Voters to face 3 ballot questions

It's nine months until the next round of city elections, but local officials already are thinking about it.

As such, Westland voters will be asked Nov. 3 to approve three ballot questions that would bring minor changes to the city charter.

Two of the proposals would simply allow political candidates to decide whether they want to pay a $100 filing fee rather than collect signatures on petitions to get their names on the ballot.

A third measure would move the candidate filing deadline to the 12th Tuesday before the city's primary rather than the seventh Tuesday.

"It just brings us in compliance with every other office in the state," City Clerk Eileen DeHart said.

The changes would give the clerk's office more time to deal with an array of issues, such as verifying names on petitions, getting ballots printed on a more timely basis and ensuring that election equipment has been tested, DeHart said.

W-W program receives award

A Wayne-Westland Community Schools program designed to educate middle and high school girls about issues they face today has received a 2009 Outstanding Service-Learning Award from the Michigan Community Service Commission and Learn and Serve - Michigan.

The Talk to Us Service-Learning Program at the district's Tinkham Alternative High School in Westland has been received the Innovative Program Award which honors a K-12 service-learning program demonstrating innovation and excellence.

Within the program, discussions often revolve around feminism, body image, gender roles, healthy relationships, sexual harassment and sexual assault.

This service-learning course which helps improve the lives of many students, was created by three veteran women's studies students who committed to facilitating an after-school intervention program for middle school-aged girls. The six-week program includes time for discussions, presentations and reflection.

Service-learning connects student's curriculum to a service experience making learning intellectually challenging and relevant to the real world. Students apply what they learn in the classroom to important community issues.

The award is presented at the 13th annual Institute: Service-Learning and Civic Engagement taking place now in Grand Rapids.

Meetings to chart city's future

BY DARRELL CLEM
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Westland city leaders, faced with a turbulent era of declining revenues, rising expenses and an aging city infrastructure, will try to develop a five-year blueprint to guide them through an increasingly painful economic recession.

Mayor William Wild confirmed that a two-day strategic planning session has been scheduled for 9 a.m. on two consecutive Saturdays, Feb. 21 and Feb. 23, at the Livonia corporate headquarters of Orchard, Hiltz & McCliment, a firm that does engineering work for Westland. The meetings are expected to end by 4 p.m., if not earlier.

OHM's offices are at 34000 Plymouth Road, between Wayne and Farmington. The two sessions will be open to the public.

Administration officials had earlier considered having the strategic meetings at the Ann Arbor offices of the auditing firm Plante & Moran, but some Westland City Council members lobbied for the sessions to be closer to home to accommodate local residents. Wild said officials needed a spot, such as OHM's headquarters, that could provide audio-visual equipment and other amenities needed to get the job done.

Council President James Godbout called the planning sessions crucial for city leaders who need a long-term plan that balances revenues, staffing levels and infrastructure issues like deteriorating roads and aging city buildings.

The strategic planning process comes amid a backdrop of declining revenues, the foreclosure crisis,

Hunter's success provides anatomy lab for students

Cathy German was looking at using a chart and model to show her anatomy students the many valves, chambers and openings in the human heart. That was until John Glenn High School Principal David Ingham made her an offer she couldn't refuse.

Before last fall's hunting seasons, Ingham asked his anatomy teacher if she could use a deer heart for her class. She didn't hesitate to say yes. A mammal, a deer's heart was very much like a human heart and having one would give her students some good hands-on observations.

Little did she know Ingham would have three very good hunts, bagging three deer during the state's bow, firearm and black powder seasons.

"I've done this in the past, I did it with the science class at Adams Middle School, when I'd get lucky," said Ingham. "I mentioned it to Cathy and she said it would be great for this lab. It's the kinds of hands-on lab kids will remember."

"I wanted to bring in something that's real," said German. "I have a plastic model I can open up so they can see the chambers and valves and I have a pink and blue drawing. There are preserved hearts in catalogs, but they're expensive. We know a real heart looks totally different."

Ingham admits he took care so he would "get good specimens, not something that looked like road kill," and was rewarded with three intact hearts that he kept frozen until German needed them.

German took the hearts home where she practiced to make sure she could use them. She left one intact, but cut the other two so students could see the chambers, valves and connective tissue inside.

Students put on surgical gloves to handle the specimens, drawing pictures and labeling what they saw. It was all in preparation for a quiz on Wednesday in which they had to trace the flow of blood through the heart and name the 17 structures, among other things.

Seniors Bradley Sheahan, Jake Kitzmiller and Angelina Floied got their hands on the whole heart, using probes to identify such things as the aorta, pulmonary vein and ventricles.

Terms like the super vena cava and right and left auricles easily rolled off their tongues and the fact that they faced a 35-point quiz the next day didn't worry them, even though they just started studying the cardiovascular system this week. They've worked on rats and will dissect a cat at the

It's a crowded field of candidates vying for one of three seats on the Wayne-Westland school board that will be filled in the May 5 school election.

Two four-year terms, currently held by incumbents Ed Turner and Steve Becher, as well as the remaining year of four-year term that had been held by Frederick Weaver, will be filled in the annual school election. Weaver resigned from the board last August after moving to the Midland area.

Turner, a Westland resident, joined the school board in 1997. He is seeking a fifth four-year term; Becher, a Wayne resident, was elected to the school board in 2004 and is completing his first four-year term. He has opted to seek the one-year term.

Incumbent appointee Shawna Walker who has been filling Weaver's seat since last September. A Westland resident, she is seeking a four-year term.

Also campaigning for the four-year terms are Gregory Maxwell of Wayne, the husband of Shawna Maxwell who spearheaded a failed recall attempt of two school board members; retired Wayne-Westland teacher Carol Middel of Canton; Lori Mireles-Smith of Westland who has twice tried for an appointment to the school board; Brian Mulligan of Westland, who is making his third bid for a seat on the board; and Westland resident Mark Neal, a retired Westland fire chief.

In addition to Becher, businessman John Goci of Westland and Angela Hoops-Cossey of Wayne have filed for the one-year term.

The candidates have until 4 p.m. Friday, Feb. 13, to withdraw from the election.

Teen to stand trial on assault charges

BY DARRELL CLEM
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

A Westland man has been ordered to stand trial in Wayne County Circuit Court on charges he tried to kill a 19-year-old man while intervening in a domestic dispute on a residential street near Wayne and Cowan.

Leon Anthony Lamont Anderson, 26, faces trial for assault with intent to murder and two other felony assault charges after the victim, testifying during a preliminary hearing last Thursday in Westland 18th District Court, accused Anderson of stabbing him several times in the back.

Westland police Sgt. Michael Harhold said the incident happened about 8:15 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 24, inside a residence on Sandwood. Anderson was identified by the victim during a hearing in front of 18th District Judge Mark McConnell.

If convicted, Anderson could face penalties ranging up to life in prison.

A police investigation indicated that Anderson was among four people who went to Sandwood after a 22-year-old woman called for help when her boyfriend, the eventual stabbing victim, refused to leave during an argument, Harhold said.

According to police accounts, Anderson, two other men and the woman's sister had gone to intervene in the dispute. Harhold said the woman's boyfriend eventually left the house and was allegedly followed outside by Anderson while everyone else stayed inside.

"They heard the victim yell from outside," Harhold said, and the victim testified in court that he was stabbed by Anderson when the dispute escalated.

The 19-year-old victim received serious injuries but had been released from a hospital in time to testify against Anderson during the preliminary hearing.

Anderson remains jailed with a $250,000 cash bond, and a not-guilty plea was entered for him in 18th District Court as he now awaits the outcome of his case in the higher circuit court.

Harhold has said that to his knowledge, the victim and the defendant hadn't had any fights or encounters prior to the Jan. 24 stabbing incident.

Blues buster

The Westland Friendship Center has just the remedy for the winter blues — a party! Tickets are on sale now for the Friendship Center's Winter Blues Bash on Friday, Feb. 20. Kerry Price from the Windsor-Detroit Jazz Club will entertain with her signature blend of blues.

The buffet meal will include slow roasted beef in brown sauce, boneless breaded pork chops, wedged red skin potatoes with parsley, and there also will be raffle prizes. And one more thing — attendees must wear blue to enter, and any shade will do.

For more information, call (734) 722-7628. The Friendship Center is at 1119 N. Newburgh, south of Ford, Westland.

Open House

TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) Westland 869 will hold an open house at 6:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 23, at the Adams Senior Village Community Center, 2001 Kaley Ave., south of Palmer, Westland. For more information, call Sandy at (734) 729-5648.

Surplus food

The City of Westland has established the day, times, and locations that residents may obtain surplus federal food for the month of February.

All residents north of Michigan Avenue can pick up their commodities from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 19, at the Dorsey Community Center, 32715 Dorsey, north of Michigan Avenue and south of Palmer. Senior citizens living in Taylor Towers may collect their food at Taylor Towers and must contact their building manager for their day of distribution. Greenwood Villa residents must pick up their food items at Greenwood Villa.

For the month of February, distribution will include beef stew, green beans, salmon, noodles, grape juice, trail nut mix, and possible additional items.

The program is administered by the Wayne County Office of Senior Services. For more information, call the Dorsey Center's surplus food hot line at (734) 595-0366.

Scrapbooking

A scrapbooking workshop will be held from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 21, at St. Simon and Jude Church, 32500 Palmer, east of Venoy, Westland. The cost is $35 per person for a full day and $20 per person for a half day. For more information, call Karen Kopcak at (734) 634-3934 or Sandy Kopcak at (734) 721-4867.

PLANNING

business closings and the rising cost of paying for city services.

"We're going to have to look at how we do things, our staffing levels and try to come up with a plan on how we work our way through this," Godbout said. "It's not just financial. We can't just continue to operate year to year without looking forward to see what needs to be addressed. We have to have a vision."

Wild said the theme of the strategic sessions will be managing the city — and maintaining services — during economic decline. He said it appears that Westland will lose substantial revenues as it braces for a likely double-digit drop in property values for 2009-10.

"I think we're going to be in a declining market for property taxes for the next five years," Wild said.

Even so, city leaders hope to move forward, as much as possible, with an array of improvements such as revitalizing the Ford Road commercial corridor and redeveloping vacant commercial properties like those surrounding Westland Shopping Center.

City leaders will bring in a strategic planning facilitator and certain specialists to help them in developing a five-year plan.

Godbout said that Westland has fared better than many communities amid the economic downturn. The city started its current budget year with a $2 million surplus, but officials are keenly aware that financial resources could be quickly depleted as they struggle to maintain services during a recession.

Moreover, Godbout said the city needs to resolve issues like how to fix crumbling roads and how to repair buildings like City Hall, which recently had a mold problem due to basement flooding.

"We can't bury our heads and pretend these issues don't exist," he said.

Inkster man faces trial for armed robbery

BY DARRELL CLEM
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

An Inkster man is facing trial on charges he took a taxicab to a Westland apartment complex, The Landings, and then robbed the driver at gunpoint.

Marcus Laron Terrell, 18, of Inkster remains jailed with a $500,000 cash bond as he awaits trial in Wayne County Circuit Court on charges of armed robbery, felony firearm, conspiracy to commit armed robbery and assault with intent to rob while armed.

Terrell was ordered to stand trial after he voluntarily waived his right to a preliminary hearing last Thursday in front of Westland 18th District Judge Mark McConnell.

If convicted, he could face penalties ranging up to life in prison. A not-guilty plea had been entered in his court file prior to Thursday's hearing.

Charges against Terrell stem from an incident in December in which a lone bandit caught a taxicab to The Landings, southeast of Warren and Central City Parkway, and tried to rob the driver of money, police Sgt.

Brian Miller has said.

The bandit escaped with only a cell phone after the two men struggled. No shots were fired from a handgun that Terrell is accused of brandishing, Miller said.

