Man faces hearing in felony stalking

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A Wayne man who already did jail time for repeatedly beating his ex-wife, a Westland resident, was arraigned Monday on felony stalking charges.

Martin Wayne Montecinos — accused of going to the 46-year-old victim's apartment, assaulting her boyfriend and calling her dozens of times with threatening messages — is jailed anew on a $100,000 cash bond.

Montecinos faces a preliminary hearing April 12 — his 46th birthday — after being arraigned Monday in front of Westland District Judge C. Charles Bokos.

If convicted of felony stalking charges, he could face penalties ranging up to five years in prison, a $10,000 fine and probation for life. A not-guilty plea has been placed on record for him as he awaits his hearing.

Montecinos was released from jail last August after serving several months for a third incident involving domestic violence, according to a state corrections Web site. He also has charges of forgery and driving drunk on his record.

Montecinos' probation included orders not to contact his former wife, but police reports indicated he went to his ex-wife's apartment near Wayne and Glenwood roads at around 2:30 p.m. March 23, then later called her cell phone.

Around 10 p.m. that same day, Montecinos is accused of returning to the apartment and assaulting his ex-wife's new boyfriend before police arrested him in the parking lot.

According to police reports, Montecinos was turned over to the Wayne County Sheriff's Department and is accused of making about 30 collect calls to the victim while he was in the Wayne County jail.

Montecinos was released March 26, and police reports indicated he called his wife on her cell phone and at her job as many as 12 times a day.

The victim has told police that she fears Montecinos. The defendant has told authorities that he was drunk and didn't remember leaving threatening messages, according to police reports.

1 of 4 defendants pleads guilty in home invasion

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

One of four defendants charged in a brutal home invasion on Westland's northwest side will spend seven to 15 years in prison after pleading guilty Friday to armed robbery.

LaQuinta Cuntez Terry, 19, admitted his guilt in an incident that happened last Sept. 20 at Westwood Village Apartments, on the southeast corner of Joy and Hix roads.

A 47-year-old victim told police that intruders came in his doorwall, robbed him a gunpoint, tied him up and put packing tape around his mouth and head.

He said they ransacked his apartment and stole a gun, liquor, credit cards and a cell phone before fleeing in his 2005 Monte Carlo.

Terry's guilty plea came after prosecuting and defense attorneys reached an agreement for a sentence that will be imposed April 13 by Wayne County Circuit Judge Michael Hathaway.

"He'll do at least seven years," Westland police Sgt. David Heater said.

Terry, a Southfield teenager, pleaded guilty after prosecutors agreed to drop other criminal charges, including first-degree home invasion and stealing a vehicle.

Terry's arrest for the home invasion came after he was paroled on an earlier conviction involving a stolen vehicle.

Three other defendants have rejected offers to plead guilty in return for lengthi-

Big rig operators could soon be singing the truck-driving blues in Westland.

Semitrailer drivers who camp near vacant storefronts have fueled numerous complaints to City Hall, prodding officials to consider ticketing them.

"This is in the top five things we get calls on in the mayor's office," Mayor William Wild said.

Councilwoman Cheryl Graunstadt raised the issue during a meeting Monday.

She said she has received complaints about trucks parking near the closed Uncle Bob's Trade Center, on the southeast corner of Merriman and Ann Arbor Trail.

Wild reported problems near other vacancies, specifically the former Sam's Club on Central City Parkway and the old Service Merchandise on Nankin Boulevard.

"I would like to see the city get aggressive on this," Wild said.

"We're trying to fight blight," he said, "and I think that's blight."

Westland Planning Director Bruce Thompson pledged Monday to file a complaint with a city code-enforcement officer.

Graunstadt has received complaints about drivers parking their entire trucks — or sometimes just part of a rig, such as the trailer — at Merriman and Ann Arbor Trail.

She also has fielded complaints that the corner needs cleaning up because of broken concrete chunks, piles of gravel and weeds.

Graunstadt suggested the city consider cleaning up such areas and billing property owners who refuse to tidy up their properties.

Teachers accept LPS buyout offer

BY REBECCA JONES
STAFF WRITER

The $40,000 incentive worked.

By late Friday, 85 Livonia teachers have submitted their conditional retirement in response to an early retirement incentive.

Livonia Public Schools announced the plan in February, designed to triple the number of retirements and provide a short-term fix to the budget, said Supt. Randy Liepa.

Retirees will get severance pay and $40,000 paid out over four years.

Incentives for three groups – teachers, principals and cabinet members – hinged on at least 70 teachers accepting the buyout package.

By Friday afternoon, two administrators had also taken the district up on this offer, said Jack Bauman, director of personnel. Monday is the deadline. Would-be retirees have one week after that to change their minds.

The early retirement package will save the district about $2.7 million next year, by replacing long-term employees with those at the lower end of the pay scale and eliminating jobs through attrition, avoiding layoffs, Liepa said.

The district planned to replace about 50 of the teachers, Liepa said. The district's enrollment is falling, with a further decline expected for next year, which affects revenue and staffing needs.

The school board approved the plan with a 5-1 vote at its Feb. 12 meeting.

LPS typically has 20 to 30 teacher retirements each year, Liepa said. More than 100 teachers were eligible for retirement, he said.

Parent: 2nd check of bus drivers is needed

BY REBECCA JONES
STAFF WRITER

Livonia Public Schools officials say they know who their bus drivers are. Trinity Transportation has conducted background checks on theirs.

But parent Kim Naccashian wants LPS to double-check Trinity's drivers, who have been hired as district contractors.

"If they're going to outsource," she said, "we need to have something on file to document who's driving our kids."

Naccashian first told the school board in October that she thinks LPS should run its own background checks. Now, she's offered to pay for them herself. "We as parents need the assurance our children are safe from drunk drivers, criminal sexual conduct, etc. on our buses."

Naccashian raised the issue again after reading January news reports of a school district in Ohio that had to shut down for a day when a check of their contracted bus drivers showed that eight had drunken driving convictions. Another was charged with cocaine possession, according to the Associated Press articles.

Rod Hosman, administrative services director for LPS, said that Trinity has performed its own background checks, and that under the law, substitute bus drivers are held to the same standards as those employed directly by LPS.

"We follow all of the guidelines set forth in Michigan law," said Tracy Akers, general manager for Trinity Transportation of Wyandotte. "We meet or exceed all of the requirements ... Fingerprinting is included in the program."

Under the state's Pupil Transportation Act, all bus drivers must meet physical qualifications and have background checks on file with their employer, which specifically note if the driver has ever been convicted of sexual assaults or attempts, child abuse or possession of child pornography. By law, school bus drivers must be 18 and have no more than six points on their driving records.

A stricter law, called the Pupil Protection Act, requires fingerprints and state and federal criminal records checks for all school employees and contractors, including bus drivers. Schools – public and private – have until July 1, 2008, to collect the information. Schools will be required to fire anyone convicted as a sex offender. Other felons may work for schools if the superintendent and school board approve.

Hosman said the district is in the process of gathering fingerprints for its employees, starting with new hires. Until the new law takes effect, he said the district was told that Trinity's checks are sufficient.

"If (the Michigan Department of Education) gets back to us and tells us something different, we will comply," Hosman said. LPS uses six or seven Trinity drivers regularly, and LPS is comfortable with those drivers, Hosman said. LPS has an unusual number of drivers on medical leave this year, he said.

Trinity Transportation also has contracts with other districts in Southgate, Dearborn, Trenton, Wyandotte and Lincoln Park.

Books battle tests students' memory

Eight teams of Garfield Elementary book lovers played a memory game to wrap up reading month.

In the annual Battle of the Books on March 31, participants in first through fourth grade were asked to remember details from 15 books. Questions ranged from the number of lions who showed up for "Dinner at the Panda Palace" to Eugene's special talent in "The Best School Year Ever."

"I read all of them," said second-grader Mitch Chopp, a member of the winning Orange team. "I love to read."

As part of the Orange team, Chopp participated in a huddle with his group and ran at top speed to deliver the team's answer to judges.

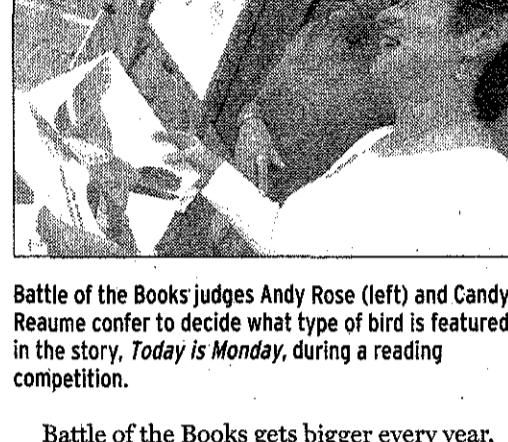

Going into the last question, the Orange team could not be beat. They won the game with 20 points.

"It feels like we're champions," Chopp said. He and teammates received a medal and $5 bookstore gift card.

Light Blue and Red tied for second with 18.

"I feel good about it," said Light Blue team member Samantha Tucker, a fourth-grader. "It's my first year doing it. I'm happy with second place."

Students began signing up for the competition in early January. They have been reading books for the past six weeks.

Battle of the Books judges Andy Rose (left) and Candy Reaume confer to decide what type of bird is featured in the story, Today is Monday, during a reading competition.

