It pays to be a Wayne Memorial High Champion

BY MAGGIE WUNDERLICH

Emily Everett set a goal to raise her 1.7 grade point average. A junior at Wayne Memorial High School, she said, "my mentor encouraged me and kept me on my feet, if I was slipping."

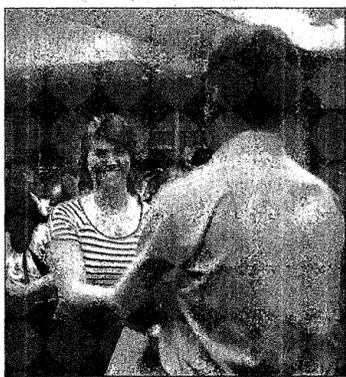

Everett's hard work and perseverance paid off with an impressive 3.5 GPA. She felt deeply satisfied, but that's not all. She was awarded $200 for reaching her GPA goal.

Everett took part in Champions, a mentoring and incentive program at Wayne Memorial. Now in its third year, Champions has changed the lives of 700 students and their families.

Recently, 42 Wayne Memorial students were celebrated as Champions at an awards banquet. Principal Valerie Orr congratulated the "outstanding Champions" and expressed genuine appreciation to the mentors. She looked on proudly as she handed out the monetary awards.

The idea behind Champions originated with Bill Gray, the school's psychologist. Adult mentors partner with students and help them set an academic goal. They meet regularly and the students who reach their goals receive $200, have their names engraved on a massive trophy and are proclaimed Champions.

easy since it takes many volunteers and funds. Luckily, 102 teachers and staff embraced the program. Also, Richard and Leslie Helppie of Bloomfield Hills graciously stepped up to provide the money.

"I am happy to support this," said Richard Helppie, who is a Wayne Memorial Distinguished Alumni graduate and managing partner at Vineyard Capital Group. The Helppie Family Charitable Foundation's primary focus is to help medically and educationally challenged children.

City contracts out building inspections

BY LEANNE ROGERS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Now that Westland has a contractor handling building inspection services, the first noticeable change will be location.

When city offices reopen for business Tuesday, July 5, the Building Department will have relocated from its current offices in the Westland Economic Development Building into space at the Department of Public Services, 37137 Marquette.

"We're remodeling the lobby. Citizens will notice how much more customer friendly it is. They will have more access to the employees," said Mayor William Wild. "The other thing people will notice is that it will be more efficient and timely with more access to inspectors."

The council recently approved a contract with

McKenna Associates Inc. of Northville for professional services including inspections, enforcement and plan review of codes for electrical, mechanical, building, plumbing, the City's Residential Rental Housing Inspection Program, Home Certification Program and Community Development Block Grant Program.

"It will all be done through scheduling, we will have access to nine inspectors and more could be added as the volume increases when the economy does better," said Wild. "We were trying to cover it with two or three inspectors."

In the past, that could have meant two-three-week delays in getting inspections for city certifications required before a house is sold.

"The real estate agents and sellers will see quicker inspections," said Wild.

Fire believed set to cover up break-in

BY LEANNE ROGERS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

A fire, apparently set early Sunday to destroy evidence of a break-in at a local restaurant, is under investigation by Westland firefighters and police.

The Golden Skillet restaurant, 8275 N. Wayne Road, was closed when the fire was reported around 1 a.m.

"It's still under investigation. It looks like they had a possible break-in that was being covered up by an intentionally set fire," said Westland Fire Capt. John Adams, an arson investigator. "There were multiple areas of fire."

The fire appears to have been started in the rear storage room and in a cooking-food prep area, Adams said.

"We took samples to be tested for accelerants. There was a heavy smell of gasoline and a container left on the scene," he said.

A broken window was found on a door on the south side of the building. The security alarm keypad was found smashed and the cash register had been taken from the building to the rear of the property.

The restaurant is closed pending the investigation of the fire, which Adams said caused smoke damage throughout the building.

"About 85 percent of the damage is smoke. There was charring in the food prep area and the back storage area that had heavy charring," Adams said. "The guys (firefighters) had to take a 5-foot by 10-foot section of the flat roof down (making sure the fire hadn't spread)."

City takes on tall grass at closed Hawthorne Valley Golf Course

BY LEANNE ROGERS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

When Kim Rowe and her husband, Jason, moved into their home just over a year ago, there was a nice view of the Hawthorne Valley Golf Course which butts up to their back yard on Ledgecliff.

Her neighbors used a weed wacker to take down some of the tall grass close to the backyard fences, said Rowe, who worried about insects and other undesirable critters attracted by the high grass.

That area near the fence has also been the focus of Westland Department of Public Services crews who have been out to help try to keep the golf course under control as much as possible. DPS workers used heavy equipment to try to tackle the tall grass closest to residents.

"The grass was at least three feet tall and the neighbors started calling with the warm weather," said Westland Mayor William Wild. "There are 200 homes that back up or are across from the golf course. They were telling us about the taller grass and standing water."

The nine-hole golf course runs east from Merriman between Warren Road and Hines Drive following along the

Evans repeats as Westland Festival queen

Miss Westland Summer Festival has been crowned and the carnival is in town - that means it's time for the 41st Annual Westland Summer Festival.

The fun begins today (Thursday) at 5 p.m. and continues through the holiday weekend culminating with a fireworks display shortly after 10 p.m. Monday, July 4.

Schoolcraft College student Janell Evans, 18, was crowned Miss Westland Summer Festival following a competition Saturday at the Friendship Center. Evans also was the winner of the title in 2010 and became first contest to repeat as Miss Westland Summer Festival.

Evans hopes to earn a master's degree from Eastern Michigan University and eventually become a special education teacher. After being selected as Miss Westland Summer Festival, Evans tearfully thanked the judges noting the $1,200 in scholarship money was a blessing in particular since her father was recently diagnosed with cancer.

The first runner-up is Caitlin Burns, 20, a senior studying communications art and political science at Eastern Michigan University. She plans to attend law school, practice criminal law and hopes one day to represent Westland in Lansing as a state representative or senator. She received $800 in scholarship money.

Second runner-up Bailey Begley, 16, is 10th-grader at Livonia Churchill High School. Her future plans include college, preferably the University of Michigan, and eventually becoming a doctor. She was awarded $500 in scholarship money.

The 10 contestants were judged on their applicants, essays and GPA in advance of the pageant. On Saturday, they were rated by the judges on their poise, personality, appearance in formal wear and responses to questions.

This year the judges included state Rep. Richard LeBlanc, D-Westland, Wayne-Westland school board Vice-President Shawna Walker, attorney Melissa Cox of city attorney Fausone and Bohn, Westland Observer staff writer LeAnne Rogers and Pam Prough of My Lady's Florist.

Festival committee chairman Ken Mehl noted that the Westland Summer Festival was the only community festival in Michigan to host a scholarship pageant in conjunction with their event.

All 10 pageant participants have agreed to be involved in various activities during the festival. The pageant is open to female Westland residents 16-22 years old who have never been married.

path of the Rouge River. Like Hines Drive, the low-laying golf course also had a lot of standing water after heavy spring rains.

"We learned that because of the low land, they were pumping water daily (when the golf course operated)," said Wild. "They had to use heavy equipment — backhoes and a ditch hog."

The entire Hawthorne Valley property is listed for sale with Simon Property Disposition. The company website describes Hawthorne Valley, offered for $1.5 million, as a golf country club with large banquet/bar area, lower level restaurant, dinner theatre room and pro shop. Constructed in 1947, the structure housing the banquet facility is 24,126 square feet.

"We are mowing along the residential area and staying on them for compliance. If we need a lawsuit to do it, we will do that," said Wild. "We plan on sending them the bill."

When golfers were on the course, Rowe said golf balls would end up in her backyard but that wasn't a big deal — her father and father-in-law are both golfers who can use the free balls.

"The golfers didn't really bother us at all. Now, it's kind of an eyesore," said Rowe.

said. "Then students may have challenges like home situations or other issues. This program says to those students, you are worth it."

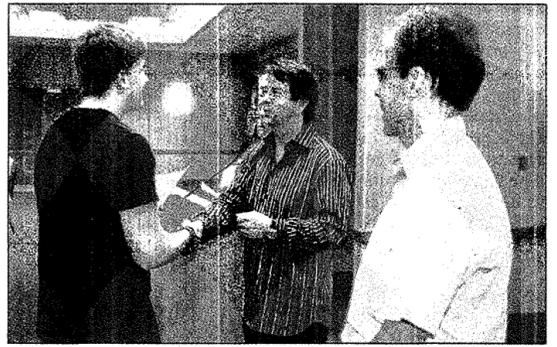

Like most of the Champions, Tiffany Harris, a junior, gave a heartfelt thanks to Helleppie and her mentor. She also conveyed a tearful thanks to her mother, Renée Harris, and her neighbors, Sophie Selewski, Marge Ross and Georgeen Kirk "for keeping an eye on me." Renée Harris said Tiffany's father died last year, yet she used his memory to inspire her.

Alex Driessche, a junior, aspires to be an orthopedic doctor and raised his GPA in order to improve his chances of getting into the University of Michigan. The money incentive gave him an extra motivation to meet his goal.

Another junior, Michelle Robinson, raised her grades from D's and E's to A's and B's. At first, the money inspired her to begin the program, but once she started, she learned about time management and grew closer to her teachers.

Danny Lees, a junior, plans to buy kickboxing gloves with his money. He said his mentor encouraged him to get better grades by promising to make him a butter cream cake. Kidding aside, Danny's mother, Jennifer Lees, was proud of him and wants to help him achieve whatever else he wants to do.

PROUD OF DAUGHTER

of her daughter, Ashé Lewis, a sophomore who achieved her 4.0 GPA goal.

"We've been in a hotel for about four weeks because our basement flooded. Despite all that, Ashé was very focused and maintained her grades," Francis said.

Another sophomore, Jordan Buford, had to give up some video game time in order to attain his GPA goal. He attributes his success to his mentor, who "was always on me to do my work."

This was Jazzietta Turner's third attempt. The junior almost gave up, but then reached a turning point and persevered because her mentor "got on me about it and made me study."

In order to reach even more students, Helleppie founded Champions of Wayne and recently hired Sean Galvin of Plymouth as the executive director. Galvin is enthusiastic over his new position and said, "I look forward to expanding it and making it better — to make an impact on as many lives as possible." Galvin previously ran the EMU Bright Futures after-school program at Franklin Middle School in Wayne.

Gray said next year's goal is to have 400 students in the Champions of Wayne program.

Under the agreement, McKenna will be paid by inspection fees receiving 70 percent with 30 percent going to the city to cover clerical and administrative costs. City staff will process permits and schedule inspections with Planning Director Bruce Thompson serving as the department head.

The effective elimination of the city-staffed Building Department resulted in three inspector positions being eliminated and the inspectors allowed to bump into other positions within their American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees bargaining unit.

"I was against outsourcing the jobs and I need to remain consistent," said Councilman Bill Johnson, who cast the only vote against the McKenna contract.

Johnson was also the only opposing vote on a second contract to hire Patrick Ostrosky, employed by a McKenna subcontractor, to work 20 hours per week serving as the city's building director for inspections and handling plan reviews.

Contracting the building inspection services was spurred by finances. Wild noted the decreased demand for building permits and inspections due to the slow economy but the city inspectors still had to be paid full-time wages and benefits.

"Under this contract, there are no costs to the city if there are no inspections," said Wild, who estimated a $1.5 million savings over five years.

Additionally, Wild said the relocation to the DPS building will make the building clerical staff person able to work with two existing DPS clerical workers as needed.

"McKenna has an exceptional, award-winning reputation for helping Michigan communities reach their full potential," said Wild. Recently named Small Business of the Year by Crain's Detroit Business magazine, McKenna specializes in community planning and zoning, urban design, landscape architecture and economic development.

Garden City resident deals with adult onset hydrocephalus

BY SUE BUCK
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Garden City resident Debra Likeric knew that something was wrong four years ago. She was ascending stairs and her foot just seemed to "stick" and miss a step.

She also suffered from fatigue and incontinence. "I couldn't figure out what the problem was," she said. "I was falling into walls, walking and losing my balance."

She was diagnosed at age 48 with adult onset hydrocephalus.

Sometimes people are misdiagnosed with Alzheimer's or dementia because they forget things. Likeric had to stop working as a lunch room employee for Garden City Public Schools. The doctors couldn't find a specific reason why she acquired the condition.

Her husband, J.B., a mail carrier with a route in Dearborn Heights, handles all of her medication by putting them into separate pill containers.

"My brain doesn't work as good as it should," Likeric said.

She has severe head pain that has endured. A cough or a sneeze can set it off.

"She was having trouble with her memory and her balance," he said.

Debra Likeric, a Garden City resident, talks about her struggle with adult onset hydrocephalus four years ago while her husband, known best as J.B., looks on. She plans to participate in the Hydrocephalus Walk on Saturday.

J.B. said that he also helps by providing as much comfort as he can give his wife.

Hydrocephalus is an abnormal accumulation of fluid — cerebrospinal fluid — within cavities called ventricles inside the brain. This condition can occur at any age.

CSF is produced in the ventricles, circulates through the ventricular system in the brain, and is absorbed into the bloodstream. CSF is in constant circulation and has many functions. It surrounds the brain and spinal cord and acts as a protective cushion against injury. It contains nutrients and proteins that are needed for the nourishment and normal function of the brain. It carries waste products away from surrounding tissues.

Hydrocephalus occurs when there is an imbalance between the amount of CSF that is produced and the rate at which it is absorbed. As the

More than 500 people expected to walk the WALK

More than 500 walkers representing local families, schools, corporations and organizations are expected to mobilize for the Hydrocephalus Association's Detroit WALK.

The event will take place Saturday, July 2, at the Nankin Mills area of Hines Park in Westland.

Registration will be at 8:30 a.m. The money will support the HA's national goal to raise more than $750,000 for critical hydrocephalus research and education.

"There's no cure for hydrocephalus and the current treatment was developed in the 1950s. We need to raise money for research to find a cure and improve treatment options," said Jennifer Bechard, chair for the local WALK. "Anyone can develop hydrocephalus at any age and it's more prevalent than most people think. It's time to find a cure."

Bechard has had 91 surgeries so far due to shunt complications as a result of hydrocephalus. Her 91st surgery occurred as the ribbon was cut at the opening ceremonies at last year's WALK.

More than 70 of them have occurred in just the last five years. Getting through the shock and the periods of uncertainty following every surgery would not have been possible without the support provided by the Hydrocephalus Association, she said.

"We are very excited about our event," said Jenna Ellis, the other chair for the local WALK. "The WALK Logistics and Organizing Committee, which is responsible for the event's planning and execution, is currently seeking additional volunteers."

People interested in assisting can call Ellis at (734) 788-1077.

Last year, the Hydrocephalus Association WALKs raised more than $640,000 from 25 sites. This year fundraising is expected to top $750,000. All Hydrocephalus Association WALKs are coordinated and run solely by volunteers with all of the proceeds used to eliminate the challenges of hydrocephalus by funding critical research and education.

Sponsors for the Hydrocephalus Association's Detroit WALK 2011 include John E. Green Company, Detroit Medical Center, Sweet P's Organic Pet, Carlson Catering and Eastside Mario's.

CSF builds up, it causes the ventricles to enlarge and the pressure inside the head to increase.

There is no known way to prevent or cure hydrocephalus. To date, the most effective treatment is surgical insertion of a shunt which diverts the flow of CSF into another region of the body, most often the abdominal cavity, where it can be absorbed. A valve within the shunt maintains the CSF at normal pressure within the ventricles.

Debra Likeric had a shunt put in with a tube that goes into her stomach. She hasn't had to have a repeat surgery since August 2007 but has had to have reprogramming about 13 times. A special box helps with the reprogramming process.

Resident finds Challenger missing from back yard

Break-in
Residents of a home in the 8000 block of North Hix told police they returned home June 26 to find the front door had been kicked open and the house ransacked. Reported missing were two laptop computers, a Wii game system and two games valued at $2,180.

