He went home with a monitor that consists of two electrodes attached to a Delcro belt. It monitors heart rate and respiration. But Timothy does not have heart problems.

Older Women's League (OWL) is making its first synchronized, nationwide effort to make Social Security a better retirement vehicle for women with the formation of a commission which addresses the problems women face in retirement.

Locally, the Farmington-Livonia area chapter has released a formal statement that it will join its sister chapters in the campaign. The first priority is to bring about equity in the laws that will give women the same retirement income as men.

"When we win this one, we'll start worrying about the others," said Gertrude Kirkwood, speaking for the area OWLs.

The one she refers to has been dubbed "Motherhood and Apple Pie" by the national OWLs which asks for a restructuring of Social Security so that credits can either be inherited or split for women in the case of death or divorce.

Other main targets for OWL are inequities in pension rights and access to health care insurance.

"FOR WOMEN Social Security is a lifeline," Kirkwood said.

"In contrast with older men, most of whom are married and living with a spouse even after 75, the majority of older women are widowed, live alone and depend on Social Security as their only source of income."

Livonia area OWLs number about 20 now and meet in one another's homes.

"If we all do our jobs, there'll be enough of us so that we'll have to hire a hall for the meeting," Kirkwood said.

Lobbying, spreading the word and putting the pressure on the President's Commission on Social Security are the tactics OWL will use. A first physical step was setting up a national OWL office in Washington, D.C. early this month.

Spreading the word will not be easy for some.

"I'm speaking only for myself now, but I belong to a very conservative church that will be a tough nut to crack. Most of the women — all of the women (there) — have enough financial security so they probably wouldn't know what I was talking about if I told them that women are contributing to Social Security; that they support the system, but never draw anything from it, except as a widow, the way things stand now," Kirkwood said.

LOCAL OWLs will speak out by manning booths in several conventions that are scheduled in Detroit this spring, recruit new members, raise funds when asked and be "ready to be a spokesperson for OWL and the Social Security reform that is really very much a women's issue," Kirkwood said. Currently the campaign aims to combat what Kirkwood calls the "compromise" package the National Commission on Social Security has proposed in general and the postponement of COLA (Cost of Living Adjustments) in particular.

The compromise package rejected proposals to make Social Security voluntary or to calculate benefits solely on contributions.

"Either of those proposals passed would have been disastrous for women, but delaying COLA, even for six months, can be disastrous for a great many of them," she said.

While the OWL campaign will be facing these interim issues, its focus will be on long-range changes to make a more adequate retirement system, on all fronts, for women.

What OWL proposes, overall, is the recognition of marriage as an economic partnership.

This has been called "earnings sharing" and proposed for many years by many women's organizations.

It is OWL's contention that the idea be seriously developed in a form that does not give advantage to one group at the expense of another.

Tuneful nostalgia aids Greenmead

Memories are something the Friends of the Development of Greenmead know a lot about.

The group spends all its time and energies trying to keep them alive by funding restoration work at the historical complex at Greenmead, the 100-acre site the city of Livonia owns at the corner of Eight Mile and Newburgh roads.

Through a series of gala benefits, the Friends have raised $18,000 for restoration in the village that will have as its main focal point the re-created hamlet of Newburgh that once existed at the corner of Ann Arbor Trail and Newburgh roads.

The Friends' current target is the Newburgh Methodist Church. Restoration of the stately landmark is scheduled to be completed later this year.

In the past, the Friends' fundraisers have been a combination of a fashion show and dinner at various locations.

This year the Friends have chosen to forego fashions and substitute nostalgia in the form of a snappy Broadway-style revue.

There will still be dinner — but it will be done in combination with a light-hearted, breezy musical, "An Evening with Cole Porter," performed by the Detroit Repertory Theatre.

The dinner show will be held April 30 at the Livonia Holiday Inn-West on Six Mile at I-696 expressway.

Tax deductible tickets will be priced at $27.50 per person. Reservations are being handled by Shirley Dodge at 464-6159; Pat Mies, 422-0944; or Kay Taylor, 484-8698.

Ad campaign gives OWLS nationwide boost

By Marie McGee
staff writer

Michigan OWL chapter developer

Janet Good practically got out of sickbed to talk to the Livonia chapter of the National Organization of Women recently.

That's how determined she is to get the word out about the nationwide campaign the Older Women's League has embarked on to call attention to women's stake in the discussion on Social Security reform now in progress in Washington.

The feisty leader said that her appearance before the Livonia NOW group was the first since she was injured in an auto accident, followed a short time later by a minor heart attack.

NEITHER INCIDENT, however, has diminished her ardor in seeking help for the "care-givers" — those women who spend their lives as homemakers and wind up on the short end of the financial stick when retirement comes.

"Because our contributions as homemakers are treated as 'zero earning years,' our benefits are pulled down when retirement comes," she said. "Seven out of 10 of the elderly poor are female, mostly mothers," she noted.

Good, who is a Farmington resident and organized the Farmington-Livonia OWL chapter, said the organization got an unexpected boost in its informational campaign by a top New York ad agency, Rubicam and Young.

The agency prepared and placed ads pointing up top issues for older women in MS, magazine and Family Circle. One is also expected to run in a forthcoming issue of Time magazine.

For information on OWL, call Good at 477-1823.

The Livonia Family Y is ready for anyone eager to learn water safety and basic swimming skills over the Easter vacation break. Classes will run Monday through Thursday, April 4-7. The cost is $2 per person for the four lessons.

Classes offered include: a diaper class for children 6 months to a one year, but they must be accompanied by a parent; parents and tots class for youngsters 1-3 years of age; preschool beginner or preschool advanced beginner for 3-5-year-olds. Children 6 years and up should be registered in a beginner or advanced beginner class.

Adult instruction for non-swimmers will be held from 7-7:30 p.m. in the evening.

Registration will be taken by phone at 261-2161 between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. Monday through Wednesday.

The $2 fee is non-refundable and should be paid on the first day of classes. Class sizes are limited; registration will be on a first come-first served basis.

Open a Comerica Cash Reserve Account to Pay Those Unexpected Bills...

Like the One Due on April 15th.

With a Comerica Cash Reserve Account, you can:

- Pay your taxes without depleting your savings or investments.
- Avoid the penalties of late tax payments.
- Deduct the finance charge in 1983.
- Take advantage of the convenient payback schedule.
- Make a contribution to your Comerica IRA.

And that's just the beginning.

Having a Comerica Cash Reserve Account means you can write yourself a loan simply by writing a check. So you can use the $2,000 to $10,000 line of credit for almost any purpose. Vacations, home improvements, major purchases, you name it. And because it features a low, 14.9% finance charge, you can even use it to pay off your 18 and 20 percent credit card bills!

There are no charges when the funds are not in use and your personalized checks are free.

For complete information on how to apply for a Comerica Cash Reserve Account, visit your nearest Comerica Bank or call our toll-free number:

Here are 4 cute kids

Four babies and tots are now officially able to call themselves the cutest kids. They were winners in the recent Cutest Baby Picture Contest sponsored by the Livonia Jaycettes. Taking first place were Stefanie Lynn Lambert and Colleen Marie Root, both of Livonia.

Daughter of Ken and Debbie Lambert, Stefanie was the winner in the birth-to-2-years category. John, who is the son of Charles and Virginia Hicks, took second place in the same category.

Second place winners were John Anthony Hicks and Stephen Fritz, also Livonians.

Colleen, who is the daughter of Maureen and Norm Root, won in the 2-through-4-years category, with Stephen Fritz taking second place.

Entered in the contest were 166 pictures which were displayed at the Livonia Mall. Winners were chosen by voting. A penny dropped into a container under a picture constituted a vote.