Battle of the Books gets bigger every year, said teacher Kim Mitchell. This year, the Garfield PTA provided colored team shirts for the first time.

Students began signing up for the competition in early January. They have been reading books for the past six weeks.

So, what color was the snake who ate spaghetti in "Dinner at the Panda Palace?"

Green of course.

Daughter tells father's story of surviving concentration camp

BY HUGH GALLAGHER
STAFF WRITER

Dana Kent remembers her father's nightmares.

"Even as a child I have memories of him waking up and screaming, thinking he was still in the camp and about to be killed," she said.

Mitchell Pawlak spent three years in Nazi concentration camps in Poland, enduring torture, beatings, harsh forced labor and a starvation diet. He watched hundreds die around him. But he survived.

His story is unusual because he was an American Catholic trapped by the Germans before he could return to his native land.

Kent of Livonia tells his story through his eyes in a short but compelling book, The Life of an American Survivor: Memories of the German Concentration Camps.

"When I became a teenager, he talked so much about the camps that I would write term papers and reports about the concentration camps," she said. "Later when I was in college, he kept talking about letting people know that he had survived and he had been a Catholic. Everyone hears about the Jewish people who died, but there were many priests in the camp, there were other people besides the Jewish people and he thought their story should be told."

Pawlak, now 86 and a long-time resident of Redford, was born in 1920 in New Jersey. Pawlak's father lost his job as a bus driver in the Depression and was encouraged by cousins to return to Poland and start a farm. But, Kent said, her father always dreamed of returning to the United States.

When the war broke out, Pawlak traveled to the American embassy in Berlin with his brother seeking papers to return to the States, but he was told he had to register for the Selective Service. That and his involvement as president of his local Catholic Youth Organization made him an immediate target for the Gestapo.

"He tried to hide for a while, but his mother became very sick and he wanted to get back to see her and that's when he was arrested," Kent said.

IN HIS VOICE

Kent tells her father's story in the first person, in his voice.

"I collected all of his journal entries," she said. "He had pages and pages of handwritten notes, every experience that had happened. He had pictures that the soldiers who liberated him had given him at the camp, Camp Dachau. I wrote it as if he were telling the story, as I was using many of his notes to explain everything. I thought it would have more meaning if it were him telling the story."

It took Kent many years to find the time to tell her

The entrance to Camp Dachau. The words on the gate, "Arbeit Macht Frei," is German for "Work makes you free." This picture was taken by American soldiers who liberated the camp at the end of World War II.

Mitchell Pawlak was a young man of 21 when he was arrested by the Gestapo and began three years of internment in German concentration camps.

father's story. She was a business teacher in Novi for 25 years, worked for a while as a legal secretary and raised two daughters.

"But at the back of my mind, I knew I wanted to tell his story," she said.

She tells the story in short, direct chapters, following Pawlak's movement from camp to camp, finally coming to the death camp at Dachau in November of 1942. She describes the endless beatings, physical and psychological tortures, wretched conditions and inadequate diet that the prisoners endured.

Yet, Kent said her father's only criticism of the book is that it "isn't brutal enough."

AN ABIDING FAITH

But Pawlak survived that brutality, because he had a strong religious faith that was reinforced by the example of Catholic priests who continually defied the Nazis to carry out their religious obligations and help others in the camp.

Kent writes: "In Camp Dachau, the older priests were usually harnessed to a roller and whipped by the guards to pull it along. Often the priests were given humiliating tasks and treated miserably. Some of them were sent to clean the gutters or wash the latrines.

We could see them doing their jobs without complaint, sometimes having to carry excrement with their bare hands. I would witness the terrible way the priests were treated with frustration that I could do nothing to help them. I couldn't even help myself escape the captivity."

Kent writes that her father was aware in the camp of Pope Pius XII's accommodations with the German government.

"He didn't like it, but he was a true blue Catholic and felt if the pope was saying that, he must have been doing it for a reason," she said. "He believed that faith led him to different things and faith created different situations that arose throughout the war. He had a strong faith and he used that to overlook what had happened with the pope."

When Dachau was liberated, Pawlak reconnected with a neighbor girl, Jean, whose brother Eddie had also been taken off to the concentration camp. They married and petitioned to go to the United States. Despite a promise from a U.S. ambassador, there were delays. Finally, Pawlak confronted the ambassador and he and his wife, now pregnant with their daughter, boarded a ship to the United States.

"My mother had a brother in Michigan and she had promised to look for him. Their goal was to find a place in Michigan and find a job. The most logical place was Hamtramck because that was where most of the Polish people were residing," she said.

Pawlak began working for General Motors as a tool and die worker. He tried to make contact with groups for Jewish concentration camp survivors and, Kent said, was told to find a group for Catholics. He did make contact with individual survivors and they shared their experiences.

In addition to Jews, the Nazis also imprisoned Catholics, political leftists, homosexuals and others who opposed them. William Styron's famous novel Sophie's Choice was about a Polish Catholic camp survivor.

The Pawlaks moved to Redford Township in the mid-1950s. Kent said her mother has been confined to bed for the past two years and Pawlak, though an invalid himself, has been caring for her.

Kent's book is published by Publish American and is available online at Amazon.com, Publishamerica.com and barnesandnoble.com.

Students score hits for reading month

BY SUE MASON
STAFF WRITER

Susan Kelty is waiting for better weather before she takes to the roof of Madison Elementary School. That's where she has to go to settle up a bet with her students.

The bet? If more than 80 percent of them met their reading goals for March, she would read them a story while sitting on the school roof.

"It's a lot of fun to do, but I don't like the climb up," said Kelty who's the Madison principal.

Reading on the roof is only one part of the school's Strike One for Reading program during March. Classrooms became baseball teams like the Milwaukee Brewers, Pittsburgh Pirates and Cleveland Indians and students scored "hits" by reading a half hour each night.

They used paper baseballs to graph their progress in hopes of being the champions. That honor goes to Patti Ringe's classroom, the Chicago White Sox, which exceeded its reading goal by 821 percent.

"They just keep reading, reading and reading," said Kelty.

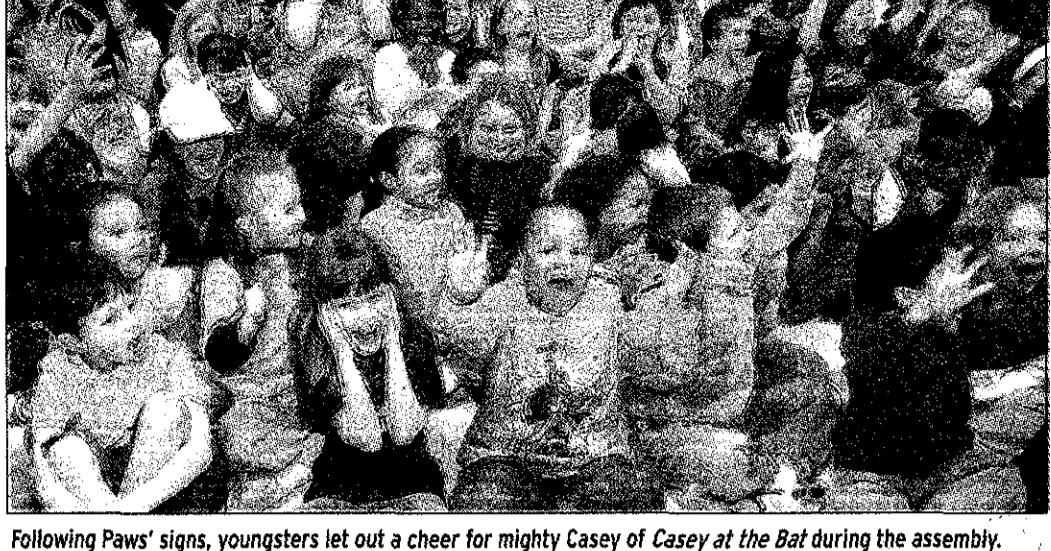

Second place went to Amanda Duvall's Chicago Cubs classroom which came in at 432 percent of their goal, while third was Rene Love's Los Angeles Dodgers class with 400 percent of goal.

Tying in with the baseball theme was an assembly last week that featured Detroit Tigers mascot Paws who panned the story while Kelty read Casey at Bat to students.

Ringe organized Paws' visit and by luck it came at the end of the month and just before opening day of the baseball season. Students and staff dressed in the Tigers' colors of orange and blue for the assembly. Youngsters had to pay attention to the story to answer Paws' 12 questions. Six boys and six girls each received a Paws autographed Detroit Tigers towel for answering such story-related questions as where the game was played, what the crowd did when there was a strike out, and what they did when Casey came to bat.

Madison Principal Susan Kelty issued a growl in introducing Paws to students.

Following Paws' signs, youngsters let out a cheer for mighty Casey of Casey at the Bat during the assembly.

Paws, the Detroit Tigers mascot, gets a huge welcome from students at an assembly at Madison Elementary School in Westland.

There also were questions like when is opening day and what song is sung during the seventh-inning stretch which lead to them singing Take Me Out to the Ball Game.

"It was a fun assembly, Paws had hand signals students had to watch for," Kelty said. "When he touched his mouth it meant quiet, thumbs down meant boo and hands up meant cheer."

They really had to pay attention."

The assembly also was a time to celebrate students who reached their reading goal.

Each received a family ticket voucher for four tickets at $20 each.