Witnesses described three suspects as teenage black males with short nearly bald haircuts carrying backpacks or gym bags. The thieves also ate a couple packs of fruit snacks and took 75 packs of the snacks with them.

Stolen vehicles

2 On June 25, a resident in the 36000 block of Fernwood told police that someone had stolen a rental vehicle from the rear yard of his home. He said he believed the key was in the cup holder as the vehicle has a push button start. The 2011 Dodge Challenger is valued at $30,000.

A resident of the Wilderness Park Apartments, 7281 Wilderness Park Drive, told police early June 28 that someone had stolen his car which had been parked under the canopy for less than three hours. The man said he had the keys to his 1999 Chrysler which was valued at $3,000.

The vehicle was described as having the driver door lock partially pried open, four new tires and work tools inside. The man said the vehicle was paid for and he had lost a second set of keys about nine months ago.

Population trends impact future of region

BY SANDRA ARMBRUSTER
STAFF WRITER

Kurt Metzger plays the numbers, but what he is betting on has nothing to do with personal gain.

Metzger, who started Data Driven Detroit for the Kresge Skillman Foundation, is betting that his numbers will help everyone from health care organizations to government units and retailers provide the appropriate services for their target audiences.

The statistics were anything but dry when Metzger spoke Monday at the Schoolcraft College VisITaTech Center in Livonia, before a group of about 40 stakeholders at a board meeting of St. John Providence Health System. That health organization has five hospitals in the metropolitan area, including in Southfield and Novi.

One didn't need to see the numbers while looking at one of Metzger's maps showing population trends. A broad expanse of green covered the far western areas of Oakland County and all of Livingston County, depicting the areas with growing population.

The map made sense to Lou Martin, who handles marketing and communications for Providence Park in Novi.

"We have a terrific number of births at our hospital," he said. "The (I-96) corridor, it seems like there's something in the water."

For instance, according to statistics provided by the South Lyon School District, the number of students enrolled increased 2,654 students over 19 years, starting from the 1991-92 school year. But a look at the yearly figures show that the enrollment dipped slightly in the 2008-09 school year, which is considered to be the beginning of the economic collapse in the area. The next three years showed an increase of only 23 students.

Those figures fit with Metzger's contention, based on data from the U.S. Census and the American Community Survey, a substitute for the long form of the Census, that sprawl is continuing and having a serious impact on service delivery throughout the nine county region he studies.

Following along the I-96 corridor, after its split west of I-275, are towns like Novi, South Lyon and Brighton, followed by Howell at M-59 and I-96. Without the use of a map, a drive along the corridor shows proof of population growth through major shopping developments at Novi, at Brighton just south of the intersection with US-23, and a major outlet shopping development in Howell.

The impact of that growth means, however, that more land is consumed and that the demands for transportation are growing. "We keep abandoning areas in our core," he said. "Seventy-six percent of the jobs (in the area) are 10 miles or more" from where people live.

"The whole idea is that we operate on a regional economy," something that Metzger adds is the key to the future of the nine-county area. "We have got to talk about how we can work more together."

If Metzger had one common theme, it was "live local, hire local."

THE YOUNG LEAVE

Some areas have seen significant declines. "Michigan had more than a 540,000 net loss from 2000-2009," Metzger said. The greatest drop came in the 25-44 age group, he said.

Kurt Metzger of Data Driven Detroit, shown in this file photo, said population trends will impact services in the area.

"Young people are leaving the state," he said. Young couples are the most impacted by the last hired, first fired policy of employers, he said. Since many do not own homes, they are better able to move. A lot of those couples, he said, have young children.

Like with the growth of shopping centers, local school officials wouldn't need to see a map to know that the number of local births has dropped for the area and for Michigan. School officials carefully track such numbers, since the state aid to education is awarded on a per student basis.

Some of those young couples who leave also are encouraging their parents to follow them, he added.

At the other end of the age spectrum, "The number of deaths is stable," Metzger said. That means the area's population is growing older and needing different kinds of services. "The baby boomers are here, and they are aging in place," he said.

"This is reflected in an older workforce," Metzger said. That workforce frequently doesn't have the education and skills that will induce businesses to locate in Michigan, Metzger said.

"Opportunity and education are key to the state of Michigan," he said. "...Michigan ranks 37th in the percentage of college-educated residents."

Metzger's stress on the need for education comes at a time when the state Legislature just passed a budget from Gov. Snyder that reduces the amount of state aid to education.

Significant changes also have occurred in the movement of ethnic and racial groups, he said. That's important, Metzger said, for attracting international business and investment.

A NOTE OF OPTIMISM

Metzger expressed optimism on the future.

"The economy really hit this area, but we're about as far down as we're going to get," he said. Still, he cautioned that "we dropped much faster than it is going take to get back." He estimates that it will be five years before the area's economy fully recovers.

There are other ways that Metzger's statistics have an impact on lives in Southeastern Michigan, including the redistricting procedure for congressional and state officeholders now going on in Lansing. Metzger calls congressional districts 13 and 14 interesting because, for the first time, they cross the Eight Mile Road border that separated Oakland County from Wayne County and from Detroit. Those districts are currently represented by Hansen Clarke and John Conyers.

Once said to be the most segregated area of the country, Metzger said that is no longer true.

"We're now the fourth," he said.

Metzger cautions that the data only can be interpreted so far. The sample size of the American Community Survey is small, reducing its reliability, he said. And while data for larger towns like Farmington Hills and Southfield will be updated every three years, smaller towns like Ferndale and Royal Oak will have demographics updated every five years.

George Blaty, a business consultant with the Southfield Chamber of Commerce, said the most important statistic to him was the one that said that the 25-44 age group declined. He asked Metzger what the "trigger point" would be for an economic turnaround that would bring people back.

Young people want diversity and a viable urban area, Metzger said. However, "they want the suburbs, like Royal Oak," when it comes time to buy a house and raise a family. That means that Detroit, Ann Arbor, Saginaw and Bay City all need to be revitalized, he added.

"A city has to have a kind of buzz to it" to attract young people, Metzger said. There was general agreement, though, that no one understood former governor Jennifer Granholm's "Cool Cities" initiative.

Revitalizing those cities will take improved housing, because much of the housing there "was not meant to last," Metzger said.

While "single family homes are the strength of the region," Metzger also said that population trends will dictate what regional transportation is needed. That some communities have been allowed to opt out of regional transportation systems "makes no sense at all," he said.

Improved transportation systems could carry people from the core cities right out to that I-96 corridor, where "Novi is an employment center," Metzger said. And it will take that improved housing and access to jobs to repopulate core cities in the area, or, as Metzger said, "Where you live shouldn't determine how you live."

Clean-up effort targets more of I-275 trail

BY DARRELL CLEM
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Mere weeks after hundreds of bicyclists from across western Wayne County and beyond celebrated the official unveiling of a newly rebuilt stretch of the I-275 Metro Trail, a volunteer group has announced an effort to clean up another section of the pathway.

The 40-mile trail — coupled with the Lower Rouge River Recreation Trail that carves a pristine path across Canton — has drawn increasing attention since June 4, when supporters marked River Day by inviting bike riders and other outdoor enthusiasts to see a rebuilt section of the paved pathway between Michigan Avenue and Hines Drive.

In the latest effort, a volunteer group, Friends of the I-275 Metro Trail, has announced plans to clean up a section that parallels M-14 by removing overgrown vegetation along the pathway.

"We want to keep the path clear and safe for those who use it," Dave Duffield, the group's maintenance coordinator, said. "It's an ongoing effort."

Duffield and other trail supporters say the Michigan Department of Transportation has done its part by improving areas of the I-275 path that had deteriorated and become potentially unsafe for those who ride or walk along the trail.

"MDOT was nice enough to fix it up, and they frankly do not have the money for the upkeep," Duffield said. "That's where we, as volunteers, can step in and do that."

The summer season's first cleanup along M-14 has been scheduled to start at 9 a.m. Saturday, July 9. Volunteers will meet on Schoolcraft west of Haggerty, in an area where Duffield said helpers are allowed to park in a grassy area along the fence.

Volunteers are asked to give an hour or two of their time. The effort is expected to continue until noon or so, though Duffield said volunteers potentially could finish their work earlier if they have a large turnout such as scout troops.

Volunteers are urged to bring work gloves, long-bladed shrub clippers, hand-trimmers, metal rakes and brooms. Organizers also said a gas-powered leaf blower would be helpful.

Water and a light snack will be available. For more information, call Duffield at (248) 994-3074 or visit Friends of the I-275 Metro Trail on Yahoo! Groups or Facebook.

Disney star draws screaming crowd to mall

BY BRAD KADRICH
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

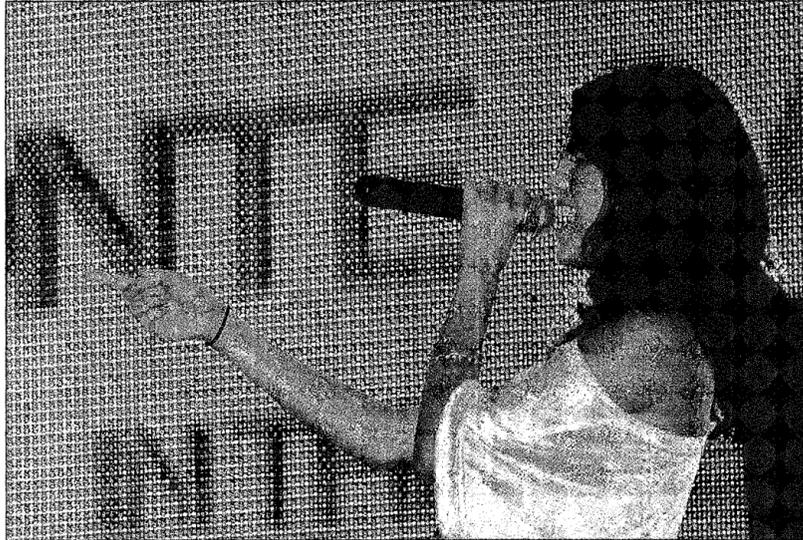

Alexsa Selitaj of Sterling Heights said she is Disney Channel actress/singer Selena Gomez's "biggest fan." Apparently, she's not alone. Selitaj was crammed into the hallway in front of Parisian at Livonia's Laurel Park Place mall Monday, screaming along with thousands of other "biggest fans" of Gomez, who was in Livonia promote her new movie, "Monte Carlo," which opens nationwide Friday. The visit put Selitaj, who came to see Gomez with her big sister, Rosa Palushi of Livonia, one step closer to a dream.

"I want to meet (Gomez) some day," the 12-year-old Selitaj said. "I love her songs, her personality."

The popular Gomez, star of the Disney Channel series Wizards of Waverly Place, came out on stage around 6:45 p.m., led the crowd in an a cappella version of her song Who Knows? and answered a few hand-picked questions from fans during about a 20-minute appearance.

Some 50 fans won tickets to do a meet-and-greet with Gomez, while about another 1,000 earned blue wrist bands that allowed them to get in the fenced-off section closest to the stage. The other gazillion fans who showed up had to crowd as close as they could get which, in most cases, wasn't all that close.

Still, it was enough for most of them. Amy Tucker of Plymouth brought her daughters, 10-year-old Erin and her 6-year-old sister, Disney Channel star Selena Gomez excited thousands of fans with her appearance at Laurel Park Place Monday.

Selena Gomez made a short stop at Laurel Park to greet her fans.

Erika. The family got in line around 1 p.m. and waited (as patiently as possible) for the appearance.

"She's pretty," 10-year-old Erin said of Gomez. "I like her music, I like the beat."

Apparently, it was too much for Tucker's neighbor, though. The neighbor, who initially climbed into line at 8:30 a.m., waited more than nine hours and actually left the mall around 5:15, 90 minutes before Gomez arrived. Tucker, however, stuck it out.

"My children are both huge fans," Tucker said. "They've got all her CDs, they've got her latest music in their iPods."

Not all of the fans were teenaged girls. Sarah

Cameras flashed and screams were rendered as Selena Gomez hit the stage during her Monday appearance at Laurel Park Place in Livonia.

Ostrander, 33, of Novi waited in line with her 29-year-old friend, Melanie Reid of Canton. Both proclaimed themselves "huge" fans of the 18-year-old actress.

"She's pretty cool and very popular," Ostrander said. "She's got lots of talent."

Having thousands of people jammed into the mall for that period of time can be a blessing and a curse, according to Claudia Frederick, the mall's public relations chief. While the throng did make getting to stores near Parisian difficult, the food court, for instance, did booming business.

"It's an event that draws a lot of people," said Frederick. "Some of the stores see a drop-off, but hopefully some of those people come back. Our food court has been very busy. It's good PR."

Plan ahead to eliminate family infighting

I was watching TV last week when a story popped up about the Michael Jackson estate. The story dealt with the fights within the family regarding how the estate is being administered.

Money Matters
Rick Bloom

It's not a surprise to anyone that an estate like Michael Jackson's would have issues.

Obviously, our situations are a lot different than Michael Jackson's. However, what caught me by surprise was when the commentator of the story implied that family infighting was reserved for the rich and famous. I wish that were true, however, the reality of the situation is that family infighting happens across the board whether it's a large estate, small estate or even sometimes when there's no money involved.

Family infighting upon death goes across all lines of our society and is something that everyone needs to be aware of.

It's not just death that causes family disagreements. Issues such as how to handle a family emergency or decisions regarding elderly parents can also cause tension within the family.

The reality is no matter what you do and no matter how well you plan, you cannot totally eliminate family disagreements. However, planning does allow you to do is minimize the likelihood that a family disagreement will result in lawyers and judges being involved.

Good planning provides the methodology to resolve disputes. For example, a durable power of attorney appoints an individual to make decisions in your absence. Without a durable power of attorney, if you are unable to make decisions for yourself, loved ones would have to go to court to seek that power.

Whenever courts get involved, there is no doubt it complicates matters and is more expensive and time-consuming. The goal of good planning is to reduce costs and make things as easy as possible on your loved ones.

Most people don't do any planning. It is beyond me why they don't. After all, do they think they are going to escape the inevitable?

The reality is people don't plan because they're busy with other things and this is something that no one likes to think about. It's easy to find an excuse, but that doesn't diminish the need to plan.

As adults, we have responsibilities and one of those is to plan for the inevitable and for other bumps in the road.

Estate planning doesn't have to be expensive. There are free forms for medical powers of attorney, durable powers and wills, available on my website (www.bloomassetmanagement.com) under the Bloom University heading — click on Legal Forms. These forms are not for everyone, but they work for many families.

Doing things such as checking beneficiaries and creating a document locator, listing what your assets are and where they and your important papers are located, does not have to cost a thing. On the other hand, if you need professional advice, hire an attorney that specializes in estate planning and don't be afraid to discuss costs and fees ahead of time.

An attorney who does not want to discuss costs and fees ahead of time is an attorney you don't want to deal with.

I assume Michael Jackson did not want to have his family fight and be in litigation for years after his death. I also assume that none of us would want our families to suffer because of us.

When we are no longer here, we want our family and friends to remember us fondly rather than as the cause of family strife. Therefore, to do the right thing, take time and plan. Good luck!

Spree 61 fireworks start off with a bang.

Fireworks show draws an estimated 200,000 to Livonia

Daniel and Jen Sitarski, with sons Rylan and Jase, watch the fireworks. They're from Howell, but both Daniel and Jen grew up in the Livonia/Redford area.

Ken Abraham, Dave Stokes, Julie Stokes and sons Andrew and Bryan Stokes enjoy Sunday night at Spree 61.

The fireworks show in Livonia Sunday may have been one of the best-attended in the city's history.

The combination of perfect weather for viewing fireworks and a reduction in the number of cities offering fireworks because of the expense drew more than 125,000 people to Ford Field for the 30-minute display and grand finale of Livonia Spree.