The taxicab driver told police the incident happened after he picked up a passenger near Inkster and Annapolis roads.

Terrell was arrested at his Inkster home following an investigation by the multi-agency Metro Street Enforcement Team, Miller has said.

end of the year and already know all the bones and muscles in the human body.

"We had to learn 40 different bones and then had a quiz two days later," said Kitzmiller who plans to attend Wayne State University to become a nurse anesthetist.

"We have coloring books where we learn to label and color different things," added Sheahan. "And we use a lot of mnemonic devices to learn."

For the trio, the anatomy class dovetails well with their future careers. Sheahan plans to study pre-med at Michigan State University, Kitzmiller is going to study to be a nurse anesthetist at Wayne State University. Floied plans to study nursing at Schoolcraft College.

"They learn the anatomy and then the physiology," said German, watching as students gathered in groups of eight at the three lab stations.

Seniors Crystal Johnson and sisters Brittany and Rebecca Meister look at the chambers of the deer heart during their anatomy.

Ingham visited one of the classes and was glad to see students handling the hearts.

"I think she did a wonderful job and the kids I saw handled them more than I thought," he said. "I didn't see any squeamish kids in that classroom."

By the third class, German had to admit her specimens were getting "old." The fat on the one heart was hardening and they were starting to darken in color.

"These poor hearts won't make it another day," she said.

Man caught exchanging goods for cash

Quick change

1 One Meijer shopper might have thought he was being thrifty in tough economic times, but Westland police saw it as a crime.

A crime prevention officer from the store, on the southeast corner of Warren and Newburgh, told police the suspect found a discarded sales receipt outside, brought it into the store, selected the items that another customer had bought, placed them in bags and took them to the service desk for a refund. The suspect was given $21.60.

The incident happened about 5:15 p.m. last Thursday. The Meijer employee saw what was happening, stopped the man, took him to the office and recovered the money. The employee told police the man admitted what he had done and confessed to a similar incident in the past.

The suspect said he had a drug problem and had recently relapsed, according to a police report. The employee contacted police, who arrested the man for retail fraud. The 35-year-old suspect also was wanted on warrants from Dearborn and Wayne County.

Unwanted paint job

2 A 28-year-old woman told police that her 2001 Chevy Cavalier was spray-painted while it was parked outside her Woodland Villa apartment, northwest of Warren and Central City Parkway, between 6 p.m. Saturday and 10:30 a.m. Sunday. The victim told police her car had been sprayed with yellow and black paint. She also said Dumpsters in the complex also may have been spray-painted.

Laptop stolen from car

3 A 43-year-old Westland woman told police that someone stole her laptop computer and her purse from her unlocked car while she was inside the Marathon gas station on the southwest corner of Ann Arbor Trail and Merriman shortly after 9:30 p.m. on Feb. 1. The woman told police the theft happened when she went into the station to buy cigarettes.

She reported the incident four days later, telling officers she hadn't had a chance to go to the police station earlier because she had been working.

2 arrested for assault

4 Police arrested two women, both in their 40s, for simple assault charges following a domestic dispute that happened about 12:45 a.m. last Thursday on Merritt Drive, northeast of Ann Arbor Trail and Farmington in Westland.

One of the women told police the second woman assaulted her and struck her in the face because she had talked with a third woman earlier at a bar. The second woman also claimed she had been assaulted by the first woman. Police noted that both women appeared intoxicated.

Locks damaged in break-in 5 A 20-year-old woman reported that someone damaged the locks on her apartment door on Yale, west of Wayne between Hunter and Warren, sometime between 3-10 p.m. Saturday. The victim told police that although entry was made, nothing appeared to be missing. She told police she didn't know who might have broken into her residence.

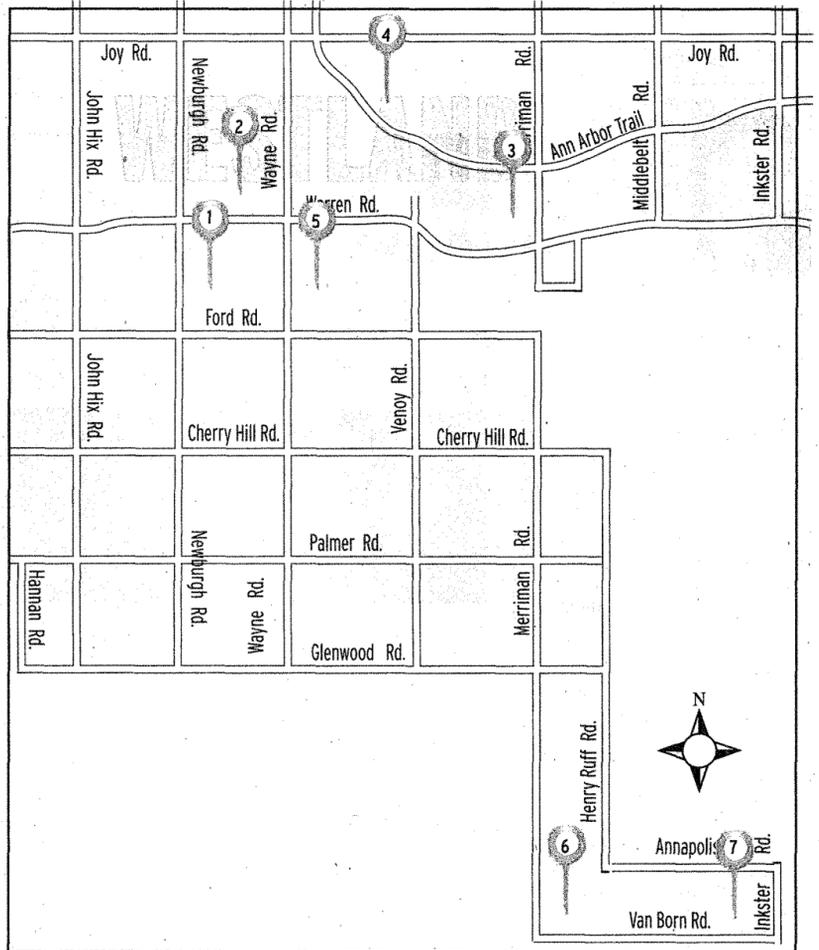

Man breaks security gate

6 A manager of Westland Meadows mobile home park, on the northeast corner of Van Born and Merriman, told police that someone broke through a security gate around 9:40 p.m. Tuesday of last week. The culprit was identified from a video as a former roommate of a Westland Meadows resident. The manager has asked police to follow up with prosecution for the incident.

Woman finds ring missing

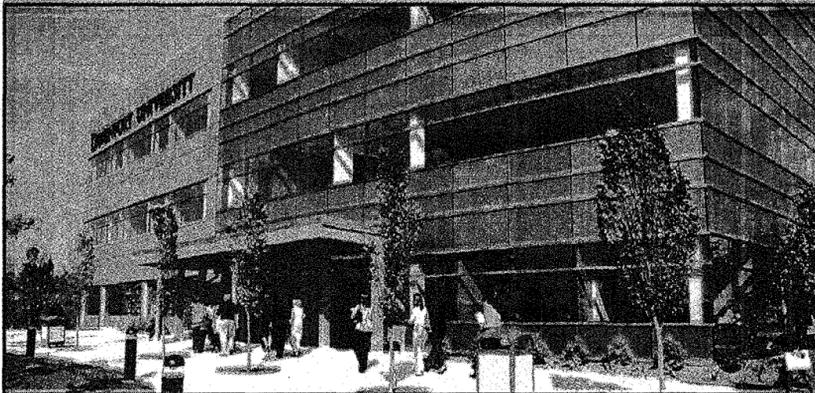

7 A 20-year-old woman reported that a ring worth $130 was taken from her residence on Powers, northwest of Van Born and Inkster roads, sometime before 8 p.m. Feb. 3. She told police the ring was taken from a computer room. She said she had a possible suspect in mind but had no proof. She asked police for an investigation.

Term insurance might be the best option for many

I have received a number of letters dealing with life insurance issues. Two major concerns are what to do with life insurance if you lose your job and can no longer afford your premium payment.

The first step is to determine whether you need life insurance. Many people who have a change in family situations find that they may have had life insurance through their employer, but really do not need it. If you do not need life insurance, then in most situations there is nothing you need to do. On the other hand, if you need life insurance, the first thing to determine is what your rights are under your existing insurance policy. In many situations the policy is portable, which means that you can transfer the policy without a break in coverage.

If your employer-provided policy is not portable, you lose your insurance coverage. If you have the option of keeping your insurance coverage and need it, I say keep the policy. However, begin the process of shopping for a new policy. Many times, group coverage is not the most cost-effective type of policy. It makes sense to shop around. You may find — particularly with term insurance — a better policy at a lower cost. Don't cancel your existing policy until you have been approved for the new policy.

I am a fan of term insurance for the great majority of people. It is easy to understand and cost-effective. Typical term policies are available for 10-, 15-, 20- or even a 30-year period. The length of time does not depend upon your age but rather for how long you need insurance coverage.

You can deal with an agent when it comes to term or shop it around on the Internet.

For those who can no longer afford their premium payments, the key is, do you need life insurance? If the answer is no, cancel the policy. Those over age 65 can potentially sell their policy to investors. There are investors that will pay to buy someone's life insurance policy. This is not an easy transaction but it is something to explore.

For people who can't afford the current premium with a permanent insurance policy like a whole-life or universal-life, there is cash surrender value that can be used to pay the premium. In addition, some creative agents can restructure the policy to fit your needs.

There is no cash surrender value for term insurance. However, it is potentially possible for the coverage on that policy to be adjusted to make it more affordable.

In these difficult economic times, it is easy to sometimes ignore a problem and hope it goes away. When it comes to life insurance the reason you have it is to protect a loved one who is financially dependent upon you. When it comes time to make a decision regarding life insurance, don't rush. Take your time, ask questions and make the best choice for your situation.

Parkside Dental employee named Mrs. Wayne County

An employee of the Parkside Dental Team is looking to the state and possibly national competition after being selected as the 2009 Mrs. Wayne County.

Kelly Cicotte will represent Wayne County in the Mrs. Michigan United States Pageant pageant, slated for 7 p.m. Saturday, May 16, at the Trenton Village Theatre in Trenton.

Cicotte

Contestants will be judged in the areas including personal interview, physical fitness, onstage question and evening gown. The winner of the Mrs. Michigan Pageant will receive cash and prizes and will represent the Great Lakes State at the Mrs. United States Pageant in Las Vegas, Nevada.

Cicotte, a dental hygienist, volunteers during Children's Dental Health Awareness month each year and poses as the Tooth Fairy for local events. Married, Cicotte and her husband have one son.

Tickets for the 2009 Mrs. Michigan United States Pageant can be purchased online at www.mrsMichiganUnitedStates.com.

Paris to Rome: Scout enjoys European trip

They say that a picture is worth a thousand words, but in the case of Aurea Suvoy and her mother Elizabeth, their Wish You Were Here photo was worth more photos and more words.

The Garden City residents enjoyed an eight-day trip to Europe, visiting London, Paris, Florence and Rome. They were traveling with nine members of Dearborn Girl Scout Troop 813, six moms and one aunt.

They posed with their Garden City Observer in of the Palace of Versailles which they visited on Dec. 31st, snapped photographs of the statuary. According to Elizabeth Suvoy, she should have taken her photograph of the Grapes sculpture in the opposite direction to catch a glimpse of the palace gates.

"The gates are back at Versailles for the first time since the Revolution," she said.

The Suvoy's were the only members of the group to visit the famed palace as well as the city of Pisa where Aurea Suvoy struck the obligatory pose of holding up the Leaning Tower.