And if that wasn't enough baseball, there also was hot dog day on Friday.

As for the mystery of who was Paws, Kelty has the answer.

"Most of the kids thought it was (fifth-grade teacher) Mrs. (Madeline) Sommerman, but it wasn't, it was the real Paws," said Kelty. "She was at a conference and came back at the end of the day."

Plan will boost growth of small businesses

State Rep. Richard LeBlanc, D-Westland, is embracing a new plan that aims to stimulate Michigan's economy by creating a culture of entrepreneurship and offering incentives to people willing to start their own businesses and become the job providers of tomorrow.

"Encouraging entrepreneurs to strike out on their own and giving them the tools and resources to do so will help create a new culture in Michigan," LeBlanc said. "Small businesses are critical to our economy in Michigan. By investing in new ideas and diversifying our economy, we can rebuild our economy and get Michigan moving in the right direction."

The Michigan Spirit of Entrepreneurship Initiative aims to make Michigan first in the nation for supporting small-business growth. The plan will:

- Provide health care tax credits to new business owners and tax deductions for personal income invested in small businesses.

- Provide transferable research and development tax credits to help more innovations get to the market.

- Give small businesses access to the state's bulk-purchasing program to reduce costs.

- Offer free tuition to students of any age who enroll in entrepreneurship courses.

- Create a grant program to encourage student participation in programs such as Junior Achievement that teach business skills and financial literacy.

- Establish a statewide center for entrepreneurialism.

According to the Web site, www.michigan.gov/beyourownboss, companies with 500 or fewer employees represent 99.7 percent of all employees in the United States.

In Michigan, more than 1.4 million citizens work at one of the 230,000 firms that employ less than 50 people. Nearly 90 percent of Michigan's employees work for companies with 20 or fewer employees.

"This plan will help make the dream of becoming a business owner a reality for many of our residents," LeBlanc said. "Removing barriers will help make it easier to succeed in the business world for those who have the courage and determination to start their own business."

INVASION

er sentences stemming from the Westwood Village incident, Heater said.

Those defendants are James Michael Hobson, 18, and Harry James Taylor, 23, both of Canton, and DeCory Larman Sharpe, 19, of Westland.

Their trials by separate juries are expected to start in early May.

Hobson, Taylor and Sharpe face trial for torture, armed robbery, first-degree home invasion, stealing a vehicle, weapons charges and being habitual offenders.

Taylor and Hobson rejected a plea agreement that would have sent them to prison for 15-25 years, plus a mandatory two-year term for a felony firearms charge, Heater said.

Sharpe also refused a plea agreement. He would have received 12-25 years plus the two-year term for felony firearms, Heater said.

Westland police arrested the suspects last October after allegedly linking fingerprints to one of the defendants from another investigation in Canton.

A search warrant was executed in Canton, and Westland police Sgt. Steve Borisch said in court that evidence was found of more than one home invasion.

The case against the defendants allegedly mushroomed following statements that some of them made to police, authorities have said.

Local church volunteers reach out to help rebuild Gulf Coast

BY JULIE BROWN
STAFF WRITER

Hurricane Katrina struck the Gulf Coast in August 2005, and conditions there are still cause for concern.

"It's still pretty bad," said Barb Fichtenberg of Canton, who recently traveled with a church group to Orange Grove, Miss., to work on home repair and rebuilding.

Fichtenberg, a medical technologist at Garden City Hospital, noted the contrasts while she was in the region in March. There would be brand-new construction adjacent to leveled restaurants and apartment buildings, toilets by the side of the road and draperies still stuck in trees.

Orange Grove is close to Biloxi and Gulfport, and the seven people from Geneva Presbyterian Church in Canton worked in those communities. They spent March 10-18 in the region as part of a group of more than 100 from the Presbytery of Detroit.

"There were people doing anything from drywall, siding, mudding, painting and trim," said Fichtenberg, global mission elder at her church.

Some homes had to be gutted. "They were all at various stages," she said. Skill levels of the volunteers also varied, and they were assigned accordingly, with a number of seniors volunteering for the mission.

"There's still a lot of work to be done. Presbyterian Disaster Assistance has made a seven-year commitment to the area," Fichtenberg said.

She was impressed with the large number of volunteers, including "tons of college kids on alternative spring breaks. The place was flooded with volunteers and everybody was so grateful."

The local group stopped briefly in New Orleans, where a waitress when they were eating made a speech to thank volunteers. Fichtenberg met an 80-year-old woman whose house had been bulldozed; she received $2,900 for insurance and still had mortgage payments.

"Those people are still in some pretty bad situations," she said. Volunteers found some contractors who aren't legitimate had taken advantage of residents, and some work had to be redone.

"I think almost all of us are interested in going back," said Fichtenberg. "The people were very warm, grateful, friendly."

Thomas Friedow of Plymouth Township, a regular visitor to Geneva, also made the trip to Mississippi. "I was redoing a kitchen," said Friedow, mechanical engineer for an auto supplier in Livonia. His work included hanging cabinets, putting in a sink and stove, and doing some electrical wiring.

Friedow, from Germany, had wanted to go to the Gulf Coast as a volunteer at the time of the disaster. "It just came up, the opportunity," he said of the March trip.

"There's still a lot of houses where you see all the devastation," Friedow said. He too was impressed with people's faith.

"I was really happy that I took this opportunity to go. I think it strengthened my faith." He plans to return in November 2007 for another presbyterian mission project in that area.

Friedow found reaction at his company, Elringklinger Sealing Systems, positive. Staffers donated to support a microwave venting system.

OPINION

OUR VIEWS

Stalling pop-up tax is good first move

The state of Michigan is facing a crisis unmatched in decades. State government is bankrupt; our best and brightest residents continue to flee in droves in search of jobs and a brighter future, and our elected officials seem unable — or, worse, unwilling — to do anything about it.

To say that Gov. Jennifer Granholm and Senate Majority Leader Mike Bishop have been derelict in their duties by placing political partisanship over their jobs to find a solution to the growing crisis is a huge understatement. Both political parties — Democrats led by Granholm and Republicans led by Bishop — appear perfectly content to spend all of their time blaming each other for the colossal mess instead of working together to do something about it.

Enough is enough. Granholm and Bishop accepted the public's trust to lead this state, and the current stalemate threatens to do irreparable harm to Michigan's economy and its residents. The two parties need a starting point, even if it is something relatively minor they can agree upon to gain traction to solving the larger budget issues.

One starting point could be a proposal to place a moratorium on the so-called real estate pop-up tax. Both parties appear to be in agreement that halting the pop-up tax, which would allow the buyer of a home to inherit the property tax amount the seller currently pays, would spur home sales and provide a jump-start to the economy.

Proposal A capped annual property tax increases to 5 percent or the rate of inflation, whichever was less. Under current law, when a home is purchased it is reassessed to its full market value, which can dramatically increase the property tax bill of the new owner, which has helped stifle the sales of existing homes.

A healthier real estate market would mean more business for home supply stores and remodeling professionals, which will add badly needed sales and income taxes to state coffers.

Will halting the pop-up tax solve the state's budget crisis? No. But it could be what Granholm and Bishop need to find a starting point in working together to lead the state instead of continuing to play the blame game.

Easter promise is for all, Bible says

Trumpets will blare, cymbals will clang and Christians will shout "Hallelujah. He is risen!" in churches everywhere Easter Sunday.

Christians will celebrate because they believe Jesus Christ raised himself from the grave that first Easter morning 2,000 years ago after being crucified on a cross three days before.

What's more, they believe Jesus will take them to heaven for eternity after they die because he paid the penalty for their sins through his death.

The Christian religion is unique in that it teaches believers have forgiveness of sins and eternal life simply through faith in Jesus, not by following rules or living up to a certain standard.

The Bible says everyone sins and need forgiveness from God. But because God loves all people and wants them to be saved, he sent Jesus, his only son, to Earth to live a perfect life and take the punishment for everyone else's sins by dying on the cross.

The good news, according to the Bible, is that forgiveness and eternal life are available to not just churchgoers on Easter morning, but all people everywhere through faith in Jesus Christ.

The lessons of Passover

Jewish families from throughout the metro area began observing eight days of Passover at sundown Monday.

Anyone who has struggled for freedom can appreciate the significance of Passover, which celebrates the exodus of the Israelites from Egypt and their slavery under the pharaoh's reign.

Passover is a time of family and community. The National Jewish Population Survey conducted by United Jewish Communities indicated that some 67 percent of Jews will host or attend a Seder.

The Seder, with its special foods, customs, songs and prayers, is steeped in tradition and serves as a focal point of the Passover celebration. One of the primary symbols of Passover is matzo, unleavened bread which recalls the urgency of Jewish families who fled Egypt so long ago.

As the Passover celebration comes to a close, may we all be reminded that freedom is something we shouldn't take for granted. May we also be reminded it should be celebrated and passed on from generation to generation.

Organ donation is important

The article in the March 8 edition of the Westland Observer titled "A new heart brings a new start and a brighter future" is a wonderful and inspiring story. It is an example as to why donating organs after death is so important.

In the article, it explains how a man needed a heart transplant due to cardiomyopathy, an illness he had been sick with for years. It goes on to say he received a new heart and is now living a healthy, full life, including playing and coaching soccer.