"We were extremely packed," said Dan Spurling, president of the Livonia Anniversary Committee, which sponsors Livonia Spree, the city's weeklong birthday celebration.

"The breeze was minimal; there were no clouds. You couldn't have asked for a better evening," he said. "I think it brought out more people."

He said the Spree committee was getting calls from as far away as Waterford and Brighton from people asking about Livonia's fireworks. "People just love fireworks; they will drive miles to see them," he said. "A lot of these communities are cutting back."

He said in addition to the 125,000 at Ford Field and the immediate vicinity, there were an estimated 25,000 to 75,000 more spectators watching from homes and businesses and other locations throughout the city.

Spurling said the show, choreographed to music and put on by American Fireworks, keeps getting better each year. "There were more shells ... some new designs. Technology keeps advancing with fireworks."

The weather was certainly improved from the past two years. "Last year we fought the storms," he said. "We didn't even know if we were going to be able to shoot them."

Livonia Spree and the fireworks are free for people to attend, thanks in part to corporate sponsorships and numerous volunteers.

Spurling said the Spree committee plans to keep admission and parking for the city's annual celebration free again next year, just like the founders of Spree intended.

"We're planning Spree 62 as we speak," he said.

The Fresenius Medical Care Garden City offers features seven dialysis treatment stations. It also offers home dialysis program that can offer patients greater independence.

Clinic provides dialysis services to patients with kidney failure

Fresenius Medical Care North America has opened the Fresenius Medical Care Garden City, a new dialysis clinic that will serve the area's growing population of patients with chronic kidney disease.

The clinic offers the latest in dialysis services, including home dialysis program that can offer patients greater independence, convenience and health benefits and a traditional in-center daytime hemodialysis, plus, a kidney transplant support program, anemia management, nutrition counseling, bone disease management and social worker support.

Dialysis is a life-sustaining process that cleans waste products from the blood, removes extra fluids and controls the body's chemistry when a person's kidneys fail. Dialysis patients typically require treatment on an ongoing basis unless they receive a kidney transplant.

The Fresenius clinic features seven dialysis treatment stations, CHAIRSIDE™ online charting and electronic health record system with touch-screen monitors at dialysis stations, for clinical staff to accurately enter and securely track critical patient information. It also has:

- Single use of dialyzers, unlike other facilities that may disinfect and reuse them.
- An emergency backup electrical generator to help continue critical patient care in the event of a power outage.
- Treatment stations designed for patient comfort and convenience that feature individual media systems.
- Wireless Internet access in the facility for patients who bring their own computers.

The new dialysis clinic has been opened to serve the area's growing population of patients with chronic kidney disease.

- Reclining, heated treatment chairs with massage features.

"At this new Fresenius Medical Care facility, patients will benefit from the latest treatment methods while receiving excellent, patient-centered care from our dedicated team," said Delicia McCullom, operations manager for Fresenius Medical Care. "Dialysis patients spend many hours receiving treatment each week, so we are pleased to offer this level of care in a more convenient location for people in the Detroit area."

Dr. Jason Biederman, a nephrologist (kidney specialist) with Hypertension Nephrology Associates in Livonia is providing medical director oversight at the new facility.

Fresenius Medical Care offers a Treatment Options Program (TOPs) at no cost to inform at-risk patients and their families about chronic kidney disease and all available treatments for kidney failure,

Cloud: A new way to compute

BY JON GUNNELLS
GUEST COLUMNIST

There's a relatively new type of cloud around and it's much easier to spell or pronounce than cumulonimbus. This cloud also doesn't store rain — instead, it stores massive amounts of data that you can access from any computer, tablet, or laptop that you use.

Tech Savvy
Jon Gunnells

The concept of storing all of your personal data: music, files, movies and applications in a central location called a cloud may seem simple, but it has already started to shift the way people use computers.

Cloud technology has been used by people and companies for a while but really became mainstream earlier this month when Apple announced its new file storage system called iCloud.

Apple isn't the first tech company to roll out cloud storage services — Amazon and Google had them first. But in classic Apple fashion, they turned cloud computing from a tech term, into a mainstream term in just a few days.

HOW IT WORKS

Instead of using piles of thumb drives or external hard drives to store data (like large music collections) users can store all of their music in their personal cloud.

Users can access their cloud from their desktop computer, work laptop, a friend's iPad or any device they do use. This means users can access their data (like memory-hogging music files) from their work computer, or iPad, without downloading any files.

Just like a user can access their e-mail account from any device without downloading information, users can access any data they previously stored in a cloud because it is stored on a central server.

Cloud computing makes accessing data more convenient, makes backing up data more convenient and is also cheap. Amazon.com for example, offers 10 GB of free storage for users and if history has shown us anything, it's that storage space grows exponentially cheaper.

END OF OPERATING SYSTEMS?

Cloud computing has already changed the way computer users and tech companies look at computing. Recently, Google rolled out their Chromebook (mini-laptop) that has no operating system. That means there is no start menu, file folders, or registry files. Instead, the device is run on applications much like a tablet or smart phone.

It is likely Google's goal, to have every Chromebook user storing their information on a Google cloud. Cloud computing and app-based computing may seem strange, but the prospect of those functions becoming more widespread is a strong possibility.

I don't think cloud computing and app-based computing will completely phase out traditional computer storage and operation completely because there are a need for both models.

While app-based and cloud-based computing have convenience factors, and help speed up your computer, who wants to store his/her sensitive information like tax documents on a cloud run in a server farm by a huge tech company?

If your cloud gets hacked your sensitive information could be stolen and worse yet, your account could get hacked. On the other hand, app-based computing means you can't get a Trojan virus on your computer that eats away at your computer hard drive and steals your passwords. Under each model you lose and gain safety in different places.

That's why cloud computing and app-based computing are so incredible. When combined with traditional systems and the right security precautions computer users can gain more flexibility and safety while computing, without spending a lot of coin.

Walsh: Medical marijuana needs better regulation

BY KEN ABRAMCZYK
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

House lawmakers are expected to study a package of bills introduced Tuesday that proponents hope will clarify ambiguities in the Michigan Medical Marihuana Act.

State Rep. John Walsh, R-Livonia, said he and a bipartisan group of state lawmakers have proposed bills that aim to ensure medical marijuana is "properly certified and acquired appropriately" by patients.

Walsh announced the legislation at a press conference in Lansing with Attorney General Bill Schuette, state Sen. Rick Jones, R-Grand Ledge, and Berrien County Prosecutor Art Cotter.

Walsh said lawmakers wanted to "clear up the ambiguity involving the law and get the focus back to what people intended when they voted for this in 2008 to assure that medical marijuana is available for patients who truly need it."

"Voters approved the Michigan Medical Marihuana Act, but they did not vote for legalization of marijuana," Walsh said.

The proposed legislation:

- Requires traditional doctor-patient relationships to end the current practice of some doctors certifying patients for medical marijuana without even seeing the patient or knowing the patient's medical

Pictured from left at the news conference are Berrien County Prosecuting Attorney Art Cotter; Rep. Ed McBroom, R-Vulcan; Rep. Marty Knollenberg, R-Troy; Rep. history. Walsh said a recent Detroit Free Press article reported that just 55 doctors have certified about 45,000 — or 71 percent — of all medical marijuana registrants;

- Enhances public and patient safety by prohibiting patient-to-patient transactions and requiring growers to keep their plants in enclosed, locked facilities accessible only to the registered caregiver or patient;

- Protects patients from unnecessary pursuit by law enforcement officials by giving law enforcement officials access to the medical marijuana patient registry during the course of their official duty; and
- Clarifies zoning guidelines as many city, village and township boards do not know how to classify dispensaries opening within their boundaries. The bills will go to the House Judiciary Committee.

BETTER DEFINITIONS NEEDED

"The two biggest issues with the MMMA are the definitions," Walsh said. "The physician-patient relationship is poorly defined, and the caregiver-patient relationship is poorly defined."

Attorney Michael Komorn, president of the Michigan Medical Marihuana Association, said Wednesday he was disappointed with the legislation. Komorn said that the proposed reforms fail to address the patients' need for protection and assist more with law enforcement, creating what he called a "new niche" for prosecutors.

"This (medical marijuana) is new to law enforcement and new to the communities," Komorn said. Some law enforcement agencies "are arresting first and asking questions later," Komorn said.

Komorn said that patients often need to exchange marijuana because it can take four or five months to grow. "They may need it right now," Komorn said.

Prohibiting patient-to-patient or caregiver-to-caregiver transactions would reduce or eliminate access for many users, he said. "Where are they going to go?" Komorn asked.

The legislation is not realistic, Komorn said. "It doesn't consider the community's need." Komorn also noted that 63 percent of Michigan voters supported medical marijuana and that some claims of abuses of the law are "overblown and hyper-exaggerated."

Walsh said prosecutors have told lawmakers that caregivers will take care of their legiti-mate patients, then sometimes sell any excess medical marijuana to other patients or on the open market. Prosecutors are also finding that doctors will conduct Internet consultations without actually seeing patients who seek medical marijuana and want the cards, Walsh said. Other doctors may set up storefronts, charging a flat fee, without an actual exam, Walsh said. Walsh said he has heard these complaints from prosecutors all over the state.

Walsh wants the definitions tightened and better zoning regulations in the new legislation. Walsh said lawmakers were working on regulations for dispensaries.

"We'll be reaching out to the medical marijuana community to get their input on the bills over the summer," Walsh said. Walsh doesn't expect a 100 percent "buy-in" on the bills, but wants a comprehensive discussion before public hearings are held in the fall on the legislation.

"Regulation will help the patient," Walsh said. "Better regulations on what is legal also will help police and prosecutors."

Komorn said the legislation and the attorney general's opinion are not the way to create dialogue on the topic. "You should contemplate both sides," Komorn said.

OUR VIEWS

Local control

Trustee's actions make mockery of appointment process

In the realm of local governance, the school board and city council are where people can have their say. They have a say in who they want to represent them and then turn out at the meetings to speak out about those things they like or dislike about what their local officials are doing.

When a vacancy occurs, it falls on those elected officials to make the selection. Residents trust them to do the right thing and by and large, they do. That didn't happen last week when the Wayne-Westland school board failed to come to an agreement on filling the vacancy created by the resignation of William Gabriel. As a result, the Wayne County Regional Educational Services Agency board will make the decision.

Three of the four board members agreed on Scott Davis, the third highest vote getter in the May school election. The board has a history of appointing the next highest vote getter to fill a vacancy. However, Trustee Carol Middel chose to "err on the side of caution" and voted no. We respect her right to vote no, however, we are appalled her behavior and apparent reason for opposing the appointment.

It is a sorry state of affairs when an elected official plays games with such an important decision. Middel cited the potential of violating board policy of 1995, if the four board members eligible to vote acted on the appointment without absent board member John Goci. Middel then followed up with a proposal, which she said that an attorney for the Michigan Association of School Boards approved, to appoint one of incoming trustees Thomas Buckalew or Andrea Clawson to serve until July 1, giving the board another 30-day shot at filling the vacancy.

Her proposal, we believe, was ludicrous at best and a clear violation of the board policy requiring the appointee to be able to serve until the next election. Unfortunately, she was dead serious.

We can count and as of July 1, there will be four teacher union-supported trustees on the board - Middel, Clawson, Buckalew and Goci. It seems clear that Middel was working hard to buy time until the Wayne-Westland Education Association-backed majority could be present. It's a fact that former Wayne-Westland Education Association President Nancy Strachan boasted about in a message to union members on election night: "We now have the majority on the school board."

This is not the first time Middel has gone overboard. Last year, she turned the appointment of Mark Cesarz as co-principal of Adams Upper Elementary into a circus side show, questioning his salary and seeking individual wage concessions from a person whose employment was covered by union contract.

Middel did apologize, telling Cesarz that it wasn't about him. It's the same thing she said about Davis after her votes last week. But the first apology didn't stop the Wayne-Westland Building Administrators Association from drawing a line in the sand on how its members were to be treated by the board.

Middel owed it to her constituents to do the right thing and that meant filling the vacancy. She made a mockery of the appointment process and shirked her responsibility as a school board member, hiding behind her erring on the side of caution. It was a chance for her to do the right thing, and she didn't. Local control has now been turned over to the county where we hope the appointment can be resolved.

Put safety first on Fourth

In Michigan, any firework that flies, spins, twirls or explodes is illegal to purchase or use without a permit and for good reason:

- In the United States, on July 4, there are more fires reported than on any other day of the year.
- Fireworks account for more than 50 percent of July 4 fires. Fireworks caused an estimated 22,500 fires in 2008. These included 1,400 structure fires, 500 vehicle fires and 20,600 outdoor fires. These fires resulted in one civilian death, 40 civilian injuries and $42 million in property damage.
- U.S. hospitals treated more than 7,000 people for fireworks-related injuries in 2008. Of that number, 53 percent were to the extremities and 37 percent were to the head. The age groups at highest risk were teens 15-19 years old and children 5-9 years old.

The National Fire Protection Association recommends residents leave fireworks to the experts and find a public fireworks display to enjoy this Fourth of July holiday.

However, if you purchase fireworks, follow these safety rules from the Consumer Product Safety Commission.

- Never allow young children to play with or ignite fireworks.
- Adults should always supervise fireworks activities.
- Never try to re-light or pick up fireworks that fizzle and don't go off.
- Never point or throw fireworks at another person.
- Keep a bucket of water or a garden hose handy in case of fire or other mishap.
- After fireworks fully complete their functioning, douse the spent device with plenty of water from a bucket or hose before discarding.

COMMUNITY VOICE

What do you like best about the Fourth of July?

We asked this question at the William P. Faust Public Library in Westland.

"I probably like the barbecue best and getting with the family - you never get to see them until a holiday and the children are happy."

Delores Perry

"I like the fireworks and all the celebrating they do."

Callie Hubbard

"I like all the things that happen in the community. I don't have much family around and the things that give me joy are in the community, the things on TV and the permission to eat the things that aren't good for me like hot dogs."

"First, it's a day off from work, then it's time to be with the family and have fun. There's always a good barbecue."

Technology has merit

I just read the article in the Westland Observer dated June 26, 2011, about elected officials physical presence during public meetings. My first reaction was, well, of course, they need to be present. Then I read that school board member, John Goci, was out of the country. What I have to say about Mr. Goci is this: he cared enough about the Wayne-Westland Community School system to make certain that he could attend that scheduled meeting by any means possible. If this means the use of technology, then I applaud his efforts.

Superintendent Baracy also went the extra mile by consulting the district's legal council and the Michigan Association of School Boards. Mr. Baracy did not make a unilateral decision to allow or ban the use of technology, rather he did some research and came to an informed decision.

Business use teleconferencing, Go To Meeting and a host of other technological formats. Instead of writing a policy to ban the use of technology, using Skype as an example, I think Mr. LeBlanc would be better advised to write policies establishing how the technology is to be used. Let the record show that if one does not wish to communicate with another and "Hangs up," the minutes of the meeting should reflect this.

Concerned about redistricting

One of the most important decisions made in a democracy is determining the composition of legislative districts, since it establishes the constituencies that elect our representatives. The way districts are drawn has a significant impact on the outcome of elections.

There are legal guidelines that must be followed such as population, preserving local political boundaries, compactness, and compliance with the Voting Rights Act; however, it is easy to adjust lines to give an advantage to incumbent legislators or a political party.

With this understanding several members of the League of Women Voters of Northwest Wayne County attended the meetings of the Wayne County Apportionment Commission beginning April 12, 2011. We came to observe the process and report back to our membership.

Members of the Commission are Chairman, Raymond J. Wojtowicz, Wayne County Treasurer; Vice-Chair, Cathy M. Garrett, Wayne County Clerk; Kym L. Worthy, Wayne County Prosecutor; William J. Runco, Republican Party Representative; William M. Wolfson, Democratic Party Representative.