This was Elizabeth Suvoy's first time outside the United States, not counting Canada or a visit to Alaska 35 years ago. Her daughter is a seasoned travel, having spent six weeks as a foreign exchange student from the Henry Ford Academy in Finland.

As for the trip, Girl Scout cookies sales and gift wrapping for Girl Scouts at the mall paid for the trip. The girls now are hoping to save up to go on a Disney Cruise after high school graduation in June 2010.

If you go on vacation, be sure to take a picture with your Observer and send it to Sue Mason, 615 W. Lafayette, Second Level, Detroit, MI 48226, or send it by e-mail to smason@hometownlife.com.

RESOLUTION NO. 2009-02-23 AUTHORIZING BALLOT QUESTION TO BE SUBMITTED AT THE NOVEMBER 3, 2009, GENERAL CITY ELECTION ON WHETHER OR NOT SECTIONS 10.8, 10.9(a) AND 10.9(b) OF THE WESTLAND CITY CHARTER SHOULD BE AMENDED

The following Resolution 2009-02-23 was presented on motion of STOTTLEMYER, supported by GRAUNSTADT:
WHEREAS, Chapter 10, Sections 10.8 and Sections 10.9(a) and (b) of the Charter of the City of Westland, which were duly adopted by the electors of the City of Westland on April 5, 1966, provide as follows:

Section 10.8 CANDIDATES

Candidates for any elective office to be voted for at any municipal election under the provisions of this Charter, shall be nominated at an odd year primary election, and no other names shall be placed on the election ballot for the election of such officers, except those nominated in the manner hereinafter prescribed; provided, however, that if, upon the expiration of the time for filing petitions, not more than twice the number of candidates as there are persons to be elected to that office have filed, the primary for that office shall not be held and those persons filing valid petitions shall be declared the nominees for the offices, and the names of such candidates for any such office shall be placed on the election ballot to be voted for at the next regular odd year municipal election, the same in all respects as though the said candidates had been nominated at a primary election.

Section 10.9 STATEMENT OF CANDIDACY

(a) Any person desiring to become a candidate for nomination to any elective office at any primary election shall, on or before 4:00 p.m. on the seventh Tuesday prior to the odd year primary election, file with the Clerk a statement of such candidacy in substantially the following form:

(b) Each candidate shall at the same time file therewith a petition bearing the signatures of not less than one percent nor more than four (4) percent of the City votes cast for the Secretary of State in the preceding general election. Such petition shall be substantially as that required by state law for state and county officers. Official petition forms shall be prepared and furnished by the Clerk.

WHEREAS, Section 21 of the Home Rule Cities Act, PA 279 of 1909, as amended, being MCL 117.21, provides that an existing city charter may from time to time be amended by an amendment proposed by the legislative body of a city on a 3/5 vote of the members-elect which shall be submitted to the electors of such city at the next regular municipal or general state election or special election to be held in such city not less than 60 days after the proposal of such amendment;

WHEREAS, in accord with the provisions of the Home Rule Cities Act, the Westland City Council desires to submit a proposition to the electors of the City of Westland to determine whether or not Chapter 10, Section 10.8 and Sections 10.9(a) and (b) of the Westland City Charter shall be amended to provide that candidates for office may file nominating petitions or a $100 filing fee to become candidates, and make the filing deadline twelve weeks before the date of the primary;

WHEREAS, in the event that the above specified amendments to Sections 10.8 and Sections 10.9(a) and (b) of the Westland City Charter is approved by the electorate, Chapter 10, Section 10.8 and Sections 10.9(a) and (b) of the Westland City Charter shall provide as follows:

OUR VIEWS

With pact, it's time to put students first

Last week, the Wayne-Westland school board voted to approve a contract with the Wayne-Westland Education Association. In one way, it was a reason to celebrate. Approval by both sides brought to an end a rancorous six months, punctuated by an illegal strike, legal wranglings and a failed recall attempt.

The job that the district and the union now face is repairing the damage that was done. The first step came in a joint letter to parents in which the two sides acknowledged and expressed regret for the impact the negotiations had on the school community. They also stressed that they have put aside their differences and will work together to move the district forward.

Unfortunately, there are those still caught in the time warp. It was apparent last week when school board Treasurer Steve Becher told the union he was reluctantly voting for the agreement because he believed the teachers chose salaries and health care over class size reductions, an issue that had been trumpeted on picket signs before and during four-day strike. Resident Shawnn Maxwell took offense to Becher's remarks, calling them rude.

We disagree. Rudeness is the treatment the school board and Supt. Greg Baracy were subjected to at a special meeting at the Stockmeyer Auditorium during the four-day strike. Rudeness was residents who used their time at school board meetings to ask questions meant to make the board look like it cared nothing about the students and teachers and everything about the bottom line.

Quite frankly, it's a good thing the board and school administration have kept an eye on that bottom line. We're in a recession, unemployment in Michigan is more than 10 percent and foreclosures are dragging down property values and tax revenue. The money the district worked so hard to save is helping to stave off layoffs and program cuts ... for now.

Becher was entitled to his comments. He said nothing out of line. He simply let the teachers know that he believed they could have done more for the students — and rightly so. If overcrowded classrooms were a problem in October, they will continue to be. The changes in class sizes in the new contract are modest at best in comparison to the problems stated at the height of the dispute.

This dispute is at an end; it's time to shelve the animosity and focus on the reason public education exists — the students. They need everyone's supports — parents, teachers, administrators and the community — if they are to succeed in today's world.

Quo Vadis is eyesore

I applaud the teen's efforts, however this empty building has become more of an eye sore than a once-plush movie house. I am an architect, and even I say "tear it down." As a community, let's encourage new development on abandoned property. Do we really want empty buildings all over our city?

Dems only make mistakes

The headlines show us a frightening story, Democrats levy taxes while Republicans have to pay them.

Obama promised us the most ethical and transparent administration ever. These are some of the people he has nominated to his cabinet:

■ Timothy Geithner, our new Treasury secretary, who oversees the IRS, who forgot to pay $34,000.00 in taxes.

■ Hillary, well that says it all. So many bones in that closet, I don't need to say anymore.

■ Tom Daschle, who owed in excess of $140,000 in taxes, got the nod to fill the position of Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services at least had the decency to remove himself from the nomination

■ Nancy Killefer (the first "Chief Performance Officer") also withdrew because she screwed up paying payroll taxes for her household help.

■ And then there's Charlie Rangel, head of the House Ways and Means Committee, who didn't pay his taxes.

■ Al Franken who might steal the Senate seat in Minnesota thanks to the strange way they count votes in that state, he also neglected to pay taxes he collected from his employees for years!

"No problem," the Dems say, it was just a "little mistake" a "hiccup," nothing to be concerned about. Well, that certainly does not work for the rest of us. The IRS is relentless in collecting back taxes with penalties and interest on the working class people.

Obama spoke out on behalf of Daschle: "Tom made a mistake, which he has openly acknowledged. He has not excused it, nor do I. But that mistake and this decision cannot diminish the many contributions Tom has made to this country."

Democrats never commit crimes. They merely make mistakes. If a Republican tells a joke at the 100th birthday of a retiring and dying senator, his career will be in shambles, just ask Trent Lott. If you're a Democrat, however, it's just a little "mistake"

Democrats do whatever they want, they avoid paying taxes, wrap $90,000.00 in bills in aluminum foil and stick it in their freezer and when discovered say "Oops, how'd that get there?" Another little "mistake."

When somebody asks why Barack Obama isn't flying over storm-ravaged Kentucky the way they asked why George Bush why he didn't fly over New Orleans after Katrina, you can bet his flunkies will say it was a mistake. Here's a tragedy where hundreds of thousands of people are shivering in frigid weather without electricity, and Barack Obama is hosting Super Bowl Parties, all toasty and comfy in White House.

When George Bush didn't go to New Orleans, it was seen as a crime of enormous proportions. Barack Obama gives a party instead of giving aid and comfort to those affected by the ice storm.

How many more mistakes are we going to hear about as President Obama goes about picking nominees for top administration posts?

Acknowledges mistakes

How refreshing, President Obama readily admitted making mistakes and took full responsibility for these mistakes. Two weeks into office, President Obama did what his predecessors, Bush/Cheney, absolutely refused to do in eight years.

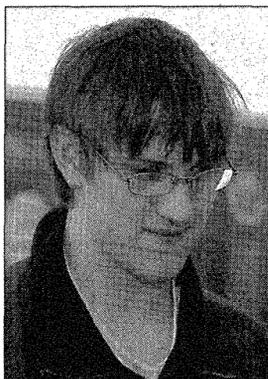

President Bush made mistake after mistake but refused to take responsibility for any of them. Two weeks into office, President Obama readily did what Bush consistently refused to do for eight years. He refused to have two sets of standards.

We fine President Obama's candor and taking responsibility quite refreshing. He did campaign on change. This is an excellent example.

Go Red with handbag auction

I am the daughter of a woman who loves handbags. Fortunately or not, the trait is inherited, so I got extremely excited when the Observer & Eccentric hatched a plan to host a Purse Power auction to raise money for women's cardiovascular health.

Playing on my strengths, my boss named me resident purse collector, and I took the job to heart.

Wensdy Von Buskirk

Mining my Rolodex, I requested donations from every stylish contact I knew, including celebrities I've interviewed for PINK, public relations reps and boutique owners who've helped me with stories, and fellow members of the Detroit chapter of Fashion Group International.

The outpouring of purses would make mom proud. In all, I almost single-handedly collected 30 handbags, and among them are some true gems.

Governor Jennifer Granholm sent a tote made from recycled seat belts and stocked with Michigan goodies. Emmy award-winning "Sex and the City" stylist Patricia Field contributed a clutch from her old school "House of Field." Stacy London, star of "What Not to Wear," sent a sassy satchel embellished with a gold panther.

Parisian at Laurel Park Place in Livonia donated a Kate Spade purse and wallet, and Detroit native Ross Burton, now National Artistic Director for Lancome, sent a bag stocked with beauty must-haves.

I even called an old friend of my husband's, fellow Livonia Stevenson High School grad Nicole Forester, who now stars on "Guiding Light."

GO RED LUNCHEON

What: American Heart Association event includes lunch, health screenings, red dress fashion show, silent auction and keynote address by Dr. Annabelle Volgman
When: 9 a.m.-1:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 25
Where: Detroit Marriott at the Renaissance Center
Tickets: $250 per person, with proceeds benefitting education and research for women and heart disease
Information: Call (248) 936-5806 or visit www.americanheart.org

She sent a trendy number from her favorite Manhattan boutique.

The purses piled up — big, small, spring and fall — even a couple yoga mat bags. But, there was one hitch. Tickets to our 'Handbags with Heart' event weren't selling fast enough. Purse Power was cancelled.

As seasons came and went, the purses languished in a closet while we worked to arrange a new outlet for the cause. Finally, our purses have found a home.

They will all be up for bid during the American Heart Association's popular Go Red Luncheon, Feb. 25 at the Detroit Marriott at the Renaissance Center.

I've been involved with the Metro Detroit's AHA efforts for years — I've even been a Go Red Calendar Girl! I can tell you the luncheon is always fun and inspiring.

I'm so thankful the Metro Detroit AHA folks have agreed to add our purses to their silent auction, and that our fabulous donors will finally get the recognition they deserve.

I plan to bring my checkbook to the Go Red Luncheon, as I've had my eye on a particular purse all along.

Which one? Well, I don't want to drive up the bids, so I'm not telling anyone.

Not even my own mother!

Lauren Beras of Loria's shoe boutique in downtown Northville donated this velour floral bowling bag by SR Squared. It will be among 30 purses up for bid.

In control: Zebras rip rival Glenn

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Thanks to its own version of the DeLorean, Wayne Memorial appears to be motoring toward a KLAAs South Division boys basketball title.