I believe the importance of organ donation isn't being discussed enough. The message isn't being driven home. People don't understand the crisis until they are faced with a similar situation. Unfortunately, a lot of people find it weird or uncomfortable talking about the subject of organ donation. Let's be frank, no one wants to face their mortality. However, let's face it, our organs are of no service to us when we die, but could mean a chance at life for someone else.

Also, I feel if we treated the issue like other diseases, such as cancer and diabetes or some other well-known illness, it would be heard by more people. The message would be getting out there on a regular basis. People wouldn't be able to pretend the issue doesn't exist. Or even dedicating a month just for organ donation awareness. Too many people are dying because people aren't being educated enough about the donation crisis we face. Let's face it, if people are afraid of the unknown, education is the key!

I am very passionate about the issue of organ donation because my mother passed away waiting for a heart transplant. She suffered from cardiomyopathy, just as the gentleman in your article did. I was thrilled to see that the man in the story received his heart and is living his life fully.

I wish there were more people like you, bringing this tough and often controversial subject to the front burners. If there were, I believe fewer people would suffer and die needlessly.

Losing something precious

The landscape has changed so much in the seven short years since I bought my house near Newburgh Lake. I have watched in silent disgust the destruction of acres of wooded land and natural habitats. In the name of progress, this life-sustaining natural beauty has fallen prey to the screech of chainsaws and the roar of bulldozers. In their wake, the land is laid barren. Left is a muddy mess, silently witnessed by the bloody carnage of wildlife on the road.

At a time when there is no market for existing homes and Michigan foreclosures are the highest in the country, it seems absurd that this devastation is taking place to make room for yet another subdivision of suburban mini-mansions.

Now it is about to happen again: This time the chainsaws and bulldozers will be accompanied by a wrecking ball and we also will lose a precious part of human history.

On a dreary day just after Christmas, three generations of the Smith family locked the doors of Clyde Smith and Sons Nursery for the last time. The door closed on a rich heritage that will never be seen again. The Smith family was one of the first to settle in the Westland-Livonia area, then called Nankin Township.

The word pioneers usually conjures images of the settlers on the western prairie, but the Smiths, their spouses and children were our pioneers. In a time when Newburgh, Warren and Joy were no more than muddy wagon trails, they created community.

Since 1834, this hard-working, industrious farm family sculpted life from the earth. Their perseverance and ingenuity exemplifies a time, a people and a lifestyle that respected and appreciated the land. They lived an intimate union with the earth and were rewarded with all of its magnificence.

For almost 175 years, the generations of the Smith family have shared those gifts with us. Their produce market and nursery allowed us to enjoy all the bounty and beauty of the land.

I pray that the developer who is taking on the project takes into consideration that there is a nature preserve very close by. If the animals could talk, I'm sure they would say, "We were here first."

I know this kind of thing will keep going on as long as there is a little land to keep cramming houses on. I could go on and on, but I'll shut up for now.

Overspending occurring

Since day one, it has been a ploy for Michigan to say that profits from the gambling casinos goes to support schools. Obviously, this was used to get voter support.

But the fact is, the money goes directly into the coffers of the state of Michigan. The state then transfers this money to schools in place of what it is required by law to do even without the gambling profits.

This money is not in addition to normal school budgeted money, but supplants it. Over the years, the state has used the normal school money for other purposes (some good and some bad).

Apparently, it's part of the overspending that has been going on. Give them a buck and they will say "Where can we spend it?"

State Legislature fumbles education financing ball

Your boss tells you in May that you'll get a 4 percent raise come September.

Come September, he tells you that it's really going to be a 3.5 percent raise in December.

In December he tells you he's probably going to have to cut your salary by 1 percent in January.

Wouldn't you wonder about your boss' budgeting skills, if not his sanity?

Yet that's the position Michigan school districts find themselves in this year with regard to the state Legislature.

At various times, it had been announced that school districts would receive anywhere from $210 more to $14 less per student for the current school year, which by the way is heading into its final months with no firm decision from Lansing either way.

Is that any way to run things? Of course not.

Yet, that's how we do it in Michigan.

Some, of course, argue that we already pay too much for public education, that union salaries and benefits are hopelessly inflated and far out of line with today's economic realities.

School officials, some argue, need to "get the message" when it comes to collective bargaining.

There's some truth to that. But it's worth noting that in, for example, Southfield — long one of Michigan's softest touches on wages and benefits — school board members have gone well over a year without reaching contract agreements and have even gone on record advocating a two-tier pension system for school retirees, a change which would save millions each year for the state's financially strapped public school districts.

Contracts, however, aren't bargained every year. Any cut in state spending is more likely to be reflected in layoffs or program losses rather than wage and benefit concessions.

Michigan long ago took school financing out of the hands of locals and gave it to the Legislature.

Yet unless legislators are firm and fast in their budget-making — and they're not — even the most frugal school districts to shoot at continually moving budget targets.

Michigan's economy is crumbling before our eyes, but education remains our best option, perhaps our only option, out of our state's economic morass.

Yet, in the most recent "Smartest State" ranking — an evaluation based on a state's support for public education — Michigan ranked a mere 39th. On that list, we're not just behind New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts, but also behind Tennessee, Texas and West Virginia.

Worse, Michigan fell 12 places from the previous ranking and it was the biggest drop of any of the 50 states. On the bell curve, the student in 39th place out of 50 gets a D-minus. Maybe that's the grade Lansing deserves on support for education.

The survey is compiled by the Morgan Quitno Press, a Kansas-based organization which compiles state rankings on a variety of factors including public health and public safety. Its Smartest State rankings are based on 21 factors ranging from school spending, to student scores on standardized achievement tests to teacher/pupil ratios.

The survey and methodology behind it are available at www.morganquitno.com. They might be valid or might be hooey.

But given the crazy way we finance our schools, I'm leaning toward the former.

Vote for Proposal 1

May 8, 2007, is the date for a critical vote in our community of Wayne. Proposal 1 asks you to vote to approve 1 mill for 25 years for the purpose of maintaining and repairing city roads and sidewalks. These funds can be used only for the actual work.

In our present economy, where the state continues to cut our city's revenue, the city has few dollars available to take care of our roads and sidewalks. Therefore, in order to maintain this critical service, you are being asked to approve Proposal 1.

With the passage of the Proposal 1, it will cost each homeowner the following:

- House worth $100,000, cost to homeowner $50 per year.
- House worth $150,000, cost to homeowner $75 per year.
- House worth $200,000, cost to homeowner $100 per year.
- House worth $250,000, cost to homeowner $125 per year.

Well-maintained roads and sidewalks are vital to our community. Whether your road is gravel, asphalt or concrete, it needs attention to prolong its usefulness, as do sidewalks.

Currently your area may have brand new roads due to sewer replacement projects, but the preservation of these roads takes money that our city does not have. Asphalt roads need the same attention. Gravel roads need to be professionally graded, and the city has neither the equipment to do it nor the money to have it done.

Public sidewalks — which often heave or crack, causing safety hazards — would be taken care of under Proposal 1. The city would become responsible for the repair of all of the public sidewalks fronting residential and business properties located beside city, county and state roads.

No matter where you live in Wayne, your well-being is impacted by the quality of the city streets you drive upon or the sidewalks where you walk. Please consider this issue carefully and join with me in voting yes for Proposal 1 on May 8, 2007.

GOP plan hurts Michigan

In a series of late night votes, Senate Republicans finally revealed their "plan" for Michigan. It will hurt Michigan families and it will not allow us to make critical investments in Michigan's future. The bills include:

(1) Cutting $34 in education funding per student (which means a cut, for example of $4 million for Detroit, $528,000 for Lansing, $232,000 for Battle Creek, etc.) This will have a very drastic effect on our Wayne-Westland School District.

(2) Eliminating funds for Ambulance Services, Adult Home Help, Doctors Services and Community Mental Health.

(3) Slashing $34 Million in funding for economic development and private job creation projects.

(4) Cutting Medicaid.

(5) Reducing funding for child care, food stamps and foster care.

In part because the bills were kept secret and then introduced and offered for votes late Thursday, March 22, the details remain unclear.

The bottom line is this: The Republicans' "plan" will hurt Michigan people, and it cuts the very things we need to end Michigan's economic crisis and revitalize Michigan's economy.

LETTERS

In tough economic times, it is critical to invest in our people to prepare for the knowledge-based jobs that will grow Michigan's economy. We cannot afford to slash investments in education, public safety and health care at the exact moment when the economy demands this kind of investment to ensure that Michigan is competitive.

The governor's plan is comprehensive. It includes spending cuts, government reforms and revenues.

On Thursday, March 22, the governor introduced an executive order cutting spending by $344 million for this year. Many of the cuts are painful, but she protects the most vital investments for Michigan's future, and vital services that Michigan citizens depend on. Yet this is only the first step, covering just 10 percent of the $3.4 billion deficit.

The governor's full plan will help Michigan's people succeed — in school, in the global economy and in life.

Silence is deafening

As is the case every time I read an article by Ms. Ahwah, I find myself angered at her arrogance and wonder why she is even given a voice in this paper. Maybe so that people like me will get angry enough to write in to rebuke her self-serving comments.

Ms. Ahwah is now claiming that "demeaning Arabs is becoming a national sport" and that "hateful rhetoric" is "dehumanizing an entire Arab-Muslim world." Well, the second part I certainly agree with. My view of the Arab-Muslim world is pretty de-humanized. Let's see ... beheadings, kidnappings, mass murder, persecution of religious groups, kidnapping and killing of neutral reporters, suicide bombers, Chlorine-laced bombs, education of children to hate and become martyrs, refusal to recognize the state of Israel and renounce violence, systematic oppression against women.