The Commission's responsibility was to revise the boundaries of the 15 districts based on the 2010 Census data and the criteria mentioned above. The Commission hired Data Driven Detroit, a business incubator to develop a number of options for the Commission to critique and then decide on one.

At each meeting there was a written agenda, but all of the information from Data Driven Detroit was projected on a screen with no paper copies available to the public. At the end of each meeting, Chairman Wojtowicz asked for public comment. It was difficult to study and prepare meaningful comments when the information was posted on the Wayne County Clerk's website only one or two days before the meeting.

On May 27, the Commission voted to accept option six of Data Driven Detroit's various proposals. At this meeting it was announced that the public can submit alternatives between June 9-21. Option six was posted on the website of the Wayne County Clerk on June 1 as the finished product.

As a proponent of an informed and educated electorate and transparency in government, League members recommend that the public be given a substantial opportunity to critique and provide input to the plans submitted by individuals, groups, and Data Driven Detroit before a vote is taken by the Apportionment Commission.

In geographic areas that do not have to meet the rules of the Voting Rights Act, the district lines should be drawn so one party does not have a substantial advantage over another. In one new district in western Wayne County, it is an 80-20 percent split, creating a situation where the commissioner elected by the 80 percent can ignore the concerns of the 20 percent and still get re-elected. This is not what our founding fathers intended.

When young people say they don't vote because their vote doesn't count, they have a point. We need to change the re-districting process. We all have the right to make our elected officials more accountable, and we all have the right to fair representation at the county, state and federal levels of government.

Check vehicle before vacation

With millions of people hitting the road this summer, two things will be on their minds - getting to their destination safely and the high price of gas.

To avoid the inconvenience and potential safety hazards of breaking down miles away from home, the Car Care Council recommends a pre-trip vehicle inspection to make sure your vehicle is safe for travel and getting more miles to the gallon.

- Schedule a tune-up to help the engine deliver the best balance of power and fuel economy.
- Check the brake system and make sure the battery connection is clean, tight and corrosion-free.
- Check filters and fluids, including engine oil, power steering, brake and transmission, as well as windshield washer solvent and antifreeze/coolant. Dirty air filters can waste gas and cause the engine to lose power.
- Check the hoses and belts that can become cracked, brittle, frayed, loose or show signs of excessive wear. These are critical to the proper functioning of the electrical system, air conditioning, power steering and the cooling system.

• Check the tires, including tire pressure and tread. Underinflated tires reduce a vehicle's fuel economy and uneven wear indicates a need for wheel alignment. Tires should also be checked for bulges and bald spots.

• Check that the gas cap is not damaged, loose or missing to prevent gas from spilling or evaporating. Also, by avoiding aggressive driving, observing the speed limit and avoiding excessive idling, you will spend less on fuel and have more money for summer fun.

Don't re-elect Obama

A reader wrote praising President Obama's courage in deciding to take out Osama bin Laden and saying that he will go down in history as our nation's first black president being responsible for the destruction of the terrorist of this decade.

This decision to take out Osama bin Laden was a "gutsy" call by the president, the letter writer said. Obviously the writer is not aware that members of the State Department, the CIA and the military were aware of where Osama was and informed the president. It took our fearless leader more than 90 hours to tell the team to take Osama out. But the Seal team had to videotape the whole process to make sure it wasn't in violation of Osama's civil rights.

I commend the writer on serving our country in Vietnam. I served with the 82nd during World War II, and I just don't have the same admiration for our president.

My parents and grandparents came from Poland to find a better life knowing that if you work hard, you can get ahead. It all changed Sept. 1, 1939, when Germany attacked Poland. My mother all during WWII asked our government to find out what happened to her cousins and uncles that were captured by the Germans. She did find out that Germany turned all the Polish soldiers over to Russia who was their ally at that time. Russia denied they had the prisoners and when my mother asked again because her relatives stated that the Russians had killed them in a place called Katyn Forest, we didn't want to antagonize our ally.

After WWII, Franklin D. Roosevelt played a role in Europe's painful division that helped cause "one of the greatest wrongs of history." Pope John Paul II said, "Poland had seven years of Nazi rule and thanks to America had 50 years of communism." My mother died in 1983 and it wasn't until 1993 that the Russian leader Boris Yeltsin admitted that the KGB did indeed slaughter the Polish prisoners.

It is my opinion that the liberals after WWII played a big part in turning Eastern and Central Europe to communist control and they have waited until they have a president to turn the United States into a socialist nation. They have found one and his name is our current leader President Barack Hussein Obama. I pray that he gets defeated in 2012.

Golfers swing to benefit needy

BY BRAD KADRICH
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Former Detroit Red Wing Joe Kocur figures plenty of people helped him during his time as a player, so he's perfectly happy now to find ways to help others.

That's why Kocur was among some 50 "pros" who joined some 200 golfers taking part in the 14th annual St. Joe's Pro Am golf event Monday at Pheasant Run Golf Club in Canton.

The event aims to raise $150,000 to support prescription co-pays, medications and supplies and transportation for the uninsured and under-insured patients receiving care at the St. Joseph Mercy Canton Center for Advanced Medicine and Surgery.

"I was fortunate enough to play professional hockey," said Kocur, president of the Red Wing Alumni, pointing out he appears at an estimated 20 or more charitable events a year. "People helped me a lot along the way. Any way we can find to raise money for local charities, we want to do that."

Melissa Sheppard, director of special events and annual giving for St. Joe's, said some 50 teams registered for Monday's event. She said the event had already raised some $143,000 by Monday morning, with a 35-item silent auction still to be counted.

Proceeds from Monday's event will go to help uninsured and the under-insured, a departure from previous events, which benefitted the St. Joe's Health Exploration Station at the Canton center. She said Pheasant Run is a "great venue" because of its 27-hole configuration and its proximity to the Canton center.

Pheasant Run has hosted all 14 events, and they've all been crucial to the success of the hospital, Sheppard said.

"It's critical, especially in these economic conditions," Sheppard said. "There's an increasing need for those who don't have insurance or don't have enough insurance. As the economy goes down, the need always goes up."

That's what Detroit Red Wing legend Ted Lindsay likes about the outing: It helps people who need help the most. Serving as the event's Chair Emeritus, Lindsay praised the work St. Joe's does.

"They do an awful lot for a lot of people who need help," said Lindsay, who golfed with steering committee member Gil Ruicci and Marty Pavelich of Gil-Mar Manufacturing. "They take care of people who can't afford to pay. It's a wonderful event, and I look forward to many more years of being a part of it."

Despite injuries, Moss flourishes with Calgary

Livonian completes fifth NHL season with Flames

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

David Moss has become an avid golfer, but the right winger from the Calgary Flames would prefer to keep his clubs in storage during the months of April, May and June.

The Livonia native and Detroit Catholic Central High grad just completed his fifth season for the Flames, who just missed the Stanley Cup Playoffs for the second straight year.

Moss, a member of the Flames' top line which includes Jarome Iginla and recently re-signed Alex Tanguay, went down with a freak ankle injury while skating in a practice during mid-March.

After scoring 17 goals and adding 13 assists with a career-best plus-9 rating, Moss' presence in the lineup was sorely missed.

"I was going to catch a pass and got caught in a rut," Moss said. "I missed the last 15 games and we were making a run. (Teammate) Brendan Morrison also got hurt and that didn't help."

The 6-foot-3, 205-pound forward was the Flames' seventh-round draft pick (220th overall) in 2003 and has appeared in 285 NHL games with 59 goals and 56 assists.

But his last playoff appearance was in the 2008-09 series against his hometown Detroit Red Wings.

"I don't know if it was one thing why we missed it," Moss said of the two-year playoff void. "We were definitely close both years. We had stretches — where you can't do in the NHL — when you're in a really bad funk. The first few months of last year we really put ourselves behind the eight-ball."

"After the All-Star break we were one of the better teams in the league. It's one of those things where you put yourself too far back, too early and you can't climb out of the hole. The teams are too good. You're close, but it's a matter of taking that next step, and in Calgary I think we have the team to do that."

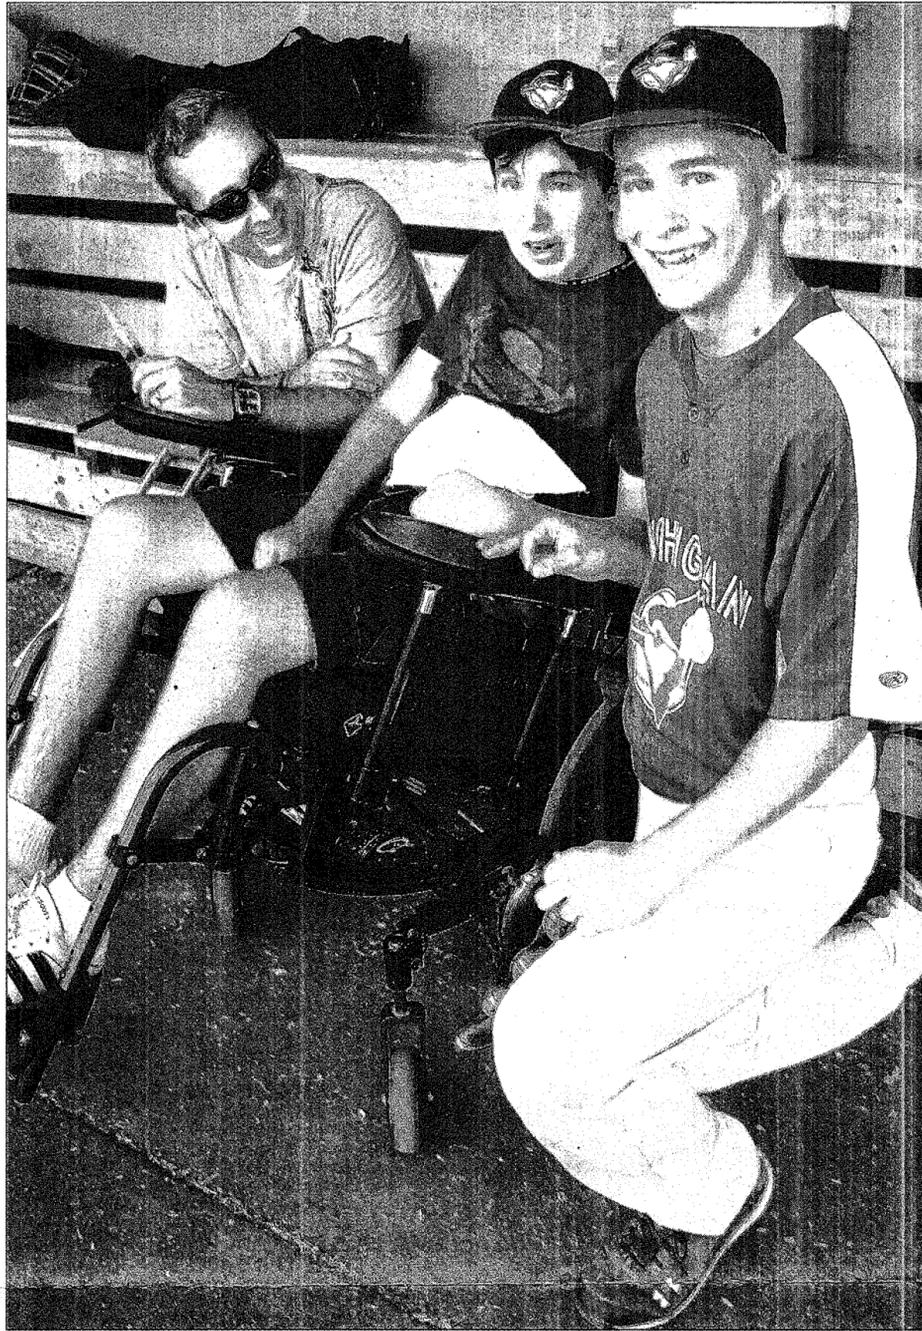

Moss hasn't been on skates since the March 15 practice injury, but was scheduled to be back on the ice Wednesday.

'SuperJess' Classic a smash hit

Benefit baseball game supports Canton teenager

BY TIM SMITH
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

There were no raindrops — finally — but plenty of happy tears Monday as two teams of Jesse Lindbauer's baseball buddies played the long-awaited "SuperJess" Baseball Classic at Plymouth High School's varsity field.

Postponed from June 22 due to rain, the first-annual classic pitted two U16 travel teams mostly comprised of players from Plymouth-Canton Educational Park.

Whatever the Michigan Blue Jays and Plymouth Grizzlies could do on the baseball diamond paled in comparison to the reason everyone was there.

The star of the event was 16-year-old Jesse, whose family wheeled him out to the pitcher's mound for the ceremonial first pitch — delivered by Jesse's younger brother Noah.

Jesse wore a smile and Blue Jays cap as waves of people made sure to greet him with smiles and encouraging words.

"They've been here every step of the way," said David Lindbauer, Jesse's dad. "Six months later they're still following us, following the progress."

"We certainly appreciate it because we can't let down. There's a little ways to go, so we're still pushing forward and we need the support, trust me."

SIDELINES

All-star standout

The official end of Jason Wilson's high school football career merged nicely with the start of his college career Saturday.

The former Farmington High wide receiver caught two touchdown passes in the Michigan High School Football Coaches Association's 31st annual East-West All-Star game.

Wilson's first-half touchdowns sparked the East to a 16-7 halftime lead and an eventual, 30-13 victory at Central Michigan University.

Wilson, a two-time, All-Observer player, will play college football in the same Kelly-Shorts Stadium for the CMU Chippewas.

He finished with three receptions for 136 yards. His TD catches, both thrown by Detroit Cass Tech's Keith Moore, covered 61 and 68 yards.

Wilson just missed a third TD reception late in the game on a pass from Harrison quarterback Tommy Vento, who was 8-of-16 passing for 78 yards.

Michigan Amateur

Both of Madonna University's golf programs were represented in the final 64-player field with women's assistant coach Brian King (Livonia) and recent men's program graduate Brett Quitquit having advanced to the match play event at the 2011 Michigan Amateur Championship held at The Heather at Boyne Highlands Resort in northern Michigan.

Willie Mack III of Flint defeated Joey Garber of Petoskey, 4-and-3, for the coveted title.

In the stroke play portion of the championship, King shot rounds of 76 and 72 to tie for 13th in the field. He was ousted by Patrick Colburn, 1-up, in the first round of match play.

Quitquit, a Highland native who was the NAIA National Tournament runner-up medalist in 2010, shot an 80 in the first round of stroke play, but rebounded in round two to card a 71 and tie for 29th in the field.

He was eliminated by Canton's Mike Fedewa in the first round of match play, 2-and-1. Mike Fedewa then ousted Steve Fedewa of Howell, 3-and-2, before losing to Mack in the quarterfinals, 5-and-3.

Livonian Kevin Janasik also qualified in 47th with a 79-74-153. He was ousted by Jerry Gunthorpe in the first round, 2-up.

Hole-in-one club

Jim Ewald of St. Clair Shores used a 20-degree Orfimar to ace the 146-yard, No. 17 hole Saturday at Redford's Glenhurst Golf Course.

For the 64-year-old Ewald, it was his first hole-in-one in 34 years. He shot 87 for 18 holes.

MU guides lauded

The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Sports Information Directors Association recently announced its 2010-11 publication awards and three guides produced by the Madonna University Sports Information Office took home top-10 honors.

The 2010 volleyball media guide placed second among the 22 entries while the 2011 baseball media guide took home seventh in the Walt McAlexander Baseball Brochure contest and the women's basketball guide ranked eighth.

All three guides were produced by Madonna University Sports Information Director an alumnus Patrick Moore, with assistance from assistant athletic director Noel Emehiser, along with volleyball student-athlete Anna Gatt (Livonia Churchill) and former interns Erik Gruenewald and Jarrett Fenech.

A victory for retired ballplayers

Area men win compensation for ex-major leaguers

BY DAN O'NEARA
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

If it was a baseball game, it would be the equivalent of a 22-inning marathon. Like the winning team, Al Moran and Jim Acho have been rewarded for their persistent efforts, too.