Wayne took care of business Tuesday night with a convincing 68-48 win on the road over rival Westland John Glenn.

The Zebras, now 9-4 overall and 6-1 in the South, find themselves in the driver's seat, holding a two-game advantage over Canton and Plymouth with only three division games remaining.

Senior point-guard Robert Woodson was Wayne's leading scorer with 20 points, but it was the play of 6-foot-1 senior Delorean Holland that manufactured a victory over Glenn for the second time this season.

Holland made some timely plays, finishing with 15 points, while going 7-for-9 from the floor to go along nine rebounds.

"He got some rebound put-backs, but I kind of got on him (Holland) early on in the game because he was not paying attention to his man on defense," Wayne coach Wayne Woodard said. "But Delorean's a nice kid and a super hard worker. He's coachable and he take criticism well. He doesn't pout when things don't go his way."

Wayne, which connected on eight 3-pointers on the night, led 17-16 after one quarter and 32-26 at halftime. The Zebras, getting eight points from Holland, stretched their lead to 49-37 after three quarters and cruised home to victory.

Holland also helped hold Glenn's leading scorer Austin Anderson, who had 31 points in the last meeting to 15 points.

Meanwhile, Derric Horton and Jimmel Bennett chipped in with nine and eight points, respectively, for the Zebras, who can clinch at least a share of the KLAAs South title with a win Friday at home over Livonia Franklin.

"It was Jimmel's best game by far," Woodard said. "It's nice to see him play the way he's capable of playing. He had Austin (Anderson) early on and that's a job in itself."

The Rockets had trouble rebounding the ball on the defensive end and Wayne took advantage.

"We've been doing this NBA drill we call — No Babies Allowed — where we have three guys in the middle and they stay in there until they make a basket," Woodard said. "It's to Stevenson's Mike Cruce, bouncing back from aortic heart valve surgery, has returned to excel in his signature event, the 100-yard butterfly.

Heart of the matter

Spartans' Cruce glad to be back in pool after major surgery

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

When Michael Cruce hits the pool for meets with the Livonia Stevenson boys swim team, he gets more than a few glances.

"Most kids don't have a 12-inch scar down their chest," the senior captain said. "I get a lot of stares."

Prior to his five-hour open-heart surgery in July at the University of Michigan-Mott Hospital to repair a leaking aortic valve, Cruce had turned heads with his performances in the pool.

At last year's Division 1 state finals, Cruce clocked 53.69 seconds to finish 10th in the 100 butterfly. He was also a member of Stevenson's 11th-place 400 freestyle relay team and qualified last year for the state meet in the 500 freestyle.

But shortly after last March's state finals, Cruce's world was turned upside-down when he began to experience some minor heart palpitations (skips) that became a once- or twice-weekly occurrence.

"It (the palpitations) started right after last year's state meet," Cruce said. "I was not sure about it, but my dad made me go in."

Dr. Pawaz Hasso of Infinity Primary Care in Livonia ran an EKG to check Cruce's heart rhythms. Further tests were run and a 24-hour heart monitor determined some minor irregularity.

Stevenson senior captain Mike Cruce has bounced back from open-heart surgery to remain a key member of the state-ranked Spartans.

Referred to cardiologist Dr. Edward Bove at U-M Mott, and following an echocardiogram, it was determined that Cruce had a serious heart condition and needed surgery to replace his valve. His heart was working too hard and it had become enlarged.

Bove advised that strenuous exercise — swimming or lifting — had to be stopped. "Needless to say, although we were grateful to discover this before Mike had a stroke or heart attack while swimming, he was devastated that he could no longer swim," said Mick Cruce, Mike's father.

Cruce has been a competitive age-group swimmer since he was 6. He competed for the Bulldog Aquatic Club until he was 15 before moving over most recently to the Novi Sturgeons. He was a three-year swimmer for Stevenson and had been elected captain.

"I will never forget the day (April 9) we were told about Mike's heart condition," the elder Cruce said. "All of his friends and activities were wrapped around swimming, so we didn't know how he was going to deal with this. We had several talks with Mike to convince him how fortunate we were to discover this before something happened to him and there was much more to life than swimming. Obviously, this was a difficult thing for any 17-year-old to deal with, but he was committed to get it repaired and hopefully swim again."

Being out of the water didn't sit well with Cruce, who felt almost depressed at the thought of not competing again.

"I had to watch. It's something I didn't want to do," Cruce said. "When I first found out, I was more concerned about swimming than my heart — because it's my whole life."

"I did not talk to anyone. I turned off my phone. I'd sit in my room."

Cruce's surgery went better than even he expected.

"I got out in four days and was up and walking the day after," he said.

Cruce, however, desperately wanted to get back in the water. He got a second opinion after meeting with one of U-M-Mott's senior cardiologists, Dr. Gregory Ensing, who floated the idea that Mike had a chance to swim competitively again if the tests returned favorably.

"The doctors worked very closely with Mike by reviewing his surgery results and various stress tests," Mick Cruce said. "They determined that Mike's heart condition was responding normally under stress conditions."

Under close monitoring, Cruce felt emancipated when he returned to the pool, but he was learning the sport all over again.

"I got back (in the water) right when school started,"

Girls basketball: KLAAs

JOHN GLENN 49, WAYNE 28: A 20-2 first-quarter run carried Westland John Glenn (7-8, 3-4) to a KLAAs South Division victory Tuesday at Wayne Memorial (2-13, 0-7).

Chanel Payne led the victorious Rockets with 12 points.

Andrea Gordon-McClain chipped in with eight, while Nyah McReynolds and Samantha Fox added seven points apiece.

Senior center Brittany Holbrook controlled the boards with 16 rebounds.

Freshman guard Holland Boertje led the Zebras with 14 points.

Glenn was 15-of-26 from the foul line, while Wayne made only 5-of-16.

FRANKLIN 41, PLYMOUTH 24: KLAAs South Division co-leader Livonia Franklin (12-2, 6-1) got a game-high 15 points Tuesday from senior forward Brianna Taylor to beat the visiting Wildcats (5-10, 3-4).

The Patriots got off to a slow start, leading only 6-4 after one quarter and 18-10 at halftime before outscoring Plymouth 17-6 in the third period.

Nicole Emery and Amanda Borio, who made 7-of-8 free throws, each added seven points.

Shaakira Hayward led Plymouth with 10 points, while Stacey Klonowski contributed six.

SALEM 51, STEVENSON 36: Three players scored in double figures Tuesday as the host Rocks (7-6, 6-1) downed Livonia Stevenson (5-10, 1-6) in a KLAAs Central Division encounter.

Sara Stone led Salem with 15 points, while Victoria Brotz and Chelsea Davis tallied 14 and 13, respectively.

Senior center Kaylee McGrath paced the Spartans with 10 points and 12 rebounds. Sophomore guard Sarah Smith dished out five assists.

"We limited their chances inside, but they hit outside shots," Stevenson first-year coach Paul Tripp said. "After we got it to five (late in the third quarter), their passing and ball movement picked up. They made some good interior passes."

Salem was 6-of-11 from the foul line, while Stevenson was 5-of-10.

CANTON 41, CHURCHILL 26: On Tuesday, Kayla Bridges led the way with 10 points and Kari Schmitt contributed nine as the Chiefs (12-2, 6-1), the KLAAs South Division co-leader, came on in the second half to down visiting Livonia Churchill (7-7, 3-4).

Canton led 19-14 at the half and outscored the Chargers 22-12 in the second half.

Kia Griffin scored nine for the Chargers, who made only 4-of-13 free throws.

Metro Conference

LUTH. WESTLAND 41, HARPER WOODS 24: Rachel Storck pumped in 17 points Tuesday as Lutheran High Westland (6-7, 3-4) earned a Metro Conference win over the host Pioneers (3-13, 2-5).

Allyson Yankee was another catalyst for the Warriors, who built a 16-point halftime lead. The senior guard added six points, five rebounds and three assists.

"She (Yankee) continues to adapt to different responsibilities compared to her three previous years on varsity," Lutheran Westland coach Bill Strang said. "Her defense and our team defense remains strong."

Senior center Charita Woods led Harper Woods with 10 points.

Michigan Independent

HURON VALLEY 51, YPSI CALVARY 43: Sophomore Katie Nell had 21 points and eight steals Tuesday to propel host Westland Huron Valley Lutheran (3-11, 3-5) to a Michigan Independent Athletic Conference Red Division win over Ypsilanti Calvary Christian.

Junior Claire Wood added nine points and 16 rebounds to the Hawks, who led 31-16 at intermission.

Senior Verity Thurmond scored 14 points for the Cougars, who slipped to 0-7 in the MIAC Red.

"We came out strong tonight and really attacked the basket," Huron Valley coach Kris Ruth said. "However, we got sloppy as the game went along. We shot better from the floor tonight. Defensively, we need to improve on boxing out on rebounds."

The Entertainer: Cedric saves MU

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

He was Madonna University's version of Cedric The Entertainer, but the joke was on the Siena Heights men's basketball team.

MU guard Cedric Sims tied his career-high with 32 points, including the dramatic game-winning three-pointer at the buzzer Saturday afternoon to give the host Crusaders a much-needed 76-73 overtime win over the Saints.

MU is now 10-16 overall, while Siena Heights falls to 13-13. Both teams are 4-6 in the Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference.

The victory also gave interim coach Myron Brown his first win following Monday's sudden and stunning revelation when fourth-year coach

Sims

Chuck Henry resigned.

The 6-foot Sims, a senior from Wayne Memorial High via Schoolcraft College and Wayne State, came off the bench and didn't enter the game until 14:34.

But his impact was felt immediately throughout his 34 minutes of action.

He was 11-of-17 from the field, including a perfect 3-of-3 from three-point range, to go along with 7-of-10 from the foul line. Sims also grabbed eight rebounds.

Sims' basket with 1:32 left in regulation sent the game into OT (61-51). The Crusaders

Lady Ocelots cage Warblers to zero in on crown

The Schoolcraft College women's basketball team inched closer to wrapping up the Eastern Conference title in the MCCA Eastern Division II poll, improved to 21-2 overall and 14-0 in the conference. They have won 23 straight conference games and 55 of their last 57.

Taylor Langham (Salem) led Schoolcraft with 19 points and seven rebounds.

Other contributions came from April Goins (15 points, eight rebounds); Amber Avery (13 points, eight rebounds), Antania Shepherd (nine points, seven rebounds) and Brittany Collins (eight assists). Whitney Bonham paced the Warblers (15-7, 9-5) with 18 points. Natasha DeWald added 12.

Kirtland shot only 23.5 percent from the field (16-of-68), while Schoolcraft hit 29-of-62 shots (46.7 percent).

The Lady Ocelots, who led 41-24 at halftime, also connected on 19-of-26 free throws (73 percent) and outrebounded Kirtland, 52-38.

Schoolcraft could earn at least a share of the MCCA Eastern Conference with a win Wednesday at home against Wayne County CC. (Visit www.hometownlife.com for more coverage).

MADONNA 65, SIENA HEIGHTS 52: Katie Mount scored 16 points in 37 minutes Saturday as Madonna University (11-15, 6-4) downed host Siena Heights University (10-16, 4-6) in a Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference encounter.

Erin Bentley added 12 points off the bench for MU, which jumped out to a 35-18 halftime lead.

Alyssa Guerin (Salem) contributed 10 points, while Kim Olech (Plymouth) finished with a game-high 12 rebounds for the victorious Crusaders.

Ashley Jackson was the only Saints player to score in double figures with 11.

The Crusaders won despite 28 turnovers and shooting just 38.5 percent from the floor (20-of-52). MU hit 7-of-15 three-point shots and made 15-of-18 free throws.