The Jaycettes raised $2,400 through the contest, which will be donated to Sudden Infant Death Syndrome research. Project chairman was Mary Good.

This is the face of a winner. Colleen Root, 3, won first place in her age category in the Livonia Jaycettes Cutest Baby Contest.

Even a winner like Stephanie Lambert has to take a refreshment break every now and then. She won first place in the under-2 category.

ORTOPAN RECENTLY related to members of the Livonia Jaycettes her experiences as a parent of an SIDS-prone child. Her talk took place following the announcement of the winners of the Cutest Baby Picture Contest sponsored by the Jaycettes. Favorites were selected by a voting procedure in which pennies were dropped into containers beneath pictures of contestants displayed at the Livonia Mall.

Proceeds raised by the event, $2,400, were donated by the Jaycettes to SIDS research.

If Timothy had been born 10 years earlier there would have been no medical equipment to monitor his breathing. Understandably, Ortopan calls her son's magic belt "fantastic, a godsend."

She has heard of a mother back then who set her alarm to awake her every hour so she could check her child's breathing. She said that a monitor is expensive, but Timothy's is rented.

Many children outgrow the problem in a year, sometimes two. The decision about removing the monitor is made after the child passes two test runs on a pneumogram, which tests irregularity in breathing patterns.

MEANWHILE, TIMOTHY is rarely far from his mother's side.

"Once I was in the kitchen running water," said Ortopan. "I didn't hear the beep, but my husband did. You are advised never to be farther than 10 seconds away when he's on the monitor. That means in a ranch house like ours I take him with me to every room. He goes to the basement with me when I put the clothes in the washer, and again when I transfer them to the dryer."

Ortopan believes her only child will be a well-adjusted, normal boy, who won't remember his earlier breathing problems. But she and her husband Ronald will explain the problem to him when he's older.

"Our doctor said that a sibling would be put on a monitor because this problem can run in the family," she said. "But that won't stop us."

The beeper sounds about three or four times a week in the Ortopan household.

Steve Fritz Sr. is proud of Steve Jr.'s second place prize in the cutest baby contest.

Holy communion on Maundy Thursday will be at 7:30 p.m.

ST MICHAEL CATHOLIC

A cantata commemorating the passion and death of Jesus Christ will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Palm Sunday in St. Michael Catholic Church, Hubbard and Plymouth Road, Livonia. The church choir will perform. Choir director and organist is Margaret Rose.

MEMORIAL CHURCH OF CHRIST

The Easter cantata, "Worthy is the Lamb," will be presented at 6:30 p.m. services Palm Sunday in Memorial Church of Christ, 35475 Five Mile, Livonia. It will be performed by the adult choir under the direction of Janet Goudle and the King's Kids directed by Pat Gossard, who also directs the drama group. Accompanists will be Andrea Clark at the organ and Sue Murphy at the piano.

ST. PAUL EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN

A Sunday School pageant titled "Sounds And Scenes From Holy Week" will be presented at 7 p.m. Palm Sunday by the children of St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church, 17810 Farmington Road, Livonia. The pageant will portray the Saviour's passion and resurrection. It will be highlighted by hymns performed by St. Paul's junior and senior handbell choirs and the combined choirs.

PLYMOUTH-FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN

The Rev. Phillip Rodgers Magee will preach on "Enter Judas" at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. Palm Sunday services in First United Presbyterian Church, 701 Church, Plymouth. The church school palm procession will be at 11 a.m.

church bulletin

In a performance of "Requiem" by Maurice Durufle, Helen Thomas and Gene Grier will appear as soloists along with the Chancel Choir. It will be directed by Shirley Harden.

WARD PRESBYTERIAN

The 170-voice Chancel Choir will present Felix Mendelssohn's "Elijah" at 7 p.m. Palm Sunday in Ward Presbyterian Church, Farmington Road at Six Mile, Livonia. Considered one of the greatest choral pieces, the musical work is the story of the powerful prophet of God.

Soloists are Robert Regal, bass; Jamey McMullen, tenor; Patti Marshall, alto, and Ann Speck, soprano. A French horn solo will be performed by Corbin Wagner of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

The choir is under the direction of Dr. Jerry Smith. Organist is Sharon Halmekangas, and pianist is Sharon Smith.

A Tenebrae service will be held at 7:30 p.m. Maundy Thursday. To commemorate Christ's sufferings and death, there will be a progressive extinguishing of candles throughout the service until the sanctuary is in total darkness.

The 130-voice Chancel Choir will sing traditional Holy Week hymns including "O Sacred Head, Now Wounded" and "Go to Dark Gethsemane." Dr. Bartlett Hess, pastor, will preach. Holy communion will be observed.

Colleen Brooks, a member of the senior handbell choir, instructs her twin sisters Heather and Demaris, members of the junior handbell choir of St. Paul Lutheran Church, 17810 Farmington Road, Livonia. The handbells will be dedicated prior to the 7 p.m. Sunday school pageant on Palm Sunday at the church.

3 choirs join for 'Seven Last Words'

For the fourth year in a row, an unusual ecumenical choir will gather to present a concert stemming from a special friendship.

Theodore Dubois' "The Seven Last Words of Christ" will be presented at 4 p.m. Sunday, March 27, by the combined choirs of St. Olaf Evangelical Lutheran Church in Detroit, and two Livonia churches, Mt. Hope Congregational Church and St. Matthew United Methodist Church, where the event will held.

This sharing of choirs is a major work began through the friendship of Neale Stahl and Barbara Erickson. Stahl teaches vocal music in several of the Livonia public schools. Erickson has been the accompanist for several of Stahl's concerts. Now, both are church choir directors in Livonia churches.

They worked so well together in the public school performances they decided to collaborate now that they are choir directors, the two friends explained.

ANOTHER REASON for the joint venture is that none of the individual choirs could sing a work alone, Stahl said. Their first joint venture was the Dubois work, said Erickson, who is directing the concert. They have also sung two other major works, "The Messiah" and Stainer's "Crucifixion."

The organist will be Jim Bachelor of St. Olaf's. The soloists are Janet Way, soprano from St. Olaf's; David Gladstone, tenor from Newburg United Methodist Church in Livonia; and baritone Stahl from Mt. Hope church in Livonia.

Anyone may attend the performance. St. Matthew's is at 30900 Six Mile, between Middlebelt and Merriman.

Church people need a good sense of humor

Church people shudder when their denomination is attacked. A fight brews between Sister Mansour and Archbishop Szoka and people in that church are reacting to the public debate. United Methodists are reacting to an attack upon National Council of Church programs, misrepresented by the Reader's Digest Magazine and the Detroit News.

It is often difficult for religious people to deal with conflict. We are apt to become defensive, or attack in return. Most of these recent issues reflect the church's involvement in the needs of the world. Some will say it would be safer if "religion would stick to religion."

Yet the debate over these issues is a healthy sign that religion is again in the marketplace.

When church people are tempted to become defensive the best choice to take is to turn to humor. I attended a church dinner the other night. The minister joked that those who read the Detroit News would have to go to the back of the dinner line. The Detroit News had just made allegations against his denomination.

moral perspectives

THE ALLEGATIONS suggest something good. The churches involved are willing to risk as they meet human needs. In a polarized and revolutionary world risking meeting human need will plunge a church into potentially compromising situations. When such situations are distorted by the press and television, humor is the best response.

Rev. John Ferris, minister of Rice Memorial United Methodist Church in Redford, has replied with a humorous government which is hostile to Samaria? Third, do you approve of Samaria's economic policies in developing nations? Fourth, have you made any statements critical of the Samaritan way of life or ever criticized Samaria as a flawed nation?

"Fifth, are you a 'romantic naive person' who believes that social and economic justice is of equal importance to the freedom we Samaritans enjoy? Sixth, before I give you any food or medical supplies, I need to have you sign an affidavit that you won't use them to benefit anyone who is unfriendly to Samaria."