For the last eight years, the Farmington Hills men battled Major League Baseball in the courts, fighting on behalf of former players who were excluded from a 1980 change in the pension agreement.

The announcement this spring that MLB and the Players Association had worked out a deal to compensate those players is a victory for Acho and Moran.

Acho, the attorney for the Livonia-based law firm that represented the players, did all of the legal work on the case since the original lawsuit was filed in 2003.

Moran, a former shortstop who played for the Mets and Red Sox in the early 1960s, served as the Midwest representative in the class-action suit.

When Moran played, a minimum service of four years on a Major League roster was required to earn a pension. Under a new agreement in 1980, players needed only 45 days for a pension and one day for health insurance.

Moran and others like him were never included retroactively in the new

All-Area baseball team packs a punch at the plate

ALL-AREA FIRST TEAM
Ryan Bazner, Canton: The junior co-captain was the Chiefs' MVP, batting .506 with 14 doubles while dominating whenever he pitched. Bazner's 9-0 record, 1.43 ERA and 67 strikeouts in 52.2 innings went a long way toward Canton's 27-7 record, KLA Central co-title and fourth straight Division 1 district championship.

His efforts were rewarded with selection to the all-KLAA and all-district teams.

"Ryan is an extremely focused ballplayer who became a dual threat this season by being the ace of the staff and also leading the team in batting average and extra base hits," coach Mark Blomshield said.

Zak Kmet, Garden City: Kmet was a dual threat for the Cougars, hitting .458 (38 for 83) with seven home runs and 31 RBI from the lead-off spot, while registering a stellar 6-1 record on the mound. The sophomore crafted a solid 2.48 earned run average and struck out 30 batters in 36.3 innings.

"Zak had one of the best seasons for a player I've ever coached," said coach Steve Herman. "When you combined his RBI total, batting average and pitching numbers, it's real tough to top. He started the season as our No. 2 hitter, but he hit so well I moved him to the lead-off spot. He had 31 RBI from the lead-off spot, which is unbelievable."

Evan Piechota, Stevenson: The senior pitcher-shortstop, headed to Madonna University, was named to the Michigan High School Baseball Coaches Association East-West All-Star team that was held recently at Comerica Park.

Piechota excelled on the mound with an 8-1 record to go along with a 0.72 ERA. In 58 innings, he struck out 66 and walked only 12.

Offensively, Piechota batted .360 with one homer, 11 doubles and team-high 28 RBI. He had a slugging percentage of .500 and an on-base average of .460.

Piechota earned all-KLAA, all-district and all-region honors. Collegiate Baseball also gave him honorable mention high school all-America honors.

"Evan played every inning of every game," coach Rick Berryman said. "He pitched unbelievably well for us and played a great shortstop. He had an unbelievable year as a pitcher. He's very focused and very dedicated."

Ben Matigian, Churchill: As a pitcher, the senior went 5-2 with a 1.67 earned run average and also hit .361 with 27 runs and 21 RBI.

In 46 innings pitched, the all-KLAA and all-district pick struck out 25 and walked just 13 while holding opponents to a .192 batting average.

Matigian, bound for Madonna University, also slugged at a .458 clip and had a .481 on-base average.

"Ben is a very hard-working player who does not take his baseball skills for granted," coach Ron Targosz said. "He continuously works on improving them by taking extra ground balls, extra swings or doing whatever to take to get things right."

"He's a three-year varsity player that will be extremely hard to replace next season."

Mark Wagner, Stevenson: The senior first baseman was a four-year varsity player who earned all-KLAA and all-district honors.

This season, Wagner was second on the team in batting with a .388 average and finished with two homers, eight doubles and 27 RBI.

He also slugged at a .531 clip and had an on-base average of .516.

Wagner, who will play next season at Henry Ford Community College, carried a four-year batting average of .362 with 101 total hits.

"The first year he was a catcher, the second year he played third and caught, and this year he filled in at first base and was very capable," Berryman said. "He also did a little bit of pitching and played an excellent first base. What was unique about him was his leadership in the infield."

Scott Devine, Salem: The two-year starter had an outstanding senior year, collecting 45 hits en route to a .445 average and MVP honors.

And he only made five errors in 114 chances for a .956 fielding percentage.

Devine earned selection to the all-KLAA, all-district and all-state teams and was a conference scholar-athlete.

"Scott Devine has been an outstanding player and a better person for Salem baseball," coach Dale Rumberger said. "His leadership style is quiet, but everyone has huge respect for Scott. (He) is the kind of young man you would want your son to aspire to be."

Devine will play baseball at Kalamazoo College in 2012.

Chris Perkovich, Canton: Saginaw Valley State University is calling Perkovich to play there in 2012 and his senior year at Canton provided ample reason why.

Perkovich, besides being co-captain and "a terrific leader by example on the ball field" according to Blomshield, delivered in all aspects of his game in 2011.

He batted .376, belting five home runs and driving in 41 runs to always be in the middle of the Chiefs' rallies. And the all-conference and all-district selection played flawless shortstop.

"Chris has great range and arm at shortstop," Blomshield said. "I'm looking forward to seeing what he can do at the next level."

Dallas Sutton, Harrison: The senior shortstop made the all-area first team a second time after leading the Hawks in all offensive categories. Sutton batted .400 with 34 hits, including seven doubles, a triple and a home run, and 25 RBI. He had only three strikeouts in 85 at-bats, and he had 30 stolen bases. In career numbers, Sutton ranks eighth in average (.418), second in doubles (22) and third in stolen bases (61).

"Dallas is one of the all-time great Hawks," coach Pete Lamerato said. "His leadership was second to none in his three years as a varsity starter. He never cared about his own statistics. All he wanted was his team to win, and he always showed that fire to be successful. Dallas is what every coach wants his captain to be. He never took a pitch off, and his numbers for a career match up with anyone."

Wohl, Plymouth: The senior was a stabilizing force at shortstop for Plymouth as he wrapped up a successful prep career.

Wohl batted .390, with 41 runs scored and a .937 fielding percentage, and achievements included selection to the all-conference and all-district teams and a scholar-athlete award.

And although the Wildcats do not name captains, he was a team leader who gave it his all on the field.

"Ben is a special player," coach Bryan Boyd said. "He brings it every day in practice, games and in whatever else he does."

Wohl is going to Calvin College, where he hopes to continue playing baseball.

Joe Williams, Churchill: The senior third baseman earned first-team all-area honors for the second straight year after hitting .470 with 11 doubles, 22 runs and 17 RBI.

Williams, headed for Siena Heights University, also slugged at a .551 pace and added an on-base percentage of .514 (with only two strikeouts).

"Joe has always been a very good offensive player, but this year he turned himself into one of the best two-way players that I have ever coached," Targosz said of the all-KLAA and all-district pick.

"Defensively, Joe seemed to get better and better as the season went on. This is because he worked on his whole game. He was not happy with just being a very good hitter. Therefore, he continued to work on his field and improved it a great deal."

Mike Nadratowski, Plymouth: Another Plymouth scholar-athlete and outstanding all-around player, Nadratowski was the team MVP after batting .470.

What's more, he slugged 16 doubles, four triples, seven homers, drove in 38 and had a slugging percentage of .920 while fielding center field flawlessly.

The southpaw also was in the Wildcats' pitching rotation, going 4-1 with a 1.45 ERA.

He was named to the all-KLAA team for a third straight year and all-district selection for a second consecutive season.

"Mike put up some monster statistics over his career at Plymouth," Boyd said. "He is now the school's statistical leader in many categories. Mike is the best defensive center fielder in the area."

Nadratowski will be playing baseball at Grand Valley State University.

Kirk Barikmo, Garden City: Barikmo closed out his high school career in style, hitting a whopping .466 (27 for 58) while knocking in 27 runs and scoring 25. Among his hits were one double, three triples and two home runs. He also walked 14 times from the clean-up spot in the batting order and played a nearly flawless left field.

"Kirk had a great season," said Herman. "He improved in every facet of the game since last season. He went from being a defensive liability last year to having an awesome year in left. I don't know how he did it, but he improved his quickness and he was a stealing threat on the bases. He also cut his strikeouts in half. When Kirk played well, the team seemed to play well."

Damien Quarles, Clarenceville: The speedy outfielder batted .431 for the Trojans with a .569 slugging percentage and 23 runs scored. Quarles was also successful on the base paths with 19-of-20 on stolen base attempts.

"Damien is the player that makes us go," coach Dan Miller said of the left-handed hitter and starting pitcher. "As our lead-off hitter, he's a spark-plug in offense. He would usually end up on second base, whether it was getting a double or stealing a base."

"Either way, he's putting a lot of pressure on the defense and starting rallies. He also covers a ton of ground in center field. He gets to balls that a lot of kids won't get to, and makes it look easy."

Braden Price, Canton: Speed never goes into a slump, and the same could be seen for the senior Price.

He played flawless center field and was an offensive catalyst at the top of Canton's hard-hitting lineup.

Price, who was an all-conference and all-district selection, batted .437 with 10 doubles, three triples, three homers and 38 stolen bases in 42 attempts.

"Braden can flash the leather only committing one error this season while efficiently patrolling the outfield gap-to-gap," Blomshield said.

Tyler Lynch, Stevenson: The third-year varsity player was the Spartans' leadoff hitter who led the way with a .398 batting average including nine doubles and two triples.

Lynch also scored a team-high 32 runs en route to all-KLAA and all-district honors. He also had a slugging percentage of .531 and a team-best .532 on-base average.

His three-year career batting average was .372 and his fielding percentage was an impressive .998.

"Tyler epitomizes hard work to make himself a better player," Berryman said. "During the off-season each Saturday, he was always the first one there to hit at 8 a.m. He's a very focused and very dedicated player."

COACHES OF THE YEAR
Mark Blomshield, Canton: In four short seasons at the Chiefs' helm, the former pitcher at Western Michigan University has transformed the baseball program into a winning machine.

Canton went 27-7 to share first place in the KLA South Division, winning the tie-breaker with Livonia Churchill for top seed in the conference tournament.

The Chiefs then won the DI districts for the fourth consecutive season before bowing out in a tough regional contest against Birmingham Brother Rice.

That gave Blomshield a record of 102-38 since taking over in 2008.

Meanwhile, he was named MHSAA District Coach of the Year for a fourth time.

"The 2011 Chiefs worked very hard and was a very talented baseball team," Blomshield said. "They played with a high intensity that I haven't seen matched and it was exciting to coach these young men. "From first-to-last pitch, these guys were fired up and in the game."

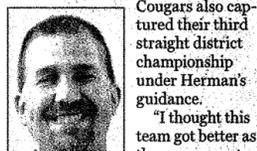

Blomshield, an 11-year physical education teacher in the Plymouth-Canton Community School District, holds a master's degree in educational leadership from Eastern Michigan University.

Steve Herman, Garden City: Herman's 13th season at the helm of the Cougars' program was capped by a Western Wayne Athletic Conference title — the second consecutive title for Garden City and fifth championship during Herman's tenure. The Cougars also captured their third straight district championship under Herman's guidance.

"I thought this team got better as the season went along and all of the players improved. We were a young team — we only had four seniors — but they didn't play like they were young. It was fun to watch these guys grow as a team."

"We have 10 players returning, which bodes well for the future."

Herman teaches math at Garden City High.

SUPERJESS

SUPER SPIRIT

Everybody did their part to get into the SuperJess spirit. Colorful wristbands (sold as tickets to the event) were emblazoned with "SuperJess" on them while some players used eye black to create an S and a J on each side of their face.

And behind home plate was a "SJ" logo painted behind home plate by Jon Schneider. He created a Superman-like look, with white letters inside a pentagon.

That logo was created before Wednesday's original date, but it remained intact for Monday's festivities.

"We noticed that (SJ logo) Wednesday," David Lindbauer said. "But it's pretty cool, that's an awesome touch. A lot of the players have S and J painted on their faces too, so that's cool."

Beyond cool was the way the community continues to go all-out for Jesse, a Canton sophomore who suffered a brain abscess last December.

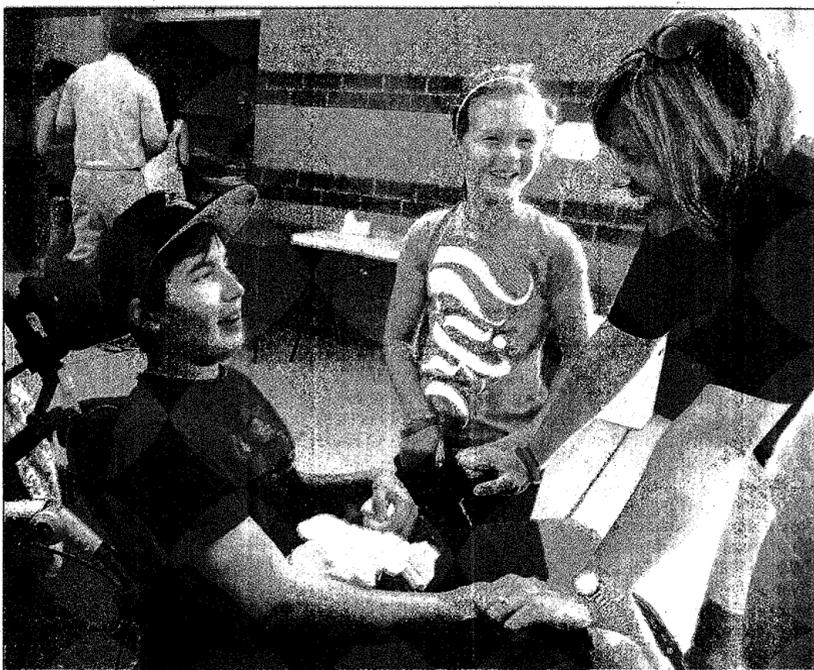

Canton's Jen Deprez, whose son Jacob is a longtime friend of Jesse's, couldn't hold back her tears when talking about Jesse's ongoing fight.

"(He's made) great progress," Deprez said. "I think the power of prayer is amazing. And every event that we go to seems to get bigger and bigger."

"You'd think that after a while the support would start to wane, and it hasn't."

There were more than 300 of the $6 wristbands sold for admission to the baseball game, won by the Grizzlies 12-11. With the original game postponed, the actual number who came out Monday was closer to 100.

"We appreciate all the support we can get," David

Making sure they say hi to Jesse Lindbauer during Monday's benefit baseball game are Jen Deprez (right) and her daughter, Jaclyn Deprez.

Lindbauer said. "It's a nice turnout, great to see."

REASON TO SMILE

Such events such as Monday's continue to have a positive impact on Jesse, who beams whenever he's in the baseball environment.

"It's definitely his favorite sport. He keeps targeting getting back to playing baseball someday," Lindbauer said. "We're hopeful. It would be great to see."

He added that Jesse "always has a smile on his face (at such events), it's great just seeing a lot of his friends. And I think just being around all the people, more than anything, is uplifting for him."

Deprez said people continue to show their support by visiting Jesse's CarePages Web page, stopping by the Lindbauer house, doing whatever they can to be supportive.

"It's the reason he's feeling it, believing it," Deprez said.

In fact, David Lindbauer said the family is remaining hopeful about Jesse's recovery — regardless of how long that might take.

"He's verbalizing a little bit now," Lindbauer said. "His therapists are working hard with him, with his speech and PT."

"He's able to stand up a little bit using the parallel bars. The sky's the limit, hopefully. The latest results of the MRI came back real, real good."

Another plus, his dad continued, is Jesse is "looking forward to going back to school in September. It may just be part time to start. But that's a nice step for him."

The community will still be there to root him on, too.

Distributed Monday were flyers for a "Golf For SuperJess" event to take place Saturday, Aug. 27 at Lakes of Taylor Golf Club.

"We're lucky to live in such a great community with such community support," said Plymouth varsity baseball coach Bryan Boyd, who had several of his players on both the Blue Jays and Grizzlies. "When something happens to one of our own you see that people come out of the woodwork to help them and support them and do whatever they can."