The list goes on and on from Belsan, Russia, to Thailand, to Madrid, to London, to the United States, to Mogadishu. But yes, the groups that perform these acts are just a small minority that has hijacked the peaceful religion of Islam.

Well, the enormous outcry of condemnation from the peaceful majority of the 1.4 billion Muslims worldwide has been absolutely deafening! Instead, we hear from the Muslim community that we are racists, bigots, colonialists, murderers and liars. That I have certainly heard.

Yes, please, let's end this war now and get our U.S. citizens out of that madness and let the radicals kill each other. What started as a noble cause has turned into some kind of sick display of human depravity. Even worse, U.S. citizens are dying over there and those stateside are fighting one another in a war of words.

Let's face it, most of the Arab-Muslim world is much different than American society with a long history of violence and religious strife. How foolish of us to think that toppling a brutal dictator would bring order and peace to this region.

Let's get out and get out quick!

Ah, but then the big, bad U.S. will be criticized as racists for allowing the ethnic cleansing to take place. I can hear Ms. Ahwah's fingers typing now. Americans don't need more lecturing from the likes of Terry Ahwah. I believe her efforts would be better spent on getting her own Arab-Muslim community to stand up and demand change within its own ranks.

Up until this point, your silence has been deafening — in southeast Michigan, throughout the U.S. and worldwide!

MHS sponsors summer day camp

Back by popular demand, the Michigan Humane Society's Summer Tails Day Camp returns for its second season. The week-long camp is a hands-on, interactive animal learning experience for children this summer.

Summer Tails Day Camp will be offered in seven one-week sessions beginning June 25 at the three MHS centers for animal care, held 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Monday through Friday.

Summer Tail Day Camp will be offered at the following dates and MHS locations:

■ Detroit adoption center the weeks of July 30 and Aug. 6.

■ Rochester Hills adoption center the weeks of Aug. 20 and 27.

■ Berman adoption center in Westland the weeks of June 25, July 16 and July 23.

Summer Tail Day Camp is age-appropriate, with program materials suited to learning styles and maturity levels.

The program is open to Junior Paw Pals (children ages 7 and 8), Paw Pals (children 9 to 11) and senior Paw Pals (ages 12 and 13).

"Summer Tails offer kids with a love for animals the opportunity to experience animal welfare first-hand," says Kimberly Korona, community humane initiatives coordinator at the Michigan Humane Society.

To provide the optimal learning experience for each Paw Pal, MHS has collaborated with other animal welfare organizations to expand and enhance knowledge of animal issues, humane training techniques and veterinary medicine. Children will also learn about ferrets from members of the Midwest Fellowship and may even get a visit with one of the stars of the Animal Planet Animal Cops, Detroit.

A scholarship program is available to ensure Summer Tails Day Camp is available for all children interested in attending. Registration and scholarship forms are available at all three MHS locations: 7401 Chrysler Drive, Detroit; 3600 W. Auburn Road, Rochester; and, 900 N. Newburgh Road, Westland.

For more information about Summer Tails Day Camp, visit www.michiganhumane.org or contact Kimberly Korona at (248) 799-7400, ext. 127 or kcorona@michiganhumane.org.

Weigh pros and cons of taking early Social Security benefits

Recently, I sat down with couples who have taken early retirement from the auto industry and many of them also are eligible to collect Social Security. The question is whether it is beneficial to accept Social Security early or not. One client stated that she had heard it is never beneficial to accept Social Security before you can collect your full benefit. My answer to her was there are very few absolutes in the financial world and, in fact, in many cases taking Social Security early is a good move.

It is important first to understand the rules. Many believe they receive full benefits at age 65, but this is not the case. If you were born between 1943 and 1954, your full benefits don't kick in until you reach 66 years of age. Therefore, the benefit of receiving early benefits is that you are going to receive Social Security payments for a longer period of time. The downside, of course, is that your benefits are reduced. Everyone is eligible to begin to receive Social Security at 62, however, if you accept benefits at that point you will receive up to a 25 percent reduction in benefits.

Although there are a variety of factors to consider, the break-even point is approximately when someone is in their early 80s. That means if someone accepts early benefits and they are living past their early 80s, they would have collected more if they would have deferred benefits.

Another item is the give back rules. If you accept early benefits and you continue to work, you may have to surrender some of those benefits. If you make more than $12,960 in 2007, for every two dollars you earn over the limit ($12,960) you will surrender one dollar in benefits. Therefore, if you make $25,000, you are $12,040 over the limit which means you will lose a little over $6,000 in benefits. This is not a permanent loss because future benefits are recomputed and adjusted. Taking early benefits is a permanent lifetime reduction.

Another issue is tax consequences. Many people believe Social Security is not taxed. However, that's not the case. To determine whether your Social Security is subject to tax, start with what is known as a base amount (basically your income plus half the Social Security benefits you receive plus any income from municipal bonds). If you are single and your base amount is over $25,000 or married and your base amount is over $32,000, then 50 percent of your Social Security is subject to income tax. If your base amount is $34,000 and you're single or $44,000 and you're married, then 85 percent of your Social Security is subject to income tax.

After factoring in various

Money Matters

Rick Bloom

issues, my general rule is only consider taking early Social Security benefits if you need the money to cover your living expenses. If you don't need the money, then it pays to delay taking the benefits.

In addition, if you are subject to the give-back rules and you were going to give back half or more of your benefits, then it generally pays to delay taking benefits. On the other hand, if your pension does not cover your living expenses, then taking Social Security early may be a benefit to you.

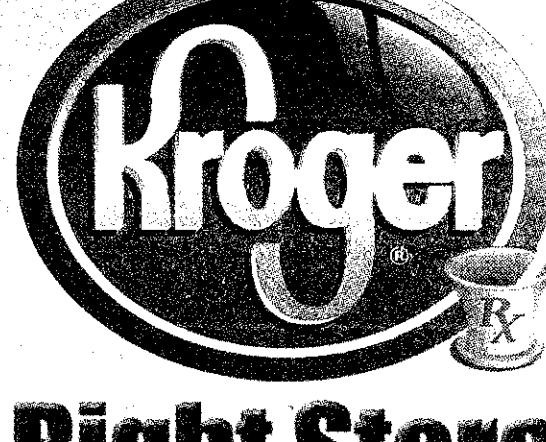

If it comes down to tapping your investments or collecting Social Security early, it depends upon the type of investor you are. If you are conservative and investing in CDs and government bonds, then for those individuals I would recommend using my investment portfolio for my income needs and delay accepting Social Security. If you have stocks and growth mutual funds in your portfolio then I generally would recommend tapping Social Security early to cover my needs allowing the investments to reinvest and grow. The theory is over the long run a well-balanced and diversified portfolio will return substantially more than the loss from Social Security.

The bottom line of whether to accept Social Security early or not is an individual decision. The key is to base it upon the factors I have discussed, not what everyone else is doing.

Sports seasons turned upside-down; athletes feel pinch

Churchill's Shannon Warner is the Division 1 girls golf defending state champion.

Livonia Churchill High's Shannon Warner didn't feel too good at all Monday at school.

That's because she's already become the area's poster child — or first big casualty — of the U.S. Supreme Court decision which mandates Michigan's prep sports seasons to be aligned with the 49 other states.

The sports seasons switch, which moves girls basketball to the winter and volleyball to the fall, affects Warner and thousands of athletes in this state who must now choose between one sport or another — beginning this fall.

The nine-year legal battle also will have a ripple effect on coaches and administrators — and, yes, force fans to make difficult and painful choices for the 2007-08 school year and beyond.

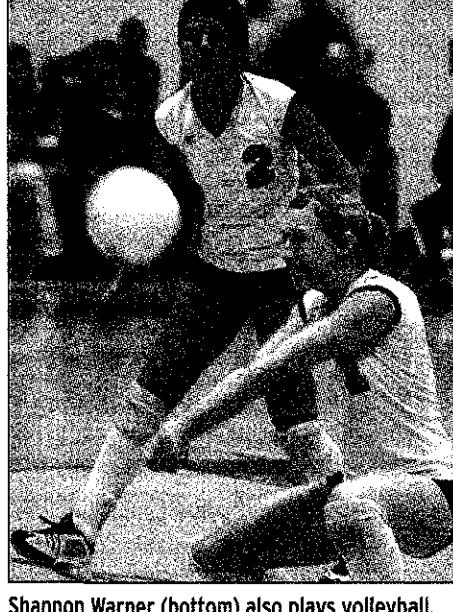

Communities For Equity, a Grand Rapids-based parent group, filed the suit because it deemed the Michigan High School Athletic Association used discriminating practices in its sports seasons schedule.

The resolution of the case also means boys and girls golf and tennis will flip-flop seasons — girls golf now goes to the fall (with volleyball) and boys golf switches to the spring; boys tennis is now set for the fall and girls tennis moves to the spring.

Where does Warner come in? She's the defending Division 1 state medalist in girls golf and a key reserve on Churchill's recently crowned Class A state championship volleyball team.

And unless the Livonia Public Schools allows her the opportunity to do both sports in the fall — a policy that would have to change — Warner will have to choose between golf and volleyball.