MADONNA

also held their breath when Mark Snipes short attempt went in-and-out as time expired.

In the overtime, MU led by as many as five, 71-66, but Siena Heights evened the count at 73-all on a basket in the paint with only 7.4 seconds remaining by Curtis Stephens, who led the Saints with 22 points.

Brown then called a timeout and Sims took the inbound pass from Bryant Slaughter. Sims dribbled through traffic up the middle of the court and launched his game-winning shot just beyond the top of the key with a Siena Heights defender draped all over him, sending the Crusaders into a wild celebration.

For Sims, it was his first buzzer-beater since his junior college days at Frank Phillips (Texas).

"The ball did not bounce our way a couple of times, but we continued to go hard and we stayed together as a unit," said Sims, who tied his season-high of 32 against Cedarville (Ohio) on Nov. 15. "It was pure joy, excitement. We've had a lot of adversity and we celebrated this win as a family."

The Crusaders were coming off two WHAC straight losses, including a 72-47 shellacking Wednesday at Cornerstone.

"It was a great, great win for the guys," Brown said. "It was a heck of a shot and I'm real excited. They responded tonight and I'm extremely proud of the team the way they came to practice and were ready to work. I have a saying, 'It's not what you do, it's how you do it.' I'm a teacher first and that's how I break the game down. I focus on certain things."

MU junior center Leroy Allen added 11 points and seven rebounds before fouling out in overtime. Slaughter added 10 points, while Ryan Waidman (Canton) grabbed a team-high nine rebounds in 41 minutes.

Courtney Smith added 13 points for Siena Heights, while 6-8 center Brian Champine added 12 before fouling out as well.

Sims, meanwhile, wished his new bride, Katherine, had been able to witness his performance.

"She couldn't make it today, she really missed a game today," he said. "And I just like to say something about Madonna: 'Through all the adversity, it's still a good program, it will be better in the future.'"

KIRTLAND CC 90, SCHOOLCRAFT 84: On Saturday, Charles Brown scored 28 points and dished out five assists to lead host Kirtland Community College (10-14, 6-8) to an MCCA Eastern Division win over Schoolcraft College (6-19, 3-8).

Latvia native Klavs Bogdanovics added 21 points and eight rebounds, while Nick Simpson and reserve Robert Phillips contributed 16 and 11 points, respectively.

Greg Leavell (Farmington Hills Harrison) had a team-high 27 points and 11 rebounds for the Ocelots. He was 10-of-11 from the foul line.

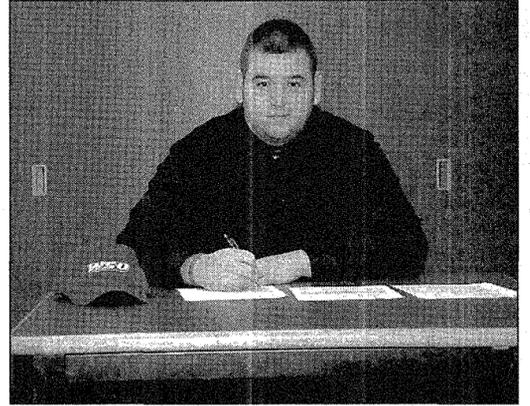

Bruce Watson added 16 points and eight rebounds. Ryan Matthews contributed 12 points and Eric Henry added eight.

GLIAC schools grab Observerland talent

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Observerland continues to be fertile ground for NCAA Division II football recruiting, most notably in the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

Ferris State plucked off a pair of area players led by Livonia Franklin's Brandon Lane, a 6-foot-4, 230-pound defensive end, and Westland's 5-7, 165-pound slotback Alan Freeman, who transferred prior to his senior year from Wayne Memorial to Inkster.

WSU signs Rocket

On Feb. 4, Westland John Glenn's T.J. Arancibia, an offensive lineman who made honorable mention All-Observer, signed an NCAA Division II football letter-of-intent with Wayne State University. Among those in attendance for the 7 a.m. signing were Arancibia's mother, Kathy-Ellen Kups; stepfather Robert Kups, varsity coach Tim Hardin, assistant coach Steve Conan and Glenn Football Booster Club president Jim Spleen.

"T.J. is not only a great football player, he's a great person," Hardin said. "He's a young man of high character and integrity. Wayne State is going to be very happy that they recruited him."

Pats' defense smothers Plymouth

KLAA BOYS BASKETBALL

Livonia Franklin did it on both ends of the floor Tuesday night en route to a 49-39 boys basketball win over visiting Plymouth.

The Patriots, who improved to 5-7 overall and 3-4 in the KLAA's South Division, got a game-high 17 points from senior Connor Leidal and 16 from junior Mike Gadsby.

Andy McCaffery chipped in with eight points and Nate Coleman grabbed seven rebounds as the Patriots made a 20-15 halftime advantage stand up. The Patriots increased their lead to 33-21 after three quarters.

"We played excellent defense and executed against their zone," said Franklin coach Jeremy Rheault, whose team made 14-of-26 free throws.

Brad Lineberry led the Wildcats (8-5, 4-3) with 14 points. Mike Nadratowski added nine.

The Wildcats, 2-of-5 from the foul line, now trail KLAA South leader Wayne Memorial by two games.

CHURCHILL 50, CANTON 44:

Junior forward Adam Bedell scored 14 points and grabbed 15 rebounds Tuesday to propel host Livonia Churchill (5-7, 2-5) to a KLAA South Division triumph over the Chiefs (7-6, 4-3).

"We played good, hard defense the whole game and toughed it out at the end," Churchill coach Jim Solak said. "We were able to handle their pressure and were finally able to finish. It was a good effort all the way around."

Senior center Cameron Norscia chipped in with 12 points and seven rebounds for the Chargers, who outscored Canton 13-9 in the final period. Junior guard Tony Frenzell chipped in with nine points and five rebounds.

Senior forward Kevin Weisz led the Chiefs with 13 points, while Sharif Hassanien and Kiere Daniels contributed eight each.

Churchill won despite making only 7-of-18 free throws. Canton was 5-of-9.

STEVENSON 63, SALEM 54: On Tuesday, Bobby Naubert and Brian Rowe tallied 18 and 15 points, respectively, leading Livonia Stevenson (8-4, 4-3) to a KLAA Central Division triumph over the Rocks (4-9, 2-5).

Ricky Chrzasz added 10 points for the Spartans, who jumped out to a 15-8 first-quarter advantage.

"We shot the ball extremely well as a team," said Stevenson coach Mike Allie, whose team connected on 10 three-pointers. "Both Bobby (Naubert) and Brian (Rowe) did what was expected and I thought Austin (White) and Ricky (Chrzasz) both brought tremendous energy."

Heath Parling and Jim Dexter each scored 11 points for the Rocks.

Stevenson was 11-of-17 from the foul line, while Salem hit 11-of-15.

Trojans get best of Cranbrook, 64-48

BOYS BASKETBALL

Livonia Clarenceville got off to a 18-4 first-quarter start Tuesday en route to a 64-48 Metro Conference boys basketball win over Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook.

The win improves the Trojans' overall record to 8-6 and 5-0 in the Metro.

Nathan Clark led the Trojans with 12 points, while Corey Reynolds added 11 points.

Jamie Stewart and Jeremy Gainer contributed 10 apiece. Eric Fishman tallied 18 points for the Cranes, who fall to 7-7 overall and 5-2 in the Metro.

Despite the margin of victory, Clarenceville coach Corey McKendry said there is room for improvement.

"We need to sustain defensive intensity for all four quarters," he said.

HARPER WOODS 52, LUTH. WESTLAND 47: D.J. Cribbs and Michael Childs scored 17 points apiece Tuesday to lead the host Pioneers (4-9, 2-4) to a Metro Conference win over Lutheran High Westland (9-5, 3-3).

Ryan Rakovalis scored 18 points, while Eric Shoats added 10 for the Warriors, who got outscored 18-8 in the third period after leading 22-18 at intermission.

"We had a mental lapse in the third quarter, causing us to take quick shots and turn the ball over," said Warriors' coach Brandon Bekius. "That, combined with poor free throw shooting, was too much for us to overcome."

"I don't want to take anything away from Harper Woods because they did a nice job of taking us out of our offense and dominating the boards."

HURON VALLEY 68, YPSI CALVARY 30: On Tuesday, Tyler Wagaman and Bryan Gruenewald scored 15 and 14 points, respectively, sparking host Huron Valley Lutheran (7-4, 4-2) to a Michigan Independent Athletic Conference Red Division triumph over Ypsilanti Calvary Christian Academy (0-10, 0-5).

The Hawks opened the game with a 30-4 first-quarter run.

Jonah Langederfer led the Cougars with 11 points.

"Going into the game we wanted to defend, rebound and make free throws. That was one of our goals."

Jon Swagerty was the only other Rocket to score in double figures with 12 points.

Glenn made only 18-of-55 shots from the floor (32.7 percent) and 8-of-22 free throws (36 percent).

"Right now we just have to get back to the basics," Glenn coach Dan Young said. "We just have to get back to what we're good at. We have to string some good practices together. We have to play defense, rebound and share the ball, which is what we're all about."

Glenn committed a total of 16 turnovers as Wayne was able to capitalize on the other end.

"We have to get our assists up and our turnovers down, but right now our turnovers are up and our assists are down," Young said. "We've got to get a rhythm offensively and defensively."

The loss drops the Rockets to 6-6 overall and 2-5 in the KLAA South.

"Our guys are in a little bit of a tailspin," Young said. "All teams go through it, but you learn that there are no excuses. We just have to play harder and better as a team. To start we just have to try and improve. We'll try and figure it out."

Franklin grapplers split pair in KLAA crossover matchups

There is no doubt that Hartland is the class of the Kensington Lakes Activities Association when it comes to wrestling.

Just ask Livonia Franklin coach Dave Chiola, who watched his Patriots fall to the West Division champs Friday in a dual match at Northville, 60-13.

Franklin, the South Division champion by virtue of a tie-breaker over Westland John Glenn and Canton, defeated the host Mustangs in the other KLAA crossover to win the Kensington Conference crown on Friday, 29-24.

Winners for the Patriots included Ryan Haarala (130), Brandon Billiau (145), Matt Roos (160), Don Stratz (189), Mike Modes (285), Rian Klein (103), Gabe Martinez (112) and Justin Jacobsen (125).

"Overall its was not a bad performance for the team," Chiola said. "We had a couple of kids out but we had just enough to beat Northville. They're a very good team. We won a lot of the close matches and that was what we needed to do. One match goes the other way and they beat us. It was an exciting night. I was glad we brought everyone with us to experience the new format."

The only victors for Franklin against Hartland were Elvin Ferreira (152), Roos (160) and Modes (285).

"The drawback to this Association format is that there are good teams that don't see each other," Chiola said. "On the other side we never got to see Howell or Brighton, and teams over there never got to see us, John Glenn or Canton.

"The one thing I think is clear is that Hartland is the best team in the Association. They were certainly the best team we've seen all year. If they don't win it all (Division 1) they are going to come close."

Franklin is now 19-8 overall and 5-2 in KLAA crossovers after finishing 4-1 in the KLAA South.

"I was very happy that we were able to win the (Kensington) Conference after not winning it last year," Chiola said. "Winning four out of the last five shows that we're doing it with different kids. We're graduating a lot, but the young kids that we have gained a lot of experience this year. The end of the season should be exciting. I just want to get everyone healthy and see how we do in the postseason — both as a team and individually."

Spartans 4-1 at Okemos

Livonia Stevenson captured four-of-five matches Saturday to finish runner-up in the Okemos Team Dual wrestling tournament.