By this time the man died for lack of care. The Samaritan continues on his journey thinking, "Oh, well, at least I know that my money won't go to any questionable causes."

It is well established that humor can heal persons. This humor makes a point which it is well for us to consider.

The gospel according to Blackwood

The Blackwood Brothers will be presented in a concert 7:30 p.m. Thursday, March 31, at Plymouth Christian Academy, 43065 Joy, Canton Township. The event is open to the public. There is no admission. Newest member of the Christian music group is Rick Price of Garden City (second from left). At the left is Jimmie Blackwood, with Ken Turner standing next to him. Seated at the right is Cecil Blackwood.

Lawyer entertains out of the courtroom

By Karen Hermes Smith
staff writer

SOME LAWYERS ARE real entertainers when they address the judge and jury in the courtroom.

Mark Kandel could do likewise. But he saves his jokes, ventriloquism, mentalism and magic tricks for trade shows, conventions, parties and other get-togethers.

The West Bloomfield resident, who grew up in Southfield, is a general practice attorney with an entertainment business on the side. He is member of International Brotherhood of Magicians.

"What both do is keep me sharp," he said, adding that both require problem-solving skills. In law, he finds solutions to his clients' legal problems; in entertaining, he looks for ways to create new effects like making an elephant appear.

Kandel started in show biz long before law. He was fascinated by magic and ventriloquism as a child. He loved Mark Wilson's Saturday morning television show, "Magic Land of Ala-Ka-Zam," featuring ventriloquist Shari Lewis and her puppet, Lamb Chop.

"Later on in my teens, . . . I got interested in seances and ghosts. As I studied more, I developed a fascination for ESP-type things, and I began to specialize in mentalism (which involves telepathy and precognition)."

KANDEL, NOW 27, performed his first show at a house party when he was 13. He got the job by putting mimeographed "business cards" inside the newspapers he delivered along his route.

"After that, it was all word of mouth."

In the early 1970s, while still a student at Southfield High School, he appeared on WXYZ-TV's "Super Circus," a Saturday morning program with Bob Hynes as ring master/host.

In 1980, Kandel won in both adult ventriloquy and originality for his skit with "Baby Duckie" at a competition in Colon, Mich., the magic capital of the world. "Baby Duckie" is Kandel's handheld puppet whose "easy, devastatingly cute and precocious" personality he developed while going to law school.

He bills his shows, scheduled through the Seymour Schwartz Agency in Southfield, as "ESF" (extra-sensory fun). His promotional materials read, "Prediction: You will be amazed."

He combines all of his talents in his shows — magic, ventriloquy, mentalism and comedy and will tailor them for specific audiences or guests of honor. His shows are geared for all ages; he develops most of his tricks.

"What I try to achieve more than anything else is entertainment."

One of Kandel's telepathic tricks involves naming, without seeing them, the words in a classified ad randomly selected from a page torn from a newspaper.

KANDEL WAS graduated from Wayne State University's law school in 1980. He was always interested in law — "advocating the rights of the underdog; arguing, analyzing" — and "At the time, it seemed to be a far more secure field" than radio, television and film, which he majored in as an undergraduate.

Occasionally, Kandel will perform magic tricks for his client's children when they come with their parents to his office. While he's never tried it, magic could also be useful in demonstrating to jurors that what a witness thought he saw may not be what he actually did see, he said.

And, once in a while Kandel can sense when a person is lying to him. But, magic and mentalism have no real place in his law practice or the courtroom, Kandel said.

ESP is so limited, he said. "There's too much going on (in a court case). You're not dealing with simple symbols" (such as the five he uses in performing his telepathic tricks.)

Kandel is attracted to magic and mentalism because he likes being able to do things that appear impossible, he said.

"There's no doubt it's an ego boost. (And) I do like to see the people have a good time — I like to watch the reactions."

Sign language in arts offered

People with a sign language background can learn artistic interpreting in the workshop "Voice to Sign Interpretations" in the Performing Arts from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, April 9, in Room 265 at Madonna College, 1-96 and Levan Road, in Livonia.

The workshop offered by the Sign Language/Interpreting department will be conducted by John Ray, Madonna counselor for hearing-impaired students. It includes a film, lectures and a theater performance.

Participants can receive college credit or continuing education credit. The workshop fees are $65 for college credit, $35 for continuing education credit and $15 for no credit. Tickets for the musical comedy, "The Amorous Flea," can be purchased for $3. The performance is open to the public.

The workshop includes a lunch break from noon to 1:30 p.m. and two short coffee breaks. For more information call John Ray or Ken Rust at 591-5131.

Ray will present lectures throughout the day.

The workshop will continue at 2 p.m. Sunday, April 10, when students will attend a performance of the Fairmount Theater of the Deaf at Madonna's Activities Center. Fairmount, America's first professional resident theater of the deaf, will present "The Amorous Flea," a musical comedy for hearing and nonhearing audiences.

The play is performed by hearing and nonhearing actors who communicate with the audience through voice and American Sign language. "It's another aspect of interpreting that we would like the students to experience," Ray said.

Lenten music program slated

The Chamber Singers, under the direction of Dr. Harry M. Langford, will present a concert of Lenten Music at Metropolitan United Methodist Church, 8000 Woodward, Detroit at 8 p.m. Friday.

This group of 30 singers, a mixed choral ensemble from Wayne State University, travel throughout this country and have made three European concert tours.

Langford has been a member of the Wayne music faculty since 1945.

WHAT'S IT WORTH?
A ratings guide to the movies

Bad	$1
Fair	$2
Good	$3
Excellent	$4

"G-Men" (1935), 1 p.m. Friday on Ch. 50. Originally 85 minutes.

James Cagney made his mark in gangster films of the early '30s — "The Public Enemy" and "Mayor of Hell" among them. By the mid-'30s, however, gangsterism in films was under attack by the Hays office and other censorship societies, so Warners turned Cagney into a law-abiding citizen. In "G-Men," Cagney plays a hoodlum who goes straight to track down underworld defenders. Robert Armstrong, Lloyd Nolan and Ann Dvorak also star.

Rating: $3.05.

"Bound for Glory" (1976), 1 p.m. Sunday on Ch. 50. Originally 147 minutes.

Cinematographer Haskell Wexler popularized the "steady-cam" technique that allows the camera mobility while keeping the picture steady in "Bound for Glory" and won an Academy Award for his efforts. However, the film's beautiful photography contradicts the picture's focus on musician Woody Guthrie's awakening to the evils of American society during the Great Depression. Still, David Carradine gives a fine performance as the folk singer and, though diminished by the cinematography, the film's theme emerges strong and clear.

Rating: $3.

"Dive Bomber" (1941), in two parts at 1 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday on Ch. 50. Originally 133 minutes.

Errol Flynn is at his watchable best in unpredictable roles. Here he's a scientist trying to prevent blackouts in fighter pilots. Of course the script allows Flynn his moments of swashbuckling by placing him in the cockpit of some of the test planes. After all, you couldn't ask Errol to send up a kid in a crate like that. Keep in mind, too, that Flynn was denied (or, some say, avoided) entry into the military during World War II. Maybe it's hindsight, but Flynn seems more intense than usual in his war-era films, and "Dive Bomber" is no exception.

Rating: $2.80.

"Your Past Is Showing" (1958), 1 Wednesday night on Ch. 50. Originally 92 minutes.

Peter Sellers and Terry-Thomas lead the cast of this humorous import from the heyday of British comedy films. The plot has something to do with community reaction to an avant-garde magazine, but of more interest are the brilliant characterizations created by the cast, many of whom you'll recognize from other period imports such as "The Man in the White Suit" and "I'm All Right, Jack."