Shannon Warner (bottom) also plays volleyball, but it conflicts with golf during the fall season after the MHSAA lost its gender equity case.

In fact, four other Churchill volleyball players, including two swimmers (Kathryn Krupsky and Rachel Elery), two cross country runners (Jaclyn Gribek and All-Stater Sara Kroll), along with one pom pom team member (Kristy DeClercq), are now faced with similar decisions.

"I'm kind of upset because those are my two most favorite sports," Warner said.

"The two sports are totally different.

Justin Taurence (Wyandotte Roosevelt) and Tom Voyer (Ortonville Brandon) tied for a 17th place finish after each shot 167 during the tournament.

The Crusaders will return to the links on Saturday at the Siena Heights Invitational at Lenawee Country Club in Adrian.

Chandler signs

Madonna University women's soccer coach Paul Thomas recently announced the signing of five Michigan high school seniors to join the Crusaders squad for the 2007 season.

The recruits include Livonia Stevenson's Jamie Chandler along in-state prospects Ellen O'Reilly, Madison Heights Bishop Foley; Chelsea Skinner and Katie Kozlowski, both of Dearborn Heights Crestwood; and Sarah Rokuski, Algonac.

Chandler, a senior captain, is a three-year varsity player who earned All-Division honors as a junior.

"Jamie is a very versatile and tenacious player," Thomas said. "She can fit in multiple positions along the back row or in the midfield. Her versatility will help to provide depth to our roster next fall."

MU adds catcher

The Madonna University women's softball team recently added their third recruit for the 2008 season, signing prep catcher Ashley Shay (Dearborn Divine Child HS) to a letter of intent.

The All-Catholic League and Division II All-Region pick is coming off a junior season that saw her hit .380 with two home runs and 34 RBIs for the Falcons.

She becomes the third player to sign with the Crusaders for the 2008 season, joining Tara LaMilza (Harper Woods Regina) and Kelly Lesko (Trenton).

Shay is a National Honor Society member with perfect attendance and plans to study Nursing when she officially enrolls at MU.

Cousins Jeff and Bryan Lerg of Livonia would like to do remake a 1944 Oscar-winning production this weekend, and call it, Meet Me in St. Louis.

That's where the NCAA Hockey Tournament, known as the Frozen Four, will be held starting today at the Scottrade Center when Michigan State (24-13-3) takes on Maine (23-14-2) followed by North Dakota (24-13-5) and Boston College (28-11-1).

The winners meet for the championship on Saturday.

It is MSU's first appearance in the Frozen Four since 2001 and the 11th overall, courtesy of a 2-1 victory March 24 over top-ranked Notre Dame in the Midwest Regional final held at Van

In that game, MSU got goals from Chris Mueller and Tim Kennedy and a spectacular effort from Jeff Lerg (19 saves), who was named Regional Tournament MVP.

Jeff has appeared in all 40 games for the Spartans, while Bryan Lerg, a 5-10, 175-pound junior forward, has also been making music all season long. Bryan had an assist in the win over Boston College and ranks second in point production for the Spartans with 23 goals and 13 assists with a plus-12 rating.

Bryan, who came through the U.S. National Team Development program, has eight game-winning goals this season. He was named the team's Outstanding Offensive Player at the team's banquet.

The 5-foot-6, 150-pound Jeff Lerg certainly stood tall in both regional wins, upstaging two of the nation's top goaltenders including David Brown of Notre Dame and John Curry of Boston College in a 5-1 semifinal victory.

"First off, I have said all along that these guys (Brown and Curry) deserve all the recognition they get," Jeff Lerg said in a postgame MSU press conference release. "They have been Nos. 1 and 2 in the nation all year. But, I know that when I am on my game and keep things simple, I can compete with anyone. I know that if I can make all the saves I am supposed to plus two or three big ones, I give the team a chance to win.

Patriot coach Jobbitt bids adieu, retires

BY BRAD EOMNS

STAFF WRITER

On the heels of his induction into the Michigan High School Hockey Coaches Association Hall of Fame only last month, Livonia Franklin's Terry Jobbitt decided it was time to bow out.

The 57-year-old Jobbitt, the Patriots' varsity coach the past 25 years, leaves with an overall record of 292-257-56.

"The decision to resign was one of the hardest decisions I have ever made," Jobbitt said.

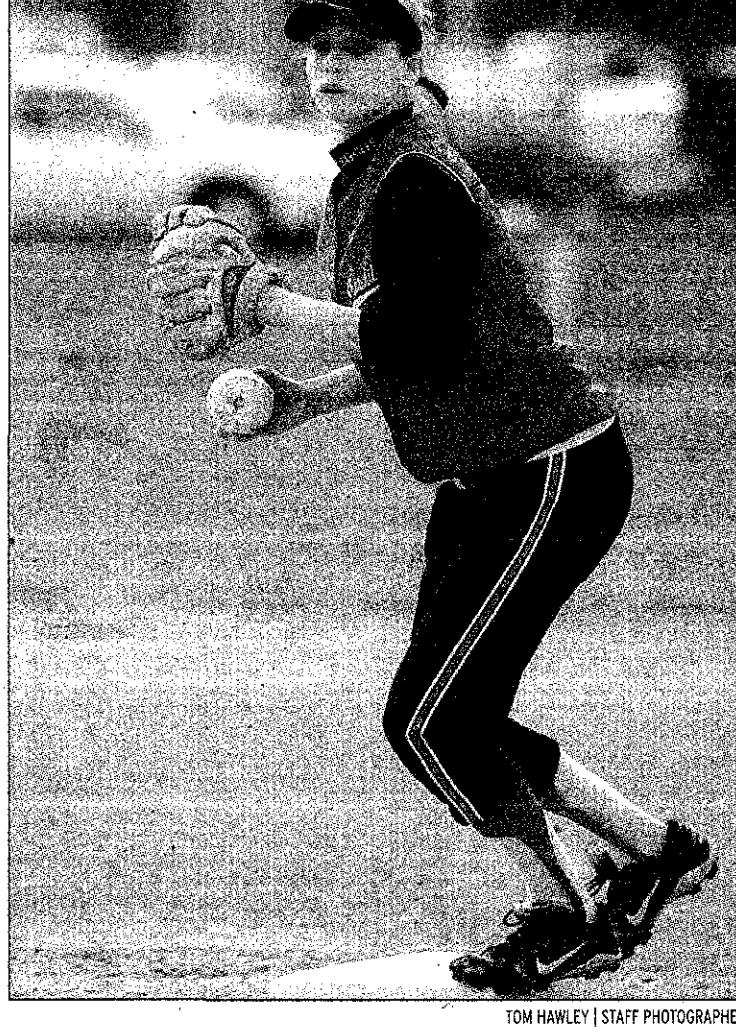

"I feel that 25 years is enough time at Franklin. The last couple of years my knees have been getting worse and it has become difficult to skate and do the things the way I would like on the ice. The mind is still good, but the body is going. Another reason is I have coached at one level or another since 1971."

Jobbitt guided Franklin to one regional title (1985) and two runner-up finishes (2001 and 2002). He also led the Patriots to a Western Division crown in the Western Lakes Activities Association (2001).

"Coaching at Franklin has been pure enjoyment," Jobbitt said. "I have hundreds of good memories that will always be with me. I have made countless friends with my former players and they still remain in contact with me. In fact, four of them came back and were my former assistant coaches - Dan Phelps, Tim Olschanski, Scott Williams and Ryan Tracy."

Jobbitt, who works in the insurance business and lives in Canton with his wife, Kathy, also devotes much of his time as a volunteer for Special Olympics. He has also taken an active part in the community with the local chamber of commerce.

Cougars' day

Chargers no match, fall 10-0

BY TIM SMITH

Making their hits count, Garden City routed Livonia Churchill 10-0 in a Tuesday nonleague varsity softball contest.

Garden City (4-0) needed just 4.5 innings to win the mercy-rule shortened game against the visiting Chargers (1-1).

"They got key hits when they needed to," lamented Churchill rookie coach Meghan Misiak-Hall.

The biggest was a grand slam to left by senior shortstop Kelly Floetke, to give the Cougars a 6-0 margin in the second. Soon, the score was 10-0, largely thanks to a two-run triple in the third by junior catcher Katie Torok.

"Floetke had the really big swing to break it open," said Cougars head coach Barry Patterson. "She was able to hit it on a line, and it kept rolling and rolling out there. That put enough distance between us and made it hard for them (Chargers) to come back."

Hall said mental mistakes by her defense helped fuel some of the Garden City scoring.

For example, infielders waited too long to throw to first base on some plays, enabling batters to reach safely. Another time, a pop up fell between two hesitant outfielders to kick-start a four-run rally in the third that made it 10-0.

"We'll try to overcome and learn from our mistakes," she said.

It turned out there was little margin for error because the Chargers really hit the ball hard only in the first against Garden City junior pitcher Hallie Minch, who had

MHSAA director Roberts defends group's actions

BY MARTY BUDNER
STAFF WRITER

John E. "Jack" Roberts, Executive Director of the Michigan High School Athletic Association, was disappointed with Monday's loss in the sports gender-equity lawsuit case.

But he was not disappointed with the effort his organization gave.