The Spartans, 23-19 overall, defeated Birmingham Groves (52-8), Saginaw Arthur Hill (65-12), Ionia (62-18) and the host Chieftains (71-11).

Eventual champion DeWitt handed Stevenson its lone defeat, 40-23.

Individual winners for the Spartans included Mitch Gonzales, who went 5-0 at 135 pounds; Raz Markosian, 4-1 at 140; and Jonny Myshock, 4-0 at 160.

Also going 4-1 on the day were Ash Alhaj (103), Dan McCarthy (152), Josh Seibert (171), Jake Burns (189) and Andrew Schramm (215).

Nathan Keedle went 3-1 at 285, while Corey Davis (110) and Samer Shebak (125) each finished 3-2 on the day.

Young Patriots excel

On Saturday, Franklin took runner-up honors in the sophomore division and fourth in the freshman division at the 43rd annual Garden City Novice Invitational.

In the sophomore division, Josh Hatfield (135), Matt Roos (160) and Zach Leuenberger (189) all took firsts, while Alex O'Connor (152) chipped in with a second for the Patriots.

Jordan McGuire (125) and Ryan Derry (119) each placed third to pace the frosh.

"This was the best we've done in both divisions in several years," Franklin coach Dave Chiola said. "Those two classes went on to lead us to a lot of tournament and meet wins. Hopefully we can expect the same from this group."

he said. "I was really out of shape. I felt terrible, I felt sore from the surgery in my chest area. I had to start out really slow. It took a while. I felt pretty weak all over because I took eight months off. I lost 15 pounds, but I've gained it back."

Cruce had a setback in October when he was diagnosed with a condition called pericarditis (inflammation around the heart). It was unrelated to his surgery, but he spent four more days in the hospital and needed medications for the random viral infection.

Cruce eventually returned to his regular practice schedule with the Spartans swim team.

"There's very few who could come back from that — open-heart surgery — and be back six months later after looking death in the face," Stevenson coach Jeff Shoemaker said. "I give him the utmost respect for what he's done and what he continues to do."

"I knew he wanted to come back. Swimming was his whole life, his whole thing. And to take that away from him his senior year and being a captain ... he was voted our team MVP last year and he's one of the best on the team."

"I had to watch him closely the beginning of the year. It was nervous for me because I have a big responsibility. Now it's like any other day. It's a non-issue from here on out."

Cruce enters Saturday's Michigan Interscholastic Swim Coaches Association meet Saturday at Eastern Michigan with an entry time of 55.43 in the 100 butterfly. He'll also swim in three relay events.

"I'm not fat," Cruce said of his performances. "I was right around here last year. I'm building up for now."

Shoemaker has scaled back Cruce's workload in meets, dropping the 500 freestyle in favor of the sprint relay events.

"We've adjusted his schedule," the coach said. "You can see his frustration. He's close to normal, but in his mind he's not back to normal."

"There's not a lot of people who could fight back like Mike did. His parents gave him a free reign and they didn't shut him down for selfish reasons. He's never once used it (the heart condition) as an excuse. He'll finish a set in practice no matter what."

Cruce, who compiled a 3.4 grade-point average last semester, hopes to study business in college and, of course, continue his swimming career.

"We had no clue and we might have missed it, but fortunately we caught it," Mick Cruce said. "We are continuing to monitor his heart condition at U-M and pray that it all works out well. We're amazed with Mike's recovery and feel so blessed that he's been able to return to swim again. However, having gone through this experience, we feel we can move forward without swimming, if he's unable to swim."

He's shown amazing courage through all of this and we're so proud of him in his drive in recovering and achieving his goal to swim again."

Cruce's valve replacement is not permanent, according to his father, and he'll have to have another procedure down the road.

"Hopefully it will last him at 10 to 15 years and technology will improve so it can be replaced without open-heart surgery," Mick Cruce said.

Meanwhile, Cruce can kid about his scar with swim teammate and close friend Mark Johnson, who is coming off major back surgery.

"He said he hopes my valves fall off and I told him I'll kick his rods in," Cruce jokes.

But both have scars that are anything but a joking matter.

Rivalry renewed

Midget BB Livonia Kings get best of Redford, 4-1

BY TIM SMITH
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

HOCKEY

Early penalty trouble Monday night spelled trouble for the Redford Wolfpack and the Midget BB hockey team never recovered.

By the 9:33 mark of the first period, the visiting Livonia Kings had scored two power play goals and went on to a 4-1 victory in the Little Caesars Amateur Hockey League play-off game at Redford Arena.

"Our penalties were stupid penalties," lamented Wolfpack coach Mark Nicholas, whose 32-6-2 team lost for the fourth time against the Kings. "They were penalties because they're running their mouths or not skating hard enough so they have to use their sticks."

"Or they get frustrated and take it out the wrong way."

The Kings (35-3-1) felt good from the start, still riding the wave of positive momentum from Sunday night's 7-3 victory over Farmington in the MAHA District 4 championship game to advance to the state finals (March 5-8, also at Redford Arena). "They've played strong hockey all year long," said Kings head coach Tim Jason. "They carry one game to the next no matter what game they previously played."

But Jason praised his team for not losing composure when the hard hits picked up.

"Obviously this is a pretty big rivalry for us," Jason said. "But I think whenever teams get down they start chopping away a bit more at us. 'We just try to skate through it and keep our heads on our shoulders. ... We'd rather be on the ice than in the penalty box and I think so far they're handling themselves pretty well.'"

T.J. Cavanaugh chipped in the rebound of a Matt Hope shot behind Wolfpack goalie Ryan Wagner just 5:43 into the contest, giving the Kings a power play marker and 1-0 lead.

Two more minors followed against Redford, and Kyle Schwarz made the Wolfpack pay. With a 5-on-3 advantage, Schwarz took a centering feed from Michael Padgen and snapped the puck past Wagner.

Livonia tacked on another tally with 4:09 to go in the second, upping the lead to 3-0. Nick Gilliland ripped a shot from the right circle low to Wagner's stick side for an unassisted goal.

In the third period, the Kings made it 4-0 with 6:32 remaining. Joe Cummings scored with assists going to Padgen and Gilliland.

At that point, Nicholas inserted backup goalie Alex Montagano and he played well, stopping all five shots he faced.

The Wolfpack finally got on the board with 2:53 left in the contest. On a delayed penalty, the first to be called against the Kings, Joey Catalano sent a pass near the goalmouth where Tim Hall jammed it past goalie Colin Beck.

Livonia played a strong, steady defensive game to keep the Wolfpack's high-octane offense in check. The Kings held a 25-22 edge in shots on goal.

One of the players who epitomized that steadiness was Livonia defenseman Stephen Koch, who took several hits to make plays. Jason said Koch has been a solid player on the blueline, making strides from the start of the season.

The Kings next will compete in the Little Caesars semifinals this weekend, whereas the Wolfpack needs to win Thursday against Belle Tire.

Regardless of what happens in the LCAHL tourney, the Kings and Wolfpack will both be in the Redford-hosted MAHA final and could conceivably meet again.

"If we're going to win 'states' we're going to have to beat them," Nicholas said. "We've got to stick to our game plan, which we just don't do."

"If we don't get off good it seems we play back on our heels against these guys. It's a total mental edge they have on us, they're in our heads."

Ann Arbor's Chronis scores five vs. Blazers

Angie Chronis went on a goal binge Saturday, leading Ann Arbor to a 7-1 Michigan Metro High School Girls Hockey League triumph over host Livonia Ladywood at Plymouth's Arctic Edge.

Ladywood's Shelby Kucharski opened the scoring with her 36th of the year in the first period, but Ann Arbor's Malakia answered with the first of seven unanswered goals to make it 1-1.

Chronis, who had five goals on the night, scored twice in the second period and added three more in the final period as Ann Arbor improved to 16-2 overall and 14-2 in the league.

Freeman also scored a goal in final period as Ann Arbor outshot the Blazers 42-8.

Kristina Keil and Emy Guttman each contributed two assists for the winners.

Ladywood goaltender Jessica Pavela made 35 saves, while Ann Arbor Sydney Supica had to make just seven.

The loss drops the Blazers to 8-7-1 overall and 6-7-1 in the Michigan Metro.

WYANDOTTE 5, CHURCHILL 4

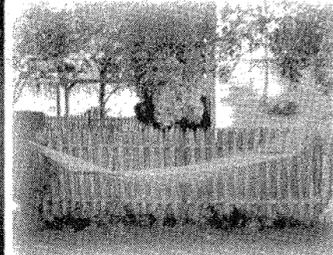

Gerald Mayhew and Alex King each scored a pair of goals to lead state-ranked Wyandotte Roosevelt (14-2-2) to a non-league win over visiting Livonia Churchill (6-7-2) at Yack Arena.

The Bears, ranked No. 4 in Division 2, scored four times in the second period to build a 5-1 lead before holding off the Chargers.

Drew Sieber's goal from Scott Hamill with 13:03 left in the final period cut the deficit to one-goal. Other Churchill goal scorers included Robert Louwers (power-play from Alec Smthye); Steven Klisz (from Kody Strong); and Stefan Kubus (from Andrew Carlson and Ryan Cioch).

"It was very similar to the (Livonia) Stevenson game," Churchill coach Pete Mazzoni said. "We had a real bad stretch in the middle of the second period. We dug ourselves a deep hole. We had our chances and couldn't score the equalizer."

List may be subject to change, and the off isn't valid with any other offer.

IT'S YOUR BUSINESS Q&A

TOM HAWLEY | STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Photographer Christopher Holdwick of Holdwick Event Photography is very familiar with the St. Constantine and Helen Greek Orthodox Church and Hellenic Cultural Center where he has covered events.

Photographer tells 'whole story'

Observer: Tell us about your business, including the types of service and/or products you feature.

My business does every aspect of photography. Weddings, portraits, real estate, conferences, special events, sporting events, fairs, festivals, and more. I don't believe in specializing. It makes you a better photographer when you have experience in many different aspect of your business. I also believe that you have to diversify in these economic times we live in.

Observer: What makes your business unique?

I am a person that pays attention to the details. My job is to tell the whole story of your event. This may include emotion, actions, weather conditions, and more. I also am a very personable person. I get to know my clients' likes and dislikes. This helps me tell the story from their perspective. Other aspects that set me apart from my competitors is that I'm a smaller business. I can be very budget-friendly without sacrificing quality.

Observer: How did you decide to open your first business?

I decided to open my business after taking pictures for my friends' wedding. People complimented me on so many of the pictures I decide to go into business for myself. After volunteering for the National Cherry Festival and the Traverse City Film Festival, I have now been able to get my feet wet in many different aspects of photography. Being able to confidently walk in to any photography situation makes all the difference.

How did you decide to locate in the Westland community?

I have been living in Traverse City, Michigan, for the last three years, while my parents and siblings have been living in the Ann Arbor area. The stresses of having family in another part of the state brought me back home. Westland is a beautiful area to live and work in. Plenty of room for a growing business. Do you have a funny tidbit or story to share with our readers about your experience so far as a small business?

I have really enjoyed this profession. I have held so many different positions, and have met so many famous and interesting people, I couldn't think of a better dream job. Now that I teach photography, my passion has come full circle.

CHAMBER CHAT

The Westland Chamber is not only keep running by its staff, the chamber has several committees that add their input, support and time to help events and projects become successful.

Recently, the Westland Chamber of Commerce's Government Affairs Committee met to discuss a few issues, one of which being the public's awareness of this committee. This committee is made up of a few business owners and city officials. Their goal is to influence local, regional and county public policy to represent the best interests of the Westland business community.

With that in mind, they would like to extend an invitation to anyone with a business concern to contact them. You can do so by e-mailing westlandchamber@yahoo.com. Just put Government Affairs in the subject line.