Rating: $2.95.

45 college writers to attend conference

College students interested in being writers may apply for a four-day scholarship to Cranbrook Writers Conference, Aug. 11-14.

Each year 45 students from Michigan colleges and universities spend time at the Cranbrook Educational complex working with established writers and others in the publications field.

The conference began in 1969 as a special project of the literature committee of the Michigan Council for the Arts. The following year, Cranbrook Writers Guild was formed.

According to Joan Rosen, professor of English at Oakland University and in her third year as conference director, this year's roster of writers in residence will be: William Stafford, author of 17 books of poetry and winner of the National Book Award and other honors; Alice McDermott, author of "A Bigamist's Daughter," recently published by Random House; and Jackie Johnson, fiction editor, Redbook Magazine.

McDermott has also established a reputation for her short stories, which have appeared in "Mademoiselle," "Redbook," "Ms," and "Seventeen." She is presently guest lecturer in writing at the University of New Hampshire and a story analyst for Walt Disney Productions.

Applications are available in English and Journalism departments at Michigan colleges and universities. There is no age restriction. Any college student may apply.

Tickets are on sale for two concerts under the auspices of Eclipse Jazz.

The only Michigan appearance of fusion band Weather Report will be at 8 p.m. Wednesday, March 30, at Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor.

Tickets are $9.50, $8.50 and $7.50 reserved. Tickets are on sale at the Michigan Union Ticket Office and all CTC outlets. For more information call 763-6922.

A tribute to American composer Duke Ellington will be presented, starring percussionist J.C. Heard and his Orchestra, at 8 p.m. Saturday, April 2, in the Michigan Union Ballroom, 530 S. State St., Ann Arbor.

Three sets will be played. Tickets at $6.50 general admission, $5 for students are available at the Michigan Union Ticket Office, Schoolkid's Records, P.J.'s Records and all CTC outlets.

NCAA jaunt rates a huge Gold Star

You haven't experienced March Madness until you've been to an NCAA basketball tournament. I had the privilege and the pleasure last week-end, joining a cast of characters that would rival the "Still the Beaver" group. Some came as far away as Illinois and Washington D.C. for the annual ritual of spring.

The destination was Louisville's Freedom Hall, a mammoth structure that can house any convention group or concert imaginable.

The card for the Midwest Regional was entertaining — Georgetown, Memphis State, Iowa and Missouri. There was also a couple of lesser knowns — Alcorn State and Utah State.

The trip started in Plymouth at the residence of the tournament toastmaster, better known as "Delph" or "Hagler."

Our vehicle of transportation, a cross between a van and a motor home, was primed and ready to go at 7 sharp Friday morning.

The man responsible for getting us there was a guy called "Digger," a cross between a Teamster truck driver and Digger Phelps.

DIGGER'S son tagged along as well as Whitey, Sprout and the Whale. They were joined by four others and myself as we headed down I-75 to Louisville.

A table was set in place as a big Euchre game unfurled.

There were some minor disputes along the way. Digger's son accused Whale of giving signals to Sprout.

Meanwhile, a guy named Norm Cash, sitting up front, was setting up some betting pools for when we got to the arena. And nobody dared to sleep because Whale always had a prank up his sleeve.

But everybody was united on where to stop for lunch. It had to be Gold Star Chili in Middletown, Ohio.

Whale ordered all newcomers to get the Five-Way, a combination of noodles, onions, chili, cheese and beans.

Of course, I tried the Five-Way and ordered a Cheese Cone on the side. That held me over for the rest of the seven-hour trip.

"It doesn't get any better than this," said Sprout.

OUR TOASTMASTER, Delph, greeted us at the Executive Inn. It was only two blocks away from the Exposition and State Fairgrounds (Freedom Hall).

The rooms were lavish and the prices were cheap. The food was fine. Both Iowa and Memphis State had set up quarters.

The place was crawling with Iowans. Guys like Olson, Stokes and Carfino were their Gods.

We got to Freedom Hall in plenty of time for the Friday night double-header. Our seats were in the end zone, but it didn't matter. We moved around a lot and found better vantage points.

Louisville fans, anticipating that their Cardinals would be playing at home, bought up all the tickets — 16,000 to be exact. And when the NCAA shipped their team to the Evansville regional, everybody was in a foul mood.

Dana Kirk, the Memphis State coach, was even booed during a television interview during halftime of the second game. It wasn't his fault; they were in Evansville, but the Card fans let him know who was boss. Both schools play in the Metro Conference.

Louisville fans were paying scalpers in Evansville $250 per ticket to watch their beloved Cards.

Meanwhile, tickets at Freedom Hall were easy to come by.

Georgetown, Utah State and Alcorn all had small followings.

But the Hawkeyes seemed to have everybody in attendance.

"We're going to fight, fight, fight for Iowa," chanted the troops.

NATURALLY, I always root for the underdog. Alcorn put up a fight, but Ewing was too tough. Utah State didn't have a player above 6-foot-7, but they gave the bigger Hawkeyes all they could handle.

A freshman named Grant, a lefty, played like a senior for the Aggies. He was above and over the rim all night long.

On Saturday, the crew killed some time by playing basketball outside at a nearby local high school. Lunch at Gold Star followed. Later that evening, the crew headed for a delicious cuisine at Cliff Hagen's, owned by the former University of Kentucky great and current athletic director. Steaks were the main attraction.

After a trip to Phoenix Hill, a popular nightspot of rock-and-roll and country-and-western, the group returned to the lobby and were greeted by more Hawkeyes and Memphis State Tigers.

While I thought I was going to get in a fight when I told a Tiger fan that the Big East Conference, which includes the Georgetown Hoyas, was the best in the nation. He then said Dick Vitale was full of baloney and that really struck a raw nerve. I later told him I was for Memphis anyway and he became my friend.

"I think it's great you came all the way from Detroit to see this," he said.

SOMEBODY THEN ASKED what the heck a Hoya was. A Tiger fan came over and pulled out a card which explained where the name of the rock originated. He had gotten it from a Georgetown cheerleader.

Catholic Central run stopped

Late uprising puts Kettering in semifinals

By Brad Emons
staff writer

What looked so promising at one time suddenly turned sour in the final minutes as Redford Catholic Central was ousted last night by Detroit Kettering, 60-55, in a Class A quarterfinal basketball battle before 4,188 fans at U-D's Callahan Hall.

The Pioneers, Public School League (PSL) runners-up, trailed most of the game until midway through the fourth quarter when point guard Terry Payne scored an easy layup after a CC turnover to make it 52-50.

Kettering clung to a one-point lead until reserve Maurice Bunting hit two free throws with 1:30 left for a 56-53 advantage.

The Shamrocks turned the ball over 11 seconds later and Kettering capitalized with 1:02 remaining on a basket by Murray, who tipped in his own miss. The Pioneers (22-3) then rode out the clock, advancing to Friday's semifinal game at Jenison Fieldhouse.

"WE LOST our poise and discipline, and I thought it would be the other way around," said CC coach Bernie Holowicki, whose team bowed out with a 21-4 record. "We played a good game for 28 to 29 minutes, and then we died in the last three minutes."

Kettering outscored CC 21-8 in the final quarter, missing just two shots. The Shamrocks, meanwhile, got away from their normal attack and it cost them.

"They (Kettering) are talented and good," added Holowicki. "That's a man's team. We went flat and died, but they caused it, too."

Bunting, who did not start, came off the bench to score 16 points. Derrick Kearney added 15, Murray contributed 13 and Payne had 10.

"CC was just great in the first half and we were just running around," said Kettering coach Arnold Nevels, who saw his team trail 33-25 at intermission. "Then we started rebounding and playing defense the way we can."

lost to a good team."