Diane Madsen, a mom from the state's west side who believed all along that Michigan's prep female athletes were discriminated against, was thrilled that the Supreme Court decided not to hear an appeal of a U.S. District court decision originally levied against the MHSAA back in 2001. She's glad the whole gender-equity issue is finally resolved and the girls are now on equal footing with the boys.

Roberts felt the MHSAA was simply upholding the wishes of its membership schools across the state. Time after time, in surveys filled out by various high school administrators, the mandate was given to continue the fight against Communities for Equity (CFE) - Madsen's Grand Rapids-based group that filed the original lawsuit in 1998.

Backed by his constituency and financed by a $2 million insurance policy, Roberts firmly battled for nine years to maintain the status quo in the state's prep sports seasons schedule.

Just because Michigan was the only state in the country where girls played basketball in the fall and volleyball in the winter, the MHSAA insisted it was not a good enough reason to change. Roberts believed his organization complied with all Title IX regulations and was non-discriminatory in the way it conducted its scheduling.

Roberts defended the decision to continually challenge the various court setbacks over the years.

is awesome. It was the atmosphere, and everybody there to celebrate, it was so much fun."

Warner said she would like the opportunity to do both sports in the fall if she can work it out.

Several area schools are affected, but Churchill appears to be the hardest hit.

Varsity volleyball coach Mark Grenier would lose his freshman and JV coaches, Jacqui Gatt and Amy Szymanski, because they play for Madonna University in the fall.

Girls golf coach Gary Harper is also an assistant in football, while Reid Friedrichs is the varsity boys tennis and soccer coach. Chad Jenkins, a JV coach, will now have to choose between girls or boys basketball.

"They talk about opportunities, but it denies," Grenier said. "It definitely puts a chink in the armor. It's certainly a tough scenario in the short term. Kids now have five options in the fall. You won't see the ill effects until two or three years down the road."

Jack Roberts, the MHSAA executive director who fought valiantly for nine years on behalf of the member schools who unanimously supported his cause, must be doing a slow burn along Trowbridge Road in East Lansing. His legacy is at stake to some extent, but he certainly has thousands of sympathizers.

Ironically, in all my travels over the years discussing this case, I have yet to find one female coach or female administrator who didn't support the MHSAA's stand.

Communities For Equity's argument was that volleyball being played in the winter put Michigan female athletes at a disadvantage for college scholarship opportunities. But in all truth, Michigan got over-

"If ever our constituents had said we should not defend the current seasons because they are not beneficial to boys and girls, then the MHSAA would not have defended those decisions," he said at a press conference at the MHSAA's East Lansing headquarters late Monday afternoon.

"Because our constituents believe their seasons structure is much better than what the District Court had ordered, the MHSAA gave its best effort to defend those seasons. And we did so without any expenditure of time or money by schools, and without any distraction from MHSAA services to those schools."

"Ultimately our efforts to preserve the schools' seasons have been unsuccessful. We have to apologize to schools, not for making the efforts, but for not making successful efforts. We are disappointed with the results; but we couldn't have lived with ourselves if we were also disappointed with the effort."

Madsen and the CFE, on the other hand, consistently argued it was disadvantageous for the girls to play winter volleyball. The CFE believed the girls were not only discriminated against, but were not afforded the proper scholarship opportunities as players across the nation were.

"I am very happy that young women in Michigan will now have all the opportunities and benefits that they are entitled to under the law that the boys have had all along," said Madsen on Tuesday evening. "The overall importance of this decision is not about athletics. The overall importance is that gender discrimination is wrong. That can't happen in Michigan."

"I realize that it will be a tough couple of years of change, but it's time for everyone to get together. Forty-nine other states have done it this way and we can learn from them."

CHANGES IN THE WIND

When the United States Supreme Court decided not to hear the Michigan High School Athletic Association's appeal, it opened the doors for the following changes in the high school sports schedule:

- girls basketball will be moved from the fall to the winter;
- girls volleyball will be moved from the winter to the fall;
- boys tennis will be moved from the spring to the fall;
- girls tennis will be moved from the fall to the spring;
- boy golf will be moved from the fall to the spring; and
- girls golf will be moved from the spring to the fall.

recruited by colleges in both sports because of the "abnormal seasons."

"I disagree with the whole thing totally," said Stevenson's Kelly Graham, who has coached track and field and volleyball for 20 years. "Michigan was in the top three (states) for volleyball scholarships. It was not a great argument for whoever. Some schools (colleges) are going to lose scouting time. It's not a good move."

The big winner in all this is "the beast," AAU volleyball, which now gets a contiguous six-month season (winter and spring).

But the big loser is high school girls basketball, which could baffle heads for media attention on Friday nights with hockey and boys basketball.

The Western Lakes Activities Association athletic directors have a contingency schedule already in place — except for boys and girls basketball.

The ADs from the WLAA met Tuesday in response to season switches and will continue to study a schedule plan at another meeting set for April 26.

Do you play girls and boys basketball on the same night at opposite sites?

The Kensington Valley Conference has decided the boys and girls basketball teams will play the same opponent at opposite sites Tuesdays, while the second game of the week will feature boys and girls alternating between Thursdays and Fridays.

It seems every conference or league has a different idea.

"Several things have to be considered," Franklin Athletic Director Ron Hammie said. "Of course, you've got to consider officials, fan base, the parents. Some schools have facilities issues, fitting in practices on those days if you're playing a triple-header (freshman, JV, varsity) in basketball. You also have to make sure you're still providing for the other sports in the winter like wrestling and competitive cheer."

And yes, what about officials? Will the better ones gravitate to the boys games or for the better paycheck at the college level? Are there enough of them to go around if boys and girls basketball play during the same season, while butting heads with the collegiate ranks?

Volleyball might also experience a shortage as well.

Not only do eight of coach Jerry Abraham's Madonna University players coach JV or freshman volleyball teams in the winter, but 10 of his girls are registered MHSAA officials.

They, too, will face conflicts in the fall.

"As it stands, we're struggling to find good coaches, especially at the JV and freshman levels, and it's hard to find refs," he said.

MU has also hosted high school tournaments during the winter, but since the sport is going to the fall, Abraham won't be around to run them because his college team will be playing at the same time.

And Abraham, who led Redford Bishop Borgess High to a pair of state runner-up finishes before taking the MU job, believes the notion about Michigan's volleyball players being at a disadvantage for recruiting is basically nonsense.

"I've been one of the few (college coaches) against it (the change in seasons) the whole time," he said. "Maybe it helps all the big (NCAA) Division I programs because now they can all recruit through the big club (AAU) tournaments, but for the non-Division I schools, it's going to be a big adjustment. It forces us to recruit at the club level. I'm sure the big colleges are for it. They recruit kids when they're sophomores and juniors in high school anyway, but I guess they want it all on one level."

"Great players get recruited anyway for Division I schools or even some non-Division I schools for that matter. But a lot happens during your senior year and I'm still recruiting those kids."

"I guess I'm selfish in my posture. I'll take the same approach (recruiting). I'll just have to adjust to what they're going to do."

Kristen Galles, a Virginia civil rights attorney who represented Communities For Equity, was quoted in a Detroit News story that "People forget all the different ways" girls were discriminated against in Michigan high school athletics.

My question to Galles today would be: Can you look Shannon Warner in the eye and tell her she's being provided a better opportunity?

"I am sure that I will miss coaching at Franklin," Jobbitt said, "but I won't miss the bus rides, scouting and all the hours of preparation for games and practices. I will also miss the game within the game of playing the referees and trying to make the right moves during the game to get the advantage over my opponent. I will miss the good times with my players and fellow coaches."

"I have been very fortunate at Franklin to surround myself with great assistants - Tom Abraham, John Valsileco, Pete Caprara, Jim Wheaton, (Dan) Phelps, (Scott) Williams, (Tim) Olschanski, and (Ryan) Tracy."

Jobbitt, meanwhile, plans to stay connected to the school.

"All three of my athletic directors have been great and have been very supportive through the good and bad seasons," Jobbitt said. "I can't say enough good things about the great administrators we have at Franklin. They are very supportive of their student athletes and their coaches."

"I plan on being around high school sports, but as a spectator. I bleed red, white and blue and will be a Franklin Patriot the rest of my life."

Franklin athletic director Ron Hammie said the job will be posted through April 18, but has not set a timetable yet to hire a replacement.

"I think the thing that probably impressed me the most is that regardless of the situation, Terry tried to do it the right way and accomplish that goal," Hammie said. "He has been a part of Franklin High School the past 25 years and will remain a part of it as long as he likes. He was an inspiration to the kids involved in the Franklin program."

Those interested in the vacant varsity job should send a letter of application and resume to: Dorothy A. Chomicz, director of Human Resources, Livonia Public Schools, 15125 Farmington Road, Livonia 48154.

Jeff has improved his numbers during the postseason with a 1.5 goals-against average and a .949 save percentage. During the regular season, his numbers were 2.46 and .911, respectively.

And Jeff Lerg's value to the Spartans hasn't gone unnoticed by the coaching staff.

"He is very honest - as honest a kid as I have ever been around after all these years," MSU head coach Rick Comley said. "Honestly, he didn't deserve to be all-league this year because the numbers just weren't there. But in a big game, you watch him, and he just gets it done. He doesn't discredit anyone, this is his team, and they rally and focus around him."