Meanwhile, he continues to work out and run during the off-season at his alma mater, the new Catholic Central in Novi, under the guidance of trainer John Vickers of Dynamic Athletic Performance.

Former University of Michigan teammate Brandon Kaleniecki and Ryan Hayes of the Plymouth Whalers meet daily at 7:45 a.m.

"Calgary gives us a good program and I've had the same trainer for three years," Moss said. "CC has a brand new weight room and we do a lot of things on the football field and track. I haven't skated yet, but I feel my ankle is good enough to go."

Moss is in the final year of his contract and will become an unrestricted free agent. He plans to return for preseason workouts in mid-August in Calgary, which he'd like to call his permanent home.

"It's a fun city to play in," Moss said. "The people are passionate about hockey. It's the only major sport in the city with the exception of a CFL team and their season is well over by the time we're going. The people love it and it's truly a fun city to play in."

"I like it there. If I could I'd like to stay there a long time. Really enjoy it and hopefully I'm not traded."

Moss, who also missed the first nine regular season games with a shoulder injury, proved his worth when he returned after scoring just eight goals and adding nine assists in 64 games during the 2009-10 season.

"The year before I was struggling to score and missed a few games," Moss said. "When you're not producing, you won't play. It was a tough year. But I felt good last year and Brent (Sutter, the Calgary coach) had a lot of confidence in me."

Moss not only played on the Flames' top line, but also earned minutes both on the power play and penalty kill.

Moss said Sutter has developed a good rapport with the players.

"I think he's great," the former CC standout said. "He's played the game and been successful as a player and a coach at different levels. I think his biggest attribute is that he's honest and he's fair with guys. You know where you stand with him. When you're not playing well, he'll let you know. And when you're playing well he's going to let you know. As a player that's all you can ask for."

Despite being thousands of miles from home, Moss does make regular appearances in Detroit and leans on his support system, even when things aren't going his way.

"Your family and friends tell you good things for the most part," Moss said. "My grandfather always gives me fairly good advice and will tell me I'm playing better than I am at the time. It's always nice to have encouraging comments from family and friends because they're always on your side and want you to do well."

Moss said he doesn't feel it's a burden when coming back home. "It's been fine," he said. "I think my first year in Calgary we played Detroit in the playoffs and that was pretty chaotic with all the people and the support and stuff."

"But it's great. I love coming back here because you always have your family and friends at the games. You work so hard when you're younger. They want to see you play and there's no better place than Joe Louis where's there has been a lot of great memories."

And Moss can always lean on his number one advocate — his father, Jim.

"He never played hockey, but he always helped out," David Moss said. "My first couple of years he was a parent that wanted to be involved. I don't think he knew too much about the game, but he was always willing to help. He could probably coach a team now with all games he's seen and all the hockey games he's watched and been around. He knows the game way better now than when he started — that's for sure."

Moss, ironically, has a distinction of playing before three of the largest outdoor hockey audiences of all time.

There was the Cold War on Oct. 6, 2001, between Michigan and Michigan State that drew 74,544 fans.

At the 2010 IIHF World Championships at Veltins Arena in Gelsenkirchen, Germany, he played for Team USA against host Germany before 77,803.

And there was this past February in Calgary at the NHL Heritage Classic against Montreal Canadiens before 40,000.

"They were all memorable in their own ways," Moss said. "The one in Calgary was probably coldest one I played in."

"We were in Germany and playing Germany. It was crazy. It was their home turf and it was like nothing I've ever seen. It was almost like a soccer game over there. They were cheering the whole game. The fans were there probably six hours before the game tailgating. It was almost like a college football game atmosphere. It was really neat and fun experience. I also played the one at Michigan State I remember we wore extra layers underneath."

"Got three under my belt." Moss is one of several Livonians to make it and thrive in the NHL. And one of those players most recently made it all the way to Game 7 of the Stanley Cup Finals.

"He's a great player," Moss said of Ryan Kesler. "When I skate with him in the summer time, too, it seems every year he gets better and better. Obviously playing in Calgary, he's a rival. He's the type of player everybody would love to have on their team, but you hate playing against him. He's the best two-way player in the game. He won the Selke Award and he's a tough player to play against."

So how does Moss honestly evaluate his golf game these days?

"Seems like I play less-and-less every year," he said. "I enjoy the game a lot, not so much now when I'm hitting it sideways, but I try and play as much as I can. I'd give myself a 12 (handicap) on a good day."

"I got a chance to play Oakland Hills last year and that by far was the nicest course I've ever played and the most challenging. That was a real treat."

"I played way more in my younger days when I was in college — when I had what it seemed like more time and didn't travel as much."

So who is the best Flame player on the links?

"Yea, there's a few guys on our team that can 'chuck,'" Moss said. "In Calgary, probably Jarome (Iginla) and Alex (Tanguay), they're both good golfers, and Curtis Glencross ... they're all single digit handicaps. They're all pretty good."

COMPENSATION

agreement, and their plight was told in Doug Gladstone's 2010 book A Bitter Cup of Coffee — How MLB and The Players Association Threw 874 Retirees a Curve.

Under the 2011 deal, those players will receive anywhere from $1,200 annually upward to a maximum of $10,000 based on the amount of time they played in the Majors. Medical coverage is not included. "It wasn't what we expected, but it's better than nothing at this point," Moran said. "Jim and a lot of guys spent a lot of time on this, trying to get it. It's really not even called a pension. It's called a compensation to the players who didn't have a full four years."

"The guys who are going to get $10,000 are the guys who were two or three days shy of four years, and then it works down on a percentage. I would say, if you have two to three years, it'll be a nice piece of change for you."

NO SURVIVORS BENEFIT

Furthermore, the deal is only good for two years. After that time, the players could get nothing again, or they could be covered under terms of the 1980 agreement, according to Acho.

"That's why I would stop short of calling it a pension," he said. "It's a two-year charitable contribution in recognition of their efforts."

"The only bad thing is the surviving spouses are not eligible for this like they would be in a pension. That's the only unfortunate aspect, but at least it's something."

"The truth is we lost in trial court in Los Angeles and on appeal, so they really were under no obligation to do this. The judge said they had a moral obligation to continue to negotiate."

Acho doesn't think the 2011 deal will be undone in two years.

"I don't think they'll do that given they've already made this commitment to these living players," he said. "That would be unfortunate (if they did), and I just don't think they're going to do that. I think they'll continue to do this until this pre-1980 class passes away."

REASONS FOR CHANGE

There are several reasons the older players are getting some money now, according to Acho.

A change at the head of the Players Association may be the primary reason. Michael Weiner, who replaced Donald Fehr, was much more sympathetic to their cause.

Furthermore, MLB Commissioner Bud Selig is nearing the end of his term and wanted to resolve the matter, Acho added. The third was the publicity from Gladstone's book.

"It was a surprising turn of events and we're glad," Acho said, adding financial compensation for his firm is unlikely. "It's a matter of principle and doing the right thing more than the money. We're just glad it got done."

"Weiner at least listened to the people, and (MLB) kinda felt bad for the guys," Moran said. "The alumni association — Brooks Robinson and his guys — stepped in and were the ones who kinda put this thing together."

"Once the book got out, I'm sure that put a lot of pressure on Major League Baseball after they read all this stuff, too."

MONEY NOT THE ISSUE

Moran, who is a retired carpenter with a pension from that work, was always about the principle. The baseball compensation was never going to be a make-or-break deal for him.

Another area player in that situation is Bill Zepp of Livonia, a University of Michigan grad and retired Chrysler employee. He pitched three seasons in the Majors with the Twins and Tigers.

"It's a nice turn of events; I'm sure everybody feels better," Moran said. "For the guys who are having a tough time, I'm sure they're happy as heck to get it."

"The Major League Alumni Association feels good, because we got something out of it. We were the warriors who started out playing when there were eight teams. We didn't make much money. Now, there are more teams and guys making so much money. The old guys are the pioneers who got this thing rolling."

Moran added the time and effort he put into helping with the lawsuit was definitely worth it. But Acho is the one who deserves all the credit, he added.

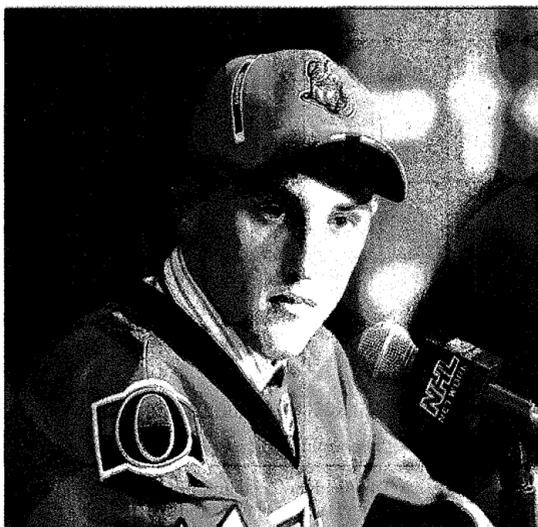

"We can say, 'Hey, we did something; the follow-up by Jim Acho and a lot of guys (produced a positive result),' Moran said. "I feel bad because of what they spent; they'll probably never get their money back, the lawyers. The guys feel good. We did something; something came forth from it."

Moran anticipates the players will begin receiving their compensation later this year.

"Someone said it would be after the World Series, because it takes time to evaluate all the ballplayers and send them all the W2 forms," Moran said. "We'll see how this thing plays out. We haven't received anything yet, but their word is pretty good."

Whalers duo selected in NHL draft's first round

AARON BELL | OHL IMAGES

Stefan Noesen of the Plymouth Whalers addresses the media after being picked 21st overall in the NHL Entry Draft by Ottawa.

For the first time in a decade, two Plymouth Whalers players were selected in the first round of the National Hockey League Entry Draft.

Stefan Noesen (21st, Ottawa) and Rickard Rakell (30th, Anaheim) were selected Friday at Xcel Center in St. Paul, Minn.

The last time the Whalers had two players taken in the first round was in 2001, when Stephen Weiss was taken fourth overall by Florida and goalie Jason Bacashihua 28th by the Dallas Stars.

Later in the 2011 draft, Plymouth forward Garrett Meurs — a frequent linemate of Noesen and Rakell last season — was picked in the fifth round (123rd overall) by Colorado. Goalie Matt Mahalak then was picked in the sixth round (163rd) by Carolina.

Noesen was interviewed

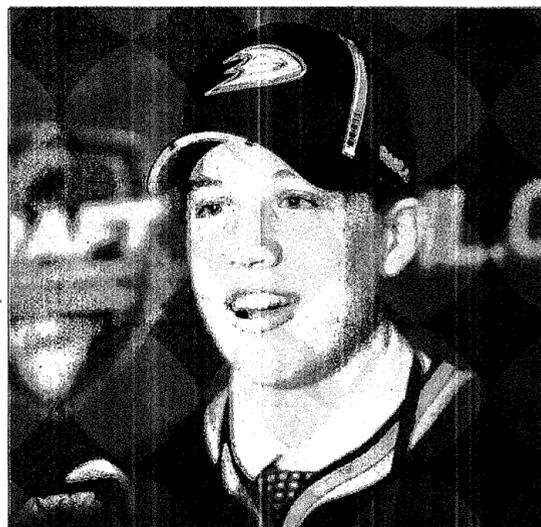

Friday night by TSN directly after being selected by the Senators.

"I fell in love with the game through the (Dallas) Stars," he said. "My great grandfather was Canadian and he showed me the ropes and took me to Stars games. I'm really excited to get started."

Noesen was compared on the broadcast to Anaheim's Corey Perry.

"Noesen's the same kind of player," said Ottawa general manager Bryan Murray. "He's a hard-working, competitive person that's paid an awfully big price to be a hockey player, moving away from home and doing the things he's done. We like his competitive nature. Corey's turned out pretty well and we think Stefan will, too."

The Senators acquired the 21st pick from Nashville in a deal during last season's NHL trade deadline for Mike Fisher.

All smiles after Anaheim picked him 30th in the opening round is Rickard Rakell of the Plymouth Whalers.

Hard-luck Rams drop another close game

The Michigan Rams were looking for some momentum heading into the five-day Fourth of July holiday weekend.

But the 20-and-under Rams suffered their sixth, one-run loss of the season in Livonia Collegiate Baseball League action against the 22-and-under Michigan Pride, 2-1, Monday at Bicentennial Park.

Kevin Zak went 3-for-3 with an RBI and Garrett Green also drove in a run as the Pride improved to 12-6 in league play.

Winning pitcher Charlie Fisher went the first 6.2 innings allowing just one run on four hits and three walks. He struck out seven before giving way to closer Randall Stempel, who fanned the final Rams batter to earn the save.

Losing pitcher Tyler Owings allowed two runs, but only one earned, in five innings. He allowed five hits, walked four and hit one batter. Reliever Zach Wedesky pitched a scoreless sixth.

Caleb Wick knocked in the lone run for the Rams, who slipped to 10-8 in the LCBL.

The Rams played their last game before the break Wednesday at Bicentennial Park against Advanced Baseball.

COBRAS 5-1, RAMS 4-2: In a battle Saturday of LCBL 20-and-under teams at White Lake Lakeland High School, the Rams (10-7) earned the split by beating the Michigan Cobras (9-9) in nightcap of twinbill.

Starter Mike Schypinski allowed just one runs on five hits and two walks in six innings as the Rams pulled out the Game Two, 2-1.

Schypinski, the winning pitcher, struck out seven before giving way to reliever Jay Perry, who pitched a scoreless seventh despite giving up a pair of hits.

Losing pitcher Aaron

Saarela (Madonna University) went all six innings, allowing two runs on six hits. He struck out five and walked three.

Miles Sorise had two hits and an RBI for the Rams, while Mike Carson drove in John DiLaura with the game-winning RBI in a two-run third.

Pat Lancaster also added two hits for the Rams, who scored both runs in the third inning.

Despite being out-hit 12-8, the Cobras won the opener in eight innings, 5-4, as MU's Brad Lineberry (Plymouth) drove home Jim Andrejewski with the game-winning run.

Wayne State's Jeff Sorenson (Livonia Stevenson) and Jake Moore each went 3-for-4 with an RBI for the Rams.

Colin Gerish also had two hits and an RBI, while Carson also collected two hits.

The Cobras used three pitchers with Dan Saier, who threw in the eighth, getting the victory.

Rams middle reliever Jake Engels, who went 1.1 innings and allowed three runs on three hits, took the loss.

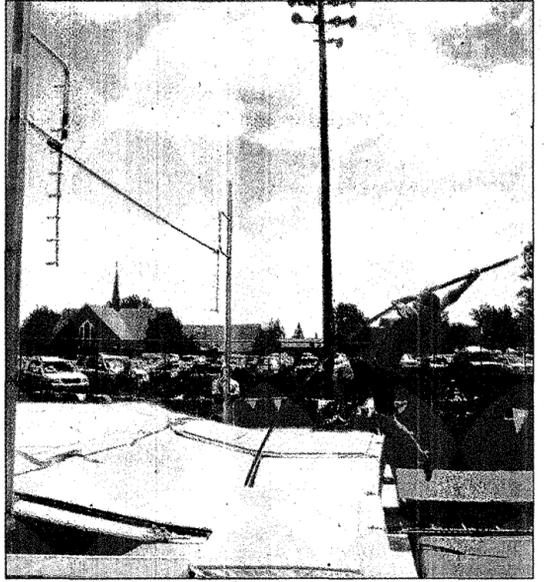

Starter Greg Spiess went 5.2 innings, allowing two runs on four hits and two walks. He struck out two.

COBRAS 3, RAMS 2: Madonna All-America Jeremy Gooding (Dearborn Divine Child) struck out 13 in going the distance as the Cobras (8-8) edged the Rams (9-6) Friday at Ford Field.

Gooding, the Livonia native, allowed just one earned run on four hits and two walks.