CC played inspired basketball in the first quarter, jumping out to a 18-15 advantage. The Shamrocks, who confused Kettering with their match-up zone defense, continued the assault in the second quarter with a 15-10 surge.

McIntyre, who delighted the crowd with his passing and long-range shooting, connected on a 13-foot baseline shot as time expired to end the first half.

Kettering made just nine of 33 shots during the first 16 minutes, but rallied by hitting 15 of 25 in the final two quarters. CC, meanwhile, was 13 of 20 at the half, but finished under 50 percent for the game with a nine for 26 performance in the second half.

The Pioneers also enjoyed a 38-24 advantage on the boards with Murray grabbing 12 and 6-5 Robert Godbolt adding nine. Maleske hauled down 12 to lead CC.

McCoy and Maleske were primarily CC's offensive attack in the second half.

But the 6-2 McIntyre went scoreless in the final quarter. Most of the credit goes to Payne, the smallest man on the floor, who flagged the slick CC stand-out all over the floor.

"Kettering didn't seem to tire at all," Holowicki said. "They wanted to wear down 'Mac,' not only No. 4 (Payne), but No. 24 (Kearney), too."

"We took some questionable shots in the fourth quarter, but we played hard. We have no excuses, no alibis. We lost to a good team."

SOPHOMORE GUARD John McIntyre and 6-8 senior center Mike Maleske each scored 21 points in a losing cause. Senior point-guard Stan Heath contributed six points, six steals and four assists.

Lee Bjerke takes RU basketball post

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Lee Bjerke has a big job ahead of him. He has the task of rebuilding Redford Union's basketball program. The 32-year-old Bjerke replaces Bill Foley, who retired at the end of the season.

Bjerke was interviewed by RU athletic director Bob Atkins. His appointment was confirmed by principal Bob Schramke.

"It's a real challenge — that's the way I look at it," said Bjerke, who was a two-year assistant under Foley. "Our biggest obstacle is not the kids. We were the only team in our league (Northwest Suburban) this year that didn't have a freshman program. And we had no elementary physical education. That really hurt us."

"But we'll have other programs outside the school which I'm working on." RU didn't win a game this season, losing 21 straight.

MONEY WOES were a factor in RU's demise when basketball-related programs were trimmed five years ago.

RU, however, did capture the 1980-81 NSL title.

"I wanted the job five years ago because I taught at RU," Bjerke said. "I was ready then, but then I was plunked."

Bjerke immediately moved to Willow Run where he is now a government teacher and attendance officer. He is also the varsity baseball coach and spent two years there as freshman basketball coach.

"I started programs before at Willow Run and most of my teams have been .600 (won-lost percentage) or better," he said. "It's going to be tough. I have to get the program straightened out all the way through."

One step in the right direction, according to Bjerke, is the reinstatement of freshman basketball.

"WE HAVE four starters back," Bjerke said, "but we'll still be fighting, and we don't have size. Our biggest kid in the program is 6-foot-4."

"But we should improve because we have some experience. We can only go up."

Bjerke plans to play 25 to 30 games this summer and will send his entire team to a camp at Orchard Lake St. Mary's.

"Being out of the (RU) building is not as much of a factor these days," the new coach said. "But you have to spend time with them (the players) and do things together."

Bjerke is a 1967 RU graduate. He was a three-sport standout there and later played basketball under Jim Dutcher and baseball under Ron Oestrike at Eastern Michigan University. In 1970, EMU won the NAIA championship baseball championship.

"I LIKE to use different types of zone presses," Bjerke said. "Offensively, I like a lot of picks and ball movement."

"I like to run, but we'll have trouble fast-breaking if we can't get the ball off the boards. We might have to be a control team. If it's a high score we could be in trouble."

1982-83 blue chip swimmers

All-Area team is state quality

By Brad Emone and C.J. Rieak staff writers

The unseen opponents.
It's what makes swimming such a difficult sport. A swimmer is in an environment that dulls or nullifies the senses. Vision is limited, hearing is distorted, and all that can be smelled or tasted is chlorinated water.
What a swimmer can feel — the water itself — is something he can neither clearly see nor grasp. It is one of the opponents.
The object in swimming is to see how fast a person can be propelled through this denser-than-air substance. Beating the competitor in the next lane is one of the swimmer's goals.
But beating the clock is just as important.

THOSE ARE THE unseen opponents — the water and the clock.
Success is judged by the ticks of a clock, but timing is important in another sense. For swimmers, beat, or peak, performances should come at the important meets at the end of the season.
For several swimmers in the Observer coverage area, season-end tapering paid off in big drops in times and better performances. Those are the athletes who were selected by local coaches to the Observer's All-Area 1982-83 Swim Team.
The coaches selected the top swimmers in eight individual events and the two top relays. They also chose the area's best diver and picked four swimmers to at-large berths for outstanding performances in several events.
Here is this year's edition of the Observer's All-Area swim squad.

Mark Kolon, Redford Catholic Central, 200-yard individual medley — It seemed fitting that Kolon was chosen in an event in which he displayed his ability to swim all four strokes.
During the season, Kolon, a sophomore, qualified for the state meet in three events: the 200 IM, the 500 freestyle and the 100 backstroke. He won the Catholic League 200 IM (2:04.4) and 100 back (58.66) titles.
At state meet, Kolon placed ninth in the 500 free (4:48.76) and 13th in the 200 IM (2:02.42). He was among the top eight in the area in five of eight swimming events: the IM, back, 200 and 500 freestyles and 100 butterfly.
Ashley Long, Plymouth Salem, 100-yard breaststroke — Long had a tremendous drop in time as the season wound down. In mid-February, his time in the 100 breast was 1:05.9, third best in the area. At the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) meet, Long captured first in the event with a clocking of 1:03.03, a 2 1/2 second drop.

The Salem senior didn't let up, churning to a 1:01.77 at the state meet. An abundance of fast breaststrokers in the state this year meant Long's time, which would have placed him among the top 10 a year ago, was only good for 15th this season.
Long also excelled in the 200 IM, placing third in the WLAA championships.
Kurti Hein, Livonia Stevenson, 100-yard butterfly — Hein was "a real joy to coach," according to Spartan coach Doug Buckler. And with good reason. Hein was the fastest 50-yard freestyler in the area (22.4), winning the event at the WLAA championship meet, and was the top 100 butterflyer (54.7), finishing second in the WLAA.
At state meet, Hein swam the 100 fly and was part of the 200 medley relay team. A junior, Hein has already been designated as one of the Stevenson captains next year.

On Sunday afternoon, the crew found better seats and cheered for Memphis State, mainly because of their Pom-Pon squad, the national champs.
While they stole the show during halftime and timeouts, Keith Lee, a skinny 6-10 forward with long arms and processed hair, was putting on his own production on the floor, leading his team to victory.
The second game was all Iowa and their fans appreciated the performance even more.
"If there was a puddle in the way and Lute Olson (the Iowa coach) had to cross the street, somebody would lay their coat down," said one Iowa native.
During halftime of the Missouri-Iowa game, I spotted former Michigan great Rudy Tomjanovich smoking a cigarette in the concourse. He's scouting for the Houston Rockets now.
DIGGER, our steady man at the wheel, was ready for the long trip back. It rained steadily as we pulled onto I-65 around 6 p.m. and headed through southern Indiana, passing by my old alma mater along the way.
Whale, Digger junior, J.S. and Sprout, meanwhile, started another marathon euchre game under a high stakes format.