"I think being a smaller goaltender just makes him quicker. I don't think it hurts him at all. I don't know what happened early this year, he didn't play to well, but he found a way to turn it around. We didn't give up a lot of quality opportunities, and we blocked a lot of shots, but when we needed a big save, he came up with it. He just doesn't get fazed."

Jeff's father Ken played at Ohio State, while his uncle Dan (Bryan's father) played at Michigan. Jeff migrated to East Lansing after playing for the Omaha Lancers of the U.S. Hockey League.

"This school's tradition is the reason I came here," Jeff said. "I grew up watching Michigan State go to Frozen Fours and come so close back in the day. This sophomore class, we are a real tight class. We play well together and all see opportunities down the road."

"As Chris (Mueller) said, 'We learned how to lose last year against Maine,' and we thought about it all summer. We didn't want that to happen again. We'll get another chance at them and see what happens."

Churchill bats sting Garden City Cougars; Warriors start off 2-0

Senior designated hitter John Rodeman went 3-for-4 with three RBI and Livonia Churchill scored four times in the top of the fifth inning to break a 3-all deadlock on its way to a 7-3 non-league baseball win Tuesday over visiting Garden City.

Vinny Carozza also added two hits and two RBI for the victorious Chargers, now 2-1 overall. Carozza also dropped down a successful suicide squeeze bunt leading to a run.

Winning pitcher Brian Runge went all seven innings, scattering nine hits and two walks. He fanned six batters.

Losing pitcher Hagen Risner went the first 4.1 innings, allowing six runs on eight hits and four walks. He struck out three.

Brett Lackey doubled twice in the loss for the Cougars, now 0-3 overall.

LUTHERAN WESTLAND 15, INKSTER 0: It took just four innings Tuesday as host Lutheran High Westland (2-0) rolled to a mercy-rule triumph over the visiting Vikings (2-1).

Adam Zehel had a big day at the plate for the Warriors, going 2-for-2 with a double, three RBI and three runs scored. He also walked twice and stole four bases.

Billy Meier chipped in with two hits, including a double and two RBI. Chris Ake also knocked in two runs, while C.J. Garber also went 2-for-2.

Winning pitcher Ryan Baglow allowed just one hit, struck out seven and did not allow a walk in four innings.

SFIELD CHRISTIAN 16, CLARENCEVILLE 6: Greg Hockenbrocht went 2-for-2 with a homer and three RBI to lead host Southfield Christian to a non-conference win Tuesday over Livonia Clarenceville (1-3).

Hockenbrocht also scored four runs in the five-inning mercy rule victory.

Allen Mazur went 2-for-2 with an RBI double and two runs scored for the Trojans.

Mike Solt, who worked three innings, was the winning pitcher. He gave up four runs on seven hits and one walk.

Clarenceville's John McAlpine, who gave up 10 runs on three hits and nine walks over three innings, took the loss.

The Trojans made four errors, while Southfield Christian had three.

LUTHERAN WESTLAND 6, PCA 5: It took nine innings Monday as Lutheran High Westland (1-0) pulled out the season-opening victory over host Plymouth Christian Academy (0-1).

The Warriors scored the game-winning run in the top of the ninth.

Austin Baglow led off with a single and pinch runner Rob Seltz advanced to second on a sacrifice fly by Nate Bachert. After Aaron Derninger reached base on an error, Seltz scored from third on Billy Meier's fielders choice.

Ryan Baglow came on in relief to pitch the ninth, fanning two batters and picking off a runner, to secure the victory.

"It was definitely the first game of the year," Lutheran Westland coach Kevin Wade said. "We made a few mistakes, both physical and mental, but we're happy to be able to come away with the victory."

The Warriors took a 5-3 lead in the top of the eighth on RBI singles by Meier and Ryan Baglow, but PCA got two back against reliever Austin Baglow on a walk, three straight singles and an error.

Adam Zehel's infield single in the seventh scoring Meier sent the game into extra innings.

Chris Ake, who went 2-for-2, belted a solo home run once and was hit twice. Zehel also had two hits with a double, two walks and two RBI.

Brad Zinn went 3-for-4 with a pair of doubles and two RBI for PCA.

Crusaders earn 12-inning win vs. Wesleyan

Livonia Churchill High alum Matt Humenay scored the winning run in the 12th inning Tuesday as host Madonna University nipped Indiana Wesleyan, 6-5.

With one out, Humenay, a senior from Westland, reached first when he was hit by a pitch thrown by Wildcat pitcher Darren Hardesty.

Humenay (3-for-4, two runs) raced all the way home on sophomore second baseman Ryan Morrow's ensuing double down the right-field line. It was Morrow's fourth hit in seven trips to the plate.

The winner capped Madonna's rally from a late 5-2 deficit at Ilitch Ballpark.

The Crusaders (14-11) trimmed the margin to 5-4 on an RBI single by senior third baseman Gary VanAllen (2-for-4) and tied the game on a fielder's choice by junior catcher Ryan Powell (Canton), which brought home junior outfielder Mike Cauzillo (West Bloomfield).

MU senior Kyle Fedorka, who pitched four innings of one-hitter relief, earned his first win of the season. He helped take sophomore starting pitcher Ryan Brodowsky (Farmington) off the hook.

Brodowsky gave up five runs (three earned) in four innings of work.

Also collecting two hits for the Crusaders was junior designated hitter Garrett Ignasiak.

Indiana Wesleyan (7-16) managed just five hits, three of them by leadoff hitter Ryan Moore.

The Crusaders were scheduled to visit Aquinas for a Wednesday doubleheader, but the twinbill was postponed due to rain.

Madonna splits pair

Madonna divided weekend home-and-home double-headers with Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference rival Siena Heights.

On Saturday, the Crusaders lost 2-0 before coming back to earn a 6-0 triumph in Game 2 behind a complete-game shutout by junior pitcher Will Kennedy (John Glenn).

The next day, at Siena Heights, MU won 6-5 but then dropped an 11-2 decision in the nightcap. Both teams are 2-4 in the WHAC.

The Saints' Zack Cross limited Madonna to three hits in the Saturday opener, outdueling junior Ryan Bardoni - who allowed just two runs and six hits in seven frames.

Kennedy immediately received more offensive support in the second game, with the Crusaders scoring two runs in the bottom of the first and another in the second to go up 3-0.

Both freshman catcher Zach Flavin and freshman centerfielder Rikko Rhoades went 2-for-4 to pace the Madonna attack.

Senior pitcher Mike Orehek (Livonia) threw six innings and allowed four runs in Sunday's lidlifter, with senior Josh Regits earning a save with one inning of relief.

The Crusaders trailed 4-2 before scoring three in the top of the fourth, with Cauzillo's double evening the contest and Powell singling home Cauzillo for the lead run.

Morrow and Rhoades each picked up two safeties in the victory.

Unfortunately, Siena Heights (6-20 overall) scored four in the top of the first in the second game and cruised from there, aided by six Madonna fielding miscues.

Ignasiak and sophomore first baseman Matt Rodeghier (Farmington/Catholic Central) each went 2-for-4.

Chargers get hat trick happy; Ladywood edges Divine Child

Livonia Churchill got a pair of hat tricks Monday in an 8-0 girls soccer victory over host Livonia Franklin.

Bailey Brandon tallied three goals and one assist in the victory, while Hannah Otto contributed three goals, including two in the second half as the Chargers improved to 2-0-1 overall.

The game ended on an eight-goal mercy with four minutes left on Julianne Puroll's second goal of the night.

Kayla Johnston and Alisha Lussiez each contributed two assists for the Chargers, who led 2-0 at halftime. Tessa Allen also drew an assist.

"Franklin played solid defense the first half," Churchill coach Dave Hebestreit said. "They packed it in the back, but we made some adjustments with our offensive formations in the second half and we got two quick goals."

That's when Franklin goalkeeper Erica Pepper left with an injury and was replaced by senior midfielder Kelly Roulier.

Stefanie Turner played the first 60 minutes in goal for the Chargers before giving way to Megan Bauman to combine on the shutout.

The Western Lakes Activities Association crossover setback drops Franklin to 1-2 overall.

"The night started out well, but things just didn't fall our way," Franklin coach Jen Barker said. "I was pleased overall with how we played - we were doing things that we wanted to and were starting to develop some chances. We adjust well to their change in system and continued to do what we had set out to do."

Things took a huge turn when our goalkeeper left with a concussion - the team came together to help out Kelly.

Considering all the injuries, etc ... that came up last night, the result really isn't indicative of how well we played.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

CHEATING ON TESTS, FERRETING OUT BETTER INFORMATION

WORKWISE

"I don't think companies do what the Roper Corp. did back in the 70s," emails Eva Rosenberg of TaxMama.com. "They sent a personality/psych test to my (then) husband to fill in and send back. He was applying for a position in sales.

"We crawled into bed that night with the test pages spread out and read each question out loud," she continues. "Then we asked how a salesman/sales personality would answer this question. That's the answer he chose. He got the job. And within two years, after some training, he was salesman of the year! So perhaps my teaching him how to think as a salesman helped?"

Clearly, that man had what it took to be a salesman, and psych-ing out a test might not have been essential to his being hired. Michael Josephson of the Josephson Institute of Ethics in Los Angeles expresses extreme scepticism about tests, saying, "You have assume that most people when trying to get a job will do whatever it takes. They're not going to take it neutrally. Anyone with an IQ over 100 won't get trapped. I think the test-taker is smarter than the test-maker."