Jeff Sorenson had the lone RBI for the Rams, while Mark Zuchaib, Jim Andrejewski and Victor Barron (MU) knocked in runs for the Cobras.

Concealed captures Battle of the North

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Host Concealed Security proved to be the sole survivor among six teams in the Battle of the North 16-and-under baseball tournament held last weekend at Livonia Stevenson High School.

Concealed captured six-of-seven game over a four-day span including a 6-1 victory over the Portage Storm in Sunday's championship game as Alec Padilla (Romeo) went all seven innings, allowing just five hits and two walks while striking out seven.

Arizona transplant Hunter

Green, a switch hitting catcher and outfielder from West Bloomfield, went 2-for-4 with a double and two RBI to pace Concealed's offensive attack.

Center fielder Kevin Nisun (Livonia Franklin) was named the tournament MVP after hitting .385 and posting an on-base percentage of .579.

Tom Daffron (Grand Blanc) went 3-for-3 and Alex DeYonker (Franklin) added two doubles and an RBI as Concealed advanced to the final with a 4-3 semifinal triumph Sunday over the Lincoln Park Rails.

Kenny Miller (White Lake Lakeland) was the winning pitcher and Concealed got out of a jam in the bottom of the sixth inning by turning a double play on a wheel play with runners on first and second followed by a pick-off move two pitches later on a Rails runner at second base.

Miller also pitched a shutout in the tournament opener Thursday as Concealed downed the Macomb Inferno, 7-0, followed by an 8-6 victory over the Rails.

On Friday, Concealed rocked the Storm, 17-7, and edged the Grosse Pointe Elite, 11-10, as Nisun made a game-saving catch.

On Saturday, the Oakland

Thunder handed Concealed its first setback of the tourney, 10-5.

Rounding out the Concealed squad, now 12-7 on the season, are Rodney Bies and Austin Stevens, both of Livonia Stevenson; Brandon Waack, Plymouth; Nolan Clenney, Novi-Detroit Catholic Central; Anthony DiPonio and Zach Schmidtke, both of Dearborn Heights and Divine Child; Zach Tallman, Brownstown; and Kyle Squibb, South Lyon.

Concealed is coached by Lou Pironello, Steve Tallman, Jeff Richard and Bob Bies.

Food collection, cupcake baking sweeten Vacation Bible School

BY SHARON DARGAY
O&E STAFF WRITER

Cupcakes and chefs, pandas and bamboo will keep Vacation Bible School lessons lively at local churches next month.

"Oh, it's food, so it's going to be fun," said Kim DeSantis, describing Vacation Bible School's "Shake it Up Cafe" theme at St. Matthew's United Methodist Church in Livonia. DeSantis directs the Vacation Bible School at St. Matthew's, which is collaborating with two other churches, Faith Lutheran and Holy Cross Lutheran for the second summer.

Approximately 100 youngsters in preschool through sixth grade attended the joint school last year. DeSantis expects at least as many for the session that will run 9 a.m.-noon, July 18-22 at St. Matthew's, 30900 W. Six Mile, Livonia. Registration is $10 and includes all food, supplies and a T-shirt. Advance registration isn't required, although it will help Vacation Bible School planners order the correct amount of supplies and T-shirts. Call (734) 422-6038.

"We have a recreation segment, games and snacks. There's a full music section. Everyday we're doing a mission. We're going to do a food theme."

Youngsters will donate a different food each day according to a theme. On "Prince of Peas" day they'll take canned vegetables to school. A Pasta Paul Day will round up pastas and grains. On the final day of school they'll make and decorate cupcakes to share during a joint Sunday church service on July 26.

"I went to Vacation Bible School in Kentucky," said DeSantis, recalling her own childhood experience. "It was nothing like this at all like this. We were all together sitting and hearing a lesson. It was more like a very long Sunday school class."

"This (Shake it Up Cafe) is very structured, but the curriculum gives us leeway about how much we want to put into it. If kids walk away from Vacation Bible School remembering even one thing, that's what's important to us."

TASTY LESSONS

At Berean Bible Church, 35375 Ann Arbor Trail, Livonia, volunteers are gearing up for "Pandamania," Vacation Bible School, where even the snacks will help reinforce Bible lessons.

"I know we're doing a Jonah story. The grapes will be the bubbles coming out of the fish's mouth," said Sue Endlein, who is co-directing the program. Fish-shaped crackers will represent the whale that swallowed Jonah.

Youngsters of different ages are grouped in small teams that move from activity to activity together. Endlein said the grouping creates a "family" in which "older kids rise to the occasion to help the younger ones."

Crafts, games and Bible stories, along with a daily video story, round out the curriculum.

"The story in the cinema revolves around a character who goes to a panda refuge. There are all these panda bears involved and we decorate with bamboo and pandas."

The session is free and runs 9 a.m.-noon, July 11-15. Walk-ins are welcome. Pre-registration also is accepted at (734) 728-4028.

Symphony in the park

Celebrate the nation's birthday with a star-spangled concert

BY SHARON DARGAY
O&E STAFF WRITER

Pack a picnic, grab a blanket and head to Kellogg Park in Plymouth Saturday for an evening of patriotic tunes and music by American composers.

There's no better way to kick off the holiday weekend, says Beth Stewart, executive director of the Michigan Philharmonic Symphony.

"It's a great way to celebrate the Fourth, by having the symphony in the park. All over the country that's the big thing. People like to hear classical music in the park," Stewart said. "We hope it will be really big and that everyone comes down for it."

Free concerts will fill Kellogg Park with music for three days this week, beginning with Plymouth Community Band at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, June 30, followed by Zap Toro's Latin sounds at 7 p.m. Friday, July 1, and culminating with the Michigan Philharmonic's An American Salute at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, July 2. The Observer, Sensors, Inc. and Biggy Coffee are sponsoring the An American Salute.

The Michigan Philharmonic's pops concert line-up includes selections from Broadway musicals, Carousel and West Side Story; a song from the epic film, The Bridge on the River Kwai; The Star-Spangled Banner, American favorites such as Yankee Doodle, Stars and Stripes Forever, You're a Grand Old Flag, favorites from George Gershwin and Aaron Copland, and the soul-stirring 1812 Overture by Tchaikovsky.

The Michigan Philharmonic will play its first concert in Kellogg Park on Saturday, July 2. The last time it played in the park — nine years ago — the group was known as The Plymouth Symphony.

DRAWING THOUSANDS

The program will be similar to the symphony's recent concert at Kensington Metropark, with a few changes.

"It's all good stuff. People will get into it," Stewart said. "Even though it was a little chilly at Kensington, several thousand people were out there. It was so well received. The Detroit Symphony had been doing it the last 22 years and this year they didn't want to find the sponsorship to do it, so the parks hired us instead. We didn't disappoint."

Stewart said the last time the Michigan Philharmonic played in Kellogg Park, it was for the one-year anniversary of 9-11. At that time the group was called the Plymouth Symphony. It changed its name after 65 seasons, to reflect its broad scope and stature.

"The DSO is doing its thing at Greenfield Village, but if you want to come out to a free concert ... it's supposed to be a great night Saturday. Warm, but it will be a great kick off to fireworks and the Plymouth parade," Stewart noted.

Fireworks will light up the sky at 10 p.m. Sunday, July 3, over Plymouth Township Park, 46640 Ann Arbor Trail, east of Beck. The "Good Morning USA" parade was moved from 7:30 a.m. to 9 a.m. this year. With more than 80 units, the parade takes approximately two hours to move along Main through downtown Plymouth. The celebration will continue afterward with entertainment, games, hot dogs, chips, drinks and ice cream at Township Park.

Spend four days of fun in Westland

Westland Summer Festival offers something for everyone, Thursday-Monday, July 1-4 on the Westland City Hall grounds, Ford Road at Carlson.

Visitors can listen to a different band every night, check out "muscle" cars, see exotic animals, browse arts and crafts, play horseshoes and take a spin on a Midway ride.

The festival opens at 5 p.m. Thursday and Friday and at noon Saturday-Monday. Fireworks will cap the festivities at approximately 10:15 Monday.

Here's the schedule of musical performers: Jaded Soul, 8 p.m. Thursday; Impact 7, 8 p.m. Friday; Robots in the Garden, 8 p.m. Saturday; Steven Thomas on saxophone, 3 p.m. Sunday; Tony Phillips, 8 p.m. Sunday; Yankeeville, 1 p.m. Monday; and Second Wind, 7 p.m. Monday.

Plymouth, Canton natives teach theater camps

Two new instructors will teach students at Plymouth Community Arts Council's summer performing camps that begin next month.

Plymouth native Hannah Fox will lead camps July 11-15 and 25-29 and Katelyn Sigworth will teach the Aug. 15-19 session.

Fox is entering her final year of training in the BFA program at the Conservatory of Theatre Arts in Purchase, N.Y. Last summer, she earned professional-level certification from the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts in London, England, in the short course, Acting Shakespeare.

Her passion for the stage blossomed closer to home — at the Plymouth Community Arts Council. She participated in several PCAC summer camps as a student and eventually worked as a program assistant.

Sigworth worked with children's theater groups for more than six years. She was instrumental in the founding of the middle school drama workshop program and Second Stage Players at Canton High School. Last spring, she directed a full length production at Canton High. Sigworth holds a bachelors degree in biology and theatre from the University of Michigan, and is a state-certified teacher.

All camps run from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. at the Plymouth Community Arts Council, 774 N. Sheldon, Plymouth. Aimed at elementary and middle school students, the camps cost $135 per week for non-members and $120 per week for members.

Host a Star-Studded 4th

The Fourth of July calls for a carefree party, with good friends, fab food, fun and fireworks — a real star-studded holiday celebration.

The entertaining experts from Wilton have plenty of ideas to add star power to the occasion, beginning with the decorations. Festive stars and stripes napkin rings in red, white and blue dress up napkins and containers of colorful blossoms to brighten up the table.

Then, on to the main course. Serve an all-American favorite meal of grilled burgers and corn on the cob, appropriately topped with a star-shaped pat of butter.

The grand finale is always part of this all-American celebration. Patriotic Pops cut into star shapes definitely say "Happy Fourth of July." Decorated in red, white and blue icing, red licorice and colored candies, these easy-to-make crispy rice treats are a favorite for both youngsters and the grown-ups. The kids can lend a hand to help decorate by placing the candy pieces on the stars.

Add a taste of nostalgia for the child in all of us with Ice Cream Sandwiches — everybody loves 'em. Homemade brownies and buttery vanilla cookies, sandwiched with the ice cream flavor of your choice are a cut above ice cream truck offerings. Give them the flair of the Fourth by rolling the edges in patriotic sprinkles and sugars. Or, dip part of the sandwich into melted candy melts and decorate with sprinkles for a fun and festive finish.

Even beverages can boast the star treatment. Star-shaped ice cube kabobs in the colors of the day are a celebratory way to keep lemonade icy cold. Or, they're perfect for chilling the holiday cocktail.

Visit www.wilton.com for more celebration ideas, to order decorating supplies, an Ice Cream Sandwich Pan or the Silicone Star Ice Kabob Molds.

Star-shaped Patriotic Pops and Ice Cream Sandwiches decorated in red and blue sprinkles, are the finale to an all-American Independence Day dinner.

ICE CREAM SANDWICHES

Makes about 12 ice cream sandwiches

Brownies:

- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- ¼ teaspoon baking soda
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ¼ cup (1/2 stick) unsalted butter
- 1½ cups semi-sweet chocolate chips
- ¾ cup granulated sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Preheat oven to 325°F. Spray Ice Cream Sandwich Pan with vegetable pan spray.

In small bowl, combine flour, baking soda and salt. In large microwave-safe bowl, melt butter with chocolate chips. Whisk in sugar, eggs and vanilla; beat well. Add flour mixture; stir until just combined. Spoon 2 tablespoons batter into each pan cavity, spreading evenly.

Bake 8 to 10 minutes or until toothpick inserted at an angle toward center comes out clean. Immediately remove to cooling rack; cool completely. Repeat with remaining batter.

Vanilla Cookies:

- 1½ cups all-purpose flour
- ½ teaspoon baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt

- ½ cup (1 stick) unsalted butter
- ½ cup granulated sugar
- ¼ cup firmly-packed light brown sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 teaspoon lemon extract, orange extract or Ground cinnamon (optional)

Preheat oven to 325°F. Spray Ice Cream Sandwich Pan with vegetable pan spray.

In small bowl, combine flour, baking powder and salt. In large microwave-safe bowl, melt butter. Whisk in sugars, eggs, vanilla and, if desired, other extract or cinnamon; mix well. Add flour mixture; mix until blended. Spoon 2 tablespoons batter into each pan cavity, spreading evenly.

Bake 8 to 10 minutes or until toothpick inserted at an angle toward center comes out clean. Immediately remove to cooling rack; cool completely. Repeat with remaining batter.

To Assemble:

- 1 quart ice cream, any flavor
- Assorted patriotic mix sprinkles and red and blue sugars
- White candy melts, melted (optional)

Scoop about ¼ cup ice cream onto smooth side of half of the brownies. Top with remaining brownies, pressing gently. If desired, roll edge of sandwiches in sprinkles or sugars. Wrap and freeze immediately.

Or, dip a portion of the sandwich in melted candy melts; add sprinkles and sugars. Freeze 5 minutes to set, then wrap and freeze until ready to serve.

PATRIOTIC POPS

Makes about 2 dozen pops

- ¼ cup (1/2 stick) butter or margarine
- 4 cups mini marshmallows
- 6 cups crisp rice cereal
- 24 8-inch Cookie Treat Sticks
- Red, blue and white cookie icing
- Red and blue candy-coated chocolates
- Red licorice

Spray Star Cookie Treat Pan and rubber spatula or wooden spoon with vegetable pan spray.

In large saucepan, melt butter. Add marshmallows; cook and stir until melted. Remove from heat and add cereal; mix well. Press into prepared pan; insert cookie sticks. When cool to touch, remove from pan. Repeat with remaining cereal mixture. (If mixture becomes hard to work with, microwave at 50% power 30 to 60 seconds to soften.)

Outline treat as desired with Cookie Icing; add candy and licorice. Let dry at least 1 hour.

Have a flag-waving Fourth of July

Potlucks are a popular way to celebrate just about anything — and July Fourth is a great reason to get the friends and neighbors together for a patriotic potluck.

I'm bringing a fantastic flag cake to this year's party. It serves a lot of people and it's easy to make. I'll let you in on two little secrets

Mixing it Up

that make this cake taste extra good — instant potato flakes keep the cake tender and moist, while mini chocolate chips give you little bursts of chocolate with every bite. The colorful fruit on top not only adds great flavor, but it turns this cake into a showstopper that has guests "oohing" and "ahhing" in delight! If you're going to a potluck party this year, I have some tips for being a good guest:

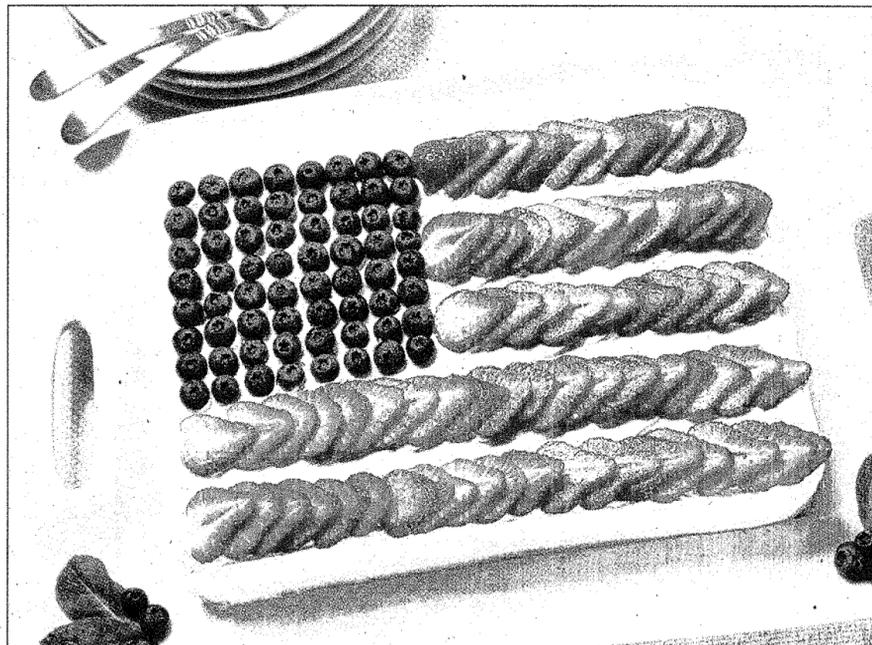

- Keep it safe: It's tricky to keep hot foods hot and cold foods cold, so make sure the food you're bringing will be safe at room temperature. For example, on a hot summer day, vinegar-based salad dressings are a better choice than mayonnaise-based ones.