The Membership and Marketing Committee will be introducing a new community event. The Westland Jaycees and the Westland Chamber will be hosting a Dueling Piano's event on Friday, March 13, at Joy Manor. All are welcome. The cost is only $15 per person.

Come check out the Chamber, the Jaycees, and have good time all at once. If you would like more information, call the Chamber at (734) 326-7222.

At the top

Petland, once again, is among top-ranked franchises in the United States.

Overall, Petland Inc. ranked 292 in the Entrepreneur Magazine's 30th Annual Franchise 500. According to Entrepreneur.com, there are close to 3,000 active franchisors in the United States.

"It is an honor for Petland to be recognized nationally as a franchise leader in pet care services," said Frank Difatta, president of Petland Inc.

"At Petland, we are poised for growth as more and more qualified candidates look to the development of their own business to meet financial and lifestyle goals," added Petland Inc.'s Franchise Development Manager Jim Whitman "We welcome this prestigious recognition as it helps get the word out about our unique and dynamic full-service pet store franchise opportunity."

In conducting its annual rating of franchises in the world, Entrepreneur considers such factors as financial strength, stability, growth rate and size of the franchise system. Other rating factors include number of years in business, length of time franchising, start-up costs, litigation, percentage of terminations and whether the company provides financing. An independent CPA firm audits financial data. Every company with verifiable data receives a cumulative score. The franchises with the highest cumulative scores become the Franchise 500.

Petland, Inc. is a franchise operation with more than 200 quality, full service, retail pet centers across the United States, including its store at Wayne and Warren roads in Westland, Canada, Japan, Chile and South Africa. Petland was founded in 1967 and is headquartered in south central Ohio. For more information on Petland, visit its Web site at www.petland.com.

ENDOW

St. Michael the Archangel Parish of Livonia hosts two different courses of the Archdiocese of Detroit's ENDOW program, a continuing women's study group focused on the dignity of women of all ages and faiths. Course VI, called "Salvifici Doloris" addresses the Christian meaning of suffering. Based on the writing of Pope John Paul II, this is a new addition to the ENDOW curriculum and available 9:30-11:15 a.m. Tuesdays, in the convent meeting room. The class began Jan. 13.

Based on Pope John Paul II's "Mulieris Dignitatem" (On the Dignity and Vocation of Women), the Course II group, meets 7-8:30 p.m. on the second and fourth Thursdays (began Jan. 22), in the convent meeting room behind the rectory, 11441 Hubbard, south of Plymouth Road, Livonia. Women of all ages and faiths are welcome. There is a $60 charge for materials, but no woman will be turned away because of inability to pay. Register by calling (734) 261-1455, Ext. 207, or online at www.endowonline.com.

St. Aidan Catholic Church also offers ENDOW. The eight-session course focuses on the ideas about human beings and God that St. Thomas Aquinas explores in his work Summa Theologiae, 7-9 p.m., Thursdays, through March 5, in the parish office conference room at the church, 17500 Farmington Road, north of Six Mile, Livonia. Cost is $60 for materials. Registration required.

Visit www.endowonline.com or call (734) 425-5950. Facilitator is Michele Schmidt at (734) 367-0353 or mtschmidt@sbcglobal.net.

Paying Tribute to the Life of Your Loved One

Temple opens doors in Livonia

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
O & E STAFF WRITER

A warmth comes over visitors to the Sri Shirdi Saibaba Temple in Livonia even though the temperature is 3 below outside with the wind chill. The welcoming nature of members follows the teachings of the saint who lived from 1835 to 1918 in India.

Imagine 450 men, women and children from the Hindu and Muslim faiths all practicing peace and forgiveness together in a place of worship. It happens every Thursday evening in the Main Prayer Hall of the temple which recently found a permanent home on Seven Mile, east of Middlebelt. During the rest of the week the priest, Ranganathan, leads prayers four times a day for devotees who come and go according to their schedule. It took 11 years of studies in India for him to learn the rituals.

"Saibaba is considered to be a saint for Hindus and Muslims alike although mostly Hindus visit the temple," said Prasad Beesabathuni of West Bloomfield. Beesabathuni is president of the membership based organization that includes devotees from Plymouth, Troy, Farmington Hills, Canton, Livonia, West Bloomfield, and around the area. The temple is the only one that pays homage to Saibaba in Michigan and one of 10 in the U.S.

"He used to preach good things and slowly became popular. Saibaba was a beggar seeking alms. We don't know much about his childhood. As a youth he lived in a vacant mosque. He attracted a lot of devotees, Muslims and Hindus alike. He preached peace not specific to any religion. The temple is open to everyone."

REACHING OUT

Charity was an equally important part of Saibaba's philosophy. It makes Satheesh Mandalappa especially feel good to practice Saibaba's preachings on helping the needy and feeding the hungry. In November and December, temple members donated food and a truck load of children's winter clothing to the Livonia Goodfellows. The project is ongoing. Bags full of adult and children's clothing await delivery to 15 poor families in Lansing.

"It makes my life sincere," said Mandalappa of Farmington Hills. "I'm living happy and want to help somebody."

Since it's founding in 2005, temple members have held 5 bone marrow drives and plan to continue registering prospective donors twice a year. Plans are also in the works to offer regular health clinics for those who don't have health insurance.

"We'd like to be part of the community," said Beesabathuni. "We've been here since August meeting in the lower level. Until then we didn't have a building and met at the Novi Civic Center."

So far the Main Prayer Hall of the former baptist church has been totally renovated. The exterior work in Phase II begins in spring. In July an installation ceremony will be held after a statue of Saibaba arrives from India.

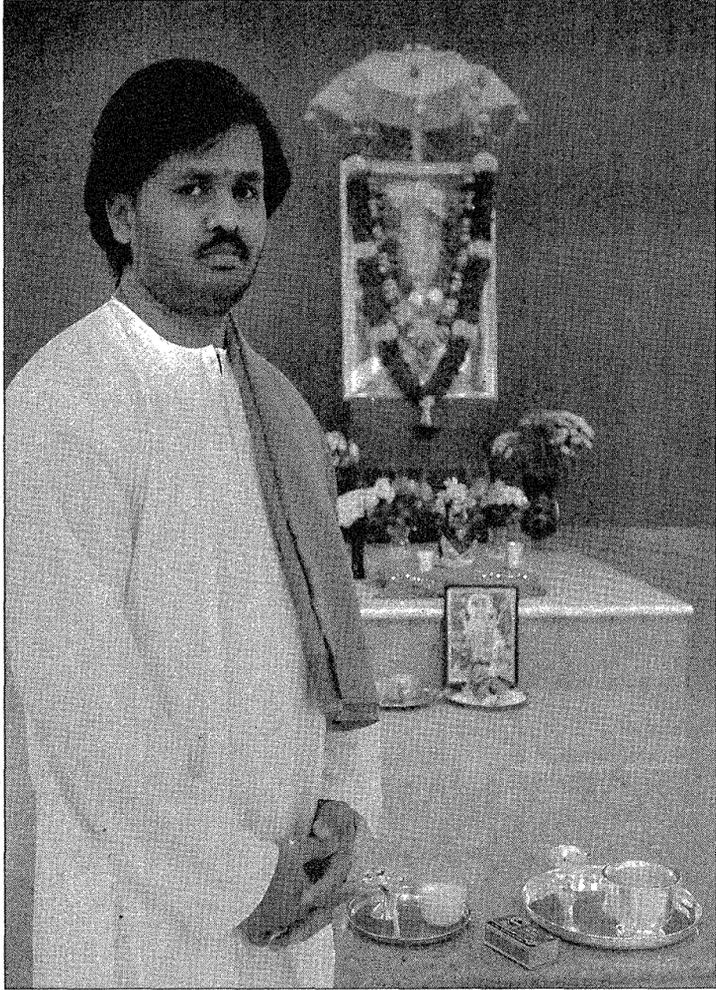

"Hindus have multiple Gods or saints. Saint is same as God," said Beesabathuni. "Our main religious day is Thursday when we have prasadam, an offering to the God of traditional vegetarian Indian food. Every day we offer fruit as devotees leave as they should not go empty handed."

"It's like a blessing," said Mandalappa. "They give an offering and in return receive fruit or almost a meal on Thursday when 20 volunteers are working and cooking (in the kitchen on the lower level)."

Four volunteers hold classes for children on Thursdays as well. "We want them to learn peace," said Beesabathuni.

Sri Shirdi Saibaba Temple is at 28875 Seven Mile, east of Middlebelt. For more information, visit saibabami.org.

Len Fisher doesn't have to step on stage to become animated. The Westland resident is as enthusiastic before Monday night's rehearsal for Inspire Theatre's latest production Feb. 13-14 and 20-21, at Warren Road Light & Life Free Methodist Church in Westland.

Before long he's jumping up to sing one of the tunes from "It Ain't Broadway, But It's Close." The revue is sure to bring back memories with favorites like "Give My Regards to Broadway," "No Business Like Show Business," "76 Trombones," and "Singing in the Rain." A children's chorus revisits the "Sound of Music" with songs such as Do Re Mi. Fisher wrote the script so he's partial to the production.

"We love doing musicals and thought it was time to do a Broadway revue," said Fisher. "We usually do a musical revue once a year and discovered musical revues bring in a large audience."

Fisher plotted the production around a theater company which rents space from a touring theater company which returns home to share the space. The result is comedy.

"The first act is the antics of auditions of this group," said Fisher. "The second act is dress rehearsal and we've thrown in a handyman who wants to add all-kinds of special effects."

The cast of 29 ranges from age 8 on up and includes his wife Sue and daughter, Elizabeth, 23. Son Benjamin, 19 runs sound. Fisher is a one-man band of sorts. Along with singing, he prepares the meal for the Valentine's Day dinner theater. Each of the cast have multiple jobs. Bev Green is stage manager plus. The Westland woman handles any task that comes along.

"I come to most of the rehearsals from auditions to finished production," said Green. "I watch people grow. It's so much fun."

Emma Boylan couldn't agree more. The Northville High School student sings a solo medley from "My Fair Lady" to accompaniment by her mother. Sharon Boylan, the pianist/organist at Mt. Hope Congregational Church in Livonia, provides live music for the production.

"It's a great excuse to sing Broadway songs," said Emma Boylan, 15. "They're so well written and make you feel good."

Gerry Wiatr of Westland doesn't hide the cast comes from Farmington Hills, Redford, Livonia, Plymouth, Canton, Northville, and Dearborn Heights.

"The goal of the theater is to have fun and learn more about theater and stage and be like a family," said Fisher. "Our goal is to inspire. We only seat 85 people so the back row is only 5 or 6 rows back."

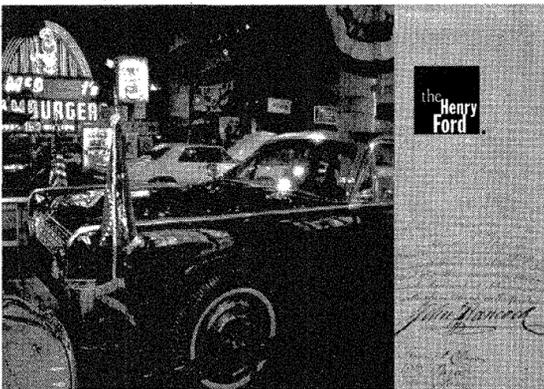

Back on stage Fisher is sharing retorts with Courtney Nixon as each sings they can do anything better than the other.

"We like to have as much fun as we hope people in the audience have," said Nixon of Farmington Hills. By day Nixon's a student teacher at Pierce Middle School in Redford.

Wendy Hardy of Livonia is a mom and the only one in her family not in the show. Son Mitchell, 10, is a fifth grade student at Botsford Elementary and sings in the children's chorus. Paul joins his son for the catchy beat of "Hakuna Matata" from "The Lion King."