The game started at about 6:30 p.m. and didn't end until 2 a.m. There were some anxious moments when Sprout and Whale had to pay up after being beaten soundly.
"You guys don't have to get so serious," chided Whale. "This was just a friendly game."
By that time we had already hit the blizzard around Fort Wayne and crawled home at about 35 MPH the rest of the way.
Through it all, Digger remained cool and calm. He battled the ice on the windshield and the hard-charging diesel trucks roaring carelessly to the side on the slick interstate.
WE ROLLED into Plymouth somewhat tired around 5 a.m., but spirits were still high. Our toastmaster, who traveled with another group on I-75 through Ohio, made it back about 2:30 a.m.
I caught some sleep and headed into the office at 2 p.m. Monday. Driving back I reflected on my March Madness experience. It was a blast.
I'd do it again. How does next year in Milwaukee sound?

Thursday, March 24, 1983 O&E

yard freestyle — Simone not only excelled in the water but in his leadership outside of it. The senior star was elected captain three straight seasons.

Simone was efficient at all strokes but he was at his best in the freestyle events. He placed second in the 100 and third in the 200 at the WLAA meet and was also listed in the top eight in the area in the 500 free, the 100 breast and the 200 IM. He swam both the 100 and 200 freestyles at the state meet and was voted Most Valuable Swimmer by his teammates.

Dennis Keller, Livonia Franklin, 50-yard freestyle — Keller saved his best time for when it counted most — at the Northwest Suburban League (NSL) meet.

Keller had the fastest time in the preliminaries at 23.26. In the finals, the Franklin swimmer held off the challenge of Westland John Glenn's Mark Winfrey to take the title (22.930 to 23.020).

He also had a best time of 50.2 in the 100 free.

Kevin Everhart, Livonia Stevenson, 100-yard backstroke — Everhart served as a captain this year despite his sophomore status, because he was "the hardest worker on the team," according to coach Buckler.

Everhart won the WLAA crown in the 100 back (57.5) and qualified for the state meet. He also led off the Stevenson 200 medley relay team which won at the WLAA meet and qualified for state. Everhart was listed among the Observer's top eight in the 200 IM and 50 free as well as the back.

His role as captain has already been assured for another year.

Erik Kleinsmith, Plymouth Salem, 200-yard freestyle — A key swimmer on Salem's drive to the WLAA championship, Kleinsmith finished second in the 200 and 500 freestyles at the league meet and earned All-Conference in both.

Kleinsmith's best in the 200 free was 1:48.9. He also had a 5:00.2 in the 500

swimming

free. Both were among the top clockings in the area.

Todd Riedel, Plymouth Salem, diving — Riedel earned Salem's Most Improved Swimmer award for this season, and with good reason. The senior, a four-time letterwinner, captured the WLAA diving championship and qualified for the state meet.

Riedel's total of 228.3 points during a dual meet was his high for the season.

Tom Hankins, Redford Catholic Central, 500-yard freestyle — Hankins captained the Shamrocks' Catholic League champions this season and finished in the top six in both the 200 and 500 freestyles at the conference meet. During his four years at CC, Hankins lettered four times and earned All-Catholic honors twice.

In each of the past two seasons, Hankins qualified for the state meet in the 500 free. His best clocking this year was 4:58.40. Distance is his specialty; he is ranked fourth in the 1,650 (16:51.32) and fifth in the 1,000 (10:09.39) freestyle events in the state. Upon graduation, Hankins will attend Virginia Military Institute on a swim scholarship.

Scott Sargent, Livonia Bentley, at-large — Sargent was truly a swimmer of versatility and talent. The Bulldog junior qualified for the state meet in four events: the 50 (22.9), 100 (49.8) and 200 (1:53.2) freestyles and the 100 fly (55.5).

Quite an achievement for someone who has been swimming competitively for only three years. Sargent was third in the 100 free and fourth in the 50 free at the WLAA title meet. It is hardly surprising that Bentley coach Dave Glandtlett is "looking forward to next year" with Sargent returning.

Matt Mair, Redford Catholic Central, at-large — Mair excelled in the distance freestyle events. He placed second for CC in the 200 (1:59.598) and 500 (4:59.583) freestyles at the Catholic League meet, finishing second to Birmingham Brother Rice's Robert Papp each time.

Both were his best times of the season.

Pat Garvey, Livonia Franklin, at-large — For Garvey, it was a season of accomplishment and heartbreak. He was rated among the top 10 in the Observer coverage area in both the 200 (1:54.4) and 500 (5:02.4) freestyles.

His best time in the 500 came at the perfect time: during the NSL championship meet. Garvey lowered his time more than eight seconds to win the event. However, someone whom officials ruled was associated with the Franklin team leapt into the water to congratulate Garvey before the race was over, a violation of the rules which caused Garvey's disqualification.

Chris Leslie, Redford Catholic Central, at-large — A sophomore, Leslie's goal at the start of the season was to break a minute in the 100 fly. He did that and more, winning the event in the Catholic League meet in 56.989. His best time of 55.9 earned him a trip to the state meet.

Leslie also placed second in the 50 free at the league meet (23.0) and, at state, he jumped from 30th to 20th in the 100 fly with a season best of 55.14.

Tim Harwood, Long, Mark Roehrig and Bob Bowling, Plymouth Salem, 200-yard medley relay — The Rock foursome had a season-best of 1:42.50, which earned them a 12th at the state meet and established a new team record.

Harwood, a senior, was 15th in the state in the back and second in the WLAA meet in the both the back and 200 IM. He holds the Salem team record for the 200 IM (2:04.3) and had a season-best of 57.44 in the 100 back.

Ex-Canton tanker finishes strong

Bob Cline, a 1978 graduate of Plymouth Canton and the co-captain of Michigan Tech's swim team, set a school record during the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference championship meet.

Cline finished seventh in the event and helped the Huskies to a fourth-place finish in the league finals.

Cline also scored with an 11th in the 200 IM and swam on the 400 medley and 800 freestyle relay teams, which both placed fourth.

Cline is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cline of Robinwood in Plymouth.

THE SCOTTS DIFFERENCE™

We'll beat anybody at beating crabgrass.

Right now, last year's crabgrass seeds are lurking under your lawn, just waiting to turn into this year's crabgrass. But not if you use Turf Builder Plus Halts® crabgrass preventer and fertilizer. It lays down a protective barrier of the toughest crabgrass preventer there is, to stop those seeds before they start. And our smaller, more uniform particles cover your lawn completely. All of this means that Turf Builder Plus Halts can give you better crabgrass prevention than anybody else can.

There's more. Turf Builder Plus Halts feeds your lawn, too. Because every particle contains Turf Builder® fertilizer—the fertilizer engineered just for lawns.

No wonder Scotts® guarantees your satisfaction absolutely.

This spring get the Scotts difference—and get it for less, with this refund offer.

The gate will open Friday on Michigan's 1983 thoroughbred racing season with a special 10-race program at the Detroit Race Course in Livonia.

The feature program starts at 1:30 p.m. Thoroughbred racing will campaign for 92 days with the schedule calling for action Tuesdays through Sundays (except Easter).

Following last year's schedule, week-day racing will start at 2:30 p.m., featuring nine races.

Saturday and holiday racing will start at 1:30 p.m. with 10 races on the docket. The Sunday evening 10-race cards begin at 6 p.m.

DRC has adopted a new wagering format for the 1983 season. There will now be perfecta and trifecta betting on all races along with win, place and show wagering.

The Daily Double again will be featured on the first two races.

THOSE BETTING perfectas must select the first two horses across the finish line in the proper order to cash a winning ticket. In the trifecta, fans must pick horses correctly across the wire in the first three slots. The Daily Double requires the bettor to pick the winning horses in the first and second race.

Veteran racing secretary E.J. (Bud) Sears said that already 800 horses are on the DRC grounds.

"Thanks to the great weather we have enjoyed in Michigan during the winter, the horses which have wintered here have had more than ample time to prepare for a long season," Sears said.

Sears has put together a stakes program, starting with the $15,000 Inaugural Handicap for older horses on the first Saturday of the meeting.