- Keep it simple: Bring dishes that are ready to serve. Asking to pop something into the host's oven for "just a few minutes" is inconvenient for the host and the guests waiting to eat.

- Keep it practical: Label your dish so that guests know what they're getting. It's also a big help if you bring your own serving utensils. The host won't be forced to hunt for something and the line won't get held up waiting.

- Keep it yours: If you need to take your serving dish home, be sure to label it. A bit of masking tape with your name on it can be discreetly placed on the dish so it doesn't get mixed up with someone else's.

INDEPENDENCE CAKE

Makes 20 servings

- 1 cup water
- 1 cup instant mashed potato flakes
- 2½ cups all-purpose flour
- 1 tablespoon baking powder
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 2½ cups granulated sugar
- 1 cup (2 sticks) butter or margarine, softened

- 2 cups (12-ounce package) Nestlé Toll House Semi-Sweet Chocolate Mini Morsels

- 1 container (8 ounces) frozen light whipped topping, thawed
- 2 cups sliced strawberries
- ½ cup blueberries

Preheat oven to 350° F. Grease a 13-by-9-inch baking pan; line with wax paper.

Heat water to boiling in small saucepan; remove from heat. Stir in potato flakes until moistened. Cool to room temperature. Combine flour, baking powder, salt, cinnamon and nutmeg in a medium bowl.

Beat sugar and butter until crumbly. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition; beat in potatoes. Gradually beat in flour mixture alternately with milk. Stir in morsels. Spoon into prepared baking pan.

Bake for 45 to 55 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan for 15 minutes. Invert onto wire rack; remove wax paper. Cool completely. Transfer to serving platter.

Frost sides and top of cake with whipped topping. Just prior to serving, arrange strawberry slices and blueberries on top of cake to represent the American flag.

Keep yourself, loved ones safe in a tornado

Severe weather has been a major concern this past spring. The American Red Cross, Southeastern Michigan Chapter, offers this advice related to tornado safety.

During any storm, listen to local news or a NOAA Weather Radio to stay informed about tornado watches and warnings (in which a tornado has been spotted nearby or indicated by weather radar). You should know your community's warning system — communities have different ways of warning residents about tornado danger, with many having sirens intended for outdoor warning purposes.

Pick a safe room in your home where household members and pets may gather during a tornado. This should be a basement, storm cellar or an interior room on the lowest floor with no windows.

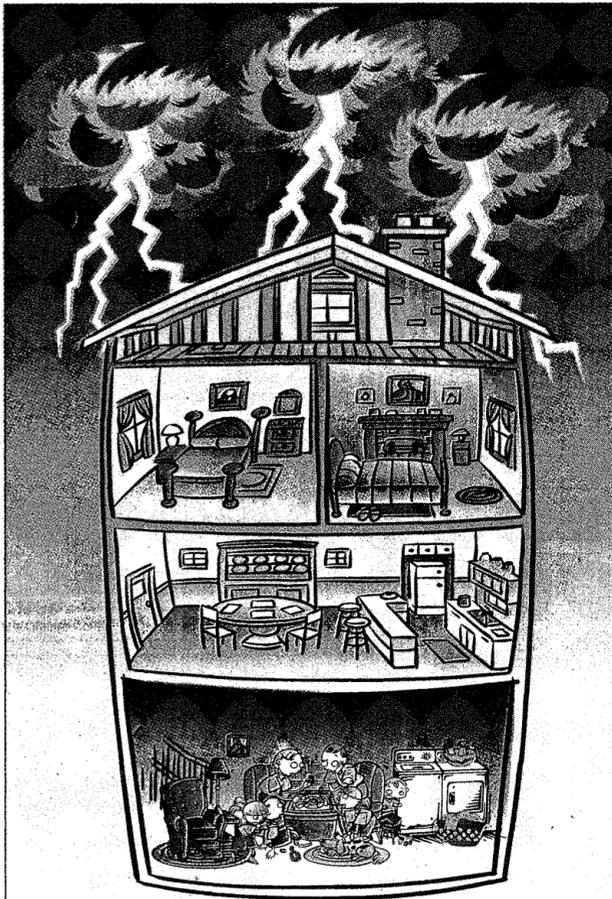

You should practice periodic tornado drills so that everyone knows what to do if a tornado approaches.

Consider having your safe room reinforced. Plans for reinforcing an interior room to provide better protection can be found on the FEMA website at <http://www.fema.gov/plan/prevent/rms/rmsp453.shtm>.

Prepare for high winds by removing diseased and damaged limbs from trees. Move or secure lawn furniture, trash cans, hanging plants or anything else that can be picked up by the wind and become a projectile.

Watch for tornado danger signs, such as dark, often greenish clouds, a phenomenon caused by hail. You may also see a wall cloud, an isolated lowering of the base of a thunderstorm. Also watch for a cloud of debris, large hail, a funnel cloud (a visible rotating extension of the cloud base) or hear a roaring noise.

The safest place for you and your family is an underground shelter, basement or safe room. If none is available, seek a small, windowless interior room or hallways on the lowest level of a sturdy building.

Mobile homes are not safe during tornados or other severe winds. Do not seek shelter in a hallway or bathroom of a mobile home; if you have access to a sturdy shelter or a vehicle, abandon your mobile home immediately. To to the nearest study building or shelter immediately, using your seat belt if driving. Do not wait until you see the tornado.

If you are caught outdoors, seek shelter in a basement, shelter or sturdy building. If you cannot walk quickly to a shelter, immediately get into a vehicle, buckle your seat belt and try to drive to the closest sturdy shelter. If flying debris occurs while you are driving, pull over and park.

Now you have the following options as a last resort: Stay in the car with the seat belt on. Put your head down below the windows, covering with your hands and a blanket if possible. If you can safely get noticeably lower than the level of the roadway, exit your car in lie in that area, covering your head with your hands.

Your choice should be driven by your specific circumstances.

After a tornado, you should continue listening to local news or a NOAA Weather Radio for updates. If you are away from home, return only when authorities say it is safe to do so.

Wear long pants, a long-sleeved shirt and sturdy shoes when examining your walls, doors, staircases and windows for damage.

Watch out for fallen power lines or broken gas lines and report them to the utility company immediately. Stay out of damaged buildings.

Use battery-powered flashlights when examining buildings — do not use candles.

If you smell gas or hear a blowing or hissing noise, open a window and get everyone out of the building quickly and call the gas company or fire department.

Take pictures of damage, both of the building and its contents, for insurance claims. Use the phone only for emergency calls.

Keep all of your animals under your direct control. Clean up spilled medications, bleaches, gasoline or other flammable liquids that could become a fire hazard.

Check for injuries. If you are trained, provide first aid to persons in need until emergency responders arrive.

Lawyer can advise on lot use

Q: My parents own two lots which they always intended to give to my brother and me. I have installed a mobile home on the land near my brother's mobile home. I have built a garage and decided to build a home on the lot. My father and grandfather helped me with site preparation and my dad helped me obtain a building permit which was issued to him. He has also helped with the construction by putting in the foundation, etc. For some reason now he is refusing to give me a deed to the lot. I am wondering what my recourse might be as we are now estranged?

A: Obviously, if you cannot resolve the matter amicably, you may have to bring a suit seeking specific performance of the promise or damages based upon the value of the house. In a similar case out of state, the Appellate Court held that the trial court should consider whether the facts and circumstances, particularly the parents' general promise to give the land at some time, coupled with their affirmative action in allowing the daughter to build a substantial house on the land, made out a case of what is called promissory estoppel. The court took into consideration that the statements or conduct representing a present commitment to do something in the future reasonably can be expected to induce reliance and can be enforceable. Hopefully, telling your parents of this kind of case decision sent by a lawyer may have a therapeutic effect.

Some states are passing statutes and/or cases upholding the right of an association to collect a transfer fee upon the sale of a unit which goes into the association coffers, but there is much debate and/or controversy about whether a developer can, in effect, create an annuity for itself for an indefinite period of time even if he is out of the project. You should check with your local counsel to determine whether, in fact, there is a transfer fee, and, whether in fact it is enforceable in your jurisdiction.

Q: An owner advised the board of our condominium of his intention to purchase a plug-in electric vehicle and is requesting permission to install a charging station in his assigned parking space. The parking spaces in our garage are assigned but not owned. How should the board respond and what responsibility does the association board have to allow common elements to be altered to accommodate the charging stations? Who pays for the electric service and what requirements, such as maintenance and insurance, should be assigned to the individual co-owner? Does the board have to obtain approval from the other co-owners?

A: This is a very complex and, obviously, bifurcated question. The subject of electric cars and charging stations is becoming a "hot topic" for condominiums. The board should certainly encourage the purchase of electric vehicles and accommodate the necessary stations to service the automobiles to the extent it can reasonably make accommodations which may be difficult or impossible. The board could grant the owners' request to modify the common elements by installing a charging station in the parking space, but will this lead to gas pumps requested to be in garages of condominium units as well? With any consent given, the board will have to determine the means to bill the owner for electricity as a user charge, unless the charging station has a separate meter which the board may wish to require be established. With any addition to the common elements the board may approve, the directors should require the co-owner to provide the necessary insurance and indemnify the association for any damages arising from the use or operation of the station by way of the typical modification agreement which we often provide to our clients. The Association would likely provide for multiple charging stations in a garage and make the maintenance of these facilities part of the common expenses as the board may enhance the marketability of the building by offering this amenity for prospective buyers. In any event, legal counsel should pass on the entire process.

Designation

The Charles Reinhart Co. announced that 10 real estate agents recently completed the Graduate, Realtor Institute (GRI) class and received their GRI Designation. Agents earning the nationally recognized GRI Designation include: Jason Boggs, Tammi Ebenhoe, Ann LaCivita, Maris Laporter, Kathryn Linderman, Kari Newman, Lisa Stelter, Deb Stern, Rick Taylor and Melissa Van Dam. A minimum of 90 hours of intense coursework is required in order to earn a GRI Designation. Subjects covered include: contract law, professional standards, sales and marketing, finance and risk reduction. Obtaining the GRI designation is an additional measure of knowledge and prestige achieved beyond receiving a real estate license. "As the maze of real estate continues to become more difficult, these individuals have positioned themselves to provide the best possible service to their clients," said Bill Miller, general manager of the Charles Reinhart Co. "We congratulate them for continuing to increase their knowledge while striving to be their best."

Seminar on Tuesdays

A free Reverse Mortgage Seminar is 6:30 p.m. every Tuesday at Colonial Mortgage Corp., 33919 Plymouth Road, Livonia. No obligation. Learn about reverse mortgages. RSVP with Larry Brady at (800) 260-5484, Ext. 33.

SUDOKU

Level: Beginner

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

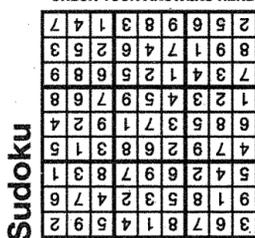

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

GM'S NEW CRUZE PRICING OFFERS MORE FOR MORE

Advertising Feature

CAReport

By Dale Buss

General Motors is making small-car pricing moves now with an eye toward how executives envision the industry six months hence. Sure, by raising the price of the next version of Chevrolet's Cruze compact by an average of about $1,000, and by setting the sticker of the new Chevy Sonic subcompact thousands of dollars above the Aveo it replaces, GM will attempt to make short-term hay in a small-car market where nearly everyone else is choked by short supplies.

But now, finally competitive in a segment where it was woebegone for decades, GM also is trying to establish a couple of things for the day late this year when Japanese heavyweights finally return in full force.

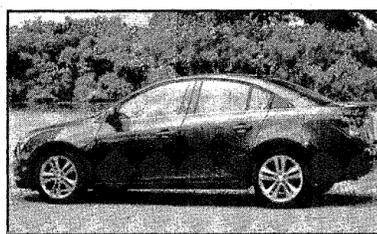

For one thing, GM wants to get American consumers more used to the idea of paying more for GM's small cars—and, in return, getting more amenities and higher-quality content than they're accustomed to seeing. Plus, if GM can build in a price cushion for six months from now when Toyota Corollas and Honda Civics are likely to be back in full supply at U.S. dealers, GM will be in a better position to continue to compete for customers in what could become a competitive donnybrook of historic proportions.

"Toyota and Honda could price aggressively when they come back, which could lead to an excess of supply in this segment, and price wars," said Jessica Caldwell, senior U.S. industry analyst for Edmunds.com. "Raising prices now as a precursor to that could be helpful, because if GM is going to have to battle Toyota and Honda with incentives, they won't lose as much margin."

Two moves prompt examination of GM's intentions. Recently, the company said that the 2012 version of the Cruze that it introduced last year will cost as much as $1,045 more than comparable versions of the current model. An LT version of the car with an automatic transmission will be sticker at $20,220, about $1,000 more than the 2011 model. The entry-level LS model will be priced at $17,470, or $195 more for the new model. And the high-end LT will start at $23,860 in the 2012 model year in a few weeks, up nearly $900 from last year.

The new LT will include as standard a feature package that cost $525 in the current model and includes Bluetooth phone connectivity, cruise control, a leather-wrapped steering wheel and other amenities. And the fuel efficiency of automatic-transmission turbocharged versions of Cruze will jump to 38 mpg on the highway from 36 in the 2011 model, thanks to changes in the six-speed transmission.

The interior of the LT illustrates Cruze's ample contenting.

The Chevrolet Cruze is snaring a big share of the small-car market for GM.

But that still leaves a $500 increase for similarly equipped cars for the 2012 model year.

Of course, everyone in the small-car game has been raising prices throughout the second quarter. The March 11 earthquake and tsunami in Japan hamstrung Toyota, Honda and Nissan production of small cars in North America. Toyota and Ford nudged up official prices across the board in the spring, citing higher commodity prices. And the shortages of small cars, even as American consumer demand was being stoked by higher gasoline prices, meant that incentives dwindled rapidly in deals offered by brands and dealers alike on just about every small and fuel-efficient vehicle in showrooms.

So GM no doubt is taking some short-term advantage of a favorable pricing climate. "It lets consumers know that the current Cruze is cheaper; therefore, if you're in the small-car market—which is still hot despite the decrease in gasoline prices over the last few weeks—you might want to get into a Cruze before prices go up," said Ivan Drury, a U.S.-industry sales analyst for Edmunds.com. And Cruze is cruising: GM sold more than 98,000 units in the United States this year through May, and its 23,000 sales during the month were tops among compact cars.

But GM's moves have longer-term roots as well. One of them is that, even before the winter run-up in fuel prices, GM, Ford and Hyundai were notably improving the quality of materials in their small cars and the level of amenities and daring to charge higher prices. They were addressing a long-term enhancement of the small-car expectations of American consumers—and taking advantage of their willingness to pay for better vehicles instead of just econo boxes of old. "More small cars but at a higher price point and better-equipped—it's reflective of what [former GM Vice Chairman] Bob Lutz actually predicted years ago," said Rebecca Lindland, senior strategist for IHS Automotive, a consulting firm in Lexington, Mass.