"I can't imagine life without these people," said Hardy. "We saw an audition notice in the Observer calling for Munchkins and never left. We've done every kind of job from curtain pullers to light and sound."

Enjoy a romantic evening of music

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN

John Zaretti and his wife usually catch a plane to warmer destinations for Valentine's Day but in this year's dire economic climate they're heading to Livonia instead for a romantic evening of love songs from Broadway to La Boheme and Carmen Saturday, Feb. 14.

As founder of Verdi Opera Theatre of Michigan, Zaretti is joining with Mary Galasso, president of the Italian American Club to present Concerto d'Amore which includes music sung by artists from the opera company plus a dinner of Italian food and wine for all for $45 per person.

"It's a great evening of entertainment in the neighborhood," said Zaretti of Canton. "It's really a love fest of music from Cole Porter to Rodgers and Hammerstein to Puccini then add the culinary delights and everything."

Kimberly Swan, a lyric-coloratura soprano, is one of the performers along with tenor Curtis Peters of Livonia, bass-baritone Allen Schrott, soprano Eva Evola, and mezzo-soprano Lisa Agazzi who will be accompanied by pianist Angelina Pashmakova of Troy. Pashmakova is on the Marygrove College faculty. Schrott served as an adjunct professor of voice at Madonna University in Livonia.

Swan has sung with the Verdi Opera Theatre of Michigan for 11 years. A native of Livonia, she holds two degrees in vocal performance and has appeared as a soloist throughout Europe. In 1992 she furthered her studies at the International Institute of Vocal Arts in Italian where she performed several operatic scene programs. Since returning home, Swan has taught not only at Madonna University, but established a following of over 50 private students.

full concert of Broadway selections like Tonight, Tonight; So in Love; If Ever I Would Leave You, and opera, mostly in English so people can enjoy it.

"It's a very romantic evening to have someone serenade with these great love duets. We're going to be dressed up in gowns and tuxedos. A lot of women will love this."

THU, FEB 12 | 8 PM
Hill Auditorium

The repertoire of this African American cappella ensemble is steeped in the sacred music of the Black church, the clarion calls of the Civil Rights movement, and songs of the struggle for justice everywhere. Rooted in a deeply held commitment to create music out of the rich textures of African American legacy and traditions, Sweet Honey In The Rock possesses a stunning vocal prowess that captures the complex sounds of Blues, spirituals, traditional gospel hymns, rap, reggae, African chants, hip-hop, ancient lullabies, and jazz improvisation. "Superlatives don't really exist to convey the primal power and bravura beauty of Kodo... the devil of it is the combination of the discipline of a surgeon's scalpel with the primitive, muscular endurance of a cavalry charge..." (Chicago Tribune) With its "One Earth" tour, Kodo brings the sound of the taiko drum to people around the globe, transcending barriers of language and custom and reminding all of our membership in that much larger community, the world. "In this age of exploding populations and lightning-fast communication, it is more important than ever that these diverse cultures learn to recognize and accept each other so that all may share our increasingly shrinking planet in harmony," says Kodo's primary philosophy. ADD MYSTERY TO YOUR VALENTINE'S CANTON — The Village Theater at Cherry Hill will present Murder Mystery Dinner Theater 7 p.m. Friday, Feb. 13.

"To Russia With Love" combines a professionally-produced Russian whodunit with a delicious dinner.

Main Street Catering of Plymouth will provide Chicken Cordon Bleu, wild rice medley, rainbow vegetables, Caesar salad, rolls and butter, chocolate torte cake, soft drinks and coffee. Wine and beer cash bar.

The play centers on a less-than-perfect Russian Ballet Troupe, Ballet Russe de Chernobyl, exiled to Siberia for total lack of talent and grace. The troupe recently made their way to Detroit thanks to a generous benefactress, Madame Olga Ouspenskya. Unbeknownst to her, the troupe is actually an ex-KGB front.

Doors at 6:30 p.m., show at 7 p.m. Mature audiences. Tickets, $45 per person, include dinner and show. Visit Village Theater at Cherry Hill, 50400 Cherry Hill Road, Canton; call (734) 394-5460 or click on www.canton-mi.org/village-theater.

SCHAKOLAD OFFERS VALENTINE'S TREATS

METRO DETROIT — Schokolad Chocolate Factory is helping romantics choose the perfect gift for their sweets this Valentine's Day with products like white and red chocolate roses, truffles, chocolate ring boxes, chocolate champagne glasses, even chocolate hand-cuffs and body paint.

Schokolad (shock-o-LOD) is European-style chocolate hand-made on-premises based on award-winning recipes passed down through a family of three generations of chocolate makers. Mayan and Chai hot chocolate drinks and sea salt caramels also are favorites.

Schokolad of Birmingham, 167 N. Old Woodward Ave., is marking its one year anniversary. Schokolad Chocolate Factory also has locations at 20450 Haggerty Road, Northville; and 3140 Walton Blvd., Rochester Hills. Visit www.schokolad.com.

BIG ROCK SERVES SPECIAL MENU

BIRMINGHAM — Big Rock Chophouse will celebrate Valentine's Day on Friday, Feb. 13 and Saturday, Feb. 14 with a special menu that includes a keepsake from South Africa's Juno Wine Company.

The Valentine's Dinner menu begins with a toast of Juno Rosé and continues with a choice of Rock Shrimp Ravioli, Classic Caesar Salad, Lobster Bisque, or Bibb Lettuce with honey-anise roasted berries and yogurt dressing.

Entrees include Seared Salmon with a malted potato cake, haricot vert and citrus, Beef Tenderloin Medallions with pesto potato and poblano corn salsa, Roasted Asparagus, Mushroom, Cauliflower and Quinoa Ragout with bleu cheese gratin and Maple, Pecan Crusted Chicken with mini yukon potatoes and boursin cheese sauce, and Raspberry Bumpy Cake with frozen Paygo red pop. Valentine's menu, $40 per guest; reservations required, (248) 647-7774, www.bigrockchophouse.com or.

Big Rock Chophouse is located at 245 South Eton Street in Birmingham.

HAVE A HEART FROM PAPA ROMANO'S

COMMERCE TWP. — Papa Romano's Pizza will once again serve up its famous heart-shaped pizza through Feb. 15. The Love Pizza debuted in 1991, and nearly 30,000 were sold last year.

Despite the sour economy, the chain expects 2009 to be another sweet year for Love Pizza sales.

"It is really an ideal gift because it's affordable, tasty and something people enjoy receiving," said Casey Askar, chairman and chief executive officer of Papa Romano's Pizza. "Our Love Pizza makes a nice impression without breaking the bank."

The one-topping Love Pizza, $5.99, comes packaged in a red box. The Romance Package coupon-offer features two one-topping Love Pizzas, a medium-size salad and two chocolate-chip cookies. Visit www.paparomanos.com.

VALENTINE ROMANCE AT RUGBY GRILLE

BIRMINGHAM — This Valentine's Day, The Rugby Grille, inside The Townsend Hotel, will offer a sophisticated romantic menu on Feb. 14.

Among the selections is a Lobster Tagliatelle pasta, Norwegian Salmon with a Franklin Mill cider emulsion and Colorado Rack of Lamb finished with natural lamb jus.

In addition, two Rugby Grille classics — Steak Tartare and Dover Sole "A La Meunière" — are available for tableside preparation by Executive Chef Jim Bologna's world-class team. Entrées are $38-$47. The Townsend Hotel is located at 100 Townsend St., Birmingham. Call (248) 642-5999 or e-mail reservation-sRG@townsendhotel.com.

Keep your heart in Michigan

Living close to the source of our wine (and food) strengthens our ties to the land, to our roots and the farmer who grew the grapes. Drinking Michigan wines keeps revenue within our state, lessens the amount of fuel used to transport it, thus reducing the carbon footprint.

At the same time, the wine must be good and we are fortunate to have a wide range of choices. In Michigan's northwest, two wineries are producing excellent wines, one from the Old Mission Peninsula and the other from the Leelanau Peninsula American Viticultural Area (AVA).

So, keep your heart in Michigan on Valentine's Day. On Old Mission Peninsula (OMP), Brys Estate grows grapes for its wines in vineyards overlooking east Grand Traverse Bay. The 2007 growing season was ideal with warm, sunny weather and just enough rain to keep the vines healthy. We recommend the following from Brys Estate:

Reserve Pinot Noir 2007, $28, boasts dark cherry flavors with a hint of barrel spice that complements roast chicken, grilled salmon and sauteed mushrooms.

"Dry Ice" 2007, $70/375mL, was awarded "Best of Class Dessert Wine" at the 2008 Michigan Wine & Spirits Competition. With seven percent residual sugar, it is not overly sweet. An excellent end to a great meal.

Shady Lane Cellars winemaker Adam Satchwell has taken riesling fruit from the Leelanau Peninsula AVA and explored its full potential. He skillfully produced three wines in dry, semi-dry and sparkling styles. The Shady Lane wines recommended below show the three personalities of Michigan riesling.

Dry Riesling 2007, $17, exhibits aromas of apples, wildflowers and citrus with balanced acidity that complements fresh fish and seafood as well as chicken and roast pork.

Semi-Dry Riesling, $17, shows floral, honey, apple and pear flavors with balanced sweetness that magnifies the palate impression. Try it with Asian or Thai cuisine.

Sparkling Riesling, $22, is dry with very good length boasting fine bubbles that heighten the peach, apple and pear aromas and flavors. A great bubbly to celebrate Valentine's Day.

Local chef competes on Food Network

Local pastry chef Michelle Bommarito created this cake for a Food Network Challenge episode that will air at 9 p.m. Feb. 15.

FERNDALE — Pastry Chef Michelle Bommarito, along with her assistant pastry chef, Lindsey Tomasko, will be featured on an upcoming episode of Food Network Challenge: Mystery Client Cakes.

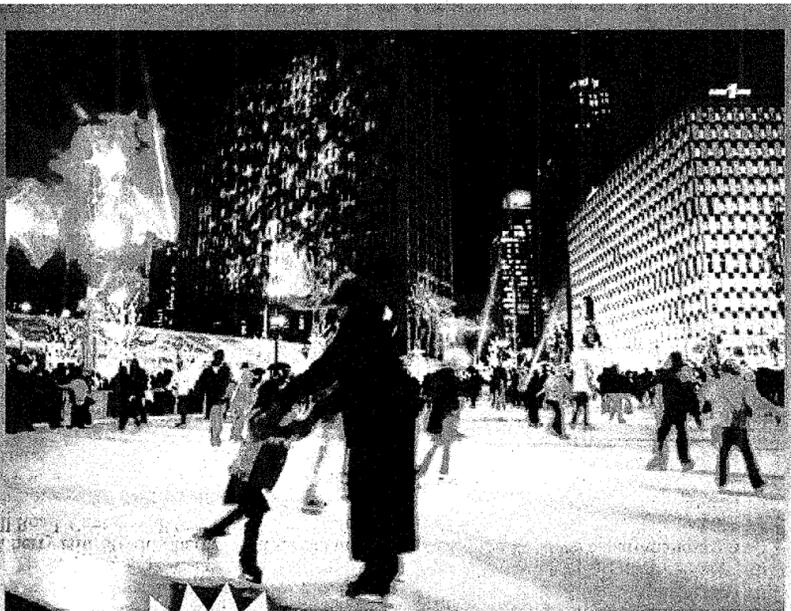

The pair competed at Disney World in California against three other teams of chefs to create a cake for singer Miley Cyrus' Sweet 16 birthday.

The pair had eight hours to complete the cake, which was covered in teen- and music-inspired artwork made from fondant.

See how their creation fared as the episode airs 9 p.m. Feb. 15.