The $150,000-added Michigan Mile, which attracts many of the nation's top horses, will be run Saturday, June 18.

The DOT provides public bus transportation to the track, at I-96 and Middlebelt. Parking is available for 10,000 cars.

IN A RELATED move, state Racing Commissioner William Ballenger recently announced that he appointed Sheila Gaudreau and Robert Clark as state stewards for the DRC thoroughbred race meeting.

Gaudreau becomes the first woman ever selected state steward in the 50-year history of Michigan racing. It is believed she is also the only woman thoroughbred steward at a pari-mutuel track in the U.S.

Gaudreau, 52, of El Monte, Cal., and Clark, 51, of Hazel Park, have already started their new duties.

Taking a leave of absence from her duties at Santa Anita Park, Gaudreau has extensive experience in thoroughbred racing. The Canadian-born Gaudreau has owned, trained and raced horses in California and Canada, and has worked as a patrol judge, pacing judge and clerk at southern California tracks since 1963. She has a bachelor of arts degree from the University of British Columbia.

CLARK has served in various official positions in Michigan since 1969. He left his job as assistant race secretary at Tampa Bay Downs to accept Ballenger's appointment.

Clark, an Army veteran who served in the Korean War, is a Michigan native. He was born and raised in Hazel Park where he currently lives with his wife Mary, and his three children, Brian, Mary Kathleen and Ann Marie.

All-Star shake-up coming?

A general shakeup in the standings of the Women's city tournament at Yorba Linda Lanes is forecast for this weekend when the top teams in the ladies all-star league make a bid for the titles.

Rose Marsh, secretary of the DWBA is prepared for what she calls the biggest weekend assault on the pins they have had in several years.

The present leaders include Kathy Haislip's team with a 2,732 count, Kathy and Cheryl Daniels, the doubles leaders with 1,236 and Cheryl in the all-events with 1,823.

members during the week as high scoring continued in most establishments.

Merri-Bowl had two of them when Joe Dallaacqua had a 248 middle game in 705 and Jim-Stockton had games of 243 and 268 in a 715 series.

At Westland Bowl, Bob Shonce closed with 257 for 734 in the classic followed by Bob Goike, Jr. who closed with 248 for 713.

Bel-Aire Lanes added two members to its list as Larry Franz had the double honor of inserting a perfect game in a 756 count and Chuck Casse was right behind with 745.

The other two came at Woodland Lanes when Mark Earles opened with 252 and closed with 248 for 704 and Rod LaRue, bowling in the senior citizens loop, closed with 253 for 703.

AT PLAZA LANES, the closest match of the season was bowled in the pinbusters league when Brad Coyda posted a 695 to beat Jim Mitchell by a single pin. The match wasn't decided until the final ball. Ray Bajar went 100 pins over his average in the business and industrial league with a 266 count in a 622 series. And Sharron Fletcher topped the women's breakfast loop with a 249 in 658.

ASIDE FROM the two 700 bowlers in the pocket by W.W. Edgar during the week, Carol Topic stole the show for the women with a 249 in 668.

AT WOODLAND LANES, Debby Lense paced the bowlerettes with a 603 and she is a 158-average bowler.

AT GARDEN LANES, Ed Moler had one of his best nights and paced the St. Linus league with 664. This was 55 pins better than Randy Race.

Schoolcraft gymnasts 4th in N.Y.

By Ken Voyles special writer

For only the second time in the school's history, Schoolcraft College was represented in a National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) meet.

The Schoolcraft men's gymnastics team finished fourth in the nationals held last weekend in Farmingdale, N.Y., as the Ocelots scored 145.70 points.

For the second straight year, Long Beach (Calif.)

CC took first with 217.05. Farmingdale was second at 194.40 and Los Angeles Valley was third at 177.70.

Schoolcraft failed to advance any gymnasts to the individual finals, which comprised the top eight gymnasts in six different events after preliminary competition on Friday. But SC captain Bruce Schafer of Ionia set a school record for best all-around score with a 41.4. The previous mark of 40.6 was set by Kevin Watson when Schoolcraft competed as a team in the 1975 nationals.

SCHAFFER also set a team record on the high bar with a 7.9, besting the mark of 7.35 set by teammate Karl Schneider earlier this season.

Schneider, also from Ionia, turned in the second best Ocelot score on the high bars at 6.4. Arnold Gonzales of Taylor Truman was next at 5.1 followed by Chris Headrick of Redford Thurston, 5.3, and Scott Carlson of Plymouth Salem, 4.0.

On the parallel bars, Schneider was the best Ocelot at 7.2 to gain 11th place overall, while Schafer and Gonzales posted scores of 5.7 and 5.0, respectively.

Joe DeDomenico of

meanwhile, did not compete after injuring his shoulder during the warm-up.

SCHOOLCRAFT'S poorest showing occurred on the pommel horse where Gonzales could only muster up a team best of 5.6.

"We definitely got strong as the meet progressed," said Dr. Cecil Woodruff, the Schoolcraft coach.

Theater slates open houses

Registration is open for spring term acting classes at Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre, 775 W. Long Lake Road near Telegraph, Bloomfield Township.

Open houses have been planned for April 2-6 p.m. for both adults and children and April 4-8-10 p.m. for adults. These informal sessions allow prospective students an opportunity to meet the school's director, Cella Merrill Turner, and to discuss possible classes with her.

Courses begin April 9 and continue through June 26 for children and teens. Adult classes start April 10 and also continue through June 26. Most scheduling for children and youth is on Saturdays. Adult courses are Sunday-Tuesday evenings.

Areas of study range from classic and contemporary scene studies to diction and dialects, psychology of performing, stage movement, singing and dancing.

NEW FOR SPRING is an adult and teen class in puppetry and construction 7:30-8:30 p.m. Mondays. Newest offering for teens are an Introduction to Shakespeare 2-3 p.m. Saturdays and a Contemporary Scene Studies class featuring avant-garde playwrights, 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturdays.

A sampling of courses for younger students, aged

8-13, includes Theatre Games and Psychology of Performing, with special emphasis on the play "Alice in Wonderland."

The first four days of spring term, April 9-12, feature sample classes where prospective students may attend and decide if they wish to enroll in the program. Students may sign up for a single class or register in a state-certified program. Credit will be given for study with outside singing and dancing teachers when working toward an "Actor, Singer, Dancer" junior or senior certificate.

All students enrolled in scene studies perform before an audience at the close of the term. This spring each scene study class will feature a specific author whom students will concentrate on, such as William Inge, Tennessee Williams or George Bernard Shaw.

All students, especially teens, will be encouraged to audition for the repertory company's two upcoming plays, "The Apple Tree" and "Pippin."

Will-O-Way is a non-profit trade school licensed by the Michigan State Board of Education since 1948. Activities of both the apprentice and repertory theater are supported in part by the Michigan Council for the Arts. For a spring class schedule or information, call 644-4418.

Barbara Barringer is Laura Warwick and Peter Brandon is Michael Starkwedder in Agatha Christie's "The Unexpected Guest" at Oakland University's Meadow Brook Theatre.

Meadow Brook does thriller

Agatha Christie's thriller "The Unexpected Guest" will open a four-week run at 8:30 tonight at Meadow Brook Theatre on the Oakland University campus near Rochester.

Opening week performances continue at 8:30 p.m. Friday, 2 and 8:30 p.m. Saturday and 6:30 p.m. Sunday. Performances will be presented the following three weeks, through April 17, at 8:30 p.m. Tuesdays-Fridays, 6 and 9:30 p.m. Saturdays, 6:30 p.m. Sundays and 2 p.m. Wednesdays.

Group reservations may be arranged by calling 377-3316. Individual tickets may be reserved by calling the box office at 377-3300.

Artistic Director Terence Kilburn has staged this play by the author of "Witness for the Prosecution," "Ten Little Indians" and other whodunits.

BARBARA BARRINGER will be seen as the murdered man's wife; Peter Brandon will appear as the unexpected stranger. Barringer has performed at Meadow Brook in "Night Must Fall," "Thieves' Carnival" and "Don Juan in Hell." Brandon, who returns from Beverly Hills, Calif., has been at Meadow Brook in "The Crucible," "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" and "Our Town."

He spent most of last year in "Medea" at the Kennedy Center and on Broadway. Others in the cast, who may all be suspects, are Phillip Locker, Naomi Hatfield, Richard Blumenfeld, Mary Pat Gleason, Tom Mahard, George Gitto and Thom Haneline.

In "The Unexpected Guest," there is no question at the beginning who killed a mean fellow named Richard Warwick in the living room of his country house on a foggy midnight.

Warwick's wife immediately says she did it. She tells this to the unexpected guest of the title.

"The Unexpected Guest" will feature a single set by Peter W. Hicks, lighting by Dan Jaffe and costumes by Mary Lynn Crum. The production's stage manager is Thomas Spense.

Auditions underway for musical theater

Will-O-Way Repertory Theatre will hold auditions for "The Apple Tree" at 7:30 tonight and Wednesday in the theater at 775 W. Long Lake Road between Telegraph and Lahser in Bloomfield Township.

Actors should bring their resumes.

Four principal roles will be cast. These are the Snake, who should be a good singer and dancer; Adam; the King; and the Princess. The play also calls for teen-agers who can sing and dance to the beat of rock 'n' roll. Adult opera singers also are needed.

"The Apple Tree" consists of three one-act musicals including "The Diary of Adam and Eve," told in a humorous style; "The Lady and the Tiger," dealing with the fickleness of love in a rock 'n' roll kingdom, and "Passionella," the story of a chimney sweep who turns into a glamorous movie star.

BASED ON stories by Mark Twain, Frank R. Stockton and Jules Feiffer, the play also features the music and lyrics of Jerry Bock and Sheldon Harnick.

The Will-O-Way production opens April 15 and runs for 14 performances Friday-Saturday nights through May 28. For additional information, call 644-4418.

Winetasters group picks chardonnays

At a recent gathering of the Winetasters, 40 people sampled some of the finest chardonnays from California. The group tasted five wines from Chateau Montelena and five from Chateau St. Jean, two of the most consistently successful producers of this wine over the past decade.

The wines chosen were selected on the basis of anticipated quality and local availability. Because those can be bought — although at fairly considerable cost — at most quality-oriented retail outlets, it seemed appropriate to report the results here.

So, if your thoughts are wandering toward acquiring a few $15-$30-a-bottle chardonnays, perhaps these results will be of help to you. Listed is the name of the wine, the vintage, appellation, local price, 1-9 score scale and rank.

Chateau Montelena, 1980, California, $19, 6.7, 1.5; Chateau St. Jean, 1980, Belle Terre, $22, 6.7, 1.5; Chateau St. Jean, 1979, Belle Terre, $18, 6.5, 3; Chateau Montelena, 1979, Napa, $26, 6.3, 5; Chateau St. Jean, 1979, Robert Young, $26, 6.3, 5; Chateau St. Jean, 1980, Sonoma, $15.50, 6.3, 5; Chateau St. Jean, 1979, Gauer, $22, 6.1, 7; Chateau Montelena, 1979, California, $19, 6.9, 8; Chateau Montelena, 1977, Napa, $23, 5.6, 9; and Chateau Montelena, 1978, Napa, $30, 5.2, 10.

ON A RELATIVE scale, the 1980 Chateau Montelena must be considered a best buy, at least from this rather exotic sample. It was an extremely warm, genteel, very classy wine with a lovely balance of acid, wood and fruit.

Interestingly, I did not especially enjoy the '80 Belle Terre. It seemed to have an odd presence, a bit of an off-taste. But, clearly, I was in the minority on this.

whole tasting, however, was the overall excellence of the wines. While it can be agreed that, at these prices, they should be special, that does not always follow. We have all drunk a great many $15-$18 chardonnays of most inferior workmanship. But not so here. All possessed lovely fruit and none had lost its flavor through over-oaking. All had good acidity and were well constructed.

Additionally, the internal consistency showed for each vineyard. The St. Jean's tended toward opulence and a bit of butterfat. The Montelena's were leaner and deeper and had a bit more complexity.

All in all, an evening to say these two wineries really know how to handle the chardonnay grapes, as they have consistently done over the last decade.

For further information on the Winetasters, drop me a note at the Observer & Eccentric offices, 1225 Bowers, P.O. Box 503, Birmingham 48008.

Nancy Dussault opens April 8 in the Birmingham production of "I'm Getting My Act Together and Taking It on the Road."

Musical comedy stars actress Nancy Dussault

Nancy Dussault, star of TV's sitcom "Too Close for Comfort," will star in the musical comedy "I'm Getting My Act Together and Taking It on the Road," April 8 to June 5 at the Birmingham Theatre.

The show written by Gretchen Cryer features the music of Nancy Ford. It ran for more than two years in New York and played to Standing-Room-Only audiences throughout the world, from Paris to Tokyo.

Dussault's long career on the musical stage includes a starring role in the Broadway production "Side by Side by Sondheim." On television, she also has been a co-host on ABC-TV's "Good Morning America." She performed in a nightclub act with Karen Morrow in New York and Los Angeles.

"I'm Getting My Act Together and Taking It on the Road" concludes the Birmingham Theatre's '82-'83 subscription season. Performances are at 8 p.m. Tuesdays-Thursdays, 7 p.m. Sundays, 8 p.m. Fridays-Saturdays, and 2 p.m. Sundays and Wednesdays. Ticket prices are $12-$19. For information call the box office at 644-3533.

By Avigdor Zarnop
special writer

Last week, Jerzy Semkow conducted his third and last program of the season with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. The performance I attended took place at Orchestra Hall on Friday and consisted of a single work — the Symphony No. 8 by Bruckner.

During his three-week visit here, Semkow proved to be an exceptionally gifted conductor and was warmly received by musicians and audiences alike.

His last program proved to be no exception in terms of quality of performance. Concerning the quality of the composition, however, the opinions are far from unanimous.

In the past couple of seasons, single-work programs normally consisted of symphonies by Mahler. There are some similarities between the two composers in terms of the quantity of their output. Both wrote long symphonies, and both have tempted fate by trying to write more than nine, which seems to be a magic number.

MAHLER HAD A 10th unfinished symphony. In Bruckner's case, his ninth symphony is unfinished, and, in addition, he had one symphony published posthumously, designated as Symphony No. 0. Symphonies of both composers are massively orchestrated, but this is where the similarity ends.

At the end of a Mahler symphony, like his Symphony No. 3 performed in this series a few weeks ago, one may feel like having reached the stars. With Bruckner symphonies in general, and his No. 8 in particular, many feel as if they were getting absolutely nowhere.

To be sure, there are many Bruckner fans who would vehemently disagree with that opinion. But this was one of the few occasions in which I have found the task of staying awake increasingly challenging. One method of avoiding from dozing off was to chuckle at the many faces of the audience who were less successful. Many others with drooping eyes, shuffled out in the middle of the performance.

All this isn't said to diminish the efforts of Maestro Semkow and the orchestra, which was augmented with extra brass and four harps.

SEMKOW WAS VERY impressive in eliciting a rich and colorful sound, with convincing crescendos and sonorous fanfares by the brass. One could hardly imagine a more expressive and tender slow movement, even though it makes one wonder whether Bruckner hadn't inadvertently failed to put an end to it.

The final movement was presented in as much forward-moving fashion as possible under the circumstances.
